INTERESTING TALK AT ROTARY CLUB

Members of the Rotary Club of Winchester listened to an interesting talk on Thursday noon at their regular luncheon in Masonic Hall. The speaker was Mr. Francis E. Felt of this town a member of the organization of the E. B. Badger and Sons Company, of which Mr. Erastus B. Badger of this town is the head.

Mr. Felt gave, so far as military permit allowed, a description of the apparatus being manufactured by the Badger company for the purification and converting of water for our armed forces. By means of this outfit, not only is contaminated water of every description purified, but sea water is converted into drinking water. He gave much of the credit of the high perfection this apparatus has reached to Mr. Badger himself, stating that this gentleman has been untiring in his efforts to achieve what has now been accomplished. The talk was most interesting and enlightening.

Responding to the invitation of the Rotary Club of Woburn, the parent organization of Winchester Rotary, to attend its meeting of April 25, the club voted to accept. This meeting will come on the 16th anniversary of the founding of the Winchester Club.

The Rotarians voted not to take up the offer of the State Forestry Department in acquiring 1000 small trees, now in danger of dying, to replant in our town.

ANNOUNCEMENT

Despite rising prices, many allowed by changes and amendments to the OPA price structure, the charges for insured cold storage by Fitzgerald Cleansers remain the same as in the past. This means the charge is based on 2 percent of your valuation, instead of the customary 3 percent, with the usual minimums, charged generally by nearly all Boston firms, furriers as well as department stores. And the storage plant in which Fitzgerald Cleansers places your garments, fur or cloth, is far superior to the best those other firms have to offer. This is due, perhaps, to the fact that the vault was completed just before the war when all the latest equipment was available, protective and refrigerating. Consequently, it so happens that for $1 less for every $100 valuation declared, Fitzgerald Cleansers offer far better protective facilities than the large Boston firms.

Until conditions clarify, most likely not until after the war, dry cleansing will not be done. However, having installed special fur cleaning equipment before the war, it is intended to clean those furs that the customer wishes to have done by the recommended furrier's process.

The plant is open every week-day from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. Customary calls will be made by the delivery truck Mondays, Wednesday and Fridays. The telephone is Win. 2350.

MOTHERS ASSOCIATION

George Washington Chapter

Dad's Night at the George Washington School was held Tuesday evening, April 4 in the auditorium of the school, with a goodly number of parents attending.

Mrs. James Woolley, president of the George Washington Mothers Association introduced the speaker of the evening, Mr. David Jenkins, special agent of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, who told in a very graphic way the growth and functions of the FBI. In these present war-time days the FBI has added to its scope of duties, being a link between the Navy and Army Intelligence. Many incidents were told showing the varied and important work of this bureau.

Following Mr. Jenkins talk the parents visited the classrooms and had an opportunity to talk with the teachers as well as see the work accomplished during the year.

Mrs. Harvey Macaulay and her committee deserve special credit for the refreshments served. Homemade apple pie and ice cream with coffee appealed particularly to the men guests and everyone did justice to its deliciousness.

Miss Pfeiffer, who writes for American Home, Good Housekeeping, Christian Science Monitor, Woman's Day, and other current periodicals, has a wonderful personality and a charming manner. Her lectures are educational, interesting and entertaining.

Parks will present "Local History in Our Public Schools"; and a paper by Miss Grace Andrews on "Cary House Recollections, Early 1875-1886" will be read.

Tea will be served at the close of the meeting in the Gov. Bellingham-Cary House, which will be open to visitors at 12:30.

All members of the Winchester Historical Society are invited to come to this meeting.

EASTER SUNRISE SERVICE

The Winchester Inter-Church Youth League is sponsoring an Easter morning Sunrise Service to be held at the Brooks Estate starting at 5:45 a. m. The breakfast originally planned to be held after the service will not be held.

The service this year will be put on entirely by young people. Those participating are Anne Richardson, Betty Reynolds, Richard Fenno, Bert Moore and Steve Greene. Music for the singing will be supplied by William Everett and his portable organ.

The inspiration and beauty of a sunrise service is something that is never forgotten. It is hoped that each young people's group will be well represented at this service.

SERVICE MEN'S HOSPITALITY

Winchester has been active again during March in entertaining servicemen. A committee from the Baptist women has been in charge of placing them. Mrs. Lyman B. Smith and Mrs. William C. Palson headed the committee, with Mrs. Frank W. Horne, Mrs. Leon E. Leavitt, Mrs. Nathan R. Chapin, Mrs. Alan R. MacLeod, Mrs. Arthur J. Marchant, Mrs. John A. Finger and Mrs. T. Parker Holbrook serving on it.

Over 175 boys were entertained by Winchester hostesses during the month. Most of these were placed by the committee for the Union Jack Club, the Anzac Club, or the USO or by Mrs. H. Arthur Hall from the Chelsea Naval Hospital. Also some of them were boys who had been out in former months and were coming back again.

GAS is the precision fuel vitally needed to keep war plants running at top speed. Normally we could obtain additional materials to enlarge our gas supply and meet all of the increasing needs. Today, this is impossible. You can help by using your gas water heater efficiently and wisely.

7 WAYS TO MAKE YOUR GAS WATER HEATER LAST LONGER—SAVE MORE

1 Repair dripping faucets to save water and fuel.
2 Avoid letting hot water run while washing hands, dishes or shaving.
3 Insulate hot water tanks and pipes to avoid waste.
4 Turn off non-automatic water heater when enough water is heated.
5 Drain about a gallon of water from bottom of tank once a month to remove sediment.
6 Check thermostat setting on automatic water heater. 120° to 150° should be sufficient for normal use.
7 Keep coils clean in coil type water heater.

PETE PROVINZANO GRADUATED FROM MECHANICS SCHOOL

Pvt. Peter Provinzano, USAAF, son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Provinzano of Florence street, graduated Tuesday, April 4, from the B24 Liberator bomber mechanics school at Keesler Field, Biloxi, Miss., after completing an approximately 17 weeks course of intensive training fitting him for active duty servicing four engine airplanes. He will now be assigned to active duty or sent to aerial gunnery school or to a factory school for further specialized training.

Pete is the former Winchester High School all around athlete, captain of both baseball and football, a good basketball player and one of the best pitchers the local high school has ever produced.

The sturdy little poker-faced right hander signed with the Red Sox after graduating from high school and was pitching gilt-edged ball for the Red Sox farm team at Scranton when he was drafted into the Army.

TUCCI WINS WINGS

FATHER AND SONS EVENING

The Men's Club in the parish of the Epiphany is sponsoring a father and sons meeting the evening of Friday, April 21, in the parish hall, at 8 o'clock.

Invitations will go two ways. The Young People's Fellowship and the Epiphany troop of Boy Scouts will cooperate with the Men's Club and they will see that their fathers are invited. Men's Club members will bring their sons.

The program will be as interesting to the youngest scout as to the oldest Men's Club member, for it will be pictures of what we are doing in the Pacific and how we are doing it. One picture will be "The Life and Death of the Hornet." These navy pictures are secured for the occasion by Comdr. Hugh Webster, a member of Epiphany parish.

SONS OF ITALY LODGE NEWS

On regular monthly meeting was held on Tuesday evening, April 4. Ven. A. P. Toturi opened the meeting and under new business the motion was made to present a re-solution to the State convention which will be held sometime in June in Pittsfield. The resolution to the Executive Council states that the Winchester Lodge present the motion at the convention whereby the Sons of Italy in America song of the Winchester Degree team be accepted as the State song of the Order Sons of Italy in America.

Lt. John A. Volpe is home on a short furlough from Virginia. He attended our meeting and spoke briefly. Lt. Volpe will be stationed in Washington, D. C., when he returns to duty.

On Wednesday, March 29, Sam Corbi went to Fort Devens, where he will be temporarily stationed, while being assigned to some particular branch of the Army. Last Sunday he dropped in the club house, being home on a pass.

Al Subrizio is home on a short furlough from South Dakota. As usual, he is having a hard time making the rounds, on account of "too many rounds."

I received a card from Joe Fiecelello who is stationed in Laredo, Texas. He was very happy to meet Tom Gigliotte of Florence street who is also in Laredo to become an aerial gunner. I am looking forward to reading about their meeting and having a swell time. By the way have any of you met some one from your hometown? If so let us know about it.

When we at home ask for letters telling us about your travels, that is, where you have been and seen, and which can be passed upon by the military censors this is an example of what we mean.

In last week's (March 31, 1944) issue of the Winchester Star Capt. Maletta's visit to Winchester, England and his impressions of the city were printed. Every one who read the letter enjoyed it, and many remarked that it seemed as if we had been to that city. We hope Doc travels to other interesting parts of the British Isles and writes us of his impressions. The same goes for all you boys and girls wherever you may be on the face of the globe.

Two more of the brothers are home on furlough. They are Sgt. Beebe Russo and Sea-Bee Tony Chefalo. Beebe is stationed in Georgia where he is a mechanic in the Air Corps. Chesty is just stationed. Military secret he says. Nuts, we says. Seriously Deadhorse without Willie is like ham without eggs.

After this column was written up I received two letters from brothers in the service. I think I'll save them for next week, I may not get any mail. On the other hand I may be carrying this rationing business too far, huh.

See you next week.

Teachers' Club Bowling League will complete its schedule next Monday. On Thursday the wining team will be the guests at a banquet to be held at the Winchester Country Club.

VAUDEVILLE NEXT WEEK

With only a week remaining before the curtain opens on the 12th edition of W. H. S. Vaudeville, the more than 200 entertainers are busy with final rehearsals, costuming and other details which such a huge enterprise warrants. Planning board meetings occur whenever at least two of the principals gather and sounds of mysterious doings emanate from the auditorium and gymnasium where the pony choruses, ensembles, orchestras, glee clubs and gym performers are all hard at work.

The Red and Black, student newspaper draws attention to the O'Rourke Brothers, vocalists, who already have a following; to the new combination of Johnston and Lovejoy and their "Good Old Days" number; to the future Rockettes; to the more varied musical program; and to the Cowboy Act, yet the habitual Vaudeville audience may take to themselves some of the other acts which as yet are unsung.

John Ottiano, track speedster, is the artist responsible for the cover design on this year's program. Twelve other artists have designed colorful posters. June Moffette is putting the finishing touches to the mural backdrop for Fairyland Ballet. George Gould and Boardman O'Connor are experimenting with filters for the spotlights, and everyone else is just plain busy.

Chairman Constance McCarthy of the ticket committee has announced that tickets will be on sale at the high school and at the Star Office until Friday of next week. Popular demand for tickets has made two showings necessary on Friday and Saturday evenings, April 14 and 15. For those who cannot attend either of the evening shows there will be a matinee on Friday afternoon.

WEEK-END FIRES

The Fire Department's first run of the past week-end was at 9:45 Saturday morning in response to a still alarm for a grass fire on Woodside road. At 12:15 p. m. Box 7-7-146 came in for a brush fire on the Country Club estate off Hutchinson road. Box 65 sounded at 3:45 p. m. for a fire at the home of Rony K. Snyder, 59 Highland avenue. Sparks from the chimney set fire to a gutter of the house, but the damage done was slight.

Sunday afternoon at 12:25 there was a grass fire on Forest street near the home of Ethel G. Watt. A second grass fire called out the Department at 4.10, this time to the rear of Pond street near Winter Pond.

MORE ABOUT THE BISHOP

For their 45th production, the Parish Players will present on Friday and Saturday evenings, April 21 and 22, "The Bishop Mishehaves", farce in three acts by Frederick Jackson, which was one of the big comedy hits of the Broadway season of 1934-35.

Remember the date!

SWANS SWIM APRIL 15

We got our dates garbled as we announced the spring launching of Abbie and Jonan, the town's swans, in last week's issue. They are going to slide down the ways on Saturday, afternoon, April 15, at 2 o'clock or thereabouts, the postponement having been made in accordance with the Swan man's ruling that the Swans previous to the later date would have insufficient oil in their feathers to protect them from the elements and the chilly waters of the Mill Pond.

Other than the change in dates the program has not been altered.

"Squire" Franklin, honorary custodian of the swans, will be in charge of the exercises, but will NOT launch the birds personally. Royal P. Teele of Wedgemere avenue, who takes quite an interest in the swans, and also the ducks, on the Mill Pond is curious to know just who is going to do what handling of the swans is necessary to get them in the water. He claims swans are uncertain and of a peppery temper. He personally would want no part of messing up them!

A large muskrat was killed by a car this week in the middle of Main street just south of Symmes Corner.

BOY SCOUT EXPOSITION

Each year an exposition is held in Medford, sponsored by the Fells-land Council which includes all Boy Scout groups in Medford, Winchester, Woburn and Stoneham.

This year the 12th annual exposition will be held on Saturday, April 15 at Roberts Junior High School in Medford. The exposition has been most carefully planned and is directed by a well known veteran Scouter, Charles M. Sisk.

Some 30 interesting booths have been designed for visual presentation of cub, troop, sea scout and air scout activities and crack teams from various scout groups will compete in demonstrations of special scout skills. Ribbon awards will go to the most adept.

The prized Eagle Scout awards will be presented to those in the area who have reached this highest degree of proficiency.

Roger F. McTighe of 7 Orient street has just returned from a two weeks trip to Southern Pines and Pinehurst, N. C. He was accompanied by Joe Stein, the Salem Country Club golf professional.

The committee appointed by the Moderator to investigate the proposal to have a new town dump on Cross street roughly in the vicinity of the Gasometer has rightly decided to call a hearing upon this important matter at the town hall on the evening of Tuesday, April 18. Those who have convictions, for or against placing the dump in that location should not fail to attend this hearing and record themselves. The committee has been studying the matter with a view to reporting with recommendations at the coming special town meeting. Its members want the opinion of those who will be most affected. At the March town meeting objections to placing the dump on Cross street were voiced by several citizens living in the Highlands. If there is general opposition to the dump at that location, the place to make that opposition known is at the coming hearing. If there are citizens who agree with the Board of Health that the Cross street location is on the whole a desirable one, they also should attend the hearing and give the committee the benefit of their opinion. The point is, do not wait until the town has decided for or against this site and then see what can be done about it. The result of similiar indifference to the placing of the Symmes Park water tower ought to be fresh enough in everyone's minds to prevent a repetition in the instance of the dump.

THANKS FOR THE KIND WORDS

April 4, 1944

To the Editor of the Star:

In last week's paper Mr. Patrick H. Craughwell said some very nice things about me and the Water and Sewer Board. We certainly appreciate his kind words, also his support of the improvements which we have made. I also want to thank him for finding my goat. He has been gone a long time and I miss him. I had replaced him by cultivating a sense of humor and I enjoy Mr. Craughwell's communications.

One thing he said interests me very much. I would like to know where the $3000 a year job is that can be filled by looking wise. This appeals to me although I question whether I could look wise enough to get $3000 for doing nothing. I am told all such jobs are in Washington.

What little service I have given to the Town has been amply repaid by the results obtained. I certainly appreciate the loyal support of the Finance Committees and the citizens of the town.

I think Mr. Craughwell has forgotten that when we were bothered about people polluting our water supply by depositing garbage on the water shed he himself was the sanitary inspector, but we felt that we could handle the situation through our own guards, thus saving him the laborious effort of tracking down the criminals.

The Town of Winchester has been very fortunate in having men of vision on all of its boards from the time the Town was incorporated. Their planning ability certainly has been rewarded by having one of the best towns in the country free from political graft and politics.

I sometimes stand in awe in looking over the records and seeing what the citizens dared to do. In 1874 the Town debt amounted to about $110,000. The citizens had the courage to borrow $160,000 more for the new water works. Some people felt this was a very foolish thing to do, but time has justified this expenditure which, for those times, was considered very large. Another outstanding example of the citizens' foresight is demonstrated by the fact that 80 years ago, when the old Congregational Church was burned, a new church was erected by less than 400 members, yet this same church today is still large enough to accommodate a membership of over 1500 and is one of the outstanding churches in the country.

Any citizen or organization in the town that wishes to view the reservoirs, for educational purposes, may do so by contacting the Water Board office at the Town Hall. A guard will be sent with them so that they can drive by the reservoirs. The Boy Scouts and the Girl Scouts have often visited our reservoirs with their leaders.

There evidently have been some changes made in the reservoir equipment since Mr. Craughwell has been up there. The garage he speaks of has been removed from the water shed to a more accessible place. The old cabin, which was used by caretakers, burned down and the money received from the insurance, so carefully placed by the Insurance Committee, paid for a new one which now graces "Hannah Shiner" ledge, one of the delightful spots on the shores of the reservoirs, as Mr. Craughwell points out.

Mr. Craughwell's figures are a little mixed. He states that the water shed has an area of about 200 acres of land. It has about 600 acres of land, 200 owned by the Town and 400 in Middlesex Fells, over which we have sanitary control.

Mr. Craughwell states he has an urge to write the history of the Water and Sewer Department. I think he must have forgotten the very wonderful history that the Town had written in 1936 by the late Mr. Henry Smith Chapman. A history of the water works is published in the 1936 Town Report, so we are well supplied with histories.

I thank Mr. Craughwell for giving me the opportunity to explain to the people some of the conditions we have to contend with and extend an invitation to him to tour the reservoirs with me. In this way he may see all the improvements that have been made and thus be up to date.

What do you say, Pat? How about it?

MEMORIAL ON SKILLINGS ESTATE

To the Editor of the Star:

When this war is over, the citizens of Winchester will want to symbolize their thanks. They will wish to enshrine the names of those who gave, "The last full measure of devotion."

A Memorial Hall and slender bell tower set on the hill that was once the Skillings Estate, would dominate the landscape. This could be a civic center, a thing of beauty and inspiration, to be seen from every portion of the town. This would be a fitting memorial to our war dead, both old and new.

The architect might draw his motive from Winchester Cathedral (England) or from some classic form—let him decide. The point for us is; select a man or firm of proved skill and outstanding genius. Then, in the main, follow his suggestions. He will be quick to see the special characteristic of our site. He will so plan as to utilize the "hight of the site" and play it up. The fine old trees, for the most part, could be saved.

On one side this location slopes towards water, on the other side towards the present town hall. The latter was built at a time weak in architectural skill and should be removed. The area would be made over by the Park Department. Legion 1 and 2 should be given rooms in the new Town Hall and thus the old white house could also be razed. This would open up a new view of the Library, High School and Pond on one side and of the new Memorial building on the hill in the other direction. Other improvements suggest themselves, naturally!

Plans for the new Town Hall would include ample space for town offices but should subordinate these architecturally to the hall itself. Skill must be used in planning several approaches, the motor car problem in all weathers and the parking of cars. A basement parking space could be one way to handle this last, as no dangerous ramps would be required. In fact, a one-way double line of cars could run under the building at near street level. Passengers would alight under cover and go to the hall above by ample and easy stairs. Symphony Hall in Boston gives us a good example of how easy stairs may be.

The reason for this letter is due to the following disturbing fact: It has been suggested that the gravel from the Skillings Estate be used to upgrade near by low land belonging to the town. That plan would ruin our hill and rob Winchester of an exceptional chance to build a striking Memorial.

If you agree that to do away with this 'gracious knoll" is at least unwise or short sighted, then make your views known to the Selectmen and others.

CHOOSING A PRESIDENTIAL CANDIDATE

Editor of the Press Herald:

How may the best candidate for President be chosen? There is only one way to do it; be guided by the record and achievements of the individual, not by his speeches and writings. Actions speak louder than words, deeds reveal the character of the man. Has his administration of public affairs demonstrated ability, wisdom, prudence and steadfastness?

It is a waste of time to attend political rallies, to read the campaign speeches of the contestants fraught as they are for the most part with vain promises, blandishments and claptrap. Too often it has been shown that policies advocated before election are not carried out afterwards. To illustrate, in the campaign of 1932, Mr. Roosevelt said in a speech at Sioux City, Iowa, Sept. 29, "I propose to discuss up and down the country, in all seasons and at all times, the duty of reducing taxes, of getting the most public service for every dollar paid in taxation. That I pledge you, and nothing I have said in this campaign transcends in importance this covenant with the taxpayer of the United States." At St. Louis, Oct. 21, 1932 he said, "It is my pledge and promises that rigid governmental economy shall be inforced by a stern and unremitting administration policy of living within our income." After election these promises and others were broken in a government splurge on borrowed money that speedily created a national peace time debt of $50,000,000,000.

Mr. Willkie when questioned concerning some things said in that campaign answered, according to press reports, "Oh, that was just political talk." "Practice what you preach" was not their guiding principle.

Do you want a man for President who seeks to obtain the office by vain promises or just "political talk"? Do you care for a man who is glorified only by ghost writings or political chicanery, whose words are as "sounding brass or tinkling cymbal"?

It is possible to have a good President no matter which party wins, but not if Mr. Roosevelt or Mr. Willkie is nominated. If the Democrats nominate Senator Byrd, and the Republicans Governor Dewey this possibility may be realized. They are good men as their records show. By the same test ex-Governor Stassen of Minnesota, Burton of Ohio, Saltonstall of Massachusetts are safe, sound and competent, and there are others.

Choose for President the kind of man you would trust to manage your business affairs, your investments and properties and as counselor for your family if you should die.

The people are weary of words. Ten years of fireside chats and New Deal, ghost-written declamations have been enough filled to satiety. They prefer the silent man, the man of deeds who does things quietly, achieving along the lines of sound public service. The members of the inglorious Congress who think more of politics than they do of the Nation, more of their own welfare than that of this country, have gone home to inveigle their constituents with specious arguments and blandishment. What a blessing it would be if all of this type were defeated! How it would clear the atmosphere of Washington and restore the morale of a distraught people!

Frankness and sincerity instead of chicanery; steadfastness and honesty rather than duplicity administrators with these attributes are needed if the trend towards totalitarian government and dictatorship in this country is to be checked.

Nominate for President the steadfast man, one who has been proved by his deeds, by a record of sound and prudent administration, one who talks little and does much. I repeat, never mind what they say, let the record speak.

HELP IS APPRECIATED

To the Editor of the Star:

The War Department has requested me to extend to you their sincere thanks and appreciation for the help your paper gave to them recently in obtaining a large collection of pictures of the countries controlled by our enemies. The Department informs me that the citizens of Winchester contributed a magnificent assortment which will be of great assistance to the work they are doing. Evidently our citizens read your excellent paper and many are willing to help to the fullest extent in carrying on a very important work.

Knowing the need for these pictures which might save the life of a Winchester boy, I am appealing again for all pictures of the various countries under Axis domination, that have not been examined but are owned in Winchester, to be sent to me at once. They will be carefully checked and handled and returned to their respective owners as soon as possible. I again appeal for your assistance.

Yours very sincerely,

DOING FINE JOB FOR RED CROSS BLOOD DRIVE

To the Editor of the Star:

I would like to inform the Winchester Star and the readers of the Star, of what one of our home town boys in the service is doing for the Red Cross drive for both blood and money.

For the past three weeks Cpl. Frank D. Marabella, USMC, has been making a series of talks throughout the different theatres in Greater Boston and defense plants. The last talk he gave in a theatre was at the Loews Orpheum on Washington street Boston. Last week he spent three nights at the General Electric plant in Lynn giving the workers there the low down how blood is really needed out there in the battle zone.

Cpl. Marabella has seen action against the Japs on Guadalcanal, Munda and Bandova, he is a well known lad in our town being a former Winchester High football, basketball, and baseball star. He was captain of the basketball team and president of his class. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Marabella of 55 Oak street. He has spent 19 months overseas and he states it feels great to be around the old home town again. Marabella was attached to the First Separate Tank Company, USMC.

Cpl. Marabella's pet beginning is this. "There was once a little boy that was late for school, when the teacher asked him why he was late the little boy answered, I'm sorry teacher I just didn't start in time." "Did you start in time to give your blood to your sons, husband, brother or sweetheart who is over there somewhere in the jungles of the Pacific or out there in the mountains of Italy just begging you to give all you can to the Red Cross so that they may live. By that I mean your blood, and when I say blood I mean all you can give. If we are not afraid to go out there and lose our life for you then at least you can do for us is give your blood to the Red Cross, to help save a few lives, etc.

Marabella is doing a fine job for our Red Cros and it would be great if we had our well known local boy give a talk here in our home town for the benefit of our Red Cross section. I have heard him speak and he's doing fine.

JACKSON AT SERVICE SCHOOL

Big Bob Jackson, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Jackson of Cross street, is now at Service School at Camp Robert Smalls, U. S. Naval Training Station, Great Lakes, Ill.

The former high school football star is taking a 21 weeks course which includes shop math, mechanical drawing, blinker and semaphore with shop work in gas welding, layout, sheet metal, aircraft riveting and most other phases of airplane repair with the exception of engines. The course also includes the theory of flight and is a six day a week proposition, 8 to 4, with no Saturdays off.

Bob writes that the Saturday afternoon classes are not so good, but aside from that he likes the course and his new surroundings. He run into Eddie Cummings, another big colored boy, who was a subtackle on the Winchester High team in 1941, but went back to Maine the following year when he was expected to be a regular lineman.

Eddie recently graduated from Aviation Metalsmith School with one of the three highest ranks in the class of 25, receiving the rating of Aviation Metalsmith, third class. He served as master at arms in the barracks during his course, which is a real tribute to his personality and horsepower. Incidentally big Bob is also master at arms for his class, indicating that his officers have confidence in his ability to get along with his mates anyway he has to.

STATE GUARD DINNER

Winchester's company of the State Guard held a dinner celebrating its first anniversary Wednesday evening at the town hall. About 100 were present, including company members and their guests, many of whom are prominent in the civic life of the community.

Seated at the head table with the company captain, Leslie A. Tucker, were Lt. Col. Harold V. Farnsworth, Major C. P. Houston, Major W. L. Davis, Major Kingman P. Cass, 1st. Lt. Henry Dellicker, 2nd Lt. Ernest Duckworth, all members of the State Guard; Chairman W. Allan Wilde and Chief Clerk George W. Hayden of the Selective Service Board, Selectmen Elliott F. Cameron, Alfred J. Higgins, Ralph H. Bonnell and Robert W. MacArthur, George W. Franklin, executive clerk of the board; Dr. Emerson Priest and Mr. Gerald Y. Hills.

Capt. Tucker served as toastmaster and those who responded were Lt. Col. Farnsworth, Major Cass, Major Houston, Major Davis, Lt. Dellicker, Lt. Duckworth, Chairman Cameron of the Selectmen and Mr. Wilde. Mr. Hills, company first aid director; and Dr. Priest, company dentist, took bows as did E. P. "Mack" McKenzie, local newspaper man.

Company Clerk Harold Smith led the gathering in community singing with Pfc. Herbert Cleary at the piano. Several reels of interesting motion pictures brought the evening to a close.

NEW TAXES ON TELEPHONE SERVICE

"Not so welcome perhaps as April's coming flowers and showers but as certain will be the first appearance on telephone bills dated in April of a part of Uncle Sam's higher taxes on telephone and telegraph services. For starting today, Friday, the new tax rate of 25 percent applies to toll calls of 25c or more and on telegrams of any amount sent to points within the United States. This is a boost from 20 per cent on tolls and from 15 per cent on telegrams.

"All other taxable items on April bills will be at the old rate, for the last time. Thtt new tax rates on these other items will be effective with telephone bills dated May 1 and thereafter and will be applied to charges incurred during the period covered by each bill. These other items include, local service and equipment, message units, semi-public, coin box guarantees and toll calls under 25c, which will be taxed at 15 per cent instead of 10 per cent and leased wire, teletypewriter, and talking circuit special services which will be taxed at 25 per cent instead of 15 per cent. The only tax not increased is that of 10 per cent on telegrams to international points.

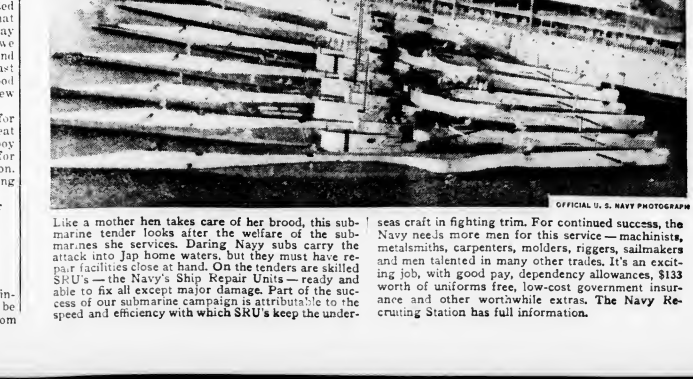

"Persons who will actually pay a heavier telephone tax ahead of others will be those who today make 25c or more toll calls from coin operated telephones where, as always, cash is collected. Their tax will be approximately at the 25 per cent rate due to the necessity of having to collect taxes at coin telephones in multiples of five cents. These users will not be taxed at all on calls under 25c due to the impracticability of handling pennies.

"On telephone bills taxes on all items will be computed to the nearest penny and on toll calls and telegrams the computation will be based on the total of such charges in each classification, as is done now.

"The Telephone Company will enclose with its bills in April and May an explanation of the new taxes."

Some one evidently likes the type of lamp bulb used in the traffic beacons on the rotary circle at Mt. Vernon and Washington streets, several having been stolen from them recently. The Police have been notified and would be happy to catch the person or persons responsible as the beacons are lighted for the protection of the public.

U. S. Subs Depend on Mother Ship and SRU's

OFFICIAL U. S. NAVY PHOTOGRAPH

Like a mother hen takes care of her brood, this submarine tender looks after the welfare of the submarines she services. Daring Navy subs carry the attack into Jap home waters, but they must have repair facilities close at hand. On the tenders are skilled SRU's — the Navy's Ship Repair Units — ready and able to fix all except major damage. Part of the success of our submarine campaign is attributable to the speed and efficiency with which SRU's keep the underseas craft in fighting trim. For continued success, the Navy needs more men for this service — machinists, metalsmiths, carpenters, molders, riggers, sailmakers and men talented in many other trades. It's an exciting job, with good pay, dependency allowances, $133 worth of uniforms free, low-cost government insurance and other worthwhile extras. The Navy Recruiting Station has full information.

The Golden Text: Bless the Lord, O my soul, and forget not all his benefits: who forgiveth all thine iniquities; who healeth all thy diseases; who redeemeth thy life from destruction, is from Psalms 103:2-4. Other Bible selections will include And Jesus went about all Galilee, teaching in their synagogues, and preaching the gospel of the kingdom, and healing all manner of sickness and all manner of disease among the people. And his fame went throughout all Syria: and they brought unto him all sick people that were taken with divers diseases and torments, and those which were possessed with devils, and those which were lunatick, and those that had the palsy; an dhe healed them (Matthew 4:23, 24).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy, If sin, sickness, and death are as real as Life, Truth, and Love, then they must all be from the same source; God must be their author. Now Jesus came to destroy sin, sickness, and death; yet the Scriptures aver, I am not come to destroy, but to fulfil (p. 474).

WHAT'S THE ANSWER?

Boys about town had quite a day for themselves Wednesday. The Police first picked up four truants from high and junior high school who were setting fires near the International Cooperage plant on Swanton street. The Police next were called to the home of Fire Chief John J. Gorman on Warwick terrace where five boys, 13 and 14 years old, had knocked out a window and sash in a garage and damaged a car inside the building with stones. The boys were picked up, admitted doing the damage and their parents will settle. Later in the day boys ripped up a rock garden at the home of Mrs. C. S. Fitts on Grassmere avenue, throwing the stones in Wedge Pond. They were not caught, and neither were those who smashed a bird bath to bits at the home of Mr. Horace Ford on Kenwin road. In the evening Officer Francis Tansey noticed four boys carrying large sacks along the railroad tracks near Symmes Grain Mill. He ordered them to stop but they dropped the sacks and ran, getting away in the darkness. The sacks contained sawdust stolen from Beggs and Cobb's tannery.

AMERICANIZATION CLASS GRADUATES

Sons in Service Receive Letters and Greetings

Although Americanization classes have been held regularly in Winchester for more than 20 years, this years members have, perhaps, enjoyed the most tangible evidence of accomplishment. To the sons scattered all over the world, Christmas and Valentine's Day greetings as well as letters from their foreign-born mothers have brought a sense of security and well being that is beyond explanation.

In letters to the Americanization Class teachers, the Misses Ethel Quinn of Woburn and Helen Blanchard of Winchester, servicemen have expressed their deep appreciation of the assistance given their parents in their effort to gain citizenship. This appreciation is rivalled only by the smiles of genuine satisfaction which come so easily to these adult students.

It is no small task for busy adults to attend evening classes three times each week from fall until March 31, the date of this year's graduation, yet many Winchester foreign born availed themselves of the opportunity, and since last year's closing 23 have taken the Oath of Allegiance. Among them there is no joy at schools closing; they have learned well and have had a good time doing it. In his brief address to the graduates and their friends, Supt. of Schools James J. Quinn paid tribute to their diligence and stressed the fact that one with a true sense of obligation to life, to state, and to town realizes that it means sacrifice, hard work, and standing for right living and thinking.

Mrs. Fred Roberts acted as chairman at the exercises and Mary Hossion, Anna Mezzanote, Josephine Pandolph, Mary Tofuri, Antoinette Maggio, Catherine Galello, Josephine Gigliotti gave short talks on the duties of citizens. Ida Tranchita spoke on the subject "The Meaning of America for Italian Americans."

Those who have taken the Oath of Allegiance since the last school year are as follows: Mary Tofuri, Anthony Galuffo, Blanche Pietrantonio, Vittoria Suppa, Gaspar Tranchita, Fred Roberts, Gustav Spencer, Alma Roberts, Letvina Mascioli, Catherine Gabello, Filomena Vesprieci, Elizabeth Roberts, Leona Roberts, Matthews, Marguerite Day, Mary Mawn, Antoinette Maggio, Jennie Katcoff, Mary McNulty, Domenica Guiliani, Maria Tarquini, Mary Provinzano, Michele Gambino and Adelina Del Grasso.

Emerson Roberts, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Roberts of 61 Richardson street had citizenship bestowed on him in Africa, Feb. 13, while serving there with the Military Police.

After the exercises, Thomas Drapeau operated the projector for motion pictures on New England and took several pictures of different groups, including one of Mrs. Provinzano's school-minded dog, Teddie, who enjoyed his share of the limelight.

In the enthusiastic audience was Sgt. Charles Tofuri, one of those sons fortunate enough to be present at the ceremony. Light refreshments were served as the graduates lingered about the Lincoln School auditorium, happy with their achievement, but sorry to break up the strong friendships associated with those surroundings.

EPIPHANY BRIDGE AND FOOD SALE

The best of cooks are said to get tired of eating their own cooking, and so guests at the Epiphany luncheon bridge, April 13, may welcome the chance to buy a dish made by some other good Winchester cook. The Evening Branch will sponsor the food table, which will be ready before the 1 o'clock luncheon.

Parish craftsmen are making what will give color to each table, the prizes and the score cards. Mrs. Elton Moffette and Misses June Moffette and Mildred Cheever will make the individual score cards, and handicraft-skilled members of the general committee will make the table prizes. They are not quite sure yet whether the winner will wear her prize or use it on her tea table, but they promise that she will like it.

These members of the Tuesday Luncheon Group of the Epiphany Church Service League will serve the luncheon. Mrs. Francis G. Chase, Mrs. Charles Wansker, Mrs. John Lynch, Mrs. Thomas Salmon, Mrs. Robert Thomason, Mrs. E. Phillips Walker, Mrs. Donald S. Connors, Mrs. Albert Crockett, Mrs. Carl A. Brandley, Mrs. Walter Watson.

MANN'S PICTURES EXHIBITED

WINCHESTER RESIDENTS ART EXHIBIT

The annual exhibition of art by residents of Winchester, sponsored by the Winchester Art Association, opened Tuesday evening with a preview for members at the Library Art Gallery. It will continue through April.

Each year these local exhibitions improve and the current show is easily the best year. There is no need to apologize for any of the work shown and there are several of the pictures and art objects which would grace any exhibition.

Most of the paintings shown are oils, but there are some well-done water-colors and an occasional pencil sketch or charcoal drawing. The wide range of subjects includes land and seascapes, still life, flowers, a large man drawing and several portraits. Because of his popularity and tragic fate the portrait of Lt. (jg) Rufus Campian Clark, USNR, by Howard A. von Suck, has an especial appeal. In uniform, the young officer is shown with his head back and an eager expression on his ruddy face, scanning the blue sky through which he sailed as a Navy flyer for Uncle Sam.

Several of the paintings shown are done by artists who are frankly professionals, and it speaks well for the general quality of the show that while the knowing will pick them out, they by no means dwarf the work of the better amateurs. The whole show is well worth seeing and one in which the community may take a just pride.

Besides the paintings there are a number of pieces of ceramics and some interesting wood carvings.

Following is the list of exhibitors: Grace B. Aseltine, Vera L. Benson, Rosalie L. Bowne, Adelaide M. Bratt, Elsen M. Bridges, Mrs. W. T. Carver, Ardys Cairncross, Edith Lothrop Caverly, Ernest Dudley Chase, Caroline S. Cobb, Pearl K. Copland, Claire Curtis, Frances J. Dineen, Frances Burnham Fish, Carl Goddard, Pauline F. Goodrich, Pauline Hall, Anna R. Heaton, Arthur R. Herrick, Margaret Hintlian, Fred E. Hollins, Dorothy Howard, Mary King, Elizabeth Lobingier, Helen Macalister, Grace Angelada McCracken, Gertrude M. McPeake, G. Russell Mann, Elizabeth G. Muggah, Keoka Oliver, Forrest Orr, Edna M. Parsons, Mrs. Marshall R. Pihl, Dorothy Saltmarsh, Mabel L. Smith, Marion Ladd Symmes, Betsy A. Tucker, Howard A. Von Suck, Cora Carter Wellman, Marion F. Whitten, Samuel H. Wilkins, M. D., Edna Winn, Margaret Condon.

SUMMER SCHOOLS AT WELLESLEY

Wellesley College has inaugurated two summer schools to be run simultaneously on the college campus from June 29 to Aug. 10. The School of Techniques offers courses in science, languages, management, etc. lasting the full six weeks. The courses in the school of community affairs are for two weeks each with Dr. Margaret Mead, well known anthropologist and author directing. It has seemed to the college that the responsibilities which citizenship entails have grown to a new magnitude because of the war and the period to follow.

In offering these courses of study of community problems citizens have an opportunity to learn to meet these responsibilities.

Anyone interested may obtain further information from the college. Address the School of Techniques or School of Community Affairs, Wellesley College, Wellesley.

ANOTHER SCHOLARSHIP OFFERED

On the afternoon of Saturday, April 15, at 2:30 o'clock, the Carter Junior School of Cultural Training and Dramatic Art will hold a contest for a year's scholarship at the Carter Junior School, 6 Byron street, Boston.

This scholarship is sponsored by the State Federation of Women's Clubs, and is open to young people of Junior and Senior High School age. The session is held Saturday mornings from 9 until 12:30.

Each contestant will present a memorized selection taking not more than eight minutes and the decision will be awarded by a jury of impartial judges.

Each contestant must have a letter from the club president stating his eligibility and the sponsorship of the club. Anyone interested should get in touch with the president of the Fortnightly, Mrs. Clifton S. Hall, 8 Lawrence street.

It is important that the names of those entering the contest should reach the director of the school, Wilma Dearborn Carter, not later than April 12.

SUGAR AVAILABLE FOR HOME CANNING

Those planning to can early fruits and vegetables, or make their year's supply of jellies and jams, may now obtain their five pounds of sugar from their grocers for this purpose by using sugar stamp No. 40 in War Ration Book 4.

This stamp will be valid through Feb. 28, 1945. Housewives will be entitled to a maximum of 25 pounds per person, including the five pounds secured with stamp No. 40. To secure this extra quantity, application may be made any time after March 23 to the local War Price and Rationing Board.

This year's application is made on a new and simplified form and can be mailed to the Rationing Board. A single application may be used for all members of the family living at the same address. The application must furnish the names of the persons for whom the sugar is requested, and the name of the person making the application, usually the housewife, together with the estimated number of pounds, up to 20 pounds per person, needed for the canning of fruits and vegetables and for jams and jellies, in units of five pounds.

This year ration books will not have to be sent with the application for identification, but spare stamp No. 37 in War Ration Book 4 will be used instead, and must be attached to the application for each person whose name appears on the sugar application.

If the local rationing board approves the amount requested, it will mail certificates or coupons for the amount and will keep the application on file. If less than 20 pounds per person is given and later more sugar is needed, another application may be made to the board where the first application is on file. A total of 25 pounds per person is the maximum that can be secured and this includes the amount secured with stamp No. 40.

Families that sell products canned and preserved at home may again apply for a maximum of 250 pounds of sugar per family for this purpose. The fruits and jellies, jams and preserves produced with this sugar are for sale only and are not to be used for home consumption or for gifts. Ration points are to be collected for them at the time of sale, 8 points a quart or the commercial value, whichever is lower. Sales must be reported before the 10th of each following month to the local War Price and Rationing Board. Stamps or tokens for such sales must be turned over to the board. The allowance of sugar for home canning for sale will be on the same basis as last year.

BRITISH WAR RELIEF

Like the miraculous pitcher, friends of British War Relief continue to find warm used clothing that can go over to supply where German bombs have destroyed. Last Wednesday, when Mrs. Ernest Dudley Chase began to pack up for sending to Boston, she found she could fill one large carton with just children's shoes and used garments, and another with dresses, coats, felt hats and shoes for women and a good man's suit.

The knitters had a good pile ready to go; a sweater, 10 pair of seaboot stockings, five pair of gray socks, and eight of the blue Balaclava helmets.

Of new garments the workroom had turned out these: 12 pair of boys' shorts, four girls' dresses and for babies, seven pretty little warm jackets, and 11 nighties. Of an additional 12 dresses for girls many were finished and all were near completion, but Mrs. Chase was holding them in order to send in the whole consignment at once.

For helmet yarn, it's going to be wintry a long time yet where the bergs float, remember, come on Tuesday or Wednesday to Epiphany parish hall or call Mrs. Madge, Win. 0554-J.

No Baby Is Born With TB

It's a comfort to know that these babies are free from tuberculosis. Tuberculosis is never inherited, but loving relatives, who have no idea that they carry the infection, can give tuberculosis to infants. A child can develop tuberculous meningitis and die within a few days. Careful X-ray check-up of all known contacts of persons with tuberculosis is urged by tuberculosis associations.

FIREMAN'S BALL ATTRACTED BIG CROWD

The usual capacity crowd turned out Monday evening for the entertainment and dance of the Winchester Fireman's Relief Association in the town hall. There were few vacant seats when the curtain rose and at the final curtain the hall was literally jammed. The audience, for the great part on the junior side, was very responsive and gave every evidence of thoroughly enjoying the show. Ross Frisco of Boston provided the entertainment under the direction of James T. Kennedy.

Harry McGowan acted as master of ceremonies and introduced first the Lawrence Sisters, petite and graceful dancers, whose performance was doubly interesting because of the fact that they maintain a dance studio in the Locatelli Building and are well known here.

Garbed in long white gowns the sisters performed a graceful dance specialty at their first appearance, returning to the stage later on the bill to do some skilled and rythmical acrobatic dancing, clad in voluminous black silk overalls and contrasting blouses.

Dotson, billed as a "black spasm of joy," turned out to be an exceptionally capable tap dancer, light as ashes for all the fact that his years topped the 60 bracket. His monologue of two colored boys trying to work themselves up into a street fight was very funny.

Kay Ivers, favorite radio songstress followed Dotson in songs that were loudly applauded by her audience. Her selections included "Don't Sweetheart Me," "Boy of Mine," "It's Love, Love Love," dedicated to Fireman "Red" Pearson, "When Irish Eyes Are Smiling" and "O What a Beautiful Morning" from Oklahoma. The ever popular "Irish Eyes" was sung for the especial benefit of "Winchester's Connie Mack" and Miss Ivers announced that she would sing the song directly to the well known local newspaperman on the stage. She was wrong about that, however for Mack refused to be inveigled in front of the spotlights, despite considerable urging.

Roger Williams and Company, a clever mimic and a pretty lady with a piano accordian offered some really clever impersonations, that included trains on sidings, warming up an ancient Ford at 2 a. m. and various orchestral combinations. His act ended with the very unusual and difficult impersonation of a pipe organ which was loudly applauded.

James Skelton, billed as "Old Man River Himself," was a big, nice looking colored singer with a sense of humor and a deep, rich bass-baritone voice that filled the hall without any help from the "Mike."

PRINCIPAL GRAVES AT DEVENS

Principal Samuel M. Graves of the Winchester High School left Wednesday for Fort Devens where he and a group of school men were typed and put into uniform to experience a typical army day.

This experience is expected to prove helpful to school heads in giving them first hand knowledge of what is actually needed in the way of physical and mental discipline for successful army service. Mr. Graves is expected back in town today.

FIRE DESTROYED PUFFER BUILDING

Sparks Blown by High Wind Threatened Harvard and Olive Street Homes

Winchester had one of its hottest fires in years last Friday afternoon when a big wooden building at the rear of the International Cooperage Company plant off Swanton street was destroyed and houses on Harvard and Olive streets threatened by sparks and flying debris blown across the railroad tracks by a wind that approached gale velocity.

The Fire Department was first notified of trouble at 2:38 Friday afternoon when the International Cooperage Company reported a grass fire at the the rear of the Puffer Building. A second telephone call was received a minute later from a resident of the district and about the same time Box 35 came in. Upon arriving at the scene of the fire Chief John J. Gorman ordered a second alarm to provide both men and additional pumps to get water onto the fiercely blazing building.

Some 250 feet in length and of two-story height, the building was soon a mass of flames fanned to a white heat by the high wind which blew through the wooden box-like structure. Dense black smoke rose from the fire which was greatly increased when the western end of the building fell about half an hour after the first alarm, the flames blazing up fiercely from the ruins.

Chief Gorman wisely concentrated upon the end of the building nearest the railroad tracks and the houses across the vacant lot beyond the tracks on Harvard and Olive street. Five 2½ inch lines held that end of the building together and prevented the spread of sparks which from so near at hand would certainly have set fire to four freight cars on a siding and probably fired the houses on Harvard and Olive streets.

Several grass fires did occur in that neighborhood and two houses at 89 and 91 Harvard street were actually afire at one time, but these fires were quickly nipped in the bud by Engine 4 of the local department and by two pieces of Auxiliary Fire equipment, a pump and a 1000 gallon water tank equipped with a booster pump and hose. These Auxiliary pieces were manned as usual in the day time by members of the Water Department.

When the fires started in the vicinity of Harvard and Olive streets, an alarm was sounded from Box 37 and this alarm was answered by Arlington which sent its big aerial ladder and Engine 1 to the Harvard and

Sgt. and Mrs. McGray went to Mexico City for the wedding trip. They will take up residence upon their return in Marfa, Texas, where the bridegroom is stationed.

ROTARY MEETING

The Rotary Club of Winchester met for its weekly luncheon yesterday noon in Masonic Hall with an 80 per cent attendance. Although no announced speaker was present, president Ernest Dade gave an interesting summary of his idea regarding postwar planning.

Three guests attended the meeting. Vice president Harry Bigelow presided and announced plans for future programs including the coming meeting with the Woburn club. Messrs. Ralph Bonnell, William Beggs and Nicholas Fitzgerald were appointed a nominating committee for the coming election.

NOW PROFESSOR AT TECH

Lt. Comdr. George C. Manning, U. S. N., retired, of 28 Symmes road has been advanced to professor in the department of naval architecture and marine engineering at Massachusetts Institute of Technology, his and other promotions at the Institute having been announced by President Karl T. Compton last week-end.

Professor Manning commenced his second teaching assignment at M. I. T. in the fall of 1941, having previously taught there from 1926 to 1939 while he was on active duty in the Navy, serving as inspector of naval materials at the Charlestown Navy Yard.

A native of Washington, D. C., Professor Manning was graduated from the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis in the class of 1914. For 29 years he served in the regular Navy, having 30 months of foreign service in China and Manilla. While in China he held the post of chief constructor for the Far East. He is the author of several well known technical books, some of which are used as standard texts at the Naval Academy, and the Coast Guard and Maritime Academies. He is internationally known in the ship-building field.

Professor Manning's classes at M. I. T. are made up of United States Navy officers, and officers of the South American and Turkish Navies. This summer he is to institute a course for Chinese Navy officers. The teaching of highly technical subjects to young officers whose knowledge of English is far from fluent is a really arduous job and the fact that Professor Manning is the author of books treating these subjects in elementary fashion, as well as others written for the most advanced students, has stood him in excellent stead.

Professor and Mrs. Manning have made their home in Winchester off and on for the past 18 years and are now permanently settled here, or at least as permanently settled as the family of a retired Navy officer, subject to call, can be.

They have three sons, Lt. (jg) George C. Manning, Jr., (mc) U. S. N. a recent graduate of Tulane Medical School, is now interning in the United States Naval Hospital at Annapolis. Ferd is a private in the radio division of the Army Air Forces and has recently been assigned to the Drum and Bugle Corps at Fort Monmouth, N. J. The youngest son, Joe, is a sophomore at Winchester High School.

All registrants affected by this vote have been notified of the action of the board. The board can, however, forward for induction this month a few men over 26 who have qualified for either the Army or the Navy by physical examination and who have volunteered to go this month provided they notify the office of the Selective Service Board immediately of their desire to go.

All registrants whose cases have been temporarily frozen by this action of the Board will be again notified when the ban has been lifted.

WOMAN STRUCK BY TRAIN AT WEDGEMERE

Last Friday evening at 6 o'clock the towerman at Winchester Station notified the Police that a woman had been struck by an outbound train at Wedgemere Station.

Sgt. James P. Donaghey and Officer Archibald MacDonald went to the station in Patrol 51 and Officer Henry P. Dempsey followed with the Police ambulance. They could find no trace of any accident there, but the engineer of the train that got out to Winchester about 6 o'clock reported that as he passed Wedgemere a woman's hat had passed his cab window and he was afraid that he had struck some one at the station there. His train was pulled by the big engine "Rogers Ranger" and it stayed at Winchester for several minutes while word was sent back to Wedgemere to stop the train which was following. The first train was not scheduled to make a stop at Wedgemere.

Meanwhile at 7:20 p. m. Dr. Parald J. Brown of 54 Church street notified the Police that he had been called to the home of the late Talma T. Greenwood, 26 M. V. Parkway, to attend a woman who had been struck by a train.

He found there Nattie Fitchet of 34 Center street, Woburn, who requested Dr. Brown to take her to the Choate Hospital in Woburn. This he did and at the hospital she was attended by Dr. John Wilcox. The preliminary examination revealed a long cut on the right leg and ankle injuries.

Sgt. Donaghey went to the hospital to inquire into the exact extent of Mrs. Fitchett's injuries, but she was under anaesthetic and he was unable to find out. Later Police say her injuries were described as two fractured ankles and a broken wrist as well as other injuries. Police say Mrs. Fitchett had been working at the Greenwood home and was on her way to her own home in Woburn when the accident occurred.

FATHER DONOVAN 30 YEARS A PRIEST

Rev. Fr. Timothy J. Donovan, I. P. P., of St. James Parish, Haverhill, observed the 30th anniversary of his elevation to the Roman Catholic Priesthood on April 6. This is of Winchester interest because of the fact that Father Donovan is a native of this town and has a brother, Mr. Harry J. Donovan, and a sister, Mrs. Gertrude Sullivan, living here on Lincoln street.

Father Donovan is the son of the late Michael and Honorah (McNamara) Donovan. He was graduated from Winchester High School in 1906 and attended St. Charles College, Baltimore, before completing his preparation for the priesthood at St. John's Seminary, Brighton.

He was ordained by Cardinal O'Connell in 1914 and served as curate at St. Thomas Aquinas Church, Jamaica Plain, before enlisting as a chaplain in the United States Army during World War I. Following service as a transport chaplain at Camp Dix, N. J., he left the Army and was assigned to St. Patrick's Church, Roxbury; afterwards serving at the Church of the Annunciation, Danvers; and Sacred Heart Church, East Boston. He was advanced to parish priest of St. John the Evangelist Church, North Chelmsford, in 1936, and from that post went to St. James in Haverhill.

It will interest the many friends of "Deacon" Shellie Hamilton, now Lt. Robert S. Hamilton, QMC, USA, on duty somewhere in England, to learn that he has acquired a Raleigh bicycle and has gone in for cycling in a big way. According to the "Dean" these Raleigh wheels are really something, except that they are bad "mudders." They should have Lynch to break trail, Shel!

12TH ANNUAL VAUDEVILLE OPENS TODAY

Matinee This Afternoon

Since 1932 the Athletic Association of Winchester High School has sponsored an annual, all-student vaudeville show. In recent years it has been the custom to present three showings as a result of the show's popularity so that all who care to attend may find seats.

Each year the show has seemed better than its predecessors, so this year's show will be like the others chiefly by the fact that it will be "better." Each year the best dancers, best actors and actresses, the best singers, the best gym team, and the best committees are graduated; their performances cannot be duplicated. So each year a new show results which surpasses all that came before.

This year's show presents new choruses, new acts, more color, more finesse and more people. More performers who have had the advantage of two extra weeks of rehearsals have given this year's show the appearance of greater variety, more finished routines, better costuming and more elaborate settings than ever before. The former practice of having two long acts with one intermission has given way to three shorter acts and two intermissions, thus giving a more compact program.

The program follows:

Star Dusters
Alley Oop!
Movies a la Mood
Rattonnieres
Curtain Interlude
Ponyiettes
Two Irish Bhoys
Tip Top Taps
Maytime Melody
Jazzmania
Monodramatics
Valse by Delibes
Curtain Chorals
Who's Who?
Waltz Caprice
Boogy-Doo
Intermission—Piano Duet
Footlight Faux Pas
Mr. Fixit and Company
Parade of the Ponies
Tonsorial Two-Ette
Twinkle Toes
Double Squeeze Play
Mairzy Doatzy
Little Miss Melodic
Rhythm Ramblers
The Jibers
Tapographical Furor
The Little Darlings
Intermission—Piano Solo

TELETYPE AT POLICE STATION

The new Police teletype was installed by the New England Telephone and Telegraph Company at Headquarters this week and is now in use. Incidentally the local teletype is the first installed since Pearl Harbor, at least anywhere hereabouts.

The teletype has become a necessity in modern police work. Chief William H. ogers has long advocated the installation of one here and before him Chief William I. McIntosh tried to secure one.

The teletype at local Headquarters links the Winchester Department with most of the other departments, especially the larger ones, throughout Greater Boston, and with the State Police. Through the State Police the local Police can reach a large interstate network of stations.

The machine works much like a typewriter, but the messages as they are typed are immediately flashed to all departments on the teletype hookup. Conversely Winchester receives all messages from these departments as they are typed.

MRS. ELIZABETH M. MOSES

Mrs. Elizabeth M. Moses, widow of Sanford H. Moses and mother of Dr. Sanford H. Moses, of 4 Grove street, died Friday, April 7, at the Winchester Hospital after a long illness. She had been with her son in Winchester permanently for only two months, but previously had been a frequent visitor to Winchester since the death of her husband in 1931.

Mrs. Moses was the daughter of Peter, and Elizabeth (Van Volkenburgh) Kennedy. She was born May 22, 1861, in Troy, N. Y., and spent practically her entire life there, holding membership in Trinity Methodist Church and teaching for many years in its church school. She was also a director of the Bethesda Home, a home for older women in Troy. Despite the quiet retiring life she chose to lead she made and held many friends.

DR. SYDNEY BRUCE SNOW

Dr. Sydney Bruce Snow, former president of the Meadville Theological School at the University of Chicago and a native of Winchester, died in that city on Friday, April 7. Funeral services were held in Chicago on Monday.

Dr. Snow was born in Winchester March 19, 1878, son of (Capt.) William A., and Helen (Winde) Snow. His father, a veteran of the Civil War was for many years prominent in local Grand Army affairs. The family home was on Ridgeway.

Dr. Snow graduated from Winchester High School and from Harvard with the degree of A. B. in the class of 1901. As a young man he was a reporter for the Star and following his graduation from college he worked for a time on the reportorial staff of the Boston Transcript.

Though his family were Congregationalists and he was brought up in that Society, Dr. Snow, after giving up his newspaper work, entered the Unitarian ministry. He was graduated from the Harvard Divinity School with the degree of S. T. B. in 1906 and went to the West Coast for his first pastorate, being minister of the Unitarian Church in Palo Alto, Cal., from 1906 to 1909. For the next three years he was minister of the Unitarian Church in Concord, N. H., and from 1912 to 1920, including the World War I years, he was associate minister of King's Chapel in Boston. He was minister of the Church of the Messiah in Montreal, Canada from 1920 to 1926, and for the succeeding two years served as field secretary of the American Unitarian Association. He became acting president of the Meadville Theological School in Chicago in 1928 and the following year became president, continuing to head the school until his resignation shortly before his death.

Dr. Snow was awarded two honorary degrees, receiving the B. D. degree from Meadville Theological School in 1923 and the Ph.D. from the Royal Hungarian Francis Joseph University in 1938. In 1920 he was chairman of a commission of the American Unitarian Association which investigated the Unitarian Church in Transylvania under Roumanian rule. He came to Winchester Oct. 17, 1940 to participate in the installation of Rev. Paul Harmon Chapman as minister of the Unitarian Church, bringing at that time greetings from the Fellowship of Unitarian Ministers.

On Dec. 25, 1901, Dr. Snow married Margrette Kennedy of Windsor, Vt., who survives him with two daughters, Mrs. John Frosst of Montreal, Canada, and Mrs. Roger Maher of Weston; also a son, Donald Snow of Chicago, Ill.

NEW APPOINTMENT FOR MAJOR CASS

Major Kingman P. Cass of this town has been appointed Regimental Public Relations Officer by Col. E. J. Connolly, commander of the 23d Infantry, Mass. State Guard, and will combine this new assignment with his duties as Regimental Plans and Training Officer, to which position he was appointed in July 1943. Constant withdrawals to the Federal forces have required more emphasis on recruiting and publicity for the duration, and Major Cass will be assisted by public relations men in all battalions and companies.

The 23d Regiment covers the Region 5 North Area of the Boston Metropolitan District, extending from Charlestown to Weston, Wellesley and Needham. There are five battalions, with headquarters in Waltham, Malden, Stoneham, Somerville and Newton, each with a heavy weapons (machine gun) company, and several rifle companies. Enlistments now will allow examination and qualification in plenty of time for participation in the spring week-end maneuvers, and eventually the summer camp which is now proposed for the South Shore in late June or early July. The Winchester Company is known as the 16th Company of the 4th Battalion of this Regiment, and the local commander is Capt. Leslie A. Tucker.

SEAGER PROMOTED

The promotion of Walter Ewart Seager from 2nd to 1st lieutenant has been announced by the War Department.

Lt. Seager, whose wife is the former Louise Packer, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. William S. Packer of Yale street, is stationed at Ankara in Turkey as assistant military attache at the United States Embassy. Former Canadian, he became a United States citizen Feb. 22, 1943.

His brother, Major Cedric Seager, married to the former Gertrude Packer, is a Major in the United States Army and is a military attache spending his time between the U. S. Embassies in Ankara and Istanbool. Both men were born in Turkey and lived there for many years as British subjects.

THE D. A. SPEAKS AGAIN

Once again our district attorney Mr. Robert F. Bradford, has entertained a group of Winchester men. At the regular meeting of the Sherman M. Dodge Men's Club of the Methodist Church, held last Monday evening, the members and friends had the pleasure of hearing the genial D. A. give one of his many interesting talks on crime.

He chose for his subject, "Trends and Tensions in Crime" and in his talk he mentioned some of the outstanding crimes of history in this county, and their causes. Mr. Bradford was introduced to the members by the club's president, Mr. Chester B. Koontz.

HAD CHOW WITH FIRST LADY

John E. Rushworth, Yoeman, second class, brother of Mrs. Mary E. Wenworth of 24 Garfield avenue, was one of 16 Navy and Marine Corps men who had "chow" at the same table with Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, wife of the President of the United States during her recent visit to Naval District Headquarters of the Panama Canal Department.

During the meal, the first lady told the men that President Roosevelt considered their defense of "this crossroads of the world" a vital part in the over-all world picture of the war.

"FAREWELL TO LT. VOLPE"

The following from "Log", a publication of the famous Seabees at Camp Peary, Va., will prove interesting reading to the many friends of Lt. (jg) John A. Volpe at 65 Highland avenue, former venerable of the Winchester Sons of Italy Lodge. Lt. Volpe has been transferred to Washington, D. C. The article printed herewith reflects the esteem in which he is held by those with whom he worked at Camp Peary.

In the very near future Lt. (jg) J. A. Volpe expects to be transferred to another station. Mr. Volpe has served in this area as primary military training officer since its establishment early in 1943 and prior to that time served as OinC of Area C-7 in the same type of unit.

Naturally we all hate to see him leave but are consoled by the fact that we have been fortunate enough to have an officer of his ability, initative and interest in the personnel of the area to give us a really solid footing on our way to becoming good fighting men. As we think he would say, "We don't have an area of sailors but an area of good sailors."

The personnel of this area does not hesitate to say that Lt. Volpe has given the men that have gone through boot training here the best basic training in camp. All we have to do is check the records and judge from the achievements shown there. We have without a doubt won more competitive drill competitions than any area in Camp Peary and due to his efforts each and every man has the maximum amount of training.

As a parting salute to Lt. Volpe the officers and men of this area want him to know that to us he has symbolized that famous Seabee slogan "Can Do" and thank him sincerely for a job "well done!"

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Murphy of 15 Allen road, after spending last week in New York, are spending this week and next at Hollywood Inn, Pinehurst, N. C.

BOAT CLUB NEWS

SPRIG HADZ CUB!

Gentle reader, in spite of the eight inch snowfall that greeted the natal date of spring; regardless of the icy winds that have kept us sewed into our red flannels almost beyond endurance, and whether or not you've seen your first reluctant robin, spring is here. Here are three indisputable signs we can't ignore: (1) Grandma busily brewing up sulfur and molasses; (2) head colds, chest colds, and just plain ordinary colds, and last but not least (3) signs of activity at the Winchester Boat Club and the rapid approach of April 19, the club's official opening day. Put them all together and they mean spring and the start of another swell season at the club.

First of all, you'll be happy to hear that last year's steaward, Maurice Dustin will be back for a repeat performance this year. All you lads and lassies, who recall the juicy steaks and roasts and turkeys Maurice managed to serve in spite of point pinching and food shortages can now safely proceed to have your molars repaired in anticipation of future fancy feeds.

Genial Jim Newman, our Commodore has appointed some slick committees who are already busy planning parties, improvements and policies that will make 1944 the finest club season of all. One of the new attractions the club will offer is shuffle board. As soon as the frost is off the pumpkin, two courts are to be built where the tennis court now stands and tournaments will be held throughout the year.

Sailing, boating and fishing will be better than ever. We have it from a very reliable source that all those pickerel, bass and trout the club's able anglers overlooked last year are bigger and better than ever. Swimming and sun bathing facilities have been improved and those of you who enjoy just plain sitting, will find chairs and seats of varying sizes to meet your strictest requirements.

Any of you who think the long winter hasn't made you soft, are cordially invited to join the "rock buster" group at the club. This ambitious group are busy moving the stone wall back a few feet to permit the planting of a few pine trees along the side walk. This labor of love and liniment is performed every Saturday and Sunday afternoons. Visitors are welcome.

The Board of Directors have already accepted applications for membership from a host of new friends and resignations have been negligible. So, remember, April 19, is the day the old club swings back into action, so come on over and renew the old friendships and meet the new members. We'll be looking for you.

McGANN NOW CAPTAIN

The promotion of William T. McGann of this town from the rank of first lieutenant to captain was announced recently in England by the commanding general of the IX Air Force Service Command, located at an advanced air depot.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William McGann of 19 Sheridan circle.

Now with a 9th AFSC Group which works on 9th Air Force fighter planes, the captain is busy these days in his assignment as chemical officer. One of the many varied types of work it takes to operate an Air Force Group, the 9th, a part of the Allied Expeditionary Air Force, is playing a major part in blasting the German Luftwaffe into defeat in Europe.

Capt. McGann was a chemist for Remington Rand, Inc., of Bridgeport, Conn., in civilian life. He was graduated from Winchester High and from Harvard with an A. B. degree in 1937.

He received his commission of 2nd lieutenant in October, 1942, after completing Officers Candidate School at Edgewood Arsenal, Md.

McLAUGHLIN CHAMP

"Wild Willie" McLaughlin, the Pride of Stowe and Champion of all Nabnassett, emerged as champ from last week-end's regular meeting of the Palmer Beach Horseshoe Association. Mr. McLaughlin's edge over the Association's doughty president, Royal P. Teele, per usual champion of the Boston Paper Trade, was of the hair-line variety, a single game only separating the twain.

Mr. Teele was very good indeed for him and if it had not been for the fact that Mr. McLaughlin and Mr. Butters succeeded in taking an odd game in their losing match with the President and Roland "Thin Finger" Pridham at the very opening of play, Royal would actually have tied his pedagogic rival. That's how good he was.

It should not be lost sight of, as Mr. McLaughlin pointed out that Mr. Teele, on his way to his exceptional showing, had the advantage of playing his last two matches with the "Pride of Stowe" as partner. What the outcome would have been, had Royal been, for instance tied up with the Secretary, is something else again —something which very probably Mr. Teele would not care to envisage.

Even his most ardant admirer, if he has one, could hardly advance the theory that the Secretary was good last week-end; that is, and make it stick. It was his first appearance at the beach during the fresh new season, and he was not even in his usual form. This should indicate to readers of this column just how bad he was, for if these memoirs have proved anything at all, it is that the Secretary is never better than a mild luke warm.

The Srivener and Mr. Pridham engaged Mr. Teele and Mr. McLaughlin in the last match of the day and went down two straight.

Arthur E. Butters, sometimes called the State of Maine Champ, had literally a helluva time at the session. The Secretary forgot his shoes, just as the President occasionally forgets his "googles," and the result, for Mr. Butters, was much more disasterous than the outcome generally is for Mr. Teele without his specs. As a matter of fact it is a moot question whether Royal does not pitch rather better when he cannot see the stake.

Forced to compete with Teele shoes Mr. Butters could get nowhere, his axiomatic calcular trigonometric hyperbole delivery failing to function at all, let alone properly with either the Teele standard weights or the "lady shoes" which were put in play midway through the session in an effort to raise somewhat the nadir of the Butters humor.

When the Secretary arrived at the beach late, Arthur dropped out of competition with a sigh of relief. He left the courts soon afterward refusing to be comforted and talking about the irons in a way that no one should describe anyone's shoes, not even Teele's.

SONS OF ITALY LODGE NEWS

Mingie Frongillo received a letter from Poison Corbi who is in the thick of it in Europe. Poison wrote that he met Dickie Buzzotta. He is also having some interesting experiences. Knowing Poison the way we do we are sure he is doing things which will be interesting to listen to, when he gets home.

Jumbo is going great guns with his ball club. His team has won 10 and lost 1 and they are coming up to Camp Pine in New York the first of May to play. He hopes to see some of the boys. He would like to hear who used to play on his Cubs team, who used to play on his Cub teams.

Angelo Tanfaglia sent a V-mail. He writes: Sorry I couldn't write sooner. You know how it is when you are moving. It takes some time to get settled and so this is my first chance to write.

As yet I haven't met any one from the old town. Read the Star with great enjoyment. You can't imagine what a grand feeling it is to read about Larry Penta, Nick Molea, Mingie Frongillo, old J. B. the cook, Reading these names brings me back in the clubhouse to memories that I will never forget.

We also received an Easter card and a letter from Butter Muraco. In his letter he writes: Just a letter to the boys both home and abroad. I received a letter from Brother Frongillo. I certainly enjoyed his letter. I wish more of the boys would write. I also received letters from Frank Corbi and my brother Rugged They are in the best of health. I've only been in the service a short time and I enjoy getting mail.

Well that's all for this week except to say that I saw Charlie Molloy of Swanton street. He has been in the South Pacific for over two years He says he left all the boys from Winchester somewhere in the South Pacific. When he left they were all in high spirits and the best of health. He has many interesting stories to tell.

That's all, see you next week.

GOLFERS BACK IN TOWN

That intrepid foursome of local golfers, John "Shorty" Carr, "Al" Howard, Horace Ford and Ralph Bonnell, returned last week after a week's play in Pinehurst, N. C. Chief golfing honors went to Mr. Howard who won the Boston Tea Party Tournament, in which all the entries were from Massachusetts. So far as the Star could learn none of the quartet made any holes-in-one.

GRAND LAUNCHING

"Hennie" Knowlton's canvas-covered row-boat, "Marcie A," and Lou Goddu's equally canvas-covered kyak "Barnaca" (I am calling) were launched last week-end at Herrick's Pond with appropriate ceremonies. The popular high school athletic director and his capable trainer spent much of their spare time during the fall and winter constructing the craft. Mr. Knowlton starting from scratch and making the whole shooting-match while Mr. Goddu's was an assembling job of knocked-down parts from a mail-order house. Of the two, Lou's was by far the tougher detail and there were moments during the early days of assembly when it was a moot question whether he actually had the parts for a boat or a summer-house.

Completed, the craft were all that the eyes could ask for. Their seaworthiness however, remained to be established, and Herrick's Pond was chosen for this important test because of the shallowness of the water and the proximity of the shore line to the most distant spot on its surface.

A small but select gallery, including the press, witnessed the launching and made no bones about their disappointment over the failure of either craft to tip over, snag or founder. Mr. Goddu was nattily attired in moccasins, corduroy trousers and an ancient and honorable scarlet basketball sweater, sacred to the memory of the night in Chelsea when over-zealous Chelsea rooters hove a railroad tie through the door of the Winchester dressing-room after a game in which "Lou" had played rather a prominent part. Mr. Knowlton's costume comprised dungarees, moccasins, a white sweatshirt and that inevitable baseball cap without which no coach feels at all decently garbed.

Both mariners demonstrated the maneuverability of their craft, Mr. Goddu giving rather the more convincing display. Mr. Knowlton was not a little handicapped by his oars slipping from the oarlocks whenever he really laid to it in his best line-busting manner.

As a matter of fact Mr. Knowlton's daughter, "Marcie," got around the pond in her dad's boat rather better than either of the older mariners, but Mrs. Knowlton, though urged to try a spin, graciously declined the honor.

Dear Mr. Hull:

Mr. Burnham Carter of Ivy Lee has suggested that you may be able to tell us how we can acquire music and words to songs sung by the men who worked on the "Big Inch." Our Radio Program Bureau is doing a series of broadcasts tellingthe story of the building and completion of this pipeline. They want very much to use in these broadcasts the music which grew out of the work.

This Research unit has been asked to produce some of these songs within the next five days so will you let us hear from you as soon as possible?

Your co-operation will be deeply appreciated.

Re: War Emergency Pipelines, Inc.
Pipeliners Song and Dance
Mrs. Virginia Meredith
Chief of Research
Office of War Information
224 West 57th Street
New York, N. Y.
Dear Mrs. Meredith:

Replying to your letter of Aug. 12, I regret that we are not in a position to suggest where you may be able to obtain words and music to songs sung by the men who constructed the "Big Inch" pipeline. The efforts of all pipeliners have been completely absorbed in trying to construct the pipe lines as quickly as possible and there has been no opportunity for them to develop their musical talents. As a matter of fact, even if they could sing, no one would have been able to hear them because of the conflicting noises of heavy construction equipment such as diesel engine driven bulldozers, sideboom-cats, ditching machines, backhoes, tow-cats, drag-lines and electric generators.

I am told that in the 19th Century workmen engaged on construction of this character frequently sang or chanted while on the job but in recent years the work has gotten too tough for song birds.

Your announcement, that the government proposes to broadcast recordings of songs of workmen for the entertainment of the radio public, prompts me to suggest that as a matter of economy the government arrange to borrow from producers the recordings of chants in the popular film "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs." If the sounds and clank of heavy machinery, and a few oaths, be introduced at appropriate intervals with the pleasant chant of the Seven Dwarfs, I think the resultant combination might be offered to public ears as the recording of an actual gang of pipeliners at their work.

I know, of course, that many of the governmental agencies have expanded into activities of a social character because they are either over-staffed or the particular character of work originally assigned is of insufficient volume to require all of their attention. I am somewhat surprised to learn that the OWI, for some reason or another, deems it necessary to employ a Research Department for the purpose of developing recordings of songs and dances to supplement broadcasting of news directly concerning the war and the war effort.

Again, permit me to say that we are very sorry that we are unable to be of assistance to you. With assurances of my esteem and consideration, and with very best wishes, I remain,

Yours very truly,
Burt E. Hull (signed)

DOESN'T SPEAK WELL FOR HOME TRAINING

To the Editor of the Star:

Your article "What's the Answer" interested me as I have been a victim many times of the vandalism of boys presumably coming from homes of refinement and so-called culture.

The garage at 236 Main street, my former home, has been the object of boys' mischief for years. We were finally obliged to put iron over all the windows to protect the glass.

Recently boys broke and entered the garage again, took hinges off a two doors and took the door off a room where I still had some boxes stored, broke and threw Christmas ornaments and threw the contents of boxes containing school material around, tore a white kid-skin bear to pieces which my daughter valued as she had it in the hospital where she remained for months and all her doctors and nurses had autographed it; also a valuable victrola attachment was stolen.

They went to the basement and let 100 gallons of fuel oil run all over the floor and pulled down the names of ponies over the stalls.

The present owner had a flash light taken and fittings from two bicycles taken.

Nothing has been done to try and locate the guilty boys. I hardly think this speaks well for protection from such vandalism in a fine town like Winchester. It does not speak well for the training at home.

I feel as you do. What is going to be done about it?

MR. SKILLINGS A LEADING CITIZEN

To the Editor of the Star:

David Nelson Skillings, chairman of our pioneer Water Commissioners died March 10, 1880 at the age of 62 years. He was born in Portland, Me. March 7, 1818.

Mr. Skillings was always an active temperance worker, having been for several years a member of the executive committee of the Massachusetts Temperance Alliance, to which organization he was a liberal giver. He was the prohibition candidate for state treasurer for four years consecutively, beginning with 1876.

He was a resident of Winchester for almost the entire period of its history and always took a leading part in all public matters, having been largely instrumental in the introduction of water into the town. He was a member of the Board of Selectmen, chairman of the Water Board for several years and at the time of his death was president of the Savings Bank. He was a prominent member of the First Congregational Church, in which he held the office of deacon.

He was a liberal, but unostentatious giver to all worthy objects and many a poor person has been cheered and comforted through his private benefactions. No one has done as much as Mr. Skillings. Mr. Parkhurst and the late Preston Pond to beautify and adorn the town with elegant residences and grounds to correspond and make it a desirable home for persons of culture and others. Mr. Skillings was one, whose words and works proclaimed him a valuable citizen and an honest man. His death, after a brief illness called forth a universal feeling of sorrow and regret, and on the day of his funeral the business of the town was entirely suspended as the community gathered in the church, rich and poor, to pay their last tribute of respect to one who had so honored them and to look for the last time upon his familiar face.

At the annual town meeting March 22, 1880, resolutions were presented from a committee previously appointed for that purpose, setting forth in fitting terms the estimation in which the deceased was held by his townsmen. The resolutions were unanimously adopted and ordered to be placed upon the records.

Very truly yours,
Patrick H. Craughwell

SOME EARLY CHURCH HISTORY

To the Editor of the Star:

In scrutinizing the columns of the last issue of the Star I observe that 80 years ago when the old Congregational Church was burned a new church was erected by less than 400 members, yet this same church today is still large enough to accommodate a membership of over 1500 and is one of the outstanding churches in the country. The Congregational Church, erected in 1854, still stands.

That reminds me, until 1874 there was no place of Roman Catholic worship in Winchester. In that year a small chapel of frame construction was built on the site of the present Catholic Church and mass was celebrated therein on Christmas Day by the Rev. Edward E. McClure, assistant at St. Charles Church, in Woburn.

Rev. Cornelius O'Connor was the first pastor. He resided in the old Gardner house located on the site where the town hall stands. Rev. Patrick J. Daly was the second pastor of St. Mary's, 1882. Rev. William O'Brien followed Father Daly and Rev. Henry J. Madden succeeded him in 1893.

In 1906 the late Rev. Dr. Daniel J. Keleher succeeded Father Madden. Monsignor Keleher was a man of unusual ability and Winchester had reason to regret his transfer to a more important church in Lowell after an incumbency of only three years. It is recalled that on his coming to this town a reception was given him in the town hall which was promoted by the late Rev. Dr. Suter of the Episcopal Church, and attended by many of the principle citizens of the town.

Rev. Nathaniel J. Merritt succeeded Father Keleher. He remained for 20 years as pastor of St. Mary's Church. He died on Feb. 5, 1934. He was succeeded by Rev. Aloysius F. Malone. The present pastor is Rev. John P. O'Riordan.

Very truly yours,
Patrick H. Craughwell

THE BLACKOUT

We sat all alone in the dark
My little one and I.
Outside it was wierd and stark
Nothing to see but the stars and sky.
My little girl said in a frightened way,
For full of love and trust
"Mummie, God is good and He must Take care of me, night and day."
The years have gone, full of trials for all,
For full of life's joys too.
Still always I hear her dear voice call
"Mummie God will take care of you."
The "all clear" sounded loud and shrill
And God is caring for us still.

STRANGE VISITORS

The Police got a call for an unusual incident last Saturday evening when a resident of Hemingway street asked for an officer to be sent to his home.

Set. James P. Donaghey and Officer Archibald MacDonald responded in Patrol 51 and were told that shortly before the man of the house had arrived home, four boys, about 15 years old, wearing dark overcoats, pushed their way into the house through the rear door, and walking through the kitchen and dining room, left by the front door without speaking to any one or without touching anything.

The 15 year old daughter of the house was at home, but was unable to give the Police much of a description of the strange young visitors. A checkup of the neighborhood failed to disclose them.

A RED CROSS VICTORY

Now that the National Red Cross War Fund Drive is over and when the belated returns have all been received, the national quota doubtless will have been reached, it would seem excusable if the Town of Winchester should view with pride the excellent showing it made as its part in the contribution to the general fund.

With a given quota of $32,500 as its goal the citizens of the town raised a total of over $38,500 which is better than 118 percent.

Sunday, March 5, the day of the house to house canvass, witnessed scores of willing workers gathering in the contributions which our expectant friends had waiting for them, and these together with the special gifts forwarded to headquarters gave evidence at an early date that success was in sight.

Business and other local organizations responded generously in a most co-operative spirit.

While the result of the drive is indicated in dollars received it might better be translated into terms of accomplishment so that we could realize more fully that instead of merely giving our dollars we are alleviating suffering, adding comfort and saving the lives of those who are fighting for our homes and sacred traditions.

To those who gave freely of their time and talents both at headquarters and in the field there should be accorded due credit but we should not lose sight of the fact that the citizens of Winchester were the force behind the drive which resulted in the gratifying results.

These citizens, always actuated by high ideals and a spirit of generosity whenever a worthy cause presents itself, deserve the real credit, for without their patriotism and magnanimity the goal might never have been reached.

Winchester! A reputable town harboring a group of loyal citizens always ready to do their part in any worthy cause.

FRIENDSHIP'S VALUE

(Written for The Winchester Star)

Map all men be drawn in friendships bond
With less of the hurts received in the struggle,
Where, in large measure, heart wounds are healed,
The blows of adversity are softened,
The pains of disappointment lessened,
And sorrow's wounds bound up with the oil
And wine of tender human sympathy.

MRS. ELIZA C. SMILEY

Mrs. Eliza C. Smiley, widow of the Rev. James D. Smiley, died Sunday, April 9, at the Winchester Hospital after a short illness.

Mrs. Smiley was born in Bangor, Me., in 1861, the daughter of Philip Coombs and Sarah Forbes Woodhull. Her ancestors were early settlers of Bangor, coming originally from Massachusetts.

After serving various churches in New England Mr. and Mrs. Smiley settled in Winchester in 1913. Mr. Smiley died in 1915, but Mrs. Smiley spent most of her life since then in this town, being affiliated with the Fortnightly and a devoted member of the First Congregational Church. She was also for many years a member of a D. A. R. group in Boston.

Mrs. Smiley is survived by two daughters, Miss Helen H. Smiley of this town and Miss Carolyn D. Smiley of Los Gatos, Cal.; and by two sons, Richard W. Smiley of North Providence, R. I., and Rev. Edward F. Smiley of Windham, Conn.

Funeral services were held in Ripley Chapel of the First Congregational Church Wednesday afternoon at 2:30. Interment was in Wildwood Cemetery.

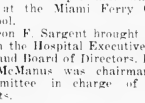

HOSPITAL MEDICAL STAFF DINED

The medical staff of the Winchester Hospital held its annual dinner Tuesday evening at the Winchester Country Club with an attendance of 40 physicians and surgeons.

Dr. Richard W. Sheehy, chief of the medical staff, acted as toastmaster. Interesting letters and cards from staff members in the armed services were read.

Prof. Richard Doherty of the Department of Economics at Boston University was the principal speaker. Among other speakers was Dr. Edward J. "Eddie" O'Brien, Boston surgeon, known far and wide as a foot ball official. He was accompanied by his son, Lt. (jg) "Dick" O'Brien, who told of his experiences while training at the Miami Ferry Command School.

Leon F. Sargent brought greetings from the Hospital Executive Committee and Board of Directors. Dr. Philip J. McManus was chairman of the committee in charge of arrangements.

Reading Room, 5 Winchester Terrace (off Thompson street). Open daily from 10 a. m. to 5 p. m.; Saturdays 10 a. m. to 6 p. m.; Sundays and Legal Holidays 3 to 6 p. m.

I am not alone, because the Father is with me. . . . In the world ye shall have tribulation, but be of good cheer; I have overcome the world. This passage from the Bible, John 16:32, 33, comprises the Golden Text to be used in the Lesson-Sermon on Sunday, April 16, in the Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, and in all of its branches.

The subject of the Lesson-Sermon will be Doctrine of Atonement, and included in the Scriptural selections is: Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, which according to his abundant mercy hath begotten us again unto a lively hope by the resurrection of Jesus Christ from the dead, to an inheritance incorruptible, and undefiled, and that fadeth not away, reserved in heaven for you (I Peter 1:3, 4).

The following passage from the Christian Science textbook, Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy, will also be included, Is it not a species of infidelity to believe that so great a work as the Messiah's was done for himself or for God, who needed no help from Jesus' example to preserve the eternal harmony? But mortals did need this help, and Jesus pointed the way for them (p. 494).

HELEN SAVAGE GREEN TO ENTERTAIN

Helen Savage Green, who will lecture to the new Women's Association of the First Congregational Church, at their first meeting on Tuesday, April 25, at 2 p. m. has earned the name of a successful speaker over all New England.

"Scandinavian Blondes in Costume" the lecture she will give, illustrates costumes and music from the Northland. The beauty of color and the charm of intricate handwork enhance the blonde beauty of the children and women displaying representative as well as unusual peasant styles from Norway, Sweden and Finland.

"An excellent speaker, Mrs. Green held her audience spellbound," said the Boston University News after her appearance there. A report from Meridan, Conn., says, "Mrs. Green fascinated her audience with the foreign costumes displayed on models chosen from local people; her personal charm and manner of story telling won the hearts of all."

Mrs. Green, wife of Raymond Green principal of the Newton, Mass. High School has traveled extensively abroad. At one time Mrs. Green was president of the Newtonville Women's Club.

All women of the First Congregational Church are cordially invited to attend this lecture.

"EUROPEAN UNDERGROUND"

Mr. Leo Lania will speak in Winchester on the "European Underground" April 26, under the auspices of the Women's Guild and the Men's Club of the First Congregational Church.

Leo Lania's claim to fame is many sided, journalist, playwright, novelist, scenarist.

As a journalist he has been from the beginning of Europe's turmoil, as the noted American war correspondent, Edgar Mowrer, puts it: ". . . one of the few to see and denounce the danger of Hitler. Among the blind, the myopic, the wearers of pink spectacles, the wrong-headed, he was clear-eyed. Without his vision, his courage, and if you will, his unfailing luck, he would not now be alive and in America . . ."

This last line refers to the Austrian journalist's amazing tour de force, which enable him to live in close proximity to Adolf Hitler for ten days, while he watched the man in many moments, in many moods, talked with him of many things. Posing as a Fascist and an emissary of Mussolini, Lania interviewed Hitler and wrote one of the most informative and revealing articles about him. Since this was before Hitler had as much power as he was later to have, the story was published by a German newspaper.

The repercussions were considerable, since in the article were revealed, among other things, Hitler's plans for his march on Berlin. Lania was promptly called "a louse" by one German paper and a price was put on his head . . . and unquestionably the Nazis even today, 20 years after Lania's feat, still would like to get their hands on him. But he managed to reach this country with his wife and child in 1940 and he's been here ever since.

Leo Lania, born in the Russian-Ukraine, was an Austrian citizen when he reached the United States in 1940, but he is well on his way to becoming an American citizen, having taken out his first papers immediately after arriving here.

Of his adopted land, he says: "I have only one criticism of America. Americans are not fanatical enough in their devotion to democracy."

GUILD OF THE INFANT SAVIOUR

At the next regular meeting of the Guild, we are very happy to announce that Rev. Father Connelley, director the Catholic Guild of the Blind, will be guest speaker. Father Connelley is noted for his work among the blind and his experiences should be interesting to hear. This will be on Tuesday, April 25 at 2:30 o'clock in Lyceum Hall. It will also be guest day, so come and bring your friends for a social afternoon. Tea will be served.

The annual spring bridge of the Chapter will take place on Thursday, May 4 at the Winchester Country Club. This is our great social event of the year, the one to which we look forward with pleasure. Make up a table with your friends. Some very lovely prizes will be awarded. Exact time of bridge will be announced at a later date.

Hostesses at the tea on Tuesday, April 11 were: Mrs. John Lennon, Mrs. William Murray, Mrs. Herbert Graves, Mrs. Harry Donovan, Mrs. M. G. Moffett. Pourers were Mrs. Edwin Booth and Mrs. Lester Billings.

In spite of the high achievements of the Players in the past, we venture to say that this is the best thing Doc Blanchard has ever done, and the production as a whole is shaping up into one of their very finest.

If you want to see a gang of crooks thoroughly discomforted by an elderly and quite saintly Bishop, who by his very naivete disconcerts and captures them, don't fail to be present when the curtain rises on this very unusual type of play, which took Broadway by storm when produced there in 1935.

PICTURES OF PACIFIC WAR

For the father and sons meeting next Friday evening, April 21, in Epiphany parish hall, some fathers will perhaps be borrowing a son for the occasion. For a lot of Epiphany fathers have their only son or all their sons in uniform, in training or in active service and their flesh and blood sons can go with them this year only as remembered jolly comrades of other such times. Some Scouts and Fellowship boys, too, may have to look about for proxy fathers to bring, for their own are in service and a long distance away. It won't be illegal for either generation to come alone, but the Men's Club hopes that the temporarily sonless and fatherless will invite outside the family and so bring a hall-filling audience for the pictures.

Comdr. Hugh Webster has secured these official U. S. Navy pictures, "The Battle of Tarawa," "The Life and Death of the Hornet," and "This Is Guadalcanal." These are some of the films called incentive pictures, which the Navy has shown in many plants making equipment or building ships for the U. S. Navy.

Commander Webster will give pertinent explanations and will answer, in addition to the war pictures a film showing activities of a Boy Scout camp will be shown.

The following committee of the Men's Club has arranged the evening: Messrs. Gerald Curtis, Maxwell Fish, Chas. Hart, Maxwell McCreery, Henry E. Moffette and Comdr. Hugh Webster.

Refreshments will be served

WOMEN'S ALLIANCE

The Women's Alliance of the Unitarian Church held its annual meeting on Tuesday, April 11. Luncheon was served at 1 o'clock. The reports of the chairmen were interesting and showed a very busy and satisfactory year. As is the custom, Mrs. Theodore C. Browne, the retiring president was made a life member of the General Alliance.

A most amusing one act comedy "Rising With Grace" was given by some of the younger members of the Alliance and was enjoyed by all.

The officers for the ensuing year are:

President: Mrs. Arthur G. Robbins
1st Vice President: Mrs. Reginald Bradlee
2nd Vice President: Mrs. Theodore C. Browne
Recording Secretary: Mrs. Bouldin G Barbank
Corresponding Secretary: Mrs. Daniel Kelley
Treasurer: Mrs. Joseph W. Morton
Membership Treasurer: Mrs. Wilbert E. Underwood

On April 27 at 6:30 the annual dinner and election of officers will be held. A home cooked dinner will be served by men of the class and our guests will be, all of the young people of the church. A special program of entertainment designed to appeal to the young folk has been arranged.

We feel gratified to announce that our guest speaker on Sunday, April 30 will be Rev. Ashley Day Leavitt of Boston.

FIRE DESTROYED BUILDING

Olive street neighborhood. Householders and bystanders rallied to fight the small grass fires, some of which set fire to fences and threatened a good sized hen yard. Garden hose, spades and brooms were brought into play and women of the neighborhood filled pans and tubs of water which they got to the volunteer firemen. Most of the houses had roofs of fire resisting shingles and this undoubtedly prevented a serious general fire.

The railroad officials were notified of the fire and dispatched an engine and crew from Boston to haul the four freight cars out of the danger zone. A journal box on one of the cars caught fire and some of the track sleepers went ablaze, but otherwise the railroad suffered no damage.

The big Puffer building was completely destroyed though the efforts of the firemen did leave some 25 feet or so of it standing at the end toward the railroad tracks.

Situated behind the International Cooperage plant off Swanton street, it and the latter plant were originally units of the old McKay works of the United Shoe Machinery Company, the wooden building being used as a forge. Later the building was used by Sanford D. Leland to manufacture steel lockers under the name of the Manufacturers Equipment and Engineering Company.

Later the Puffer Manufacturing Company, manufacturers of soda fountains, used the building for storage and for cutting marble, and recently the building was acquired by Mr. Stanley Puffer of Harrison street formerly identified with the Puffer Company. Until it was destroyed he was using the building for the manufacture of soda fountains and to house supplies, tools and dies.

Three soda fountains, two completed, were in the building when it caught fire together with a number of carbonizers and other valuable supplies, including a quantity of marble. The explosions caused when the carbonizers blew up were easily apparent some distance from the building. Two big acetelyn tanks in the eastern end of the building fortunately did not explode. One of the larger fountains was to have been delivered to an Arlington firm on Monday.

Chief John J. Gorman first set the fire loss at $25,000, but subsequent checkups indicate that it will exceed this figure. Mr. Puffer had just completed plans to remodel the building, and had already installed a new roof.

A big crowd was attracted by the fire and the police on duty were kept busy. Chief William H. Rogers and Sgt. Thomas F. Cassidy happened to be in the neighborhood when the alarm sounded and were on the job immediately. Officers Irving Reardon and Edward Bowler were also on duty at the fire.

FORTNIGHTLY WAR RELIEF KNITTING COMMITTEE

In the last six months the War Relief Knitting Committee of the Fortnightly, chairmaned by Mrs. William E. Priest, has purchased $75.83 worth of yarn which has been distributed to interested Fortnightly members and non-members.

Thirty-six pairs of sox, 36 balaclavas, and 12 pairs of trigger mitts have been completed and sent to Boston. Names and addresses of the knitters were placed in the garments, and cards and letters of appreciation have been received from the recipients.

In addition it has collected and contributed $17 to the "Hello Mont Fund". This fund, sponsored by the State Federation War Relief Committee, and supported entirely by voluntary contributions, is used to give boys who are ordered overseas and who are too far away to get home before leaving these shores, an opportunity to call their families for a goodbye chat.

FINAL WEEK OF RUSSIAN KIT DRIVE

When? April 14 through April 21, the closing date for your chance to fill a kit for a needy Russian family returning to a reconquered village. Miss Alice Main, chairman of the committee announces that the response to date has been eager and that a final push this coming week will bring Winchester's quota to its full. Cub Pack 3, Den 4 and Girl Scouts Troop 4 and Troop 9 are among the Winchester young people who have already filled kits.

FIREMAN'S BALL

Opening with a dynamic interpretation of the favorite "Old Man River" from "Show Boat," Mr. Skelton sang the dramatic "This Is Worth Fighting For," a spine-tingling war song; followed by a medley number, "They Say" and "Talk of the Town." He could have continued indefinitely, but he closed his brief concert with the rhythmic "Chloey", chosen by the audience in a close vote over "The Road to Mandalay."

The Dorman Brothers, a technical corporal and a private from Fort Devens, offered songs and chatter that were different. Their impersonation of two boys at a motion picture show got plenty of laughs, but their closing number, in which they were assisted by five stooges, Firemen Bob Haggerty, Eddie Hughes, Francis Tansey, John Pearson and Warren Osborne literally brought down the house.

The Virginia Melford Trio, European acrobats, brought the entertainment program to a close with a breath taking performance of balancing, timing and strength that was both novel and well done. This act was handicapped as were some of the others by the limited space in which the performers had to work and by the sharp pitch of the town hall stage.

Following the show the hall was cleared for dancing and Carl Rohde's Band, which played for the show, also played for this important feature of the ball. Everyone was delighted with the music and the band's featured singer, a young lady alike easy on the ears and eyes.

Chief John J. Gorman acted as Floor Marshal for the dancing with Edward Callahan as assistant. George Osborne was Floor Director and members of the Fire Department served as aids.

While the dancing was in progress at the hall there was open house at headquarters where visiting firemen dropped in to examine the local apparatus and swap yarns with the permanent men on duty. Refreshments were served at the Legion House under the direction of Firemen Edward Hughes, Francis Tansey and John Flaherty. Many dropped in there for a bite and a cup of coffee.

Capt. J. Edward Noonan headed the general committee in charge of arrangements, assisted by Firemen Howard Ambrose and Francis Nowell.

COLD STORAGE

Despite rising prices, many allowed by changes and amendments to the OPA price structure, the charges for insured cold storage by Fitzgerald Cleansers remain the same as in the past. This means the charge is based on 2 percent of your valuation, instead of the customary 3 percent, with the usual minimums, charged generally by nearly all Boston firms, furriers as well as department stores. And the storage plant in which Fitzgerald Cleansers places your garments, fur or cloth, is far superior to the best those other firms have to offer. This is due, perhaps, to the fact that the vault was completed just before the war when all the latest equipment was available, protective and refrigerating. Consequently, it so happens that for $1 less for every $100 valuation declared, Fitzgerald Cleansers offer far better protective facilities than the large Boston firms.

Until conditions clarify, most likely not until after the war, dry cleansing will not be done. However, having installed special fur cleaning equipment before the war, it is intended to clean those furs that the customer wishes to have done by the recommended furrier's process.

The plant is open every week-day from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. Customary calls will be made by delivery. The telephone is Win. 2350. ap7-tf

GRANGE NOTES

At Winchester Grange on Tuesday night the third and fourth degrees were worked on a class of five candidates: Gleason W. Ryerson, Walter Herrick, Ethel Herrick, Mrs. Ethel Groop and Marjorie Ryerson.

The third degree was worked by the ladies' degree team, Elsie M. Lyons, master, and the fourth degree by the regular officers.

State Deputy Leslie O. White of Allston, who was present for the purpose of inspecting the work of the Grange, spoke highly of the degree work, especially of that of the ladies' degree team, and praised the Grange for its fine spirit.

The Worthy Flora, Josephine Meskell, in charge of the gifts for soldiers read a letter from Lt. Col. MacArthur, chaplain at Camp Devens, thanking the Grange for their gifts which meant so much to the soldiers. Col. MacArthur stated that he was especially pleased to receive the gifts from a Grange, as he himself had been a member of the order for 30 years. The gifts for this week will be sent to the Chelsea Naval Hospital.

Lunch was served at the close of the meeting.

LECTURE AT B. U.

Mrs. J. Edward Downes and Mrs. F. Women's Graduate Club for the purpose of purchasing scientific equipment for University purposes. Mrs. J. Edward Downes was in charge of tickets and Mrs. F. Edward Downes was one of the sponsors for the affair. It is of interest that the lecture was given by Dr. Charles H. Tozier, widely known traveler, photographer and lecturer, who is also a resident of this town.

FINE PERFORMANCE OF MOZART CONCERTO

A week ago at the residence of Mr. Walter L. Rice, 236 Mystic Valley Parkway, before a small gathering of music lovers, Mr. Joshua Phippen, the eminent pianist, brilliantly played the Mozart C Major Piano Concerto. He was accompanied by a string quartet with Mrs. Gertrude Wheeler and Mr. Rice playing violins, Mrs. Robert Drake, viola and Miss Leonor Rich, cello.

This concerto is one of Mozart's best works and is often played by a pianist with the larger symphony orchestras.

Mr. Phippen, despite his 80 years, is still able to play these masterpieces of the great composers a technical proficiency, fire and interpretive skill that many a gifted young pianist would well could envy.

Fitting seats to people instead of fitting people to seats...

That's why, in the concourse of the North Station, we are now on the last stretch of the task of measuring 3,000 women and men passengers. This scientific research is being conducted with the cooperation of Dr. E. A. Hooton, Head of the Department of Anthropology at Harvard University and the Heywood-Wakefield Company of Gardner, a seat manufacturer located in New England territory.

This is but one of the many things which the Boston and Maine is now doing, seeking to get ready for the post-war period when we plan to offer the ultimate in comfort for train travel. Many people have complained that present-day coach seats "don't fit me."

Our desire for correctness naturally led us to Dr. Hooton, the recognized authority on the physical charactistics of man. After some preliminary research he told us that before recommending the size of chair that would best fit the most passengers of the train coach of the future, he insisted on statistics. That's why we are measuring people in the North Station.

The job is nearly completed. Those women and men who have been measured to date will be able to say, after the war, "I helped design this comfortable seat!" We know it will be comfortable, too — for from the 3,000 typical measurements we're getting now we shall have data enabling us to give the great majority of our riders a coach seat that really fits!

While you put up — as you so cheerfully have — with the inconveniences which are necessary in our service during wartime, we want you to know that we aren't just "sitting tight" while we continue to move wartime freight and passengers in record-breaking volume.

We are also hard at work in our research efforts to make sure that, come the end of the war, we can offer you equipment such as you never even dreamed of — the kind of equipment predestined to make you want to continue traveling by train!

AND, BY THE WAY —

There's still time for you to participate in this history-making project. Being measured takes only 4 minutes of your time. And most of those who have helped us tell the attendants "It's fun."

Why don't you drop in to the measuring enclosure in the North Station concourse today, or the next time you are in town, and be among the women and men who can say, "I helped design the coach seat of the future."

Incidentally, in the 4 minute measurement you will receive your exact weight and height taken scientifically at no charge.

PROMOTIONS TO COME

(Written for The Winchester Star)

Heaven's grandest promotions gravely anticipated
Will be for those who here on earth tolerated
No thoughts and endeavors other than those consecrated
To goodly deeds among men with great trials devasted
And by weeping because of man's inhumanity without necessitation.
God will amply reward those who on the cruel anvil of negation
Fought life against great odds and suffered in preponderation.

BRITISH WAR RELIEF

The Winchester Unit had a shower of free-will offerings last Wednesday. As each worker came into the central work room in the Epiphany parish hall, her woman's eye was caught by a table covered with things for babies to wear. The colors were like those which April showers will be bringing out now in a bed of hyacinths. Such a display at the very beginning of the day was a gay surprise and one had to stop and count.

There stood 10 pairs of baby shoes of fleecy cotton, double to make them warm enough for new babies up in the far north of Scotland or on islands often blanketed with marrow-piercing chill fogs. Some pink throughout, tied with white; others that followed a blossom pattern, pink lined with white. Hyacinth-like were the five little wrappers and five litle jackets, where button-holed edges and ribbons touched blue with pink and pink with blue; and the six little Gertrudes white and pink. The very scraps that fell from cutting the garments had been made into a lovely and warm crib blanket. All this had been bought, planned, made and sent by one friend of British War Relief, Mrs. Arthur Sandall, 43 Beacon avenue, Holyoke.

Another gift the unit acknowledges gratefully was a generous check from a Winchester giver who always gives anonymously.

New workers will find on each Wednesday coffee at 12:30, and a cordial welcome. They will bring their own sandwiches. They will like the color of the dresses on which they will be working.

There will be no meeting on Patriot's Day, April 19, but the unit will meet April 26.

TELEPHONE COMPANY INSTALLATION PROBLEMS

To a householder who wants a telephone and can't get it because of wartime demands and shortages, there may be some satisfaction, perhaps not a great deal, in the knowledge that his is one of about a million "held orders" in the files of Bell Telephone Companies throughout the United States, according to Manager J. E. Sullivan of the local office of the New England Telephone and Telegraph Company.

"Most people realize, I think what the difficulty is," Mr. Sullivan says. "The manufacture of telephone instruments was stopped about two two years ago so that the plants of the Western Electric Company could turn out vast quantities of field telephones, walkie-talkies, aircraft and battleship communications systems, and Signal Corps equipment. That meant practically no expansion of the civilian telephone system, and the margins that existed when the country entered the war were taken up by the Army and Navy needs and the great increase in communication demands by war industries. About 2,500,000 telephones have been added to Bell System lines and offices since the Pearl Harbor attack, and with manufacture stopped, we're scraping the bottom of the barrel on telephone instruments, central office equipment and cable.

"New England is in about the same situation as the rest of the country, perhaps worse in some spots because of the concentration of war production in this area. My company now has more than 60,000 held orders in its files. Priority must be given to telephones essential to the conduct of the war, and that leaves little for the expanding civilian demand," Mr. Sullivan states.

"In Winchester we have our share of these held orders, about 59 of them, and many have been in the files for several months.

"The local situation is complicated by the fact that the war has placed unusual burdens on the exchange, and the central office is carrying a traffic load well in excess of what it was designed for. Despite the best efforts of our operators, and they are doing a splendid job, there is a limit to the increase they can handle.

"It's difficult to predict when we can hope for much improvement," Manager Sullivan went on. "Before manufacture of telephone instruments and other equipment for civilian use can start up again, not only will much more Signal Corps material have to be supplied but, even after the termination of war contracts, the Western Electric Company will have the job of clearing its plants of war work then in process, and of carrying out a complex reconversion job."

PLANNING FOR THE FUTURE

For those who are planning their ideal house to be built after the war we suggest that they choose the site now. Winchester has many desirable lots, 10,000 square feet and over in attractive locations.

On Mystic Lake we have one lot of approximately 14,000 square feet, priced at $4500. An ideal home site.

Dear Library Book Borrower,

When we are asked to charge books and magazines to you without your card it is necessary to keep you waiting until your number is looked up in the registration file and a temporary charge slip is made for you.

If you return books and magazines to the library without your library card temporary records have to be made, and moreover, you have no record of the transactions.

Such methods are not efficient and mistakes may occur more easily.

We ask that you carry your library card with you as you do other important papers such as your ration books, charge account cards, driver's license, etc. If more convenient your library card may be folded.

Your co-operation in this matter will be greatly appreciated in order that the library may continue to serve you and other townspeople efficiently and accurately.

HIGH SCHOOL VAUDEVILLE IN PLEASING 12TH EDITION

Combining the finesse of the well drilled and beautifully costumed Pony Chorus, Ponyettes, "Once Upon a Time . . ." ballet and the nicely rendered vocal contributions of the Ensemble and girls' and boys' glee clubs with the more-to-be expected vaudeville acts, the 12th annual Vaudeville surpassed expectations by its variety and splendor last Friday and Saturday evenings. Capacity audiences crowded the high school auditorium on both nights.

Though space limitations won't permit a detailed description of the entire production effected by the combined efforts of about 300 people, of which 161 were performers in the 30 acts, mention may be made of those numbers which seemed to evoke the most sustained applause.

The first number to release the enthusiasm of the capacity audiences was the skit "Two Irish Bhoys" by Phil and Ted O'Rourke. Priscilla Morrill had the reluctant dance partners all with her during her skillful monologue. Then the "Jazzmania" introduced by Messrs. Mahoney, Norton, Harvey, Wilde, Lovejoy and Currey raised the roof. This carry-over group might well have "sent" its youthful followers for an entire evening apparently. Mrs. Claudia Howard led the glee club in a pleasing selection which, no doubt, inspired many to make reservations for the May concert. After an amusing Eaton-Clement bit of frivolity, the cowboy act "Docey-Doe" ended act one with a colorful and fast moving set of square dancing, Ted O'Rourke calling tirelessly in a tempo that made the audience gasp for breath. Special mention should be made of the singing of "Old Faithful" in this skit by Aileen Welch, Dorothy Hickey and Eileen MacInac.

Act two opened with Alan Bughee as director of a dance rehearsal to set the pace for later acts. The "Parade of the Ponies" which followed was rather better in timing and precision than many of the pony choruses that have appeared here. "Tonsorial Two-ette" with Johnston and Lovejoy as vocalists and Bill Everett at the piano drew thundering applause, probably the heaviest of part 2. "The Jibers" featured college songs by Freddie Hicks' choristers: Dick Fenno, Joe Foley, Steve Greene, Fuzz Hicks, Ken Harvey, Bob Johnston, Charlie Lovejoy, Phil O'Rourke and Ted O'Rourke. They were well received and graciously dedicated one of their college song numbers to Mrs. A. B. Corthell, popular accompanist, who recalled many happy years on the campus of New York University.

DUMP HEARING LIVELY SESSION

There wasn't much sentiment for placing a dump in the Cross street location advocated by the Board of Health at the hearing held by the Committee on the Public Dump in the small town hall Tuesday evening. In fact just one speaker had the temerity to support the site in the face of overwhelming opposition. He was Mr. Cranghwell, long noted for possessing the courage of his convictions, and he stuck to his guns despite the obviously strong sentiment in opposition, contending that there were had holes at the proposed site which should be filled and minimizing the smoke and odor nuisance to which the opponents objected.

If there were those in the hearing which overran the small hall, necessitating extra seats with standing and an overflow in the gallery, who agreed with Mr. Cranghwell, they held their peace. All the other speakers either opposed the dump on Cross street in forthright fashion or asked for information, expressing an opinion neither for nor against. The meeting as a whole was against the Cross street site, there could be no doubt of that, but in fairness to those from Precincts 1 and 6 it should be said that these stout opponents did not want a dump anywhere, not even on the west side or at Symmes Corner. An incinerator seemed to be what all the Cross street opponents wanted and after a bit of scurrying about and conferring with the Moderator and Town Counsel, Chairman Elliott Cameron of the Selectmen announced that the warrant for the coming special town meeting to consider the dump would be reopened and broadened to include consideration of an incinerator as a means of disposing of rubbish.

Mr. Gleason, chairman of the Dump Committee presided at the hearing and among those who spoke against the Cross street site were Mr. Davidson, chairman of the Park Commissioners; Mr. Rawley, Mr. Fallon, Mr. Hewis, Mrs. McDonald, Mr. Sanderson, Mr. Osgood, Mr. Longfield, Mrs. Woodside, Sgt. MacFarlane, Mr. Martin Foley, Sgt. Derro, Mr. Dewey, Mr. Chatfield and Mr. Parker. Mr. Worthen, Mrs. Fitts, Mr. Bonnell and a gentleman whose name was not announced also spoke, but their remarks were more general than directly concerned with the Cross street site, the last named offering the suggestion that the town might lease waste land out of town for damp purposes as they do in other places.

Generally speaking the opposition objected to the dump on the grounds of odor, vermin, danger from fire and infection, especially in connection with the proximity of the site to the Leonard Field Beach and Playground and the Winchester Hospital. All agreed that Winchester's dump is a well kept dump, but those opposing the Cross street site felt that the town should no longer have dumps as a means of rubbish disposal.

About the only constructive suggestion offered was that of Mr. Sanderson who felt it would be a good idea to secure the land formerly occupied by the old freight yard and erect an incinerator there. Mr. Martin Foley suggested that Winter Pond, or that part of it now dry, might well be filled in and that there are many deep depressions in the outskirts of the town toward Arlington Heights which might be suitable for a dump.

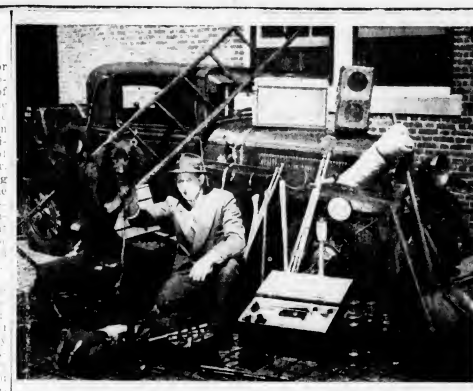

These were the only positive suggestions, despite Mr. Gleason, Mr. Patrick Foley and Mr. Walsh of the Dump Committee repeatedly asking for specific information as to where a dump should be placed. No one seemed to want a dump at all. About every one came back to the incinerator idea.

In response to the doubt expressed over the possibility of erecting an incinerator at this time, Mrs. Woodside stated that she had conferred with WPB authorities and had been assured by the chief for New England that he knew of no regulation that would prevent the erection of one here at this time. Costs of incinerators quoted at the meeting ranged from $6500 to $12,000 for the Newton plant, which costs $50 a day to operate and does not do away with the necessity for a dump of some sort.

In response to more questions, Mrs. Woodside stated that she had been informed by one qualified to talk about incinerators that one could be built in about two months and that an incinerator to serve less than 20,000 people would cost under $40,000. Mr. Chatfield added the information secured from Metcalf and Eddy, engineers, that an incinerator to serve Winchester would not cost over $50,000 and possibly nearer $37,000.

Mr. Dewey warned the committee that if the town voted to maintain a dump at the Cross street site the fight would commence at that point and the Assessors would be immediately petitioned by some 300 persons for abatements in property valuations. Petitions opposing the site, said to be signed by 95 percent of the persons living nearby were presented the committee for consideration.

Lt. Col. Wade L. Grindle, USA, who is commandant of the Fort at Augusta, Me., was in town on leave last week-end, arriving in time to attend last Friday evening's performance of the Vaudeville Show at Winchester High School. Col. Grindle is principal of the school, on leave for the duration, and never fails to attend school functions here whenever his Army duties permit.

MEDFORD HERE MONDAY

Winchester High School opens its 1944 baseball season Monday afternoon, meeting Medford High School on Manchester Field at 3 o'clock. Medford beat Arlington, runner-up in last year's State Tourney, 8-0 yesterday, so apparently the local boys have no soft touch.

It has been some years since a Medford team visited Winchester, the last occasion was in the days of Coach Mansfield when "Ernie" Roberts, former local coach, was handling the Mustangs.

Coach Knowlton has been having daily practice this vacation week and expects to have his boys ready though he is making no promises. He will send either "Scratch" Amico or big Sam Tompkins to the mound against Medford with the odds favoring Amico because of his actual pitching experience, obtained as a freshman two years ago when he alternated with Pete Provinzano and did well.

Rangy Dick Nihan will catch and without disparaging the big boy, it is safe to say that Coach Knowlton wishes very much the veteran Jim Thaudo were around to handle his pitchers this spring. Jim is in the service, electing to go right in rather than stay to finish his senior year in school.

Teddy O'Rourke will play first base with the letter keystone pair of Sarro Walsh and Sammy Tibaudo at second and short. Either Pete Osgood, a newcomer from Newton or Dick Coon, will play third. Capt. Tony Sarace will play left and Bob Swymer, right field. Either Tompkins or Amico, whoever doesn't pitch, will play center.

ROLL CALL SUPPER

The annual Roll Call supper of the Second Congregational Church will be held this evening in the church hall at 6:30. The Bethany Society will serve the supper which will have that old favorite, chicken pie, as its main dish. The roll call will follow the supper and it is expected that many members and friends of the church will make of the occasion an opportunity to meet their friends.

HONORARY MEMBERS

Staff Sgt. Robert J. Lynch, Staff Sgt. Stanley E. Cliff and Radioman Kenneth McCartney, Winchester boys who have lost their lives in World War II, have been made honorary members of Winchester Post, 97, American Legion.

LT. DEMPSEY PROMOTED

State Police Officer Former Winchester Boy

Lt. Inspector John F. Dempsey of the State Police, who has been serving as a detective in the plain clothes squad, was promoted to the rank of detective inspector last Friday by Commissioner of Public Safety John F. Stokes. He was assigned by Supervisor of Inspectors Joseph F. Ferrari to head the criminal investigation of the Cape Cod District, Martha's Vineyard and Nantucket. He will be attached to the office of District Attorney William C. Crossley.

Detective Inspector Dempsey is the son of Mr. Patrick Dempsey of 907 Main street and brother of Officer Henry P. Dempsey of the Winchester Police Department. He, himself, for a time was a member of the local department. His rise in the State Police has been unusually rapid, he being one of the youngest men to be appointed to a commission in the plain clothes squad. He has figured in many major crimes in the Commonwealth and has been cited on several occasions for his successful solution of crimes and crime waves. Another brother, Stanley Dempsey is a member of the Boston and Maine Railroad Police.

Inspector Dempsey entered the State Constabulary in 1923 as a uniformed patrolman. He was promoted to corporal after two years' service and then made a sergeant assigned to the Barnstable barracks as commanding officer. In 1934 he was assigned to plain clothes work as a lieutenant inspector assigned to Commonwealth Pier under the then Capt. Stokes. Each of the four police commissioners under whom he has served had occasion to commend his work publicly. He qualified for his most recent promotion in a competitive examination. He is a resident of East Milton.

REV. JOHN J. CONNOLLY TO SPEAK IN WINCHESTER

On Tuesday afternoon, April 25, in Lyceum Hall, Rev. John J. Connolly, Director of the Catholic Guild for the Blind will talk to the members of the Guild of the Infant Saviour on "The Blind in Our Community."

The Guild for the Blind is an organization founded in 1936 by His Eminence William Cardinal O'Connell to meet the growing need of a specialized service for the blind of the five counties of the Boston Archdiocese. Father Connolly has been director since the foundation of the Guild and his work has been so varied that he will give an inspiring and astounding picture of what has been accomplished in his eight years of office.

Every member is invited to attend, and as this is an open meeting to bring one or more guests. As Father Connolly is an extremely busy man, we should have a large attendance to greet him. After his lecture he will meet the members of the Guild personally and answer any questions members or guests may wish to ask.

After the meeting tea will be served, with members of the board as hostesses, Mrs. Edward J. Gallagher, program chairman, is in charge of the affair, with Mrs. Michael H. Hintlian presiding.

Richard Joseph Donahue, seaman 2nd class of 7 Central street will complete his recruit training at the Naval Training Station, Sampson, N. Y. on May 4 when he will be granted leave.

CHARLES L. DOHERTY

Charles L. Doherty, one of the four Doherty brothers who played years ago on the old North Woburn semi-pro baseball team, died Thursday, April 20, at noontime at his home, 259 Washington street. He had been ill with heart disease and spent six weeks in the Winchester Hospital, returning to his home about three weeks ago. He had been able to get out for a day and was preparing to go out again yesterday when he was fatally stricken.

Mr. Doherty was the son of Michael and Ellen (Doherty) Doherty. He was born in Woburn 56 years ago and graduated from Woburn High School in 1908, catching on the school baseball team and forming with his twin-brother, James, who pitched, one of the few twin batteries ever heard of hereabouts. He captained the high school team in 1907, his brother being captain the following year.

After graduation Mr. Doherty and his twin brother played on the old North Woburn nine, one of the good semi-professional teams in this vicinity in those days. The deceased played first base and his twin brother, third, the battery being an older brother, Neil, who was a fine pitcher, and another brother, Michael, who caught. The team was widely known in the independent ranks and often played in Winchester.

Mr. Doherty was employed at the old Merrimac Chemical Company in North Woburn as a paymaster before World War I. He enlisted in the Army at the time of the war and last served in the 2nd Company, of the First Battalion of the 151st Depot Brigade. Following the war he had been employed as a receiving clerk at the Monsanto Chemical Company in Everett.

On June 15, 1920, Mr. Doherty married Mae O'Brien of Winchester and had since made his home here. Besides his wife and the brothers mentioned above he leaves a brother, Patrick Doherty of Winchester, and a sister, Mrs. Bernard McHugh of Lynn.

The funeral will be held Monday morning from the late residence with solemn requiem high mass at St. Mary's Church.

CHARLES T. KELLOUGH

Charles T. Kellough of 1301 Commonwealth avenue, Allston, Boston attorney and former resident of Winchester, died Saturday, April 15, at the Winchester Hospital. He left town about 15 years ago, but was formerly a resident here for 20 years, living on Lakeview road.

Mr. Kellough was the son of Thomas and Anna (Tyler) Kellough. He was born Oct. 25, 1878, in East Boston, was graduated from East Boston High School and from Boston University where he was a member of the Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity. Subsequently he graduated from Boston University Law School and was admitted to the bar, practicing his profession in Boston for many years. His offices were at 11 Beacon street. He was a member of the old Boston City Club and during his residence in Winchester was a member of the Unitarian Church.

Mr. Kellough leaves two sisters, Mrs. Alison L. Danforth of this town and Mrs. Roscoe G. Bicknell of Worcester, also a brother, Willard P. Kellough of Winchester.

Private funeral services were held Sunday at Waterman's Funeral Chapel in Boston with Rev. George Hale Reed of this town officiating. Interment was in Woodlawn Cemetery, Everett.

Miss Gertrude A. McNally of Washington street is visiting her sister-in-law, Mrs. Joseph D. McNally at Albermarle, N. C.

MRS. ANNIE HANSCOM

Mrs. Annie Hanscom, widow of Charles Hanscom and a resident of Winchester for 27 years, died Saturday, April 15, at the Ring Hospital in Medford following a two weeks illness.

Mrs. Hanscom was 73 and a native of Nova Scotia. She had been living latterly with her daughter, Miss Kathleen Hanscom, at 93 Wildwood street, but previously for some years made her home on Park avenue. Besides her daughter, she leaves a son, Lt. Raymond C. Hanscom of the Fire Department, now a chief petty officer in the United States Coast Guard.

Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon at the funeral home of Moffett and McMullen on Washington street with Rev. Dwight W. Hadley, rector of the Church of the Epiphany, officiating. Interment was in Lakeside Cemetery, Wakefield.

JAMES J. DILLON

Word has reached Winchester of the death in San Francisco on April 5 of James J. Dillon, former resident of this town and brother of Mrs. Edward Fitzgerald of Winchester place. He last visited his sister in Winchester during July of 1942, but before going West made his home here on Thompson street and was employed as a gate-tender at the Boston and Maine Railroad crossing in the center. He was a charter member of Winchester Council, 210, Knights of Columbus.

Born in Ireland 75 years ago, Mr. Dillon had lived in San Francisco for the past 40 years. Until his retirement he was a member of the San Francisco Water Department.

Besides Mrs. Fitzgerald he leaves his wife, three daughters, a son and two sisters living in Ireland. The funeral took place in San Francisco and burial was in that city.

FOUR FIRES FRIDAY AFTERNOON

The worst of three fires to which the Fire Department was called last Friday afternoon took place at 2 o'clock at the rear of the residence of Mr. Wallace C. Miller, 4 Bushcliffe terrace, where a grass fire got into the edge of the Fells, burning from the bottom of the hill over the top toward Long Pond. Box 7-7-63 was put on for the fire which gave the firemen a stiff two-hour fight, during which over 1000 feet of hose had to be laid.

Previous to this the men were called at 1:51 to put out a grass fire between Stone and Prince avenues.

At 4:57 a still alarm came in for a fire at the home of Mrs. Lewis G. Curtis, 158 Highland avenue. The men found that burning leaves near the house had worked their way into the Fells and also set fire to the lower shingles at the rear of the dwelling. Both this fire and the big one at the rear of Bushcliffe terrace started from incinerators.

The last call of the day was for a chimney fire at 5:27 at the home of Mr. William L. Johnston, 19 Dix street.

The Browning Laboratories on upper Main street have taken over the Sylvester garage in that neighborhood and will add its space to that of their other plant.

WINCHESTER MAN INJURED IN WOBURN CRASH

Daniel Sullivan of 21 Shepard court was painfully injured last Saturday when the Ford sedan in which he was a passenger was in collision with a Ford dump truck on Pleasant street in Woburn at the corner of Horn Pond Parkway.

According to the Police account of the affair Sullivan was riding in a car driven by Robert O. Menchin of 19 Russell street, Woburn. The truck was driven by Eugene N. Caterino of 22 Lowell street place, Arlington. Both machines were badly damaged.

Sullivan was taken to the Choate Memorial Hospital in Woburn by Chief Charles R. McCauley of the Woburn Police. He was at first thought to have been seriously injured with a possible fracture of the skull and other injuries. Later reports, however, were more reassuring. Menchin, the operator of the Ford got a cut on the upper part of the nose and Gordon Thorburn of 27 Garden street, Woburn, another passenger, sustained a cut on the forehead.

Caterino, driver of the truck, and Anthony Marchesi of 42 Russell street, Woburn, riding with him, were both badly shaken up.

NEW MEMBERS OF W. D. N. A.

At the April board meeting of the Winchester District Nursing Association it was voted to accept a membership list presented by the Nominating Committee.

The new members are: Mrs. James Allen, Mrs. Hazen Ayer, Mrs. Leo Blaisdell, Mrs. Harold Blanchard, Mrs. Theodore Browne, Mrs. Theodore Chilcott, Mrs. J. H. Coon, Mrs. Robert Drake, Mrs. Vincent Farnsworth, Jr., Mrs. E. Craig Greiner, Mrs. Gilbert Hood, Jr., Mrs. John Kingman, Mrs. Benjamin T. Marshall, Jr., Mrs. Howard Morrison, Mrs. Loring P. Nichols, Mrs. Wm. Campbell Ross, Mrs. Ben Schneider, Mrs. Louis Waldron, Mrs. Raymond Wilkins, Mrs. T. P. Wilson, Mrs. Joseph Worthen.

INJURED AS AUTOS BUMPED

Two automobiles were damaged and two passengers in one of them claimed injuries in a collision which took place early Sunday morning on Swanton street at Loring avenue.

According to the Police a Chevrolet sedan, driven by Oscar Kenneth Knight of 312 Newland avenue, N. C., while backing out of Loring avenue to head west on Swanton street, was in collision with a Dodge sedan, driven by Robert Haggerty of 59 Sylvester avenue who was going east on Swanton street.

George Murphy of 450 Hildreth street, Dracut, a passenger in the Chevrolet, complained of injuries to his nose and left hand. Another passenger in the same car, Claire Slowley of 20 Eighth street, Lowell, complained of injuries to her left arm.

HIT-RUN ACCIDENT

The first of two automobile accidents reported to the Police on Sunday took place the night previous on Seneca road.

Mr. Harry Murdock of 4 Robinhood road told the Police that while his Ford sedan was parked in front of the home of Mr. George Marvin, 10 Seneca road, Saturday night between 8:30 and midnight, the car was struck by an automobile driven by a hit-run driver and damaged considerably about the left side. The crash was heard in the house, but by the time Mr. Murdock and his friends could get out, the car which caused the trouble had disappeared.

WINCHESTER HISTORICAL SOCIETY

The annual meeting of the Winchester Historical Society was held in the Public Library Thursday, April 13, at 8 p. m., with about 50 members present and the president, Miss Clara R. Russell, presiding. The following officers were elected:

President, Miss Clara E. Russell

1st Vice President, H. Wadsworth Hight

2nd Vice President, Marshall W. Symmes

Secretary, Alfred N. Denley

Treasurer, Miss Laura B. Tolman

Curator, Miss Jean MacLellan

Directors, Miss Louise Bancroft, Miss Mary A. Fitch, Charles H. Gallagher, Arthur L. Winn, Mrs. Jennie Gates, Arthur Hall, Miss Corinne Mead, Leon F. Sargent.

After conducting the business of the meeting the president, Miss Russell, called attention to the exhibit in Filene's window of some of the Society's old pictures, adding that it was expected Dr. Charles H. Tozier would in the fall give an illustrated lecture on Williamsburg which he was privileged to photograph. Miss Russell also introduced the guest speaker, William Wallace Rose, D. D., who took as his subject, "Benjamin Franklin, the Wisest and Wittiest American."

Mr. Rose proved a most interesting speaker. In his biographical sketch of Franklin he told of his being born in Boston on Franklin street, going to New York and from there to Philadelphia to work, later marrying Deborah Read, who had laughed at him when she first saw him going through the City of Philadelphia with his loaves of bread.

Franklin was the 15th child in a family of 17, and although he only had two years of school he became expert in many activities, being reputedly wealthy by the time he was 42 years old. He lived to be 84.

Mr. Rose expressed the belief that Franklin should be included with the great men of the country. Franklin's philosophy and sayings were interspersed through the lecture and one of them, reserved to close the address ran:

"Better to go to bed hungry than to wake up in debt."

COLD STORAGE

Despite rising prices, many allowed by changes and amendments to the OPA price structure, the charges for insured cold storage by Fitzgerald Cleansers remain the same as in the past. This means the charge is based on 2 percent of your valuation, instead of the customary 3 percent, with the usual minimums, charged generally by nearly all Boston firms, furriers as well as department stores. And the storage plant in which Fitzgerald Cleanser places your garments, fur or cloth, is far superior to the best those other firms have to offer. This is due, perhaps, to the fact that the vault was completed just before the war when all the latest equipment was available, protective and refrigerating. Consequently, it so happens that for $1 less for every $100 valuation declared, Fitzgerald Cleansers offer far better protective facilities than the large Boston firms.

Until conditions clarify, most likely not until after the war, dry cleansing will not be done. However, having installed special fur cleaning equipment before the war, it is intended to clean those furs that the customer wishes to have done by the recommended furrier's process.

The plant is open every week-day from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. Customary calls will be made by delivery. The telephone is Win. 2350. ap7-tf

NATTI—ARMSTRONG

White snapdragons, white carnations and palms decorated Ripley Chapel of the First Congregational Church on Wednesday evening, April 12, for the marriage of Miss Louise Frances Armstrong, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lester H. Armstrong of Chestnut street, to William Eric Natti, Naval Aviation machinist's mate, second class, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eric Natti of Gloucester. Rev. Howard J. Chidley, pastor of the church, performed the ceremony at 8 o'clock and the bridal music was played by Miss Frances Randall, organist.

Miss Armstrong was given in marriage by her father. She wore a gown of ivory brocaded satin, having a long train. Her long veil of lace, made in 1885 in a convent in Ireland, was caught to a lace coronet, made in 1870, and her bouquet was of white roses and sweet peas centered with an orchid.

Mrs. Donald G. Abbott of West Medford was the bride's matron of honor and only attendant. She wore a dress of turquoise satin with matching shoulder-length veil and carried a bouquet of mixed spring flowers.

Lauri Natti of Gloucester was best man for his brother and the ushers were Arthur William Huggins of Everett and Donald C. Armstrong of Winchester, brother of the bride.

The marriage reception was held in the church parlors with the parents of both the bride and bridegroom and the matron of honor assisting in receiving. At its conclusion Mr. Natti and his bride left on a wedding journey to Littleton, N. H.

The bride is a graduate of Dean Academy and Mr. Natti graduated from Wentworth Institute.

The Star received a letter last week end from Ray Underwood of Oxford street, former B. C. distance runner now in the Signal Corps on duty in the Central Pacific battle area. Harkins and Carl Bolter are the only local boys Ray has happened to run into since leaving Winchester for Army duty.

Bolter, also in the Signal Corps, was in a west coast hospital when Underwood last saw him, but has long since returned to active duty and is now "somewhere overseas."

VAUDEVILLE SHOW

"Tapographical Farce" was well executed by some of the pony chorus members who seemingly spent the evening on the stage and preparing for a differently costumed number. And the young ladies and old men founded the impossibility of the many dancing contortionists labelled "The Little Darlings" definitely not art but different.

The very popular and capable Girls' Ensemble opened the third act with their usual poise and vocal perfection. They sang "Indigo" and "Over the Rainbow" while the Girls' Glee Club was heard in "Begin the Beguine", a syncopated Latiny number in which the piano accompaniment was augmented with a kettle-drum. The director of both the ensemble and glee club, Mrs. Claudia Renehan Howard, played for the girls, her accompaniments being helpful without being obtrusive. The ensemble sang Indigio without accompaniment with pleasing tone and no noticeable deviation from pitch.

Besides the group singing three attractive girls in evening gowns presented solo numbers. Norma Farrar, Annette Croughwell and Janice Huppuch appearing before the "mike" in that order.

"Once Upon a Time . . . began as a bed-time story read to two sleepy little children. A brief curtain followed, and then the scene opened on Fairyland, a stage setting which, by itself, drew a hearty round of applause. The story unraveled by the dancers was that of the good fairy and the transformation of an old hag with a begging cup into a stunning princes charming iwth a retinue of brownies, shepherdesses, court-ladies, and all the rest. An especial feature of this well-done ballet was the stunning back-drop painted by Jane Moffette, which provided just the right atmosphere of make-believe. Orchids, too, should go to Mrs. Cora Corthell Phelps for the skilled direction which enabled a group of youngsters to do a convincing job with a bit of miming and dancing by no means as easy as it looked. Mrs. Arthur Bateman Corthell made a notable contribution to this number with her piano accompaniment which complimented and greatly assisted the young dancers.

No mention of the show would be at all complete without what has so be wholly inadequate mention of the part played by the self-effaeing Ray V. Hayward, faculty manager of the Athletic Association, in the success of the production. His had been the staggering task of synchronizing the multitudinous details of production and casting into a workable whole, a job the magnitude of which was in no way indicated by the smoothness with which the show was run off.

That the youthful members of the cast understood, at least in part, and appreciated Mr. Hayward's contribution to their success was evinced at the last curtain Saturday evening, after the corking finale, when "Bob" Johnston, on behalf of the students, presented the popular maestro with a fine brief case and pen-and-pencil set. "Ray" was finally persuaded to appear on the stage for his gifts, but balked in no uncertain manner when the audience called for a speech.

Hugh Webster in person.

TEELE COVERS DOUBLE

The honor of being the first member of the Palmer Beach Horseshoe Association to cover a double-headed facing the brisk days of this fresh young season belongs to President Ralph "Paper Trade" Teele, and was a feat last accomplished by the late Mayor of the Association, Mr. Mack Gardner.

The afternoon was made dark and dismal and the wind blew shrilly off the leaden waters of Wedge Road feat and the argument which followed the final match of the season. Not even all that prevented the frost bitten warblers from slowly freezing to death.

Mr. Teele's superb finger game at a time when the game for him and his partner, Herbert "Garrulous" Gardner, and by the same token took place at a most inordinately upsetting moment for the opposition, Roland "Thin Finger" Pridham and the Secretary.

The Secretary it was, of all people, who threw the double covered by the perennial champion of the Boston Paper Trade and it was clutch pitching of a high order, especially for the Scrivener, whose specialty is "near misses" rather than ringers.

At the time when he hung his two shoes on the pin the Secretary and Mr. Pridham were behind, 23-18. The double put them ahead for the moment, 24-23, and so delighted Mr. McLaughlin that he emerged from Mr. Gardner's car in which he was sheltering from the elements and emitted a croaking "huzzah!"

"Willie" had a bit of a cold which affected his vocal organs and may have dulled slightly his usually cheery disposition, for he was far from pleased when he and Mr. Pridham went down two straight in their opening match with Mr. Teele and Mr. Gardner. "The Pride of Stowe and Champion of all Nabnassett" is not accustomed to running in the ruck, especially when paired with Mr. Pridham and there can be no doubt that the defeat rankled. Eagerly Mr. McLaughlin applauded the Secretary's unusual showing.

Alas, it was only for a moment. Removing his "goggles" and polishing them against a slight fog engendered by the mist off the pond, Mr. Teele delivered his two shoes exactly upon those of the luckless Secretary, effectively wiping out the six points they had for a moment added to the opposing score and leaving Royal and Mr. Gardner still in the driver's seat.

From their commanding position Mr. Teele and of "Garrulous" went on to win the game, set, match and tournament, Mr. Gardner leaving rather precipitously in order to be among those present at a select gathering of some little significance to his family.

Following the Gardner departure the Lake Street Lancers, Messrs. Pridham and McLaughlin, enraged the President and Secretary in a life-and-death struggle which finally ended in favor of "Willie" and "Thin Finger," three games to two.

It was during this match that controversy reared its ugly head, there being a wide divergence of opinion concerning the score of the game that would have given the Association officers the match, two games to one.

The score of this game first stood at 11-8 in favor of Mr. Teele and the Secretary. At this moment Mr. Luke P. Glendon arrived at the beach and engaged Mr. Teele in conversation upon the baseball outlook. An enthusiastic baseball fan, Mr. Teele permitted his attention to wander slightly from the business at hand and only a few moments after the Glendon arrival was appalled to hear Mr. Pridham casually announce that the score stood 16-11 in favor of the Lake Street Lancers.

The Secretary was too dazed from having his double covered to be able to concentrate on trifles and had depended upon Mr. Teele to protect his interests. Mr. McLaughlin was equally ignorant but for reasons best known to himself, supported Mr. Pridham stoutly. Mr. Teele had to admit he did not know but was blamed sure it wasn't the figures advanced by Mr. Pridham. With this reasoning the Secretary concurred. Mr. Pridham was adamant and with the backing of McLaughlin, prevailed, the President and Secretary accepting the situation like sportsmen but withal unconvinced.

"Willie" and "Thin Finger" won that game, 25-24, the President and Secretary took the next one, tieing the match. The deciding game went to the Lake Street boys, Royal and the Scrivener blowing higher than the proverbial kite, as they usually do.

It might be said in passing that Arthur E. Butters, sometimes called the State of Maine Champ, was not among those present, being actually in the Pine Tree State, viz the B. and M. He announced his absence in advance and was excused by the President, who however, expressed a lively interest in the way in which Arthur proposed to reach Bayside.

NEW DUCK JOINS MILL POND FLEET

A rare species of White Muscovy Duck has been added to the Mill Pond Fleet.

This little fellow's history is rather interesting.

He was raised in Florida during the summer of 1943 by a Winchester lady whose name, we regret to say, is unknown.

"Musky" was brought to Winchester last fall and as the weather grew colder was placed with the Curator of the Metropolitan Park Zoo in Melrose with instructions to prepare him for the table of the owner at Christmas.

As he refused to put on any weight never getting over a pound and a half, his life was spared.

So now he brings up the rear guard of our growing Mill Pond flotilla.

Will the donor please step forward and take a bow.

Thank you, good friend.

There was a large attendance last evening at the regular meeting of the Unitarian Men's Club. Under the title of Spring Sports Night, the entertaining speaker was Floyd Stahl, Harvard baseball coach, who gave interesting data and reminiscences of the sport. Included in the attendance was a number of sons and young friends of the members.

DUMPS NOW BEAUTY SPOTS

To the Editor of the Star:

Some folks assert there were no dumps located on the west side of the town and yet I am able to point out five locations that were smoky dumps that are now beautiful homes, Manchester Field, Wedge Pond Park, the beautiful park between the cemetery and Cross street and that magnificent layout between the Post Office and Main street, the Shore road and ball field were at one time smoky dumps. When we utilized the site of the old Middlesex Canal on Fletcher street adjacent to Martha Hansen's greenhouse it was a smoky dump. We removed the old Johnson and later the Mackesy house that is now Johnson plot south of the high school.

I wish some folks could visualize Winchester as I visunlized it 60 years ago. Johnson plot was at one time a smoky dump. Thanks to the splendid co-operation of the Health and Park Department we have transformed unsightly mosquito-breeding places into magnificent parks and playgrounds where old and young may enjoy themselves.

Very truly yours,
Patrick H. Craughwell

FIRES THE HOLIDAY

Engine 2 with a crew in charge of Capt. J. Edward Noonan went to Woburn at 4:15 the afternoon of the holiday to assist at the big fire at the processed foods plant of the General Foods, Inc., formerly owned by the Wilmington Packing Co. The local crew put in five hours at the fire, the pump working for three hours while the men laid 1000 ft. of 2½ in. hose and 100 feet of smaller hose.

Besides this the Fire Department answered seven alarms for grass and brush fires ranging all the way from Forest circle to the aquaduct on Mystic Lake at the rear of Everett avenue. Some of these fires were set by boys, some from sparks from incinerators and others from attempts to burn grass and rubbish. In addition there was a chimney fire at the home of Mr. A. J. Boyden, 6 Central street, this alarm coming in at 1:25 p. m.

How easy 'tis to profess with our lips
The goodness we do not possess in our hearts;
Away from home many men are sweet-tempered
But in the home too many are just the opposite of that;

But very meagre with any help to those who love them;
Honest on Sunday but dishonest on Monday.

Mrs. Richard Harlow, cor. secretary

Guests of honor were Mr. Clarence Preston, Miss Helen Fowler of the Home and Hospital and Mrs. Charles F. Bacon, chairman of the Welcome House Building and Endowment Fund.

Mrs. Bacon, who is also president of the Boston Circle was the speaker of the afternoon. She gave an inspiring and timely talk on the beginnings of Welcome House and its growth with emphasis on the ever-growing need of its service to the teen age girl.

At the close of the meeting Mrs. Harold H. Blanchard, retiring president thanked the Circle and the executive board for their outstanding co-operation during her term as president.

Mrs. Langley Keyes, vice president was spokesman for the Circle in voicing its appreciation of Mrs. Blanchard's services and on behalf of the Circle presented her with a large bouquet of mixed spring flowers.

Mrs. Blanchard then introduced the new president, Mrs. Walter Winship, as one who was supremely well-fitted to take over the gavel, because of her long-standing interest in the Circle and her experience as head of many committees and organizations in the town. Amid the applause of the Circle Mrs. Winship took over the office.

Chairman of hostesses for the meeting was Mrs. Raymond Dickman and presiding and the coffee urns were Mrs. John G. Penniman and Mrs. Maxwell McCreery, new vice-president.

DINNER PARTY

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph P. Flaherty (Mary Crosby) gave a birthday dinner party Tuesday evening at their home, 9a Warren avenue, Woburn for Miss Abbie Curry of Mystic Valley Parkway, formerly in charge of the Bailey's Cleansing Office in Winchester. Several of her friends and former associates in the business center attended.

Decorations of yellow and pink made an attractive table setting and the centerpiece was cleverly conceived to simulate a potted plant. This upon being opened contained gifts for the honor guest who was also presented with a beautiful corsage. Motion pictures were shown after the opening of the packages.

TRUCK OVERTURNED AT COUNTRY CLUB

Monday evening at 7 o'clock a Mack truck and trailer owned by the H. P. Welch Co. of Somerville and heavily loaded with bales of wool, got out of control while headed north on Mystic street at the Winchester Country Club and tipped over on its left side, sliding over 70 feet to the westerly side of Cambridge street, stopping at the triangle at the entrance to Arlington street.

Harold Hovey, manager of the Country Club, notified the Police and both Police and Fire apparatus went to the scene. The driver of the truck, Wilfred A. Maclais of 64 Water street, Concord, N. H., was extricated from the cab of the truck, apparently unhurt. The truck was damaged and gasoline from the smashed gas-tank covered the street.

Engine 4 hosed down the gasoline and later the Highway Department crews sanded the street.

FORTNIGHTLY ANNUAL MEETING

Despite the April rain, Fortnightly Hall was filled for the annual luncheon and meeting which brought to a close the 63rd season of the Fortnightly.

An abundance of bright-hued spring flowers and a warm friendly atmosphere banished temporarily any thought of the dreary weather outside.

A delicious chicken pie luncheon was served at 12.30 o'clock and much enjoyed.

The president, Mrs. Clifton S. Hall presented the following luncheon guests: Mrs. Ida Ripley, Mrs. Raymond Merrill, treasurer of the State Federation; Mrs. Raymond Wheeler of Malden Old and New; Mrs. Harold H. Given, chairman of the State Federation International Relations Committee; Mrs. H. Stanley Kinsley, Eighth District Director; and Lt. Elizabeth A. Burr, former secretary of the Fortnightly Juniors, then home on leave.

Mrs. Ripley, the senior member of the Fortnightly with 53 years of continous membership to her credit, and the senior living president, having served from 1901 to 1903, expressed her pleasure at being there, and wished the club success as it continued its forward march. On behalf of the Fortnightly Mrs. Hall presented Mrs. Ripley a bouquet of lovely talisman roses.

Mrs. Merrill, Mrs. Wheeler, Mrs. Given and Mrs. Kinsley responded to their introductions with friendly words of greeting.

Lt. Burr gave an interesting and informing account of her training at the Officers Training School and the Reserve Officers Class.

Mrs. Hall then introduced the following past presidents: Mrs. Paul H. Howard (1939-41) Mrs. Robert A. Reynolds (1937-39), Mrs. Walter W. Winship (1931-33), Mrs. Lora Bond Rhodes (1919-21) and Mrs. George H. Eaton (1917-19).

Other members to whom blossoms were presented because of their long membership were Miss Maude Folts, Mrs. Frederick N. Kerr, Miss Gertrude Kimball, Miss Georgietta Stone and Mrs. Walter L. Rice, all of whom have been members for at least 47 years. Mrs. Pearle Miller and Mrs. Lena Wellington of this group were unable to be present.

Mrs. Flora Beggs and Mrs. Frank M. Russell have been members for at least 42 years and were presented flowers also.

Similar recognition was made of Miss Florence Bunting, Mrs. Walter E. Chamberlin, Mrs. Vincent Farnsworth, Miss M. Alice Mason, Mrs. Benjamin P. Morgan, Mrs. Raymond Merrill, Mrs. William I. Palmer, Mrs. Newell C. Page, Mrs. Blanche Reynolds, Mrs. Edward Russell, Mrs. Fred S. Scales and Mrs. Frank G. Trot whose membership goes back to 1911 at least. Mrs. William H. Bowe, Mrs. George M. Bryne, Mrs. Nestor H. Davis, Mrs. Edward L. Dunning, Mrs. Henry W. Hildreth, Mrs. Nathaniel M. Nichols and Mrs. Edwin W. Southworth who were also members at that time were not present.

The business meeting convened at 2 o'clock and a brief memorial service was held for Mrs. James D. Smiley who passed away on April 9.

The annual reports of the secretary and treasurer, complete to the last detail and intensely interesting showed a busy year of worthwhile service and a prosperous year in spite of world conditions.

Mrs. Hall reported that although the necessary suspension of the Fortnightly News for the duration was much regretted, she was most happy to announce that Mrs. Theodore von Rosenvinge was binding the issues of the 15 years into three volumes and that the first volume, an exceedingly beautiful piece of work, was completed and might be seen after the meeting. The Fortnightly appreciates this great service on the part of Mrs. von Rosenvinge.

The speaker of the afternoon was Miss Sally Pfeiffer, president of the New England Woman's Press Association and writer for many magazines.

Miss Pfeiffer took for her subject "Life on the Run" and with humor, entertaining anecdotes and much solid information presented a varied word picture of the life and experiences of a news reporter.

Following Miss Pfeiffer's much enjoyed talk, the report of the election committee was read and accepted.

With gracious expressions of good wishes Mrs. Hall turned the Fortnightly gavel over to Mrs. Warren C. Whitman, the incoming president and presented her with a president's pin.

With like graciousness Mrs. Whitman responded, pledging herself to uphold the dignity and honored traditions of the Fortnightly.

As is the custom in the Fortnightly Mrs. Whitman then returned the gavel to Mrs. Hall who closed her administration with the prayer written by Ann Wenzer, first president (1882-89), rededicating it to the mothers who are fighting in their hearts side by side with their boys.

"O Thou, who art thyself the unclouded sun.
Grant that how'er it be with earthly lights
Thy heavenly radiance so may fill our souls
That darkness shall shine round us as the day.
And even the saddest night be light with us."

The 63rd season of the Fortnightly was closed.

Chest Inspection

It's "chins in and chests out" for the flying cadets at Randolph Field, Texas, when they do their early morning exercises. They had another type of chest inspection, too—X-ray—which showed them to be free of tuberculosis. Service men have to pass chest inspection, inside and out. Tuberculosis associations urge periodic chest X-rays for civilians.

Probation After Death is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon to be read on Sunday, April 23, in The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass. and in all of its branches.
The Golden Text, The last enemy that shall be destroyed is death, is from I corinthians 15.26. Other Bible citations include, For if the dead rise not, then is not Christ raised: . . . If in this life only we have hope in Christ, we are of all men most miserable. But now is Christ risen from the dead, and become the first fruits of them that slept (I Corinthians 15:16, 19, 20).
The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy, If the change called death destroyed the belief in sin, sickness, and death, happiness would be won at the moment of dissolution and be forever permanent; but this is not so. Perfection is gained only by perfection. (p. 290).

DR. CLINTON RETURNS

Rev. James R. Clinton, D. D., returns to Winchester Sunday evening, April 30, to present his notable one-man performance based on "The Bonnie Briar Bush" at the Second Congregational Church. Those who heard Dr. Clinton on his previous visit to Winchester will welcome his return and others should take this opportunity to hear him.

An Irishman, he speaks his lines in a rich brogue that is thoroughly enjoyable, adding a rich singing voice and a real flare for poetry and drama. There will be no admission charge but a free will offering will be taken.

SOLOIST AT SECOND CHURCH

Allan Higgins, baritone, will be the soloist at the service of Morning worship at the Second Congregational Church Sunday morning, singing The Lord's Prayer by Malotte and The Holy Hour by Nevin. Mrs. George H. Lochman will be the organist.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur E. Butters of Park avenue have been spending this school vacation week at their summer home, Bayside, Northport, Me.

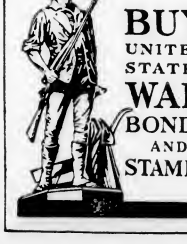

KEEPING IN RECTITUDE'S PATH

(Written for The Winchester Star)

May our purposes in life
Be linked with the will of God
Tha, in our dark hours of doubt
We may not forget that night is night
And honor is honor, nor swerve
From the path of rectitude.

MOTHERS' ASSOCIATION

Lincoln Chapter

The spring dessert bridge will take place in the school auditorium on Tuesday, April 25, at 2 p. m. The money raised will be used as the contribution of the Lincoln Chapter toward the Fellowship Fund of the Mothers' Association.

A tempting dessert and attractive favors are planned for the event by Mrs. Edward Gorrie, chairman; and her committee, including Mrs. Howard Ambrose, Mrs. Paul Ward, Mrs. Robert Carbell, Mrs. Nicholas Fitzgerald, Mrs. Francis McFeeley, Mrs. Harry Ciarcia, Mrs. John Mills and Mrs. Daniel R. Beggs, Jr.

"Traveling food baskets" is another project inaugurated by the Ways and Means Committee of the Chapter to raise funds for dishes and other equipment demanded by the increased membership and the activities of the chapter.

INTERESTING FACTS ABOUT WINCHESTER'S ANIMAL SHELTER

The shelter is located on the property of Mr. Arthur H. Bryer at 432 Washington street. Telephone, listed under Mass. Society Prevention of Cruelty to Animals is Win. Win. 1674.

Animals may be brought to the shelter day or night. Visitors are welcome Sundays from 10 a. m. to 5 p. m. Visitors are welcome week-days and evenings by appointment.

The manager, Mr. Bryer, representing the Mass. Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals also represents the Winchester Women's Auxiliary of the M. S. P. C. A. He will be present to escort visitors through the shelter and show and explain what is being done for homeless cats, dogs and other pets. He is also willing to give advice on any problem relative to animals.

The Winchester Shelter is used as a temporary abode for homeless animals and none are accepted for boarding purposes. There are, however, at most times, a number of fine pets at the shelter that have been given up by owners moving to other states or who, for other reasons, have been obliged to give them up. Some of the unclaimed strays are, also, desirable. These pets will be given to any who will provide a good home for them.

The humane work that is being done in Winchester was started 14 years ago when Mrs. Richard Taylor organized the Winchester Women's Auxiliary of the M. S. P. C. A. The auxiliary opened the shelter six years ago. Since then Mr. Bryer has spent hundreds of hours and driven thousands of miles in the course of humane work, carrying on animal relief work and humane education in Winchester and cities and towns surrounding Winchester. The work done at the shelter has increased from 158 animals cared for in 1928 to more than 600 in 1143.

Recently some deeply interested animal lovers and the Mass. S. P. C. A. have contributed to enlarge and improve the shelter. Their help has been deeply appreciated by all concerned. You may be sure that future donations, by interested animal lovers, will, also, be just as sincerely appreciated.

EPIPHANY SPRING LUNCHEON

It's a good party when the hostess has as good a time as the guests and the co-chairmen of the Epiphany spring luncheon maintain that a remarkable set of numerous parish workers made it a good party for them, April 13.

The decoration of the parish hall was in charge of Mrs. E. Craig Greiner and Mrs. George Marks. On the dais they used forsythia, which had been persuaded into bloom by Mrs. Greiner, Mrs. Bernard Swiedler, Miss Nardin and Mrs. Herbert Kelley. Tapestries which Mrs. Newton Lamson has given to the hall made an effective background for the yellow bells and the sprigs of green set in inter-leaved pots lent by Mrs. Gerald Hills and M s. Ellsworth Snow. Good parish lenders pieced out the scanty provision made by the slow spring. In the windows were pots of tulips lent by Mrs. Hills, Mrs. Greiner, Mrs. McCreery and Mrs. Moffette.

The swift deft brushes of Mrs. Moffette and Miss June Moffette put pansy place cards at table color with the green tally cards. Table prizes were tied with flower decoration.

The luncheon food committee gives special thanks for delicious recipes supplied by Mrs. Robert Ferriman and Mrs. Walter O'Neill.

Guests voted the luncheon another success both financially and socially for that well-known team of co-chairmen, Mrs. Elton Moffette and Mrs. Warren Shoemaker.

The food sale, managed by Mrs. Alfred Denley, Mrs. Ernest Barron and Mrs. George Osborne cleared briskly and profitably.

PARTICIPATING IN CONGREGATIONAL CONFERENCE

Rev. Howard J. Chidley of the First Congregational Church will lead a seminar on the subject of "Church Architecture and Worship", at the 145th annual meeting of the Massachusetts Congregational Conference and Missionary Society on May 15 at the Old South Church, Boston. More than 1500 ministers and lay delegates representing 607 Congregational Churches throughout the State, are expected to attend the two-day session.

Rev. John L. Lobingier of Manchester road, secretary of religious education for the Massachusetts Congregational Conference and Missionary Society, will present a report at the same meeting.

FURNITURE FOR HOSPITAL

In one of our nearby military hospitals where our boys in service are sent for medical treatment there is a large room used to accommodate their parents and friends while making them a visit. One would expect such a room to possess a home touch of comfort and refinement to add cheer to an otherwise trying situation but instead it is a cold, dismal area devoid of furnishings save for a few hard straight back chairs.

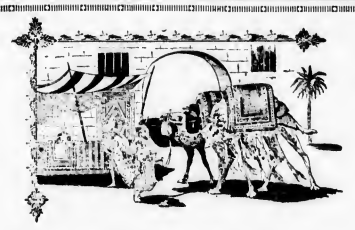

Moved by a desire to relieve a regretful condition one of the officials of the local Red Cross Chapter, testing on the generosity of the citizens of Winchester, agreed to make an effort to provide such comfort and useful equipment as might be available.

It is hoped that this commendable action will be supported by such generous citizens who may have comfortable used chairs, tables, lamps or other articles of furniture which are not in use and which they would be willing to donate for the pleasure and comfort of the boys while entertaining their parents at the hospital.

Call Win. 2300 to report donations or for further information.

THE DAWN WILL COME

(Written for The Winchester Star)

In the hard pilgrimage of Duty
Let the heart burst into glad song,
And sorrow depart from the faithful soul
Which mounts on the wings of gladness;
Though troubled men may weep for a night
Let us remember that joy cometh with the dawn.

DOROTHY RICHARDSON, Contralto

SPRING CONCERT AT TOWN HALL

Winchester Branch of the Greater Boston Negro Choral Singers are presenting two talented artists in a spring recital next Thursday evening, May 4, at the town hall.

Dorothy Richardson, contralto, will be heard in an interesting program of vocal music which includes classic and standard compositions as well as the favorite spirituals, which no one sings quite as the negros sing them. Geraldine Robert, pianist, will accompany Miss Richarason and will also play a group of solo numbers.

Born in Cambridge, Miss Richardson is a graduate of the Conservatory of Music and of Boston University. Her musical talent is a heritage from her parents, both of whom were members of the famous Fiske Jubilee Singers, one of the country's noted negro choral groups.

Possessed of a rich contralto voice, of wide range, Miss Richardson has the natural gifts and technical training to cope with widely divergent music, while beyond this she has the interpretive skill of the true artist. Roland Hayes, internationally known negro tenor, who has sung several times in Winchester, is among the music notables to speak in high praise of her art.

The Police amgulance was dispatched to the Beggs and Cobb plant with Officers Henry Dempsey and Irving Reardon. They arrived in time to assist plant first aid men in getting the injured out of the boiler room.

REV. ASHLEY DAY LEAVITT, D.D. GUEST SPEAKER

The guest speaker at the Sunday evening song service at the First Baptist Church Sunday, April 30, at 7 p. m. will be Rev. Ashley Day Leavitt, pastor of the Harvard Church, Brookline. Dr. Leavitt has held pastorates at Willimantic, Conn., Concord, N. H. Portland, Me. and for the past 25 years has been at Brookline.

Dr. Leavitt needs no introduction to the residents of this community and a large attendance is anticipated. He is to be assisted in the service by the Mystic Glee Club of Winchester, and it will be well worth your while to hear them. This is a Winchester organization and merits your full support.

This service will culminate a series of Sunday evening song services which have been sponsored by the Men's Class of the First Baptist Church. The object of these services has been to keep the church alive and active so that when the boys get back and peace reigns again they will have something to come back to and will be able to continue on with the Christian experiences they have found to be so helpful under stress of battle. It has been estimated that 50 percent of the men in the service at home are interested in religion. In the war areas it is estimated that 75 percent of the men are greatly interested. Let us at home better the percentage of people willing to make an effort to accomplish this objective.

"When war blacks out the community lights, the light of personal religion must not be darkened either in home, community or the armed forces. This is an hour of opportunity and crisis for, the church."

A cordial invitation is extended to everyone in Winchester to attend this service.

MARINE WANTED TO REPAY BLOOD

He was a Marine living in Arlington and he dropped in at the Red Cross Blood Donor Office on Thompson street recently, talking with Mrs. Kingman P. Cass.

The Devil Dog came over to Winchester for the express purpose of giving a pint of his blood in return for plasma given him when he was wounded while serving with the first wave of Marines at Guadalcanal. He has been invalided home but now reported himself as feeling fine and about ready to return to active duty and he hoped, another crack at the "Nips."

He was sorry enough to find he couldn't give his blood right here in Winchester and much more disappointed to learn that he couldn't be a donor for a year after being wounded. He told Mrs. Cass he would be back on active duty again before the expiration of that time.

GARDNER SHONE

Herbert "Garrulous" Gardner entered the Palmer Beach Horseshoe Association's hall of fame last week-end when he covered a double-header at the regular matches of the Association on the Wedge Pond courts. Staying completely in character, the Association's noisiest member said nothing at all after his sterling pitching, but he did smile in a marked manner as a slight concession to the inward joy he undoubtedly experienced.

The gallery and competitors alike applauded him loudly. Mr. Teele loudest of all, for the double-covering wiped out completely what would otherwise have been a commanding lead for "Wild Willie" McLaughlin, the Pride of Stowe and Champion of all Nahnasetts, and his partner, the Secretary who were engaging Mr. Gardner and Robert "H. M. S. Rodney" Walsh in a close-clipped match. Mr. Teele and Mr. Pridham had just been set down two straight by the Scrivener and Mr. McLaughlin and as a consequence Royal's feeling about the latter team was definitely negative.

Of all the applause, that of the Secretary was perhaps the most forced, for it was upon his double that Mr. Gardner deposited his shoes, making two series running in which the Scrivener had thrown a double-header that did not count. He cheered the Gardner feat, it is true, but his enthusiasm in no way approximated Mr. Teele's ebullience nor even the whole-hearted joy of Garrulous's partner, Mr. Walsh. As we said last week the Secretary throws all too few doubles to have those he does throw wiped out of the scoring column.

Mr. Gardner did nobly during the entire match, not just while covering the luckless Secretary's shoes. As a matter of fact he nearly duplicated his feat previous to actually accomplishing it and the Secretary also threw the two shoes he just missed landing on safely. Perhaps it is as well he failed in the first instance. Twice in a row at the same session would certainly have caused the Secretary to quit cold.

Despite the superb form of Mr. Gardner he and Mr. Walsh failed to defeat Mr. McLaughlin and the Secretary either time they engaged them in combat. "Willie" and the Scrivener also defeated Mr. Teele and Mr. Pridham in the first and easily the best match of the series, two straight, the scores of both games being 25-24. All of the warriors were pitching stoutly during this match and it is a shame that Arthur E. Butters, sometimes called the State of Maine Champ, wasn't present to see what really can be done with St. Pierre shoes. Mr. Butters is very partial to Ohios, but since none of his confreres at Palmer street have ever seen shoes of this variety they are as yet unwilling to go all the way with Arthur in his enthusiasm for them.

Mr. Butters was still in Maine, or if you will, on his way home via the B. and M. It is quite likely he would have enjoyed the Gardner pitching and doubly certain he would have revelled in the defeat of Mr. Teele and Mr. Pridham by Messrs. Gardner and Walsh to the tidy tune of 25-1. It goes without saying he would have been a lot happier over it than was the doughty President of the Association who has been Champion of the Boston Paper Trade since Hector was a very small doggie indeed.

Mr. Teele and "Thin Finger" Pridham did succeed in defeating the Secretary and Mr. McLaughlin two out of three matches during the series and possibly have as good a right as any to the rating of champs for the season. Their victories over "Willie" and the Secretary were hollow and they did suffer the ignominity of being shellacked 25-1 by "Rodney" and "Garrulous", but to give credit where credit is due, a tenet of the Association nearly always rigorously observed, they were still probably the champs; that is if there were any champs, outside of Mr. Gardner!

Haven't seen a familiar face for over a year, when I had a chance to locate the gang and spend a few hours with them. It was like a section of Swanton street transferred to this history-making part of the world. I have been seeing your boss's nephew, he's a great guy. Remember me to all the brothers both at home and abroad. Hope to see you all in the not too distant future."

Butter Muraco was home over the week-end for a few hours. As I didn't see him I can't say much. How about it Butter?

See you all next week.

SWIMMING, CANOEING, LAUNCHINGS AND MAYHEM

April 19 turned out to be the day we poor, shivering taxpayers have been waiting for all winter, sunny, warm and clear, a fitting day for the eagerly awaited opening of the Winchester Boat Club. And a goodly throng of members, young and old, were on hand; among them your nosey reporter. Perhaps the best way to convey the days activities is to let you follow us around.

As we lowered our creaking bones off the bus, furtively inserting our right arm in a sling, (on opening day there's apt to be quite a bit of community working done) the first thing that caught our eyes was a canoe being paddled out through the bay. A quick check-up showed at its occupants were none other than Mrs. William Rockfort and her sister-in-law. As we recall it, the final glimpse we had of the club last fall included these two canoe enthusiasts heading for the dock. In short, these gals both open and close the canoe season every year and it seems to us the club should present them with a silver canoe or at least paddle them as recognition for their faithfulness.

The interior of the club revealed several members enjoying a luncheon whipped up by Mrs. Dustin, our stalwart stewardess. The way they were wolfing down the victuals it would appear that Mrs. D. has lost none of her knack for creating tempting, palate-pleasing goodies.

Back outside, several energetic members were hauling heavy and hard to handle boats out of the ping pong room and canoe bays, where they (the boats, of course) had spent the winter splitting their seams and generally degenerating. We were eager to help these toilers, but of course, what can a man do with an arm in a sling? That's right, we could just sit in one of the club's comfortable deck chairs and sun bathe, giving an occasional bit of advice or a grunt or groan when some particularly heavy heaving was being done.

Just as we were beginning to think how we liked the life we lead, a startling thing happened; Two of the club's young and rugged members appeared in bathing trunks. A thorough inspection of these two human collections of goose pimples revealed them to be Jack Aubrey and Bill Cunningham. And believe it or not, they went in swimming. True, they had to push each other in, but to them goes the dubious distinction of being the first swimmers of the season. When we left the club three hours later, they still couldn't stop their teeth from chattering long enough to tell how the water felt. We think we're safe in saying it was cold, very cold.

The next thing to interrupt our siesta was the arrival of George Jones and his Snipe Youani. His was the first sail boat to be launched this year and unquestionably no boat will come into the lake this or any other season in finer condition. George is a master craftsman and his boat should serve as the goal of perfection all skippers should try to achieve.

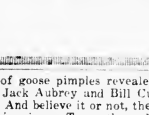

After launching, we returned to our napping; but while dozing, more or less unconsciously scratched an annoying itch on our face. This was an innocent enough act, except unfortunately we did it with the arm that was in the sling. And even more unfortunately, this indiscrete action was noted by the weary workers at the club.

Does anyone know how to remove tar and feathers?

LIGHT PRIMARY VOTE HERE

Democrats Used Stickers in Town Committee Contest

The only feature of Tuesday's Presidential primary vote in Winchester was the use of a sticker group of candidates for the Democratic Town Committee and the election of the entire group. There were no names printed upon the ballot under this bracket and the names of other candidates had to be written in. There was no contest for places on the Republican Town Committee.

A total of 586 votes were cast, of which 475 were Republican and 111 Democratic. The Democrats improved their showing at the last Presidential primary when they polled only 82 votes.

This year's vote was only a little more than one third of that cast in the primaries four years ago when 1582 persons voted. The votes were all in at 9:15.

BATTLE OF RUSSIA FILM AT LIBRARY MAY 3

Epic of Our Ally for Adults Only

Produced under the supervision of the war department, and part of the basic training of our armed forces, this stirring war record now released to the public is to be shown free in Winchester under the auspices of the Russian War Relief at 8 o'clock, May 3, in the library gallery. Voluntary contributions will be accepted.

Camera men worked and died under fire to achieve it. Captured German film is included. A corps of army research men checked each item, and commentary. Walt Disney's studio created the military maps. The drama runs the gamut from the seige of Leningrad to the surrender of the Germans at Stalingrad and William Shirer has termed it "undoubtedly one of the greatest motion pictures of our time."

It answers yours questions about this vast country and its determined people with a background of Russian life and history before it swings into combat action on the battle front. The musical background features Tschaikovsky's Fourth Symphony, the famous Seventh of Shostakovich, and the Russian Tankmen's song. It reveals the strategy that "blitzed the blitz" and is the authentic story of 190,000,000 people at war. Shown with the film will be a related March of Time.

After preliminary training at Atlantic City and Michigan State College he went to San Antonio, Texas, for classification and then was at Fort Stockton, Texas and Good Fellow Field, St. Angelo Texas, before receiving his pilot's wings at Foster Field.

Lt. Ellis returned Tuesday to Foster Field for training in gunnery and P-10 Pursuit Planes. Last Sunday he enjoyed a reunion with his five brothers and an open house at his parents' home, which many friends of all the boys were present.

The oldest brother, Capt. Russell W. Ellis, is in the Field Artillery at Camp McCain, Miss. Of the younger brothers, Robert is an apprentice seaman in a V-12 Unit at M. I. T. and Stearns, now at Phillips Andover, enters the Naval Air Corps in June. Don is a junior at Winchester High School and captains the hockey team at the school for next year. Bill is in Junior High.

NEWSY PARAGRAPHS

The Fire Department was notified at 2:30 this morning that the Splendid Lunch was full of smoke. The men found grease on a range causing the trouble.

Eight Selectees left town this morning for induction into the armed services. They were escorted to the station by a Legion escort and the Post colors.

CORRECTION

Two misstatements were made in the Stars announcement of the appointment of Donald Heath to the Office of Town Treasurer. Mr. Heath was appointed only until the next annual town meeting and not for three years. He also had never served as a member of the local Rationing Board.

MYSTIC SCHOOL NEWS

A tea for the sixth grade mothers will be held at the Mystic School on Friday, May 5, at 3:30 o'clock at which Mrs. Dresser and Mr. and Mrs. Dickman will be the honor guests. It is hoped that all sixth grade mothers will avail themselves of this final opportunity to get together as Mystic School mothers. The committee in charge consists of Mrs. James M. Daschbach, Mrs. Maurice Freeman, Mrs. Raymond Holdsworth, Mrs. France Votaw and Mrs. Hugh Webster.

The annual meeting of the Mystic Mothers' Association will be held at the school on Tuesday, May 9 at 3 o'clock. The nominating committee consisting of Mrs. Russell Symmes, chairman, Mrs. T. E. Mason, and Mrs. Stephen Nichols, will present the slate for next year's officers. After the business meeting Mrs. Herbert West will entertain and enlighten us in her very special manner on the subject, "Flower Arrangement" at which she is past master. The tea committee will serve tea and a social hour will be enjoyed at the close of the meeting.

Necessity is still the mother of invention! The Mystic School Board planned a foodless food sale instead of the April meeting and it was a grand success. The following poem, sent out to all Mystic mothers is self explanatory:

The Mystic board grouped round a table
Questioned whether we'd be able To help those causes so deserving
Which we're accustomed to be serving.
Priscilla Morse made a suggestion
We greeted gladly with no question
But that it offered opportunity
To serve quite simply the community.
E a "Foodless Food Sale" proposition
Places us in the position
Of letting you conserve each minute
For other duties that crowd in it.
The envelope that we're enclosing
We hope that you'll return, disclosing
That you'll buy food that is ethereal
And eat your cake that's not material.
There will not be an April meeting
Since many things are all competing
So this goes to your contact mother
With quarters, halves, or any other.

ROTARY NEWS

It was a big day for the Winchester Rotary Club to attend a joint meeting with the Woburn Rotary Club luncheon held in Woburn last Tuesday. A most cordial welcome was accorded to the Winchester Club members and when the Woburn Club sang their "welcome song" the clapping of hands and rattling of dishes in time with the music astonished all visiting Rotarians, but left a warm feeling in the hearts of all.

The guest speaker was Hon. Rudolph F. Kingsbury, Speaker of the House of Representatives.

Every minute of the luncheon including the excellent chicken pie and ice cream gave everyone a most enjoyable time.

Thanks a lot Woburn Rotary Club.

SCHOOL NEWS

Already 16 girls from the high school commercial department have begun their duties with various businesses and banks. Two more will begin on Monday. Though these girls will not receive their diplomas until June 2 with the remainder of their class, they are starting their new positions somewhat ahead of time according to the annual custom.

Miss Helen Bronson, head of the commercial department, who supervises placement of her students has received over 50 calls for the girls available. As early as Oct. 16 the calls began.

Since precedence was given those first to call, not all of the former employees of W. H. S. students could be assisted.

The following girls are now employed in establishments that have found Winchester trained commercial pupils satisfactory: Josephine Agri, Ingrid Carlson, June Hennessy, Margaret Joyce, Elinor Nelson, Ruth O'Melia, Helen Perry, Betty Bush, Pauline Bourinot, Mary Caputo, Shirley Carroll, Dorothy Delorey, Jean Power, Carolyn Luongo, Shirley Hamilton, Kay Palumbo, Kay Simonetta, Kay Comita.

Principal Samuel M. Graves attended the 22nd annual conference of Junior and Senior High School Principals at Framingham yesterday and today.

The subject of the conference is, "The Eventful Year of 1944."

The high school assembled in the auditorium on Wednesday to witness three short sound movies on Latin America, presented under the sponsorship of the Spanish classes. Pictures of Mexico, Brazil and Argentina in technicolor were enjoyed. This program was a delayed observance of Pan-America Day, held over because of a conflict with other school activity on April 14.

MR. WEAFER TO SPEAK AT UNITARIAN CHURCH

Sunday evening, April 30, at 6:30 o'clock Mr. Francis Weafer will be the guest speaker at the Metcalf Union, which is the high school young peoples' group of the Unitarian Church.

Mr. Weafer will speak as a Catholic layman in the series entitled "Will Your Religion Be on the Beam in the Post-War World?"

Mr. Weafer will give an outline of the beliefs and aims of his church and answer questions.

This is a part of the program to create sympathetic understanding between the various religious sects.

Two weeks ago Rabbi Alpert of Temple Israel, Boston, gave a talk on, "The Religious Teachings of the Jews Today."

The young people were much interested in his talk and had many questions which the Rabbi answered very fully.

The Metcalf Union is sorry to have lost two of its presidents this past year. Mr. James Kimball resigned when he was admitted to M. I. T. Mr. William A. Wilde, Jr., was elected president and left this past week to join the U. S. Navy.

The Union appreciates their good work and extends best wishes to them in their new fields of endeavor. At the Metcalf Union meeting on April 23 Mr. Jerry Fritch was elected president, he has served the Union in many ways and is well qualified to fill the office of president. The young people appreciate his willingness to step in and carry on at this time.

SUNDAY PLAY SCHOOL

Beginning this Sunday, a play school for children 2 to 5 years old will be conducted during the morning worship hour at the Second Congregational Church for the children of parents who wish to attend the service.

The school will be supervised by Mrs. Edward Woodbury and Mrs. Christine Thompson. Anyone having discarded or unused toys or games suitable for use with this age group will find them appreciated and a phone call to Mrs. Thompson or Mrs. Woodbury will bring a response.

Mrs. Nestor W. Davis returns the first of the week to her home 9 Lagrange street from Ormond, Fla., where she has been spending the winter.

With an enthusiastic attendance of a good 200 women of the First Congregational Church in Winchester, the initial meeting of the Womens Association, held April 25, started the organization on its promising way, ably led by Mrs. Robert M. Keeney, president.

Mrs. Frederic R. Withington led a short devotional period. This was followed by a hearty welcome from Dr. Howard J. Chidley who expressed his faith in the cooperation of the women in the new venture, and his certainty that a great pool of our women's ingenuity and energy might now be tapped for the first time.

Directors of the four component guilds were announced as:

Home Church Guild: Mrs. Maurice F. Brown

Mission Union Guild: Mrs. Walter W. Winship

Social Service Guild: Mrs. Albert Huckins

Special Interests Guild: Mrs. R. H. B. Smith

Chairmen of the standing committees were introduced. They are:

Nominating: Mrs. Murray S. Moore

Membership co-chairmen: Mrs. E. C. Filler, Mrs. F. B. Chamberlin

Finance: Mrs. Edwin R. Rooney

Programs: Mrs. E. R. Grosvenor

Publicity: Mrs. R. L. Emerson

Devotional Leader: Mrs. F B. Withington

The proposed budget, drawn up by Mrs. Edwin Rooney, as read by Mrs. James McCormick, was unanimously accepted. Also voted on without dissent was the pledge system of raising funds needed.

Atmosphere for the Scandinavian program which followed the meeting was set by music sung by Mrs. Walter W. Winship, accompanied by Mrs. Leon Sargent. Mrs. Gordon Bird and Mrs. Francis Taylor joined in the singing of Finlandia. Mrs. Howard Bartlett had taken charge of securing the women and children who modeled the colorful costumes presented and described so charmingly by Helen S. Green of Newton.

WINCHESTER MEN PROMOTED

The appointment of Neil A. Sargent of Pierrepont road as assistant research director of the Merrimac Division of Monsanto Chemical Company was announced Monday by D. S. Dinsmoor, vice president of the company and general manager of the division. Mr. Sargent will share administrative and supervisory responsibilities with A. H. Bump, also an assistant research director under W. S. Wilson, director of research.

Mr. Sargent has been associated with Monsanto and predecessor companies since August of 1917 in engineering and research capacities. Most recently he has been in charge of pilot plant operations and inorganic research. Born in Concord, N. H., Mr. Sargent is a graduate of the University of New Hampshire and a member of the American Chemical Society.

Also announced on Monday was the promotion of Dr. Robert B. Swisher of Ledyard road to serve as group leader in charge of organic chemical research for the Merrimac Division. A graduate of the University of Michigan with the Ph.D. degree in pharmaceutical and organic chemistry, Dr. Swisher has been associated with Monsanto since 1934 doing research in organic chemicals. He is a native of Denver, Colorado and a member of the American Chemical Society.

COLD STORAGE

Despite rising prices, many allowed by changes and amendments to the OPA price structure, the charges for insured cold storage by Fitzgerald Cleansers remain the same as in the past. This means the charge is based on 2 percent of your valuation, instead of the customary 3 percent, with the usual minimums, charged generally by nearly all Boston firms, furriers as well as department stores. And the storage plant in which Fitzgerald Cleansers places your garments, fur or cloth, is far superior to the best those other firms have to offer. This is due, perhaps, to the fact that the vault was completed just before the war when all the latest equipment was available, protective and refrigerating. Consequently, it so happens that for $1 less for every $100 valuation declared, Fitzgerald Cleansers offer far better protective facilities than the large Boston firms.

Until conditions clarify, most likely not until after the war, dry cleansing will not be done. However, having installed special fur cleaning equipment before the war, it is intended to clean those furs that the customer wishes to have done by the recommended furrier's process.

The plant is open every week-day from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. Customary calls will be made by delivery. The telephone is Win. 2350. ap7-tf

THE BISHOP MISBEHAVES

A three-act comedy by Frederick Jackson, presented Friday and Saturday evenings, April 21 and 22, by the Parish Players of the First Congregational Church in the Little Theater Beneath a Spire, directed by Alan Hay, with the following cast:

Red Eagan Reveley H. B. Smith
Donald Meadows Ewen C. Cameron
Hester Grantham Priscilla A. Merrill
Guy Waller Harold F. French
Mrs. Waller Kathryn Hall Sibley
The Bishop of Broadminster F. Milne Blanchard
Lady Emily Lyone Janet N. Dalrymple
Collins Robert J. Harmon
Frenchy Herbert F. Clement
Mr. Brooke Lt. Harold A. Hall, USNR.

The Players chose an entertaining play to close their 18th season and gave another of the performances which have enabled them to attract enthusiastic audiences to the Little Theater throughout that long time. There were two corking sets for the show, the first the parlor of the Queen's Head Taproom, a public house and the second the Bishop's study, an attractive layout that drew applause in its own right. Properties, lighting, makeup and costuming were of the usual high standard, though we had always supposed English bishops wore shovel and not plug hats.

Briefly the plot dealt with the frustrating by the Bishop of a gang of pseudo-thieves who robbed Guy and Mrs. Waller of valuable jewels and incriminating papers at a public house, only to have the Bishop make off with the swag left in a drinking-mug to be picked up by a confederate.

The subsequent appearance of the gang at the Bishop's residence in search of their booty and their capture by the kindly little detective-minded clergyman, assisted by his motherly-appearing sister, led to the disclosure that the thieves were in reality nice young people attempting to right a wrong done the fiancee of the ring-leader. The happy ending found the Bishop forcing the villain, Mr. Waller, to sign a paper setting things right and dividing the 1000 pound reward offered in advance by the unhappy gentleman for the recovery of his property.

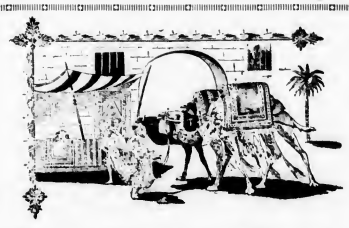

"The Bishop Misbehaves" was pretty much a personal triumph for Dr. Blanchard, a past master of high comedy who made a lot of even a "fat" part and played to perfection the whimsical, capable, humorous, wholly lovable little churchman who dominated the action from his first appearance on the stage. There are some great lines written for the Bishop and the Doctor pointed them beautifully, just as he carried out his stage business with that characteristically deft touch that Little Theater audiences have come to associate with the parts he plays. The Bishop is one of the best in a long list of Dr. Blanchard's character successes.

With this in mind it argues well for the Lady Emily of Mrs. Dalrymple that she was at all times and in all ways a fitting companion and excellent abettor for the show's outstanding figure. Indeed, Mrs. Dalrymple in her own right made a notable contribution to the success of the show, playing the sweet old lady, who didn't mind a bit of excitement, in a way to leave nothing to be desired.

The other characters of the play were in capable hands though the author asked relatively little of them. Miss Morrlit did well with the role of Hester Grantham, one of the play's romantic leads, displaying an attractive stage presence and an excellent speaking voice. Mrs. Sibley was careful not to overplay the volatile Mrs. Waller yet she lost none of the necessary affectation of the part and rose easily to the level necessary to be convincing during her final moments on the stage.

Mr. French seemed not too happily cast as the blustering Mr. Waller, though he made the villain of the play sufficiently disagreeable. Mr. Smith was quite convincing as the bullying inn-keeper, Red Eagan, though his excessively gutteral delivery lost the audience many of his lines. Mr. Harmon was a very satisfactory, but by no means sinister Collins, and Lt. Hall was very funny as the deaf and wholly virtuous butler, Brooke.

Both Mr. Cameron and Mr. Clement faced a distinct handicap in the age-gap between themselves and the remaining male members of the cast. Their performance under the circumstances was very creditable.

MRS. DOROTHY HAYWARD, R. N. TO SPEAK TO HIGH SCHOOL GIRLS

Through the efforts of the Winchester Committee on Nursing for War Service, Mrs. Dorothy Hayward, R. N., has been engaged to speak to the Winchester High School girls. She will explain the purpose of the United States Cadet Nurse Corps and the benefits to be derived from this offer of the Federal Government.

Mrs. Hayward is chairman of the Greater Boston Nursing Council for War Service and her office is at 201 Franklin street, room 400 in the Community Building in Boston. Her telephone number is Liberty 5515 and she is always willing to give guidance or information to anyone interested in the Cadet Nurse Corps.

The Winchester Committee on Nursing for War Service acting under the War Manpower Commission for Procurement and assignment was organized Feb. 19, 1944.

The Winchester Committee on Nursing for War Service has for its objectives:

1. To procure nurses to meet the needs of the Armed Forces, having due consideration for civilian nursing needs.

2. To bring about the equitable distribution of nurses in order to maintain the best possible nursing service for the civilian population and non-military government agencies.

In pursuance of these two objectives each registered nurse residing or working in Winchester will be classified and will receive notice of her status.

Classification will be based on her elegibility for military service and essentiality for civilian service.

A program for the recruitment of Cadet nurses has been planned whereby it is hoped the interest and enlistment of some of our eligible young women may be secured.

The Cadet Nurse Corps offers girls between the ages of 17, the opportunity to serve their country in this grave emergency. As graduate nurses leave civilian posts for war service, the Cadet Nurse is trained to take their places on the home front.

It offers a lifetime education free in a profession in which there are many and interesting fields after she graduates.

The same high standards of qualification set by the leading schools for nurse training must be met by any applicant for the Cadet Nurse Corps.

SEVERAL FIRES LAST WEEK-END

Despite last Friday's rain the Fire Department was called at 12:15 p. m. to put out a fire at the small dump at the corner of Madison avenue west and Main street.

Saturday forenoon at 11:10 the department was called to put out a fire at the town dump off Summer street. At 1:15 there was a grass fire at 35 Middlesex street and while the men were there they put out a second grass fire at 58 Middlesex street. Box 54 came in at 5:11 for a fire in an electric transformer located on a pole on Cross street opposite Goodline's filling station. This trouble put our lights and stopped electric ranges and refrigerators all the way along Washington street as far south as Myrtle street and Crescent road.

Sunday's first alarm was at 12:42 p. m. for a grass fire, set from burning leaves on the shore of Wedge Pond at the rear of Wedge Pond road. Box 361 came in at 2:50 for a grass fire off Brookside avenue and at 4:10 Sunday the last call of the weekend came for a dump fire at the rear of 780 Main street.

GOLF SEASON OPENS

The popular Mt. Hood golf course in Melrose opened its ninth season on April 19 with considerable play, and although the weather has been cold and damp, the course is considered in very good condition.

This 18 hole municipal operated course, only eight miles from Boston, has a very unique lay out and scenic beauty that is unsurpassed.

Season and transient rates are very reasonable.

A beautiful recreation building at the entrance to the park, has a complete kitchen capable of serving from soft drinks and sandwiches to a full course dinner for approximately 100 persons. Locker rooms have ample lockers and showers for members and transient players.

DOROTHY RICHARDSON IN RECITAL

The Winchester Branch of the Greater Boston Negro Choral Singers presented Dorothy Richardson, contralto, and Geraldine Robert, pianist, in a recital at the town hall last evening.

Miss Richardson sang: Handel, Alma Mia; Caccini, Amarilli; Handel, O Sleep Why Dost Thou Leave Me; Gluck, Wonnevolle Mai; Strausse, Freundliche Vision; Wolff, Alle Dinge Haben Sprache; Schneider, The Cave; Nordoff, There Shall Be More Joy; Romilli, Woodland Song; Wolff, Fairy Tales; Runnell, Ecstasy; and the following Negro songs: Ring, Noontide Song; Johnson, Song of the Heart; Guion, Creole Ave Maria; and the spirituals, Every Time I Feel the Spirit and Steal Away.

Miss Robert played the Hess arrangement of Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring by Bach, Chopin's Nocturne Op. 72 No. 1 and the Capriccio by Longo.

Miss Richardson displayed a deep, exceptionally rich voice, full of the vibrant color which seems to be the heritage of singers of her race. Wide in range, never strident in its upper register or woodeny in its lower, her voice was both artistically and intelligently used to express the singer's feeling for both the words and music of her songs.

Her program was varied but her musicianship ample to cope with its wide and taxing demands. Especially did she bring to the group of spirituals and Negro songs that dignity and depth of interpretation so often lacking in singers not emotionally attuned to such music.

Miss Robert proved both a skilled pianist and a helpful competent accompanist. Her solo group was done in a finished manner while in accompanying Miss Richardson she was caerful at all times not to project her playing too much into the consciousness of her audience.

Both artists were warmly applauded and graciously added extra numbers to their programs.

Mrs. Maude Crowelli was chairman of the committee in charge of arrangements for the recital, assisted by Phyllis West, Esther Kirby, Julia Emerson, Josephine Reed, George Reed, Clifton Merriman. Ushers headed by Wesley Wallace, were Clarence Richardson, Earl J. Barbee, Dorothea Johnson, Mary Ellen Turner, Bessie Hawkins, Bertha Johnson, Cora Hawkins and Geraldine Barksdale.

Patrons for the recital included Mrs. Genevieve Elwell, Rev. and Mrs. William H. Smith, William Scott, Rev. and Mrs. Clifford L. Miller, Luther F. Yanecy, Mrs. Bertha Barksdale, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Aue, Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Canada, Mrs. Carrie Booker, Mr. and Mrs. H. Blacknall Perry, Mrs. Gladys N. STREET FAIR NEWS

With the warm days of spring here at last, everyone turns with keen anticipation to the coming En Ka Street Fair, to be held May 20 on the town hall grounds. Under Mrs. Murray Moore's capable leadership committees have been working for weeks perfecting plans for this mammoth event, which promises to be the best ever, and in spite of war-time restrictions, will offer as much fun, entertainment and attractive things to buy as in former years.

Valuable awards, namely, an attractive deep freeze cabinet with boxes for home freezing; a war bond, and a $50 credit at Fred's Beauty Salon, will be given on the night of the Fair. Donation books are in charge of Mrs. Forrest Pitman and a large committee.

Mrs. Langley Keyes has charge of the bakery and she plans to have all kinds of the most delectable home-cooked pies, cakes and rolls for sale. The candy booth, too, with Mrs. Milne Blanchard and Mrs. Roland Carter in charge, will offer many kinds of tempting sweets.

The young fry will find enough excitement and fun to keep them busy all day long. No one is "too young or too old" to find congenial friends and many things to do and see at the Fair.

Remember the date. May 20.

TRUST FUND ESTABLISHED FOR BOY SCOUTS

Looking to the future, Fellsland Council, Boy Scouts of America has set up a trust fund in the hope that public spirited men and women will wish to endow this organization in the same way that universities, hospitals and other public institutions are endowed.

Within the jurisdiction of Fellsland Council are all Boy Scout troops, Cub Packs and other groups in Medford, Winchester, Woburn, Stoneham and Burlington. While it is true that regular operating needs are generously met through the contributions of these communities to the Greater Boston Community Fund, such financing takes no account of future growth or broadened activities.

By means of endowment, the Boy Scouts in these areas might enjoy many more advantages than it is now possible to provide, better facilities for summer camps, better equipment for instruction in the various Scout skills, more trained full time Scout executives to plan and supervise.

At present and in the past, Boy Scout progress in the Fellsland area has been strictly limited by scant finances and it has been a problem each year simply to remain solvent without any possibility of accumulating a reserve for future expansion.

Trustees for the endowment fund, which as yet is a fund in name only, are five well known men of the Fellsland district. They are Judge Lawrence G. Brooks, Medford; Hon. Harris S. Richardson and H. Wadsworth Hight of Winchester; Edward Johnson of Woburn; and Col. Ralph R. Patch of Stoneham. These leading men, long active in Boy Scout work, have the business, financial and legal experience which makes them ideally fitted as a group to administer the Boy Scout endowment fund.

HARRIS S. RICHARDSON
Trustee Boy Scout Endowment Fund

H. Wadsworth Hight of Swan road is president of Winchester Savings Bank and chairman of the Board of Commissioners, Trust Funds, Town of Winchester. He was born in Winchester, attended Winchester schools and has been in the banking business all his adult life. Mr. Hight has been active in Scouting since 1918 and was president of the Winchester Council 1923-26. He is a member of the First Baptist Church and a director in numerous civic and philantropic organizations.

The other trustee from Winchester, Hon. Harris S. Richardson of Mt. Pleasant street, has represented the Winchester-Woburn district in the State Senate since 1926. He is the owner of Richardson's Market and is vice president and a director of Winchester Trust Co. Mr. Richardson has been a key member of various civic boards and committees for many years in Winchester and is a past president of Winchester Rotary Club. Besides being active in Boy Scout work, he is an active Mason, a member of the First Congregational Church, a reserve member of the U. S. Coast Guard and a delegate to the coming Republican National Convention.

More explicit information concerning the newly established Boy Scout endowment fund may be obtained on request by addressing Fellsland Council, Boy Scouts of America, Winchester.

WILBUR SARGENT LOCKE

Wilbur Sargent Locke, for nearly 50 years identified with the steel industry in New England, died Monday afternoon, May 1, at his home, 9 Lewis road, after a short illness.

Mr. Locke was the son of Francis and Esther Sargent Locke. He was born Sept. 10, 1870, in Gloucester and received a grammar school education, leaving school at the age of 13 to go to work in S. S. Hartwell's general store in Gloucester. Later he drove a horseradish team for Simeon Merchant in Gloucester, assisting his employer in digging and grinding the root as well as in its sale.

In 1886 Mr. Locke entered the employ of the Cape Ann Anchor Works in Gloucester as office boy, subsequently taking over the office bookkeeping and correspondence. In 1892 he became a salesman for the Carnegie Steel Corporation and for 48 years he remained with this firm, being at the time of his retirement in 1941 New England sales representative for the Carnegie-Illinois Steel Corporation and other subsidiaries of the United States Steel Corporation. He was especially well known to the trade and was the first "Dictator" of the New England Iron League, an organization of salesmen and their customers in the iron industry which met socially from time to time.

Mr. Locke was a 33rd degree Mason, a past Master of William Parkman Lodge of this town and greatly interested in the Order of DeMolay for boys, having been among the very first "Dads" of the local chapter. He was also past commander of the Massachusetts Consistory, past president of the old Calumet Club, a member of the Winchester Country Club, Bass Rocks Golf Club and of the Algonquin Club of Boston.

On Nov. 11, 1892, Mr. Locke married Sarah K. Pew of Gloucester and in 1897 came to Winchester, living for many years on Dix street before moving to Lewis road. Mrs. Locke survives with two daughters, Mrs. George S. Stevens of Ipswich and Mrs. Cox, wife of Lt. Comdr. Thomas G. Cox, USNR, of Washington, D. C.; a son, Francis Locke of North Attleboro; a sister, Miss Elizabeth Locke of Boston and three grandchildren. Mr. Locke's oldest daughter, Mrs. Lowell R. Smith (Hannah Locke) died Sept. 4, 1942.

Funeral services were held yesterday at the Chapel in Woodlawn Cemetery, Everett, with Rev. George Hale Reed of Winchester, officiating. After cremation, interment will be in Wildwood Cemetery.

FUNERAL SERVICES HELD FOR LT. RICHARD GROSVENOR

Funeral services for Lt. Richard P. Grosvenor, United States Army Infantry officer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward R. Grosvenor of Fenwick road, who lost his life when an assault boat capsized March 22 in the Cumberland River, Tenn., were held Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the First Congregational Church with the pastor, Rev. Howard J. Chidley, officiating. J. Albert Wilson, church organist, played several selections during the service.

It was not a military funeral, the single military note being the Flag draping the casket and the presence of 1st. Lt. Walford Nilsson of the 104th Infantry, who accompanied Lt. Grosvenor's body to Winchester from Tennessee. Lt. Nilsson was one of the two members of the party in the capsized assault boat who were saved.

There was a large attendance at the service, including many in uniform. Ushers were Murray S. Moore, Carl J. Sittinger, James H. Coon, Roger W. Thaving and Erskine N. White. Just before the interment in Wildwood Cemetery the flag was removed from the casket and presented to the young officer's mother by Lt. Nilsson.

Lt. Grosvenor's body was recovered from the Cumberland River Thursday, April 27, not far from where the boat capsized near Averitt's Ferry. The accident occurred during maneuvers while Lt. Grosvenor's Company was engaged in a crossing problem.

The young officer was born Dec. 12, 1919, and had spent practically all of his life in Winchester, graduating from Winchester High School and from the University of Vermont in May of 1943, being a member of the varsity basketball team and having four years service in the R. O. T. C.

From college he went directly to Fort Benning, Ga., where he was commissioned a 2nd lieutenant in September, 1943. After a short time in an officers' pool at Camp Croft he was assigned to B Co. of the 417th Infantry, 76th Division, and sent to Wisconsin. He was last home during January, 1944, at which time his engagement to Miss Jean West of Woburn was announced.

After his leave he returned to Wisconsin, but was immediatery ordered to Tennessee where he was assigned to B Company of the 104th Infantry, 26th Division. His company was on maneuvers when he arrived and he joined his men in the field, completing six weeks of the most arduous sort of training before losing his life when river craft capsized during his first problem before transfer.

Besides his parents, Lt. Grosvenor leaves two brothers, Albert, a physicist at the Naval Research Laboratory in Washington; and David, an ensign in the United States Coast Guard, commanding a crash boat on Lake Michigan. Also surviving are Lt. Grosvenor's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Candlin of Winchester, formerly of Springfield.

SCHOOL DEPARTMENT NOTES

As in other years, the School Department will register all children who enter the public schools for the first time in September, 1944. Registration will be held in the several elementary schools from Monday through Friday, May 8 through May 12, from 3:30 to 4:30. At the time of registration, parents will be given a physical record card which may be taken to their private physician, and on which he may record the results of the physical examination. Parents are urged to consult their private physician so that if there be any physical defects, these defects may be corrected between the time of registration and the opening of school in September.

The Board of Health conducts a clinic for the less privileged at the Board of Health rooms, 9 Mt. Vernon street, each Thursday from 3 to 4 o'clock, beginning Thursday, May 18, and continuing each Thursday afternoon until the end of July.

Cpl. Richard H. Hall, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Hall of Madison avenue west, has been home on a furlough from Camp Haan, California. During that time Cpl. Hall and his mother visited his brother, Lt. Comdr. A. Harmon Hall and Mrs. Hall in New York City.

TALENTED YOUNG READER TO APPEAR WITH MYSTIC GLEE CLUB MAY 9

Plans are complete for the annual spring concert of the Mystic Glee Club, Winchester's popular male singing group, to be given Tuesday evening, May 9, at 8 o'clock in the high school auditorium, with Harvey Davies directing and Kenneth W. Moffatt, accompanist. In accordance with the club's policy of always benefitting some worthy cause, proceeds from the concert will go to the Scholarship Fund of the Junior High School Associates, a branch of the Mothers' Association.

CLAUDIA RENEHAN HOWARD, Soprano
Guest Soloist with Mystic Glee Club

Already the club has made two appearances this spring, singing at the New England Sanitarium in Melrose April 15 and last Sunday, offering a group of appropriate selections at the First Baptist Church. Many who have followed the club from its inception believe the men are singing better this year than ever.

That the group has kept together during the past two war years is something to wonder at. Eighteen members are now in the armed services and others have been forced to drop from the club by the unusual pressure of business and other duties. New members have been secured, the gaps have been closed and the club has carried on, largely because the members believe their associates in the service would wish to have the group continued and largely because of the unfailing zeal and inspiration of President Carl W. Wood, whose enthusiasm has been infectious.

An interesting and well rounded program has been prepared for next Tuesday's concert, featuring beside the club, two assisting artists, Claudia Renehan Howard, soprano, and Miriam Hendricks Cahalin, reader. Mrs. Howard, Winchester's school supervisor of music is so well known and universally popular as to need no further introduction. Her success at the club's spring concert last year made her a "must" for this season.

Miss Cahalin, an Arlington girl, is a talented reader with a varied repertoire and an excellent reputation as an entertainer. Her original monologues have scored a tremendous hit wherever she has appeared and the Mystic Glee Club assures its patrons that a real treat is in store for them on May 9.

The club will sing many of its old favorites with new music that has been carefully chosen. Advance sale of tickets indicates an audience of large size. Leo W. Twombly heads the concert committee with Benjamin T. Marshall handling the important and difficult program assignment.

WASTE PAPER

According to the best information obtainable, Winchester citizens salvaged about 250,000 lbs. waste paper during the month of April. Do not destroy it as the lack of it is creating a critical situation in the war effort. See letter elsewhere in this paper.

Although there is more demand for Town Plots for Victory Gardens this year than last, there are some desirable ones still left. Call Marshall Symmes, Garden Chairman Win. 1926 after 6 p. m. for further information.

SAVED FROM DROWNING IN SAND-PIT

William Zampell, 9, of 81 Canal street escaped drowning Wednesday afternoon when companions with whom he was swimming in the old sand pit at the rear of Pickering street in Woburn pulled him from the water. Young Zampell while swimming in deep water started to go down and called to his friends who went to his assistance.

Meanwhile a call was sent in to both the Winchester and Woburn Police, patrol cars from both departments going to the sand pit along with apparatus from the Woburn Fire Department, the Winchester Fire Department's life saving boat and the police ambulance.

The youngster was out of the water when the firemen and policemen arrived. He was taken home by Sgt. Thomas F. Cassidy and Patrolman Edward F. Bowler of the local police.

The old sand pit was formerly operated by the Bay State Sand and Gravel Company. The water in it is at times quite deep.

HERBERT TAYLOR BOND

Herbert Taylor Bond, a well known resident of Winchester for many years, died Friday morning, April 28, at the Winchester Hospital. While he had not been in good health for several months and previously had been in the hospital for a short time in March, he had been out and around as late as the day before he died. He had been making his home at 21 Winchester place.

Mr. Bond was the son of Charles Granville Mellon, and Harriet (Taylor) Bond. He was born March 10, 1873, in Detroit, Mich., but came East as a young man and settled in Winchester in 1902, for many years making his home at 16 Hillside avenue.

For some time Mr. Bond was associated with a paper-box manufacturing business in Roxbury. Later he was with the United Car Fastener Company in Cambridge and in recent years was in business for himself as a life insurance broker. He was a well known member of the old Calumet Club and had also been a member of the Winchester Country Club, being club singles champion for seven consecutive years in the early 1900's and later winning the President's Cup, which is a three-year competition.

Mr. Bond leaves a daughter, Mrs. Rollin S. Bailey, wife of Major Bailey who is stationed in Washington with the United States Army Quartermaster Corps; and a son, Tech. Sgt. Bruce Guernsey Bond, attached to the Army Postal Battalion in New York City. There are also surviving a sister, Mrs. Gertrude Moore of Arlington; three brothers, Alfred M., and Harold A. Bond, both of Arlington; Howard C. Bond of Brookline and two grandchildren, Donald S., and Robert B. Bailey of Washington, D. C.

Funeral services were held at 10 o'clock Monday morning at the Crematory Chapel in Mt. Auburn Cemetery, Cambridge. The ultimate interment will be in the New Hampton Cemetery, New Hampton, N. H.

COLLISION AT PARKWAY AND MAIN STREET

Saturday evening at 8.45 Michael Meskell of 247 Governor's avenue reported to the Police that as he was driving his Ford sedan south on Main street the car was struck on the rear by a Plymouth sedan headed east on the Parkway and crossing Main street. Both machines were damaged.

Riding with Mr. Meskell were his wife and 14 year old daughter, Eleanor, both of whom were thrown to the floor of the car and shaken up. Mrs. Meskell also complaining of injuries to her head.

The operator of the other car stopped after the accident, but according to the Police, did not make himself known. He was later arrested in the yard of his Winchester home by Sgt. James P. Donaghey of the Police Department, and locked up, charged with drunkenness, driving while under the influence of liquor and leaving the scene of an accident without making himself known.

In court Monday morning the drunkenness charge was filed. A fine of $35 was imposed on the drunken driving charge with $20 more for the driver's failing to make himself known.

MISS ANNIE R. SULLIVAN

Miss Annie R. Sullivan of 60 Holland street, a native and long time resident of Winchester, died Thursday, April 27 at the home of her sister, Mrs. J. Henry Kelley, 42 Odell avenue, Beverly. She had been on a five weeks visit at Mrs. Kelley's home.

Miss Sullivan, who was the daughter of the late Daniel and Johanna (Sullivan) Sullivan, was born Oct. 12, 1881. She was formerly in the employ of F. E. Barnes and Company. Besides her sister, she leaves a brother, Daniel E. Sullivan of this town.

Requiem high mass was celebrated in St. Mary's Church Monday morning with burial in Calvary Cemetery.

WEEK-END FIRES

The Fire Department was called at 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon to put out a grass fire on Ellis street near the Parkway in Woburn.

Sunday at 5:39 an awning was discovered smouldering at Filene's in the Locatelli Building on Main street. The awning had been treated to prevent fire and as a consequence only a relatively small hole was burned. It is thought some one threw a cigarette on the awning.

At 10:06 Sunday night the department was called to put out a fire that started in the rear seat-cushion of an automobile, parked on Lantern lane and owned by Ralph Purrington of Hancock street.

DAMAGE AT HIGHLAND SCHOOL

Monday evening while Patrolman Stanley Mullen was making his rounds he found a pane of glass broken over a latch in a window on the west side of the Highland School, now unused.

Since this pane had been replaced within a short time, Officer Mullen investigated the inside of the building and found that a lock on the door leading to the cellar had been removed as well as a bolt taken from the door leading from the cellar outside. He further found that the cover had been removed from a ventilating fan in the basement as if some one had been tampering with it.

GUEST SPEAKER

The new plan of the Winchester Mt. Holyoke Club to entertain visiting authors at Alice Dixon Bond's book talks has proved a marked success. Tea will be served.

COLD STORAGE

Despite rising prices, many allowed by changes and amendments to the OPA price structure, the charges for insured cold storage by Fitzgerald Cleansers remain the same as in the past. This means the charge is based on 2 percent of your valuation, instead of the customary 3 percent, with the usual minimums, charged generally by nearly all Boston firms, furriers as well as department stores. And the storage plant in which Fitzgerald Cleansers places your garments, fur or cloth, is far superior to the best those other firms have to offer. This is due, perhaps, to the fact that the vault was completed just before the war when all the latest equipment was available, protective and refrigerating. Consequently, it so happens that for $1 less for every $100 valuation declared, Fitzgerald Cleansers offer far better protective facilities than the large Boston firms.

Until conditions clarify, most likely not until after the war, dry cleansing will not be done. However, having installed special fur cleaning equipment before the war, it is intended to clean those furs that the customer wishes to have done by the recommended furrier's process.

The plant is open every week-day from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. Customary calls will be made by delivery. The telephone is Win. 2350. ap7-tf

WINCHESTER BLANKED WOBURN

Sam Tompkins, big hard-ball, right-hander, held Woburn to four hits Monday afternoon as Winchester shut out its long time rival from the tanning city, 10-0, on Manchester Field. Sam kept his overhand fast one right in there and was seldom behind the batter, issuing his first pass in the 5th and walking only two all the way, this despite the high cross wind and cold that had a tendency to make a hurler stiffen up between frames.

Woburn started Dobbins, sophomore right hander. Genaris replaced him in the 5th, but neither proved especially effective, Dobbins appearing the better of the two.

Saraco opened the first inning with a hit past Gilgun and stole. Walsh's hit past short advanced Tony to third and Walsh stole. Tibaudo rapped to Berardi and Saraco was an easy out at the plate, Walsh reaching third. Tibaudo went down and a walk to Amico filled the bases. Another walk to Swymer forced in Walsh and Tibaudo scored on O'Rourke's hit, on which Gilgun made a great backhanded stop, but played late to third and wide of the bag at that. Osgood fanned and Nihan hoisted to Abreau to end the frame.

With two out in the 3rd O'Rourke walked and advanced to second on a balk. Coon batting for Osgood, hit a high bounder through the box that brought in O'Rourke. Nihan again popped to Abreau.

Walks to Saraco and Walsh with both stealing put men on second and third to start the 4th and Tibaudo's clean single past short brought both in.

Tompkins drove a clean hit to left to start the 6th and advanced when Saraco beat out a perfect bunt to Berardi. "Tommy" slid into third on a short passed ball, Tony reaching second. Walsh fanned but Tibaudo walked to fill the bases. When Genaris hit Amico, Tompkins counted and Saraco, Tibaudo and Amico rode home on Swymer's well tagged belt to right center, which fast fielding by Mooney held to a double. Gilgun's error gave O'Rourke a life, but Coon popped to Abreau and Nihan to Burns.

The final tally came over in the 7th on a walk to Saraco, a stolen base and an infield error.

"Johnny" Temple had an unusual play to call in the 6th when he ruled Abreau out for interference with Sammy Tibaudo's attempt to complete a double play at second. The summary:

McLAUGHLIN AND PRIDHAM

"Wild Willie" McLaughlin, the Pride of Stowe and Champion of all Nabnassett, paired with Roland "Thin Finger" Pridham to win titular honors at last week-end's regular meeting of the Palmer Beach Horseshoe Association on the Wedge Pond courts. Other members present were Herbert "Garrulous" Gardner, the Secretary and last for emphasis, Royal "Paper Trade" Teele, president of the Association, just back from Wells River and strangely enough a bit short of his usual form.

Mr. Teele gave of his best like the earnest competitor that he is, but his best was very elementary indeed excepting for one very brief stretch at the start of hostilities and another longer and better sequence during the next-to-last match when almost every other shoe he threw landed squarely upon the stake. This exhibition was easily the best of the session, but it was voted, good as it was, insufficient for championship consideration.

None of the warriors, with the exception of Mr. Pridham, was particularly impressive, and "Thin Finger" himself was outstanding only by comparison with the session's average. Whether it was the sun, or some more indefinable handicap, cannot be definitely stated, but the fact remains that the general pitching was decidedly sour. Even Mr. McLaughlin was failing to get ringers, let alone his customary quota of double-headers.

The last match of the session was easily the best, from a competitive point of view at least, the count going game and game with McLaughlin and the Secretary taking the first one, 25-23, and the deciding game, 25-21. Mr. Teele and Mr. Pridham didn't let the winners into the "doubles" in the equalizer.

Arthur E. Butters, sometimes called the State of Maine Champ, failed to show up for the matches for the second straight week-end and there was no known excuse for his second defection. President Teele said little about the absence, being too busy keeping score and defending his sorry pitching against the verbal shafts of his associates. No longer trusting Mr. Pridham to keep the count, Royal now scores the games himself and as a consequence is much busier than when he was willing to accept the Pridham figures.

He did, however circle the Butters absence in the Association's records and the mean way in which he wet the point of his pencil before doing so augurs ill for the Boston and Maine tourist.

WINCHESTER 7, LEXINGTON 0

Guy Washburn, sturdy poker-faced right-hander, pitched very effectively against Lexington last Friday afternoon and Winchester turned back the Minuteboys in a Middlesex League game on Manchester Field, 7-0. Six hits show in the Lexington score but three of them were pop flies that fell safely in the infield because everyone thought someone else was going to take them. Coach Knowlton was very close to apoplexy when the third one fell safely.

The locals put the game on ice in the first inning. Darley, starting Lexington pitcher, walked Saraco, Walsh and Tibaudo, retiring in favor of Furdon. Amico rapped to Harrington and Saraco was forced at the plate, but Swymer hit a well-tagged triple to right center, bringing in three runs. Harrington made a nice play on O'Rourke's bid for a hit between third and short, holding Swymer at third. Osgood fanned.

Winchester added one in the third on walks to Tibaudo and Swymer. O'Rourke's one shot to right and Nihan's fly to center field.

Walsh hit to left to start the 8th, Tibaudo fanned and Amico hoisted to left. Swymer walked and successive hits by O'Rourke, Coon, replacing Osgood, and Nihan brought in the final three tallies. The summary:

SONS OF ITALY LODGE NEWS

At our regular monthly meeting held on Tuesday, May 2 the newly re-elected Venerable A. P. Tofuri named the following to the committees of the Winchester Lodge: House Committee: L. Manoli, F. Dattilo, V. Ficociello, A. Derro, C. Frongillo, A. Jacobelli, A. Gilliberti, Sr., E. Staffieri, S. Puma, A. Vespucci, V. Picopolo and C. DiMinico. Sick Committee: C. Frongillo, V. Iannacci, V. Gigliotte.

Mike Gigliotte, brother-in-law of Sam Puma is now in England, which makes the girls of the U. S. A.'s loss the gain of the girls in England.

Mingie received a letter from Bob Lane a Marine Sergeant, well known to all the brothers of our lodge. He writes: "I enjoy reading the column in the Star. Met some of the brothers in the South Pacific. Boy did we have a reunion. It was something that I'll never forget, as long as I live. My regards to all the brothers."

Thanks Bob, we enjoyed reading your letter down at the club house.

We also received a letter from Albert Derro who is also stationed at Camp Gordon, Georgia with Jumbo Marrone and Sam Corbi. Al writes: "My wife and I had our Easter dinner with Jumbo Marrone and some other friends. All we did was talk about the town and the old club hall. Do you still have your exciting meetings? Gee how I would like to be sitting back and listening to the brothers discussing lodge affairs. This mess can't get over too soon for us. Best of everything to everyone."

Last Sunday Deadhorse was up to Leonard Field playing ball with the boys. He kept Hokie in the good graces of the boys by giving him a hand in umpiring the game. According to reports that I heard Chesty is still batting for .000. They say he's the worlds greatest Pop fly hitter Maybe Jumbo could use him on his team, huh?

I received a letter from my brother Jerry. In it he sent a poem that one of the boys in his outfit wrote. I think its pretty good, considering the circumstances under which it was written:

What Did You Do Tonight?
By Sgt. A. Whiteside
USA., Paratroops

Brother, what are you doing tonight?
Soft in the night your buddy was weeping,
Weeping for dreams and what were his
And is now all sleeping.
Not dreams of love and enchantment
Heart break and defeats
But of winds that blew in orchards
As well as crooked streets.

Brother, what did you do tonight?
Your neighbor's boy, Bill died in a flare's glow.
He didn't cry, curse or scream
Because he wasn't made so.
And as he died, the old dreams that were dust
Stirred in his heart as old dreams ever must.

Brother what did you do tonight?
Did you read the letter and tell the mob the story
Of the fight that flamed
In a wild and sudden glory
Did you pass the beer and thought he lied.
Then you ask yourself, "What did I do tonight."
Brother, Bill Died.

LINDSAY PRISONER OF WAR

On April 7 H. Victor Lindsay of Somerville received a telegram from the War Department that his brother Tech. Sgt. Borden H. Lindsay, formerly of Winchester, is a prisoner of the German government. The telegram stated that he had been wounded and a letter of explanation would follow. This information has not yet arrived.

Several listeners to radio short wave have contacted Sgt. Lindsay's sister, Mrs. Charles Langille of Somerville, saying they heard him speak to her on April 3. In the broadcast he said he had bailed out of his plane, receiving a concussion of the brain, but was at that time out of the hospital and feeling fine.

A report from the Government received through the International Red Cross at Geneva, Switzerland stated that it usually takes from one to three months for an address to come through from the prison camps and as soon as further information is received by them, Mr. Lindsay would be notified.

Sgt. Lindsay was reported missing in action over Germany on Feb. 24, 1944.

We recall that after the war started, according to newspaper report, the New Deal head man in Washington made the statement that come what may, war or no war, he would never give up his social gains. Nor has he. This office has again made its New Deal contribution to his security for the first quarter of 1944. Our checks went out for $86.13. If we are careful and run things along the lines of the first three months our year's total will only be $344.52. This is purely New Deal social security. It has nothing to do with the war effort, buying bonds or contributing to war activities. It is not all either, for payroll taxes and the rest are yet to come. It pays everyone but ourself an old age allowance and if our folks here strike they can get unemployment payments which we contribute (that's the word). The unemployment end is important, for while we have a man-power shortage, those who do not work must still be paid. The fact that increased taxes make it increasingly difficult to keep the business running is the war effort only. Under the guise of war the remaking of America goes on at a rapid pace. Our head man gives away half the Italian navy with his right hand and calls in the army to throw out the head of Montgomery Ward Company with his left. The courts aid by holding a midnight session. (We wonder if Montgomery Ward could have got the judge out of bed on this legal matter had it asked before Atty. Gen. Biddle?) Practically all of the old NRA ideas are now working—along with a bundle of additions; and the U. S. mail no longer retains the prestige it used to. We note the 2221 members of the Interior Department eligible for armed service which have been deferred and the new scheme of keeping the location of gas centers secret to avoid theft. The secret gas centers may soon have to be revealed however, if Mrs. Roosevelt decides to take another trip. Now that she has taken two trips to tropical isles to cheer up our lonesome troops it is to be expected she will next visit the Aleutians, which are reported to be the lonesomest place on the globe; but it is cold there, and foggy—and there are certainly no grass skirts. The girls are now writing their own tickets for their teas and socials. This does not include a tax—not that the tax is objected to, but the trouble and bother is such that it is easier and much less tiresome to write a ticket than go through the necessary New Deal orders and directions. Even the Secretary of the Treasury, we read, has to secure help to make out his income tax. It is such a complicated mess that he dares not be held responsible for errors. Its intricacies are so great that even Professor Einstein, our greatest mathematician, throws up his hands. The lawyers and accountants reap a harvest and their guesses are no better than the New Deal officials. We have to show an asking letter and have it stamped to send a box of candy to a boy in the service overseas, yet the CIO, we read, is sending thousands of its pamphlets to the troops. The remaking goes on apace. Come hell or high water the New Deal will remake America according to its Soviet-Fascist ideas. The people who are getting theirs applaud and hope it goes on forever. The others take heed of the threats accompanying every order and are torn between their patriotism and their dislike; and pay out their money and effort. Whether America can shake itself free of the New Deal or not we cannot prophecy, but the New Deal continues to make the nation over according to its so-called plan of redistributing the wealth and perpetuation in power. Those who are getting theirs like it. If you are one of the others you will have a chance this year to show it when you go to the polls—which at the present time we understand are to be open as usual.

NO INCINERATOR FOR HIM!

To the Editor of the Star:

I desire to inform some folks through the columns of the Star the names of some prominent men who resided in Winchester and helped develop Winchester into a beautiful residential town. They were gifted with a foresight and sagacity which never failed to see results in their causes. Their opinions were always sought with interest and received with deference and respect. Rarely did they fail to anticipate the fundamental functions of municipal planning.

The most distinguished man who ever lived on Winchester soil erected his mansion here; namely, Edward Everett, president of Harvard, Governor of Massachusetts, United States Senator, minister to Great Britain, candidate for vice president, orator at Gettysburg on the day when Abraham Lincoln delivered his brief but immortal address. Mr. Everett was attracted to Winchester not only by the beauty of the shores of the Mystic Lakes, but by the fact that his brother-in-law, Peter Chardon Brooks, lived just on the other side of the lakes in West Medford and his nephew, Francis A. Durivage, a brilliant writer and linguist, who had been Mr. Everett's private secretary, lived in Winchester. By the way, Mr. Editor, three Governors of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts have resided in Winchester or on Winchester soil; namely, Governor Brooks, Governor Everett and the first World War Governor, the late Samuel W. McCall.

Mr. Everett's son, William Everett, was a member of Congress, he was among the founders of the Unitarian Church in Winchester and once in 1869, was moderator of the town meeting. May 7, 1850, the first town meeting was held in Winchester. Ninety-four years after the first town meeting or in other words on May 15, 1944, we will have a special town meeting to discuss the difference between a dump-rat, a house-rat, a river-rat, smoke nuisance and incinerators. I trust we reach second base. At the meeting held April 18, 1944, we did not reach first base. In fact, there was a lot of smoke but no fire. There was a lot of blarney. I question if any of the speakers, including the writer, ever kissed the blarney stone.

Now that Uncle Sam is utilizing the waste paper do we need an incinerator? Be careful, think it over, folks! From a health point of view is it healthier to inhale a small amount of smoke out in the fresh air or be innoculated by a fishy germ breeding mosquito? Ask "Mingie." He is a rugged individual.

When this dump proposition was called to my attention I believed the gasometer was a fire hazard. I am informed that it is not a fire hazard. Now that Uncle Sam will utilize the paper let us utilize the leaves like they do at Mt. Auburn and Wildwood Cemeteries. They make excellent humus for victory gardens and eliminate 90 per cent of smoke. I am a resident of the business section where the mosquito breeding place exists that the Board of Health is desirous of eliminating. They receive no compensation for the work that they render to the town.

But for heaven's sake do not install an incinerator! There are eye sores a plenty in the business section! And remember, the Board of Health is working for the best interest of all the people. The parks and playgrounds are memorials to their sterling co-operation and integrity. And remember, we struggled along for 94 years without an incinerator, and by the way, we have zoning laws!

Very truly yours,
Patrick H. Craughwell.

THANKS LIBRARY FOR TREAT

To the Editor of the Star:

All fall and winter, each Friday night, rain or snow, the library auditorium provided films of far off places, handcraft, cartoons by Disney, tours, how farms are planned, animal stories, wild life and almost everything you might desire to know more about in an atmosphere of friendly community spirit. I should like to thank the trustees of the library, the general staff and particularly Miss Mead for providing such delightful entertainment.

I am very grateful and I sincerely hope that next year the same program will once again appear. The nice thing about these pictures is the fact that books are selected and placed in the room on subject matter shown so that surprisingly you find yourself suddenly interested in a new hobby or a different trend of reading. I recommend this to all.

Very sincerely yours,
Mrs. Stephen Nathan Hill

WINCHESTER HELPING IN PAPER DRIVE

To the Editor of the Star:

Here's the report of the paper salvage committee for the recent drive.

First of all our thanks are due to the town employees who manned the trucks, the Boys Scouts, Sea Scouts, and other boys who helped in the collections and loading.

And our thanks to those good citizens who did the right kind of a job in tying up magazines, newspapers and scrap so that the bundles were compact and strong enough to stand loading in the cars.

We got 12 tons of magazines and 53 tons of newspapers and mixed waste, a total of 130,700 pounds, which was loaded into four cars.

As the collection started each day, I rode around town to see how the waste looked on the curb. You could almost pick out the areas where block leaders had done a really instructive job of explaining how paper should be tied and packed.

There was a lot of good packing. And then there was too much that showed a lack of "know-how" or just plain carelessness.

But I think another drive may be better for I don't think a citizen will put out poorly tied bundles again for his neighbors to see where the neighbors all have well packed, strongly tied ones on the curb.

A Boy Scout told me that on one street a little lady was waiting for them and she said to the Scouts, "I have some papers ready but I am not strong enough to carry them out. Come and I'll show you where they are." And the Scout said to me, "Gosh! they were beautiful bundles, all the same size and tied strong and tight."

I'd like to have the Scouts and my neighbors have an opinion of me like the one those Scouts have of the "little lady."

From a quantity standpoint the collection was good but we need more citizens who will emulate the little lady.

Then the carloads leaving Winchester will really help solve the man power shortage at the mills, for they will save hours in unloading time.

Yours very truly,
John L. Munro

BELMONT 4—WINCHESTER 1

Winchester blew up in the 3rd inning Wednesday afternoon at Belmont and made five errors to give Belmont High four big unearned runs and a Middlesex League victory over the locals, 4-1.

Neither team actually earned a run though Belmont's first in the second has to be scored as earned. Eagan doubled, but was held up as Tibaudo threw out Buckley. Morrow lined one to left on which Eagan had to wait half way to see if the drive would be caught.

When it fell safely he started for third, but could have gotten no further had Saraco not, for some unaccountable reason thrown to second base, giving the runner his chance to tally.

Saraco walked to start the 5th, stole second and third and scored on Amico's one shot to left. In the 8th Amico tripled with one out and then did not tag up on Saymer's long fly to right, being forced to run back to third to avoid being doubled.

Amico pitched good enough ball to win though he still makes his two and nothing ball away too good. The local boys beat themselves at bat, continually going after bad balls in their over-anxiety to hit Doxil's soft looking stuff. The summary:

CAPT. VOSSELLER DECORATED

Mrs. Kay Vosseller, who makes her home at 22 New Meadows road with her sons, Jimmy, 16, and Jacky, 14, has been notified that her husband, Capt. Aurelius B. Vosseller, USN, was on March 21 awarded the Legion of Merit for exceptionally meritorious service in connection with the anti-submarine campaign.

Capt. Vosseller is an Annapolis graduate in the class of 1924, receiving his Master's degree from California Institute of Technology in 1934. Previous to his anti-submarine warfare duty he commanded Patrol Squadron 74, first squadron to base in Iceland. Following is the citation which accompanied the Legion of Merit award:

"The Comamnder-in-Chief of the United States Atlantic Fleet, in the name of the President of the United States, awards the Legion of Merit to Capt. Aurelius B. Vosseller, USN, for exceptionally meritorious service in the performance of his duties as commander of the Anti-Submarine Development Detachment from early April 1943 until late March, 1944. The able efficient manner in which Capt. Vosseller has discharged his duties and his ingenuity, initiative, sound judgment, industry and untiring devotion to duty are considered to have been a major factor in the continuing success against the German submarine campaign.

The qualities displayed and the results achieved by Capt. Vosseller during this highly important and critical period in our history reflect great credit upon the Naval service.

BREAK ON CAMBRIDGE STREET

The residence of Mr. John T. Baumgardner at 81 Cambridge street was broken into sometime between 6 o'clock Tuesday morning and 9 o'clock Wednesday morning. Members of the family were away and the break was discovered by a neighbor who became suspicious of an open window in the home and by the postman.

The Police were notified and Sgt. Thomas F. Cassidy commenced an investigation with Officer John Murray, who does the finger-printing for the local department. The State Police were also called in to assist in the case.

The officers found that access had been gained by breaking the glass over a window-lock, after the thief or thieves had failed to get in through a glass door opening into an alcove.

There were evidences that parts of the house had been ransacked, but it was impossible to determine at once what was missing. The Police found the shades drawn and two lights burning in the kitchen.

Lt. James R. Towner, USAAF, son of Mr. Clifford Towner of Everell road, has been transferred from the Douglas Army Air Field in Arizona to Greensboro, N. C., for an overseas assignment as co-pilot of a B-25.

The Golden Text, "Awake thou that sleepest, and arise from the dead, and Christ shall give thee light, is from Ephesians 5: 14. Other Bible citations will include: Rest in the Lord, and wait patiently for him: fret not thyself because of him who prospereth in his way, because of the man who bringeth wicked devices to pass. The Lord knoweth the days of the upright: and their inheritance shall be for ever" (Psalms 37:7, 18).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy, Christian Science reveals harmony as proportionately increasing as the line of creation rises, towards spiritual man, towards enlarged understanding and intelligence; but in the line of the corporeal senses, the less a mortal knows of sin, disease, and mortality, the better for him, the less pain and sorrow are his (p. 557).

EPIPHANY WOMEN'S ANNUAL MEETING

A luncheon at 12:30 Tuesday, May 9 will close the year 1943-44 for the women's division of the Church Service League in the parish of the Epiphany. The luncheon will be in charge of Mrs. Prescott Taylor, who has now for several years given this service to the parish. Assisting her will be Mrs. Mrs. N. Lester Troast, Mrs. Roland John Drewson, Mrs. Everett Tisdale, Mrs. Clifford Towner, Mrs. Philip Boone, Mrs. Albert S. Crockett, Thomason, Mrs. Philip Woodward, Mrs. Donald Bates, Mrs. Allen Owen, Mrs. E. Phillips Walker, Mrs. Howard Charles Hart, Mrs. Roland Fletcher and Mrs. Elbridge Wyman of Lowel, most welcome day visitor to her old parish.

Mrs. Warren Shoemaker will preside over the brisk business meeting, reports and election, which will follow the luncheon. This meeting will move briskly in order that many of the guests may go on to the tea which will consummate the year's work of the Tuesday Luncheon Group at 3 o'clock.

The only sewing on May 9 will be finished sewing. It will be on display on tables near the stage. This is to go to missions of the Episcopal Church on this continent. It is not the work of the League in the whole year. This is only an addition to Epiphany's quota which Mrs. Bernard Swiedler, director of mission sewing undertook to have done by Epiphany when a recent appeal came from the diocesan headquarters came for extra sewing. To the work for mission should be added, in order to rate properly the industry of the Tuesday sewing groups, the garments which Epiphany women have made for Red Cross. These figures Mrs. P. Stewart Newton, in charge of Tuesday Red Cross sewing will report.

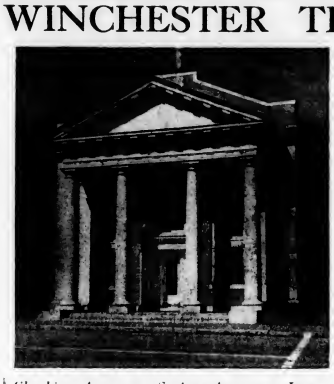

Luncheon guests are invited to come early and look about, and sprout questions. How old is the Epiphany Service League? How much money has the Women's Division earned this year? How? How is it spent? How many past presidents has it? What do its ex-presidents do? You may sit next to some wmen who met the League on its first birthday and knows all the answers in this parish, "Information, please."

The last council meeting of the year will be in the study at 10:30 a. m.

Holy Communion will be in the chapel at 10.

The principle speaker at the evening session will be Dr. Herman Jehle, who as a refugee from Germany will have an interesting point of view to present to the delegates in thinking of plans for the post-war world.

GUILD OF THE INFANT SAVIOUR

The annual bridge held on Thursday May 4 at the Country Club was a grand success. President Mrs. Michael H. Hintlian was general chairman. Due to an inadvertency, the candy committee was not published. They are Mrs. Milton Sinclair, Mrs. Clarence Dunbury and Mrs. John Costello.

Plans for the Communion breakfast to be held on Sunday, May 28, are well under way. This affair has long been a custom with the Guild, so in spite of food restrictions, we are happy to announce that it will be held as usual.

There will be a monthly board meeting on next Friday, May 12, at 1:30 o'clock at Mrs. Hintlian's home on Church street. As this is the last board meeting of the season, every member should endeavor to attend.

Our next regular meeting of the Guild will be on Tuesday, May 16, instead of May 9 due to the Catholic Congress convening May 9 and 10. This will be the annual meeting and members are asked to attend and invite a guest. Members of the executive board will be hostesses. Tea will be served.

Chairman of sewing Mrs. Thomas Higgins wishes to announce that all pieces of sewing that have been taken home by members should be returned at this meeting. As this is the last meeting of the season, we expect a large attendance.

We urgently request that you keep in mind the fact that the Winchester Chapter, Guild of the Infant Saviour will conduct its annual rummage sale May 18 at 620 Main street, next door to Park Radio. If you have any discarded clothing, furniture or other articles for the home, please notify Mrs. Michael Hintlian, Win. 1469, or Mrs. William A. Dolan, Win. 2491-W.

The men of the Fire Department have been busy this week washing the paint inside the station. The men keep their station and equipment spic and span and ready to go.

UNITARIAN YOUTH CONDUCT SERVICE

The entire service on Sunday at 11 a. m. at the Unitarian Church will be conducted by the members of the Metcalf Union, the High School Young People's Group. Two members of the Metcalf Union will occupy the pulpit. Sermonettes will be delivered by Ruth Vivienne Chapman and Robert A. Johnston, Jr.

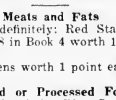

The scripture reading will be read by Richard P. Fenno, Jr.

The responsive reading will be led by Virginia Wallace, the prayer will be given by Jerry Fritch and the benediction pronounced by Mary Joslin.

The ushers are to be Ellen Kenerson, Virginia Terhune, Francis Sleeper, and Arthur Twombly.

The arrangements for this service were made by Mr. Arnold Nichols, director of young peoples' work. The Junior High School Fellowship members as well as the members of the Metcalf Union will attend this service.

The joint meeting last Sunday evening of the Metcalf Union and the Episcopal Youth Fellowship was a most interesting and enjoyable occasion. Mr. Frank Weafer, one of the newer teachers in the Junior High School gave a very able presentation of the beliefs and practices of the Catholic Church. After his talk he very generously answered the many questions the young people had to ask. The Metcalf Union is very grateful to Mr. Weafer for his splendid talk and for the fine way in which he handled the question period.

MORE CLOTHING NEEDED FOR RUSSIA

On a recent visit to Boston Mrs. Andrei Gromyko, wife of the Russian Ambassador expressed personally her thanks to Mrs. Peterim Sorokin of this town for the clothing already sent to Russia by Americans. "If you only knew how they need them" she added. For many months there has been complete curtailment of clothing manufacture for Russian civilians, whose need is desperate, even for summer apparel. Mrs. Sorokin, acting on behalf of the Russian War Relief urges everyone who has unused clothes of any usefulness to leave them at her home on 8 Cliff street in the immediate future.

DELIGHTFUL GARDEN LECTURE

It may have been a cold April night outside, but to the large audience attending Dr. Charles H. Tozier's illustrated lecture, "America in Bloom" at the high school last Friday evening, it was summer, a summer of gorgeous beauty.

In presenting Dr. Tozier, Mrs. James A. Newman, president of the Winchester Better Homes Garden Club under whose auspices the lecture was given, explained its purpose.

The garden clubs of Massachusetts are taking over the responsibility of providing plants and cut flowers for the wards, chapels and other rooms of the 20 camp hospitals in this state. The Winchester Club is to be responsible for the flowers at the Lovell General Hospital in Fort Devens on the second Friday of each month from May to October.

Flowers anyone may wish to contribute to this cause should be left at the Welfare Room in the Town Hall before 10 a. m. that day.

It would take an artist and a poet to do justice to the beauty of Dr. Tozier's pictures and one can touch only the highlights here.

Although entitled, "America in Bloom," Dr. Tozier, with his usual generosity, did not confine himself to flowers, and his delighted audience visited with him the interior of a volcano where the pictures were taken by the light of the fiery molten lava, saw some of the beautiful waterfalls and rock formations of the Yellowstone National Park, and were charmed with the "undersea gardens" where many varieties of coral showed as much beauty in shape and coloring as are found in a flower garden.

They marveled at the ruins of that wonderful Mayan civilization, admired the colorful beauty of macaws, cockatoos, and other tropical birds, traveled with him through one of the most complete cactus gardens in the country, and viewed the grand Sequoias, and several beautiful gardens on the Pacific coast.

Winchester's own lovely gardens and greenhouses were also featured, and the pictures of azaleas, lilacs, and of individual plants and blossoms raised here were especially lovely and greeted with enthusiasm.

The views of some of the exhibits at the Victory Harvest Show were also exceedingly interesting. Lack of time prevented showing all the pictures Dr. Tozier took there.

The climax of this procession of beauty was a group of pictures showing in detail how blossoms unfold. By a special camera arrangement Dr. Tozier took pictures of the same flower specimens at definite intervals over a period of days.

These pictures when thrown on the screen in succession showed the buds opening, reaching full bloom and gradually fading and drooping. Bouquets of roses, orchids, a night-blooming cereus and other flowers were shown in this way and elicited audible expressions of appreciation.

Because of his great interest in the welfare of the boys in the service, Dr. Tozier presented this delightful lecture at no expense to the club and they are very grateful for his great kindness and generosity.

The club is also very appreciative of the much enjoyed piano selections played by Mr. August Pistorino before the program began.

TO ALL SURGICAL DRESSING WORKERS!

The following message is an excerpt from a letter from American Red Cross National Headquarters, Washington, D. C., and is intended for all Surgical Dressing Workers.

"In June 1942, at the request of the Surgeon Generals office the Red Cross agreed to make all dressings needed by the Army over and above those made by commercial manufacturers. This constitutes a large majority of all dressings needed. Red Cross accepted this great responsibility because commercial were and still are unable to procure sufficient machinery and labor to fulfill the vast requirements of the Army.

The total number of dressings shipped to the Army during the calendar year 1943 was just under a billion. The steadfastness and devotion of surgical dressings workers is beyond praise. They are fulfilling one of the greatest of all obligations of the Red Cross to the Army.

This is written for them as a reassurance that their work is necessary and of vital importance."

Signed,
Mrs. Richard M. Bissell,
Director Volunteer Special Services

SCHOOL NEWS

Recently a group of 12 high school boys and girls met with the Committee on Youth Guidance to discuss the desire and need for immediate recreational facilities, especially for the high school group; to outline the nature of such activities; to receive suggestions for locations for such activities; to receive suggestions as to necessary equipment and availability of same; and to receive suggestions as to the best time of day and the best day of the week to hold such activities.

Those representing the high school were Alix Austin, Albert Cordice, Joseph Foley, Stephen Greene, Edward Hicks, Margaret Joyce, Herbert Moore, Anne Richardson, Talbot Smith, Dominic Talone, Sam Tibaudo and Lloyd Wallis.

Sgt. Cotter of the Army Air Corps Recruiting Service spoke to all senior boys on Wednesday regarding the Army program for 17 year old boys.

On Thursday afternoon, May 11, members of the cooking classes of Miss Gladys Niven will give a tea for all teachers who have any of those girls in their classes. This will include teachers of both the Junior and Senior High Schools.

At elections held recently at the high school, James Ware was chosen president of the Student Council. Other officers elected were John Patterson, vice president; Betsy Allen, secretary; and Ted O'Rourke, treasurer.

Officers of the Thrift Association (High School Banking) have been chosen as follows: Charles Walsh, president; Conrad Rosander, vice president; Martha Jackson, secretary; and assistant secretaries, Jean Alley and Virginia Lovejoy.

Among the outstanding numebrs to be played by the high school orchestra at their assembly concert on May 10 will be Scaussiana, Holiday for Strings and March Slave.

The girls of Winchester High School heard an informative talk on Monday morning by Mrs. Dorothy Hayward, R. N. of Boston and cadet nurse Nelson on the many advantages of nursing.

Mr. Graves introduced Mrs. Hayward first. She told the girls of the many reasons why they should take up nursing and she told them of the many excellent schools and hospitals in this vicinity. She stressed the fact that nurses are very much in demand now and will be needed after the war to help in the reconstruction of Europe. She stressed also that certain subjects are compulsory in order to qualify for nursing.

Then Mrs. Hayward introduced Cadet Nurse Nelson who related some of her experiences while she was in training.

Any girls who are interested in becoming nurses are to leave their names with Mr. Graves.

THE LAST TUESDAY LUNCHEON GROUP TEA

Tuesday, May 9, at 3 o'clock the Epiphany Tuesday Luncheon Group will have the last of their monthly teas for the church year 1943-44. The hostess will be Mrs. Maxwell McCreery at her home, 1 Curtis street. Arrangements for the tea will be in charge of Mrs. Herbert Wadsworth, assisted by her committee which has provided for all the teas of the year: Mrs. Albert S. Crockett, Mrs. Richard Frazier, Mrs. Paul Forrester, Mrs. Paul Roberts, Mrs. Frank d'Elseaux, Miss Dorothy Hall, Mrs. Torr W. Harmer, Mrs. Alexander Aitken, Mrs. Charles Wansker and Mrs. Francis G. Chase.

The committee is making this a special tea, to which it is eager that new members of the community be brought and to which the committee may welcome returning members who have been prevented from active participation this year. Brief reports of things achieved in 1943-44 and the election of leaders for 1944-45 will put old and new members in touch with group plans. The committee sees this May tea not as an ending of things, but as a good running jump into next year; a welcome not a goodbye.

TO SPEAK AT ART ASSOCIATION PREVIEW

Currently at Doll and Richards, the water colors of David McCord will come to Winchester May 9, and at the formal opening, held in the library gallery at 8 o'clock in the evening Mr. McCord will personally give the gallery talk for members.

David McCord is a man of versatility. Not content to confine his abilities to one field, he moves about. At one time he was a dramatic critic for the Boston Transcript, for some years now he has been the editor of the Harvard Alumni Bulletin. He is a charming and witty poet, a contributor to the Atlantic Monthly, and a speaker much in demand. Several years ago in reading for the Winchester Art Association he recorded in my mind the following epitaph for a waiter "Bye and bye God caught his eye". Among his publications are: And What's More, Oddly Enough, Stir About, Notes on the Harvard Tercentenary and Bay Window Ballads. Water color with Mr. McCord began as an avocation, and his brush work has received increasing acclaim. To have both Mr. McCord and his paintings the same evening is an attainment.

The hostesses will be Miss Dorothy Nash and Mrs. William D. Barone. Miss Mary Alice Fitch and Mrs. Gerald Curtis will pour.

The exhibition will remain open to the public, week days daily from 10 a. m. to 9 p. m. throughout the month.

BRITISH WAR RELIEF

Summer things for Malta. A big sign at Boston headquarters of British War Relief reminds all those who go out and in that this island in the Mediterranean is one place where linen and cotton and rayon garments can serve and are needed. We have grown so accustomed to thinking of woolen garments only as serviceable in Scotland, England and Wales that we need reminders of civilians in Malta who need cooler clothing. Ships can get through now, thanks to our United Nations navies. But spindles in Scotland and England are still busy spinning for war uses only; garments for children to play in, sleep in, go to school in, cannot come from British factories free from British homes. Our used clothing of summer weight must be a source of their supply.

So the Winchester unit asks that all kinds of thinner good used clothing for children, men, or women which Winchester house cleaning is bringing to sight be brought on Wednesdays to the Epiphany parish hall, or on any day to the parish house, marked for British War Relief. If not a new garment had come into your house for almost five years, and if war had destroyed continually for several of those years, how would you manage to keep a family clean! Women just like us are trying to keep life going cleanly and decently in Malta. What we can spare can now help. And remember shoes.

CUB PACK 3 NEWS

Time is drawing near! The band concert and entertainment given by the members of Cub Pack 3 is about to be witnessed!

For three months now, the members of Cub Pack 3 of the Wyman School district, along with the support of their respective Den Mothers and the Cub Pack Committee, have been working very hard and continuously to put on a band concert and entertainment. The money raised from this production is used to defray the yearly expenses of this pack, which is of great credit to them since they are therefore self-supporting.

Fifty-five boys, all ranging from the ages of from 9 to 11 will take part in this show. The boys are doing their own particular acting and work in this performance, from the printing of the tickets by Den 4, to the composing in verse form of the introduction and announcement of each separate act which was done by Wight Keyes.

This is to be given this Saturday evening, May 6 at the parish hall of the First Congregational Church, whose Men's Club sponsor this Cub Pack 3. It is an ambitious program, particularly since the Cub Pack 3 band is only three months old, and the boys do indeed deserve a great deal of credit for their conscientious and loyal co-operation.

The Cubs of Pack 3 have had a very busy season. Last Saturday, April 29 the members of the Pack Committee took about 40 members of the Pack on a hike. After hiking into the country about four miles, an interesting treasure hunt was conducted and then refreshments were served.

Jack & Heintz Workers Buy Four-Motor Bomber With Bonds

Pictured above is the Liberator four-motor bomber "Spirit of Jahco Associates" purchased with money raised in the form of extra War Bonds bought in addition to regular 15% payroll deduction by the 7500 Associates employed at Jack & Heintz, Inc. of Bedford Ohio. Picture of the bomber has just been released.

Jahco Associates (every worker is called an Associate) set out several months ago to buy a bomber, under a plan of the War Finance Committee of the U. S. Treasury Dept., by purchasing $450,000 worth in 30 days for cash. In 15 days they exceeded the quota, actually purchasing $532,868.75 worth of War Bonds.

Jack & Heintz, Inc. is that manufacturer of essential aircraft units which has been in the headlines a good deal, but this paper ca . reveal some facts that have had little attention. It is possibly the only plant in the country to operate 12-hour shifts and 7-day weeks, thereby conserving skilled labor by avoiding the need for thousands more men.

The hourly pay is the same as is paid for the same skills in other shops in the Cleveland-Detroit area. The greater take-home pay is because the men work longer hours at production. The publicized benefits enable the men to continue efficient production the year around. Strikes and absenteeism are unknown and production is so efficient that when parts must be bought outside they cost up to ten times as much as when produced by Jahco Associates.

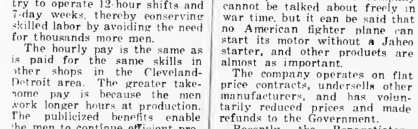

The Associates contribute regularly every month to send boxes to men in the Armed Forces, and their wives have a club which packs and mails them every month. Soldiers all over the world, some complete strangers, have written favorable letters to the company.

Wounded soldiers are not forgotten either. Recently Associates donated $25,000 to buy radios for Crile General Hospital, just completed by the Government for returning wounded soldiers.

The products of the company cannot be talked about freely in war time, but it can be said that no American fighter plane can start its motor without a Jahco starter, and other products are almost as important.

The company operates on flat price contracts, undersells other manufacturers, and has voluntarily reduced prices and made refunds to the Government.

Recently the Renegotiators have called their profits excessive and have ordered the return of a sum which will result in Jack & Heintz, Inc. sustaining a net loss on its 1942 operations.

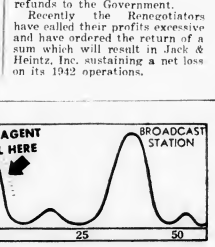

ENEMY RADIOS DETECTED BY NEW LOCATOR

Fluorescent Tuning Reveals Illegal Transmitters

CHICAGO — Details of new electronic weapon for detecting the use of radio transmitters by enemy agents, have been revealed by development engineers of the Hallicrafters Radio Company. The instant a spy attempts to transmit radio messages, a sharp cone-shaped line flashes on the surface of a fluorescent glass screen before the eyes of operators at monitoring stations of the Federal Communications Commission.

The new method, known as fluorescent tuning, enables the FCC monitor to observe simultaneously all radio transmitting efforts across a band of 100 meters.

Panoramic receiver of a type used by the FCC.

All stations—military, commercial marine and radio-telegraph—appear on the fluorescent screen in the form of glowing peaks rising from valleys of radio silence. Other radio location finders enable FCC investigators to determine the geographic location of any illegal transmitter and apprehend the agents who are using it.

Panoramic receivers, which embody fluorescent tuning, are an ingenious adaption of the cathode ray oscillograph.

NABBED! The man in the center, wearing a concealed transmitter, was trapped by FCC detection devices

SIBLEY—FARRAR

At St. Mary's Episcopal Church in Ardmore, Pa. on Saturday afternoon, April 22, Miss Dorothy Morris Farrar, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Wilbur Farrar of Overbrook Hills, Pa., became the bride of Peter Lawrence Sibley, A. T. C., son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hinckley Sibley of Mason street. Rev. Colin W. Lee read the 4 o'clock service and Miss Farrar was given in marriage by her father.

She wore a gown of white faille taffeta with a fingertip length veil caught to a tiara of mother-of-pearl orange blossoms. Her old fashioned round bouquet combined roses and orange blossoms with a center of orchids.

Miss Elizabeth Mahoney of New York City was the bride's only attendant. She wore a pale blue taffeta dress with matching Juliet cap and carried a bouquet of pink carnations tied with blue ribbon.

Staff Sgt. Robert Hinckley Sibley, Jr., USAAF, was best man for his brother and Tech. Sgt. Ben R. Schneider, Jr. AVN., of Winchester, was usher.

Mr. Sibley and his bride will make their home for the present in Brownsville, Texas, where the bridegroom is stationed as flight engineer with the Pan American Airways.

The bride attended school in Minneapolis, Minn., and was graduated from Simmons College in June, 1943. Mr. Sibley graduated from Winchester High School and from Massachusetts Institute of Technology in the class of 1942. He is a member of the Sigma Chi fraternity.

MR. WILSON'S 15TH ANNIVERSARY AT CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

Next Sunday, Mr. J. Albert Wilson will celebrate the 15th anniversary of his service as Organist and Choirmaster at the First Congregational Church.

He has been asked to use three of his own anthems in honor of the occasion: "Like as the Hart Desireth the Water-Brooks", "Great Peace Have They which Love Thy Law," and "Lord How Long Wilt Thou Forget Me" (for men's voices); and the following organ music, "Postlude" and "Andante."

Mr. Wilson has rendered notable service to the First Church in successfully holding together an enthusiastic volunteer choir of 35 members during this decade and a half, an unusual accomplishment in these turbulent times. He has also organized and trained a junior choir of 65 children, from 8 to 14 years of age, which sings once a month at the morning church service, always to the delight of the congregation. The combined choirs have 100 voices.

Mr. Wilson is well known in the vicinity of Greater Boston for his musical compositions and for his ability as a choirmaster.

The Church Committee, which has oversight of the worship service of the church, passed the following resolution on Mr. Wilson's great service to the church:

"The Church Committee of the First Congregational Church in Winchester, Mass., charged with the oversight of the worship services of this church, desire to go on record on the occasion of the 15th anniversary of Mr. J. Albert Wilson's service as organist and choirmaster in appreciation of his faithful and untiring devotion to his task, his conduct of the musical services of this church with dignity and spiritual insight, his training of little children in the worship of God through song, and his notable leadership in playing for congregational singing. We speak for the congregations that have worshipped here during the decade and a half of his service when we express our gratitude of his work."

A reception will be given Mr. Wilson at the close of service Sunday.

INVASION DAY PRAYERS AT UNITARIAN CHURCH

The Unitarian Church stands ready with open door and the ringing of the church bell, to call its members and friends to meditation and prayer on the day when our armed forces invade the fortress of Europe to liberate the people from the oppression of Nazism. In the evening we shall gather for a service of consecration and together extend the force of our united prayers to our loved ones and their comrades who are joining in this hazardous and courageous blow in defense of a decent world.

This is in conjunction with Unitarian Churches throughout the country and in accordance with the request of the Governor of Massachusetts that all faiths unite in prayer that from all the suffering will come victory, peace and a better world.

WINCHESTER AVIATOR HOME

Tech. Sgt. James "Dee" Callahan of Loring avenue is at home for a well earned rest after completing the 25 missions prescribed by the regulations of the United States Army Air Forces. Based in England, he has seen plenty of excitement in raids over Germany, having gotten into action more speedily than most. On his last return trip to England Nazi gunners clipped a wing from the plane in which he was riding so that the expression, "coming in on a wing and a prayer" really means something to Sgt. Callahan. While very glad to get home, the Winchester boy is also eager to get another crack at the Nazis.

HIGH SCHOOL CONCERT POSTPONED

Because of the illness of Mrs. Claudia Renehan Howard, director of Winchester High School glee clubs and choral groups, the annual spring concert has been indenfiitely postponed.

SGT. McGONIGLE REPORTED KILLED IN ACTION

Winchester Boy Was Turret Gunner in Air Forces

Mr. and Mrs. Michael McGonigle of 360 Cross street received a telegram on Sunday afternoon from the War Department, reporting that their son, Staff Sgt. Charles D. McGonigle, USAAF, had been killed in action April 22 in the European theatre of operations. No further details were included.

Sgt. McGonigle was a top-turret gunner on a B-24 Bomber based in England. He had been overseas since last February, going across from Herington, Kansas. He was home on furlough last fall from Salt Lake City, returning there after his leave. Later he trained at Mountain Home, Idaho, and other fields before going overseas.

Sgt. McGonigle was born in Winchester 19 years ago. He attended the Winchester schools and Winchester High School, enlisting in the Army Air Forces in March, 1943. After preliminary training at Miami, Fla., he was sent to Colorado and from there to gunnery school at Loredo, Texas, where he received his gunner's "wings" and graduated as an expert gunner with the sharpshooter's medal.

Besides his parents Sgt. McGonigle leaves two sisters, Miss Susan E. McGonigle and Miss C. Rita McGonigle both of Winchester.

SEND IN YOUR SCHOOL QUESTIONNAIRES

Chairman Rachel T. Kimball of the School Committee announced last week-end that the committee has extended the time during which the questionnaires sent out to parents of Winchester school children can be returned. The date has been set ahead to June 1 so that those who have not as yet sent in their questionnaires can do so. The committee is very eager to have as many of these questionnaires returned as possible, not only for their own information and guidance but because in the event of a probable school survey they will prove very helpful. All are urged to return them at once.

FARRELL WINS COMBAT BADGE

S-Sgt. Arthur G. Farrell, Sargent road, has been awarded the Combat Infantryman Badge for satisfactory conduct in action against the Japanese while serving with the Americal Division on Bougainville.

Sgt. Farrell is a member of a veteran infantry regiment that saw considerable action against the Japanese at Guadalcanal and is seeing plenty more on Bougainville. He is a squad leader and has been overseas for a period of 26 months, being a member of one of the first A. E. F.'s to go overseas.

Before induction, Farrell worked as a salesman. He is a graduate of Winchester High School. He is the son of Mrs. Jennie E. Farrell, 6 Sargent road.

HISTORICAL WINDOW AT FILENE'S

This week Filene's has another historical window display featuring the shoe industry in Winchester, or South Woburn, as it was then called, beginning about 1770.

Among the articles shown are a shoe-maker's bench of this period, an old picture of the shoe shop built in 1837 by Samuel Richardson, and a pair of black satin slippers worn by Deacon Luther Richardson's mother on her wedding day May 15, 1794. There is the usual fine scroll done by a Filene artist, taken from Mr. Henry Chapman's History of Winchester, describing this industry.

This display is made possible through the co-operation of the Winchester Historical Society.

CLIFFORD HAYNOR CUNNINGHAM

Clifford Haynor Cunningham of 3 Manchester road, long identified with the lumber business, died early Monday afternoon at the Baker Memorial Hospital in Boston after a two weeks illness with a heart ailment. He had not been well for three months previous to entering the hospital.

Mr. Cunningham was born April 21, 1886, in Valley Falls, N. Y., son of John Fisher, and Emma (Haynor) Cunningham. After receiving his early education in the Valley Falls schools he went to the West Coast in 1905 to study medicine at Reed College, assisting himself financially by working in a lumber mill. It was while at work in the mill that he met with a serious accident which forced him to give up medicine as a career and sent him into the lumber business as his life work.

He learned the business from the ground up, going into lumber camps in Portland, Oregon, and learning each stage of manufacture in mills and lumber-yards in Oregon, California and Washington State. In 1924 he came east to Poughkeepsie, N. Y., where he joined the Dutton Lumber Company, wholesale lumber dealers, who sent him to Boston three years later to represent the firm.

In 1939 Mr. Cunningham established the firm of Cunningham, Lamb and Prince, wholesale lumber dealers, with headquarters in Charlestown, which firm he headed at the time of his death.

Mr. Cunningham was widely known in Winchester, especially among those interested in music and dramatics. Having a trained baritone voice he sang for many years in the choir of the First Congregational Church, singing also with the then Winchester Choral Society, of which he was the first president, and with the Arl-Med-Win Double Quartet and Winchester Male Quartet. Up to the time of his illness this year he had been singing with the Mystic Glee Club.

In the field of dramatics Mr. Cunningham was a former chairman of the Board of the Parish Players of the First Congregational Church, often appearing in leading roles in their productions. He was also a member of the Group Theater during its existence, appearing in several of its plays. Actively identified with the First Congregational Church, he had served as a member of the Church Music Committee and as a teacher in the Church School. He and his family had lived in Winchester since 1927, making their home on Manchester road for the past 10 years.

On Nov. 30, 1910, in Eugene, Oregon, Mr. Cunningham married Ruth Eddings, who survives, with two sons, Van Cunningham of Reading and Lt. Clifford H. Cunningham, Jr., attached to an armored division of the Field Artillery at Camp Campbell, Ky. There are also surviving three sisters, Mrs. Frank Eaton of Schenectady, N. Y., Mrs. L. E. Durfee of Pittsfield and Mrs. Elsie Brand of San Leandro, Cal., three brothers, John Fisher, and Malcolm Cunningham, both of Schenectady, Paul Cunningham of Oakland, Cal.; and a grandson, Peter Cunningham of Reading.

Funeral services were held on Thursday afternoon at Ripley Memorial Chapel of the First Congregational Church. The pastor, Rev. Howard J. Chidley, was assisted by Rev. John L. Lobingier, a near neighbor of the Cunninghams. Organ selections were played by J. Albert Wilson, church organist and choirmaster. Interment was in Wildwood Cemetery.

MYSTIC GLEE CLUB

The Mystic Glee Club, directed by Harvey R. Davies and with Kenneth Moffatt as accompanist, gave its annual spring concert Tuesday evening at the high school auditorium with the following program:

Marunder, Border Ballad; Shenandoah (sea chantey); Romberg, Stout Hearted Men; Gershwin, Summertime; Moniuzko, The Cossack; Hughes Dr. Foster; Malotte The Lord's Prayer; Foote, Bedouin Song; Davies, I See Your Face; Raye and Jacobs, This Is My Country; three spirituals, I've Been Listening, Steal Away and Old Ark's a-Movern'; Rasbach, Mountains; Bliss, Mosquitoes and Victor Herbert, On Parade.

Guest artists were Marion Cutler Edwards, pianist; and Miriam Hendricks Cahalin, reader. Mrs Edwards played MacDowell, Improvisation; Brahms, Waltz in A Flat; Liadov, The Music Box; and Mendelssohn, Variations on a Theme. Mrs. Cahalin presented four original sketches, In a Kindergarten, An Afternoon at the Club, Grandmother Shops and Four Window Shoppers. A good sized and cordial audience warmly applauded the Glee Club and assisting artists.

Anything like a critical review of the Glee Club's performance would be manifestly unfair. Rather the group deserves the highest praise for being able to give a concert at all in the face of the obstacles which have had to be overcome this season. Replacing the 18 members now in the armed services was but one of the handicaps, others being the loss of the original conductor, "Bill" Cruger, and accompanist, Marian Louise Wood and the utter impossibility, because of business and other duties, for members to attend rehearsals regularly. In view of all this the club gave a creditable concert which evidently pleased its audience. Mr. Moffatt, playing for Mrs. Wood, proved competent and helpful as always.

The glee club sang with that tone it has yet shown, the tendency to spread, so apparent in preceding years, being much less noticeable. The group is still at its best in the softer music like that of the spirituals, which were well done, but it gave a very spirited performance of Victor Herbert's On Parade and also of the popular This Is My Country, repeats being demanded after both, despite the fact that the Herbert number wasn't sung until well after 10:30. There can be no questioning the fact that the Mystic Glee Club's following is both loyal and enthusiastic.

Repeats were also demanded after each of the spirituals and the club's singing of the first of this group, I've Been Listening, was its best of the evening, the first tenor's closing high notes being sung with a fine thin tone that was especially pleasing.

HELEN BARR JOINS RADIO STATION IN WEST

Helen Edlefson Barr of 10 Maple road, whose pleasing soprano voice made her a great favorite with local music lovers a few years ago, has accepted a position as director of women's programs, a staff position, at Station WKY of the Big Red Network in Oklahoma City. She is leaving town Sunday, having leased her home here, and reports for duty at WKY on May 22.

Mrs. Barr has been on the air for 16 years, for the past three years doing women's programs for Station WHDH. Previously she was for 10 years a soloist on the Yankee Network for CBS and also sang from Station WTIJ in Hartford. She has appeared as soloist with Rudy Vallee and with other leading bands.

SGT. SHINNICK AWARDED AIR MEDAL

Tech. Sgt. Jerry Shinnick, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Shinnick of Washington street, has been awarded the air medal with oak leaf cluster for gallantry in action while serving with the United States Army Air Forces in the European Theatre of Operations.

Sgt. Shinnick's brother, Eddie, with whom he ran a vegetable and fruit route before entering the service, is also a technical sergeant with the Air Forces, stationed in Macon, Ga.

SENT GLEE CLUB WIRE

The Mystic Glee Club, just before its concert Tuesday evening, received a telegram from former conductor, "Bill" Cruger, now Pvt. William E. Cruger, USAAF, stationed with 538th Fighter Squadron at Bluethenthal Field, Wilmington, N. C.

"Bill's" message simply said "Am counting on you to deliver the goods," but it was enthusiastically received by the members, especially by those who had sung under Mr. Cruger in past seasons. It was just another indication of the thoughtfulness which has made the club's original conductor so popular with everyone. Needless to state it spurred the singers to extra efforts Tuesday evening.

Among those recently completing the nine weeks pilot transition training course on four-engine Liberator bombers at Maxwell Field, Alabama, is 2nd Lt. Frederic B. Withington, Jr., of 62 Church street.

MISS DRAKE WON ALPHA AWARD AT SMITH

Miss Jean Drake, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Drake of Lagrange street, has won the Alpha Award for Literature at Smith College, announcement having been made recently at the honor awards in the College Chapel.

Miss Drake was graduated last December under the war accelerated schedule, but the award she won is for the entire year.

The Alpha Award is the top literary prize at the college, and is awarded either for prose or poetry, or both. Miss Drake's winning is just another example of the versatility of this graduate of Winchester High School, for her college major was music and not literature.

Miss Drake was a Phi Beta Kappa graduate of Smith and had won a poetry award as a junior. She was concert mistress of the college orchestra and prominent in college extra-curricular activities. She is now teaching music in Maine.

JUNIOR FLORENCE CRITTENTON CIRCLE

On Tuesday, May 9 the annual meeting of the Junior Florence Crittenton Circle was held at the home of Miss Gretchen Stone, 3 Edgehill road. Mrs. Frederick B. Brown, vice president; Mrs. John Page, secretary; and Mrs. Edward Peabody, treasurer.

Following the business meeting, Mrs. Harold F. Meyer, educational chairman of the Florence Crittenton League, gave a most interesting talk on Welcome House, the Florence Crittenton Home for underprivileged girls. She explained the need for a new Welcome Home and told what efforts had been made to obtain one.

At the close of the evening, delicious refreshments were served by Mrs. Paul H. Comins and her tea committee.

COLD STORAGE

Despite rising prices, many allowed by changes and amendments to the OPA price structure, the charges for insured cold storage by Fitzgerald Cleansers remain the same as in the past. This means the charge is based on 2 percent of your valuation, instead of the customary 3 percent, with the usual minimums, charged generally by nearly all Boston firms, furriers as well as department stores. And the storage plant in which Fitzgerald Cleansers places your garments, fur or cloth, is far superior to the best those other firms have to offer. This is due, perhaps, to the fact that the vault was completed just before the war when all the latest equipment was available, protective and refrigerating. Consequently, it so happens that for $1 less for every $100 valuation declared, Fitzgerald Cleansers offer far better protective facilities than the large Boston firms.

Until conditions clarify, most likely not until after the war, dry cleaning will not be done. However, having installed special fur cleaning equipment before the war, it is intended to clean those furs that the customer wishes to have done by the recommended furrier's process.

The plant is open every week-day from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. Customary calls will be made by delivery. The telephone is Win. 2350. ap7-tf

LET'S WIN THE WAR IN '44 — OTHER WAR BOND TODAY

WINCHESTER RUNNERS IN NORTH SHORE RELAYS

Winchester, defending champion in Class B, had four teams in the North Shore Relays at Manning Bowl, Lynn, last Saturday, but couldn't repeat its victory of a year ago, which incidentally would have enabled the locals to retire the Class B Trophy.

Winchester won its actual races in three of the four events, but its times were not good enough and it finished in a tie for fourth place with St. John's of Danvers behind winning Cambridge Latin, Dover, N. H., runner-up; and Melrose. Arlington, Lawrence Central Catholic and Mission of Roxbury were the other Class B teams to score, finishing in that order behind Winchester and St. John's.

Malden High won the Class A competition with a brilliant performance, sweeping all four events with a grand slam of 20 points and upsetting records in each of the four.

The Winchester boys looked generally short of work and their teams lacked the balance of the top-flight competitors. Boys like Frank DiMambro, John Ottiano, Frank McGlynn and Kevin Burke looked good enough to hold their own with the best, but you have to have balance in relay running and better condition than the locals showed last Saturday when boys are called upon to run in several events.

Winchester's sprint team of John Ottiano, Eugene Clennon, Charles Lovejoy and Frank DiMambro won its heat from Melrose and Arlington in 50 seconds, each boy running 110 yards. Dover, N. H., did 48 1-5 seconds to beat out the locals.

In the 220 yard event DiMambro, Ottiano, "Tikky" Read and Frank McGlynn did 1 min. 41 1-5s to beat Swampscott and Saugus. This time placed the locals third behind Dover and Cambridge Latin each doing 1 min. 40 1-5s for a new record.

In the mile event, with each boy running a quarter mile, Kevin Burke Read, Kenneth Harvey and McGlynn carried Winchester's colors to the most spectacular victory of the afternoon, but their 3 min. 59s wasn't good enough to land them in the places, Cambridge Latin doing 3 min. 46 1-5s for first place with Arlington, St. John's and Melrose trailing.

Winchester's chances in the medley event went "blooey" at the end of the first leg when a near spill and baton trouble left the locals far in the ruck. Burke, running the three-quarter mile anchor leg, cut down a good 50 yards on Locke of Melrose and Buckler of St. John's but he was too far back to have it help much. The local boys did 7 min. 21 2-5s, very slow by comparison with Melrose's winning time of 7 min. 9s.

The finest bit of individual running in the meet was Frank McGlynn's anchor leg in the mile relay event. Burke's 57 2-5s quarter got Winchester away to a fair lead, but this advantage was quickly wiped out in the two middle relays and McGlynn started about 100 yards behind Anderson of Gloucester. Setting a blistering pace the copper-thatched Winchester boy tore after Anderson, cutting down the distance between them with every stride.

Every one looked for McGlynn to crack under the swift pace, but he lengthened out beautifully to creep up on his pounding rival. Catching him at the beginning of the last turn, McGlynn strode neck and neck with Anderson for perhaps 25 yards. Then he was ahead and well ahead to finish with a surging stretch drive into the tape that gave him a 15 yard advantage at the finish.

No one held a watch on McGlynn as every one figured him hopelessly beaten and likely just to run through. It is our guess he ran well under 53s and turned in the fastest quarter of the afternoon in either class. He just had to win that one.

Paul F. Fitzpatrick son of Mr. and Mrs. P. F. Fitzpatrick of 19 Sargent road, is now enrolled as an aviation cadet in the pre-flight school at Maxwell Field, Alahama, an installation of the Army Air Forces Training Command. Cadet Fitzpatrick was graduated from Winchester High School, class of 1942 and attended Boston University, 1942.

STONEHAM BEAT WINCHESTER IN 11 INNINGS

Winchester dropped to the edge of the mathematical class in its chances for a Middlesex League baseball championship when the locals dropped an 11 inning decision to Stoneham on Manchester Field last Friday afternoon, 8-5. It was a game Winchester looked to have well in hand with a 4-2 lead going into the 8th inning and Guy Washburn pitching effectively up to that time.

Stoneham took full advantage of its ability to bunt and of Winchester's weakness in handling this very effective form of attack when it is well done.

Despite Coach Knowlton's shouted exhortation to watch a bunt Moreira in the first dropped one between pitcher and third, which should have been an easy out, but which Washburn went after slowly, fumbled and finally threw over O'Rourke's head, putting the runner on second. Donaghey struck out, but Moreira reached third when Osgood failed to cover or Nihan to throw on an attempted steal. This too was poor baseball for the Stoneham catcher would have been out a mile had the local boys played ball. As it was Testa "squeezed" him in with a pretty bunt which Washburn played safely to first. Tibaudo made a nice running-back catch on Dill's looper in deep short.

Winchester got one in the second when with one out Roger Curtis, at second for the "Charlie-horsed" Walsh drove a double to right. He went to third as Nihan got a life when Truesdale failed to touch first on a throw from Rolli. Washburn walked and Saraco "squeezed" in Curtis with a bunt which Coffin handled. Osgood was out, Dill to Truesdale.

Tibaudo hit off Rolli's shins to start the 3rd and Amico dropped a one-shot in left. Swymer's well-hit bingle over Thomas head in right scored both runners but bounced straight up so that it went only for a double. O'Rourke rolled out to Truesdale, Curtis fanned and Nihan popped to Dill.

With one away in the 7th Tibaudo tripled to left and scored on Moreira's error. Amico was safe on Truesdale's error and stole second and third, but was out at the plate on Swymer's rap to Coffin. O'Rourke struck out.

Stoneham tied it in the 8th on hits by Thomas, Donaghey and Dill. In the 11th Coffin hit to center and Rolli got a life on O'Rourke's error. Both advanced on Wright's bunt to Washburn and Coffin came in on Lynch's hunt which was played home too late. Trueman hit a fly to short left field which Saraco dropped off his shoetops after a hard run, Rolli and Lynch scoring. Truman went down on the throw-in and reached third on Osgood's error, scoring on Moreira's bunt. The latter went all the way to third when Winchester threw the ball around, but was finally out trying to tally, O'Rourke to Nihan. Washburn threw out Donaghey.

Curtis grounded out to Donaghey to start Winchester's 11th. Haggerty batting for Nihan laced a single to right and advanced as Washburn hit safely to left. Seeing the third baseman off his bag, Jimmy stole third, on a close play which wasn't too smart with one away and Winchester needing four to tie.

Saraco walked to fill the bases, Haggerty scored as Coffin threw out Osgood. Tibaudo hit two vicious drives that just missed being fair along the third base line and might have gone for the circuit. He finally fouled out to Rolli. The summary:

WINCHESTER BOAT CLUB

Carl Moore, Radio Star to Feature Gala Evening

The club's first party of 1944 will be held at the club house on Friday evening, May 26, at 7.45. The club's very able and energetic entertainment committee were lucky enough to secure the services of Carl Moore, Boston's brightest radio star as the feature attraction of the evening. Those of you who have witnessed Carl's antics at the club at past parties, will recall him as that mirthful M. C. who jams a thousand laughs into a hundred minutes.

Mr. Moore, in addition to his amusing song and piano playing routine, will present one of his hilarious quiz programs, with club members young and old trying to provide the answers. The winners will receive prizes and the prizes will be well worth the winning.

Other features of the evening include a door prize to the holder of the lucky ticket and free refreshments after the show.

Club Chatter

The club's Steward announces that the dining room officially opens this week-end with a luscious, tender roast of beef as the main attraction. . . . FORMER WINCHESTER BOY HOME FROM NEW BRITAIN

Lt. Robert Johnson, USA, a former Winchester boy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Johnson of Medford, formerly of this town, arrived home last Saturday night from the west coast after an exciting campaign in New Britain, during which he served with Uncle Sam's famous war dogs. He was one of four soldiers, now home on furlough, to take the first of these war dogs into combat. Like the others, he is high in his praise of the animals' bravery, obedience and intelligence.

"We got to love those dogs," Lt. Johnson said. "They lived with us. They shared our rations. Lots of times, out in the steaming jungle, I've seen a thirsty soldier divide the last bit of water in his canteen with his dog."

Lt. Johnson is 25 and a native of Malden. He attended Winchester High School, Browne and Nichols and the Oxford School in Cambridge, graduating in March, 1942. He entered the Army the following month, training at Fort Robinson, Neb., and the University of Maryland before going overseas.

In December, 1942, he married the former Frances Glidden, a Winchester girl, whose mother, now deceased, was Esther Somes, daughter of Mr. David A. Somes of Glen road.

SONS OF ITALY LODGE NEWS

I was down to the club to see if there was any mail. There wasn't even a card, so I told Muskie I wasn't going to write this week. On my way home I figured I might just as well write something. It might not make sense but it will fill space. (I hope T. P. Wilson of the Star lets me get away with this).

First, everybody is Victory garden conscious. Wherever there is a piece of good soil someone is working it. Some have even dug up their front lawns, and between you and I a flourishing Victory garden is a pretty sight whether it is on some remote plot or a front lawn.

Anita Tucci of the Ladies' Lodge has been promoted to Yeoman 2-c. She is stationed in Washington, D. C. where her sister Y 2-c Mary Tucci is also stationed.

Pfc. Angelo Tranfaglia wrote that he found the names of some Winchester boys at the Red Cross Post near his camp in England. He also wrote that he is looking forward to getting in touch with them.

The members of the club are looking forward to the convention of the Order Sons of Italy this year. Many are taking an interest in it and that is good, because this year we have a resolution to be acted upon by the convention and we need all the rooters that we can get to help us get it accepted.

This would be a good spot to tell a joke to take up space. As I haven't a good one I'll just pass it by. I have been told my jokes are either corny or they lay an egg.

Well, I guess I won't ramble on anymore. I wish you who are in the service would write. I'm sorry I have to harp on this subject. As you can see its tough to write to you boys when there's nothing to write about. If we don't get any mail it's either no column or one like this.

So, come on fellas and gals write. This column depends on your letters. Do you want it to continue? It's up to you.

WINCHESTER BLANKED WAKEFIELD

Big Sam Tompkins gave Wakefield two hits Monday afternoon and Winchester High played its best ball of the season to turn back the visitors, 9-0, on Manchester Field.

No hit was scored against Tompkins until the 6th, and that hit by Wakefield's 8th batter. Pridmore, was the only solid one scored off his right hand hard ball. L. DeMarco hit in the 9th but his was a "blooper" of the scratch variety. Bartnick's grounder to Curtis which "Rog" trapped in front of third in the 5th could have been scored either way, but a good throw probably would have gotten the runner and with "Tommy" going the way he was it was natural enough to rack the play up as an error.

Walsh walked to start Winchester's third and rode in as Sam Tibaudo lofted a hard one into the river in left for a home run. Amico singled sharply to left, stole second and third and scored on Swymer's grounder to Armstrong which was played home too late.

Walsh started the 5th with another walk and moved along on a balk. Tibaudo fanned but Amico was safe when Armstrong lost Pelletier's throw on his grounder, Walsh scoring. Amico stole second and third, was caught off third and finally scored when too many Wakefield boys got into the hot box. Swymer scratched a hit to second, stole second and third and held up while O'Rourke drew a pass. Coon laced a hit to left scoring Swymer, but O'Rourke got his feet mixed up and fell between second and third, being nipped trying to get back on a sharp throw from Colleullo. Coon got himself caught off first and was run down, being out when he ran out of the baseline trying to avoid the Wakefield boy with the ball.

Two more came over in the 6th. Saraco was safe on L. DeMarco's error and Walsh walked again.. Both scored on Tibaudo's well-tagged triple to left. In the 8th Nihan hit past short and advanced as Tompkins walked. Tibaudo brought him in with a double.

Tibaudo had quite a day for himself at bat, getting a single, double, triple and home run in five times up while batting in six runs. Fielding gems were made by the rival first basemen. O'Rourke made a nice catch of Pelletier's liner near the bag to tag up and double P. DeMarco. Armstrong made a great running one hand catch of Saraco's foul fly at the bench end of the bleachers in the 4th. The summary:

Not such a long time ago, when the Great New Deal was being born and before it had really got into its stride in remaking America, securing the courts and purging anyone the people might elect who held opposite views of its dictatorship, the word "they" had a distinct and different meaning than it has today. In that period "they" were driving beach wagons; "they" favored the return of liquor; "they" determined the best hotels and the best restaurants. No better example of the New Deal turnover can be found today in this one word. "They" no longer has its old meaning any more than a thousand other horse and huggy terms long so familiar in American life and ways. Today "they" is our Government. "They" have reduced some food rations; "they" have taken over Wards; "they" had to buck John L. Lewis; "they" will furnish relief and security; "they" are the Union's friend. Undoubtedly the transition of this one word constitutes one of the New Deal's greatest steps in its transformation of a rule by the people to a rule of the people. It is something "they" may be proud of. It should be recorded.

According to the news, Cape Cod is in for the biggest boom this summer in the last three years. More summer people are already making their homes there and more rentals have been made. All of which is welcome news. More than one family can give greater aid to the war effort in enjoying a little relaxation and getting out of doors. To our mind all these unnecessary restrictions crowded in and imposed upon us to "help the war conscious" do more harm than good. A [illegible] and an occasional remore and situation nder. We we would like to [illegible] an see no prospect of using it. We could reach it by train and taxi in the course of a day, but then what? We never had a phone and now a phone is impossible, so a taxi, even at three or five dollars a trip is out. Therefore where would we get our food? We visited our camp for two week-ends last year, and while we did not starve, the food situation presented a problem. To leave the family there for a week or longer seems impossible. There must be many other summer residents at the Cape who are faced with a similar condition. It would appear that either the present boom is confined wholly to the immediate villages or else there is something concerning gasoline that we do not know about.

The School Committee is very eager to get back a substantial number of the questionnaires sent out to parents having children in the Winchester schools. While a number have already been returned that number is by no means as large as it should be, and nothing like as large as it must be if any very definite conclusions are to be drawn. The Committee naturally wants to know how parents generally feel about the local schools, but they also want something specific, if that feeling is one of dissatisfaction. Those who have not been entirely pleased with our schools have succeeded in bringing their feelings to the attention of both the School Committee and the town as a whole. It is now up to them to offer specific, or as specific as possible, causes for their dissatisfaction. The School Committee wants to know what is wrong. If most of the replies to the questionnaires sent out show that parents are generally satisfied, the Committee may well wonder what all the shooting is about. If a majority of those to whom questionnaires were sent, do not take the trouble to fill them out and return them, the Committee may be pardoned if its members believe that after all the feeling of dissatisfaction with the town's schools is not after all a very deep one.

THE 1944 CAMPAIGN IS ON!

In 1932, the New Deal Planners said that "we needed a plan", "we grew like Topsy."

In 1936, this column suggested that if the entire resources of America were spent, all citizens would have to then look to the state for their livelihood, some form of centralized socialized state thus automatically and peacefully resulting; but it would still be called a Democracy.

We are at war and we will win, regardless of the cost; but billions are still being spent on social reforms, money that should be utilized for war purposes. Even Democratic Senators and Congressmen have stated the amount that could be saved for war purposes to be as high as five billions a year! Why?

The New Deal will win in November, 1944, unless citizens understand what has been and still is going on. If America does realize that winning the peace is as important as winning the war, it will want a return to sound, constitutional, predictable government, not "Administrative Absolutism" by men; but government by exact laws, as enacted by the people's own elected representatives. If America is changing back to "Free Enterprise", it will insist on a President who will represent that degree of change.

This campaign, in political history, will be called "The Draft Convention", Roosevelt, Willkie, and Dewey, etc., all being "Draftees." (The office now chases the man, the most ridiculous foolishness in American history.)

There is no compromise, no middle course. America is "playing for keeps!" Either the citizens want a socialized, centralized state or they want to return to our Democratic ideologies (our Republic). The Republican Party is the only medium of opposition. The Democrats have been made "refugees" by the New Deal Planners (Democracy's Hostages)! This campaign is not political. It is entirely economic.

FAVORS CROSS STREET DUMP

To the Editor of the Star:

On next Thursday evening the inhabitants of the Town of Winchester will be called upon to determine the site or location of a new town dump.

I for one believe the site suggested by the Board of Health is an excellent one. Why? Because at the present time it is a mosquito breeding place, the home of snakes, snapping mud turtles and water rats.

It can be developed into a beauty spot to harmonize with the beautiful park of Cross street, the rock garden and handsome bridges that arch the Aberjona River, the magnificent Leonard Beach, tennis courts and baseball diamond. The mosquito breeding menace is adjacent to the park and beach in my opinion we should endeavor to brighten that corner.

I desire to suggest to folks who are interested in this contemplated location that they visit it and carefully scrutinize the surroundings prior to the town meeting to be held next Thursday evening.

Very truly yours.
Patrick H. Craughwell

LET'S PRESERVE THE DISTINCTION FOR IT IS A DISTINCTION!

"The Germans made these men, women, and little children dig trenches. The Germans stood them up facing the trenches, their backs to the machine guns. Then, the brave German officers giving the order, the brave German soldiers mowed them down, so that they fell forward into the trenches . . . Then on the dead and on the half-dead alike the butchers shoveled back a little earth. And drove their tanks over the shallow graves."

From "The Serbs Choose War," by Ruth Mitchell.

"Two young Winchester boys, who were seen chasing the ducks at the Mill Pond last Friday afternoon, were picked up by the police and taken to headquarters, where they were warned not to repeat their offence."

FROM ENGLAND

63 Hartswood Road,
Stratford Brook, London W-12
England, April 18, 1944

To the Editor of the Star:

My friend Pfc. Nick P. Amato is a Winchester boy and has told me, how through "The Star" he has met many boys from home. He says the paper is a wonderful thing with his family and friends in America.

I thought you might be interested enough to publish this article for us, so that "Nick's" friends in Boston, Bethel, Me., and many other parts of America, will have news of him. I should be grateful for a copy.

Sincerely
Miss Eisie Swan

It was on a bright Sunday afternoon that I first saw Pfc. Nick Amato. I had been to Richmond Park and arrived home late to tea. Can you, I wonder, imagine my surprise to find Nick, with his three friends, waiting to see me. It was then I met him, after writing to him for three long years.

Our friendship began when he was at Gould Academy in Bethel, Me. I had been writing to Herbie Norton, and it was through her we came to know each other. I had plenty to tell him, for we are a country at war and at that time we stood alone in Europe, but with,of course, the full support of the Empire. America was always of great interest to me for I read a lot and have a vivid imagination. From Gould, Nick went to New Hampshire University and so into the Army Air Corps. Letters passed across the Atlantic during all these months, then as I told you, he was here in England, actually at my home. Even now, it seems a miracle, that he came 3000 miles and that we should meet so soon after his arrival.

Of course, we have become good friends, but the foundation of our friendship was laid, when my interest was aroused by a chance letter of his written in 1941.

I want the people of not only Winchester, but America to know that their boys have found a warm place in the hearts of the British people that will remain long after their return home. Yes, they will be missed, but not forgotten . . .

TOWN MEETING SURVEY

Attendance Records

At the request of a number of Winchester citizens, the Winchester League of Women Voters has made a careful study of the attendance records of Town Meeting members. The purpose of this service to the community is to put the statistics before the townspeople so that they will have a picture of the percentage of representation they are having at town meetings.

For this purpose the records have been reviewed for five years, back through 1940. The members have been grouped by precincts and members at large. This will review 13 meetings for those members serving during the entire period. Many of course, have served less. Many different average attendance figures have been arrived at but for the purposes of simplification they have been grouped in brackets of ten percent.

If the average attendance appears low it must be remembered in all fairness that some members are in the armed forces and that illness and other inescapable causes keep some away who make every effort to attend.

Precinct 1
11 members 100 percent attendance
3 members 90-100 per cent
5 members 80-90 per cent
6 members 70-80 percent
4 members 60-70 percent
1 member 50-60 percent
1 member 30-40 percent

"SOCIAL DEVELOPMENTS"

The Society Editor is advised by the Curator through Walter Winchell of certain social developments at the Mill Pond Zoo.

The 1944 season opened with Abbie and Jonah in command of the fleet aided and abetted by a convoy of six white and one white Muscovy gentlemen ducks, and a little lady white Muscovy duck who seemed to play by herself in dignified maidenly seclusion.

For some reason or other the six ganders teamed up on the Muscovy gentleman and made the placid waters of the Mill Pond much too hot for him, so much so that he climbed, crawled or flew over the netting at the bridge and he was retrieved by the Park Department well upstream behind the Fire House.

He was placed back in the pond and the next morning was observed down below the dam minus a few neck feathers.

"What goes on here," says Tom McGowan. Yes, what indeed, and also why and alack-a-day!

Through the courtesy of the superintendent of the Metropolitan Zoo our friend of "three feathers" was replaced by a fine gander specimen of the black Muscovy variety with claws with which to defend himself.

On getting accustomed to his new surroundings and looking the "situation" over, he extends his guardianship to Miss White Muscovy and she no longer plays alone.

All's quiet along the Aberjona but the six white ganders sure do need companions or no eggs will be stolen this year from the little house on the bank.

DUCK OWNER TAKES A BOW

The rare white Muscovy duck which many have noted on the waters of the Mill Pond with the other members of the Aberjona Flotilla came to the town through Mrs. J. R. Cove of Fernway. Two weeks ago the curator of the fowl inserted an item in the Star asking the donor to "take a bow" and Mrs. Cove came to the Star Office on Tuesday to clear up the mystery.

The duck was sent to her through friends in Florida, arriving in Winchester last fall. In contradiction to a previous statement in our columns her family had no thought of eating it, but did give it to the Zoo in Melrose because the Zoo seemed a better place for the duck to be than the Cove household.

Everyone is happy to have the duck on the Mill Pond except the other ducks of more common strain and the swans, all of which refuse to have anything to do with "Musky."

Cpl. Joseph Palumbo, of the U. S. Army Paratroopers, son of Mrs. Mario Palumbo of 118 Swanton street, was reported yesterday as one of three troopers seriously injured in the crash of an Army transport plane near Pope Field, N. C. The pilot, Flight Officer J. C. Ziegler, 22, was killed.

Cpl. Palumbo is well known to local football fans, having captained the high school eleven of 1940, on which he played both guard and end. He later played regularly on the freshman eleven at Northeastern. He was home on furlough with his brother, Jerry only two weeks ago.

Sammy Provinzano, former shortstop on the Millionaires and Elks' baseball teams, is currently playing short for the Dick Casey Club of the Boston Park League, last season's champion.

The Casey Club opened Monday night at Dorchester and Sammy looked very good both in the field and at bat. Last summer he played pro ball with Roanoke, Va., and Batavia, N. Y., Red Sox farm teams, an injured shoulder sending him home before the close of the season.

TRUCK HIT POLE AT SYMMES CORNER

In avoiding an accident with an automobile yesterday morning shortly after 10 o'clock a Brockway dump truck, owned by John A. Akeson of Stoneham and driven by Robert F. Granger of 16 Montvale avenue, that town, while headed south on Main street approaching the Symmes Corner traffic circle struck an Edison pole near the driveway at the home of Mr. Charles H. Symmes.

According to the Police the accident was caused when a Dodge sedan being driven north on Main street by Elvira Viscione of 169 Orient avenue, East Boston, after entering the safety islands, turned to the left of the circle and into the path of south bound traffic.

The right front of the truck was damaged and Granger complained of injuries to his chest and hand. Miss Viscione was driving on a license issued April 7.

As we have borne the image of the earthly, we shall also bear the image of the heavenly. This passage from the Bible, I Corinthians 15:49, comprises the Golden Text to be used in the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in the Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, and in all of its branches, on Sunday, May 14.

The subject of the Lesson-Sermon will be Mortals and Immortals, and included in the Scriptural selections is Now this I say, brethren, that flesh and blood cannot inherit the kingdom of God; neither doth corruption inherit incorruption. (I Cor. 15:50).

The following passage from the Christian Science textbook, Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy, will also be included in the Lesson-Sermon: Good demands of man every hour, in which to work out the problem of being. Consecration to good does not lessen man's dependence on God, but heightens it. Neither does consecration diminish man's obligations to God, but shows the paramount necessity of meeting them. Christian Science takes naught from the perfection of God, but it ascribes to Him the entire glory. By putting off the old man with his deeds, mortals put on immortality (p. 261).

SHORTAGE OF GRADE 1 TIRES

From the numerous applications for Grade 1 tires coming into this office, it seems clear that the public does not understand the situation. The Winchester Board has an allotment of 93 Grade 1 tires for the whole month of May. Those having a C ration, preferred mileage, which is given only to those most essential under the war effort, must be preferred.

The number of applictions from C ration holders for tires are so numerous that it is doubtful that any tires will be left to take care of the Grade B applicants.

The Board is able to give certificates for Grade 3 tires to holders of B and A rations. We cannot hold out any hope to holders of B rations of getting Grade 1 tires at this time.

EPIPHANY SERVICE LEAGUE ENDS YEAR

The women's division of the Church Service League in the Parish of the Epiphany ended the official year 1943-44 with a very happy luncheon party Tuesday. It had been beautifully planned by Mrs. Prescott Taylor and her committee and by Mrs. J. Warren Shoemaker, who was presiding for the last time.

A happy sense of the past lighted the occasion. All past leaders of the League throughout its 23 years were present. At the head table were three of them: Mrs. A. Miles Holbrook, the first elected chairman; Mrs. Dunbar Carpenter, who has served the League as treasurer ever since it began except for her terms as its chairman; and Mrs. Merton Grush, who has served two different terms as leader.

At each of the other tables sat one of the other six past chairmen, Mrs. Robert Davis, Mrs. Edward F. Boyd, Mrs. George Fiteh, Mrs. Gerald Hills, Mrs. Henry Sawyer and Mrs. Marcus May.

Mrs. A. B. Corthell read a tribute to Mrs. Dunbar Carpenter, who this year has insisted on retiring from office. Then to her surprise the spotlight of appreciation focussed on her It eame in the reading of gay verses which Mrs. William Sache had written for the annual meeting of 1921. That was before there was a real Epiphany League, when each democratic all-including organization was still just a vision in the minds of Bishop William Lawrence and Eva Downing Corey.

Concluding verses summed up that first period this way:

"We know that if we'd keep our place
In the Diocese at all
We must do our share in the Church Service League
This spring and not next fall!"

"But you and I agree to this:
Though we're ready for work or fun
Without a leader who really leads
Good work could never be done.

"Who is this unselfish woman.
I'm sure everyone can tell:
We'll answer together, we all of us know:
Of course, it's Mrs. Corthell."

Like a snowball this spontaneous appreciation had been gathering and from some anonymous fellow-parishioner there had come an armful of spring flowers accompanied by an apt and beautiful sonnet, which was read. The League then stood in happy applause for this leader of past, present and future, Mrs. Corthell

Among those present who remembered pre-League days was Mrs. Eugene MacDonald, who spoke spontaneously of being welcomed into a busy parish group led by Mrs. Sylvester Taylor 32 years ago.

Committee reports reviewed briefly the work of the year. Mrs. John Lynch's widespread hospitality committee has welcomed 40 newcomers into parish life. The church school has its largest enrollment. Through a mothers' advisory committee the League has better ways of co-operating with the Young People's Fellowship. Parish women have done more sewing for missions and Red Cross. Into this hopeful amosphere the League elected its new officers for 1944-45:

1st Vice President, Mrs. Harold H. Blanchard
2nd Vice President, Mrs. E. Phillips Walker
Secretary, Mrs. Herbert W. Kelley
Treasurer, Mrs. Francis E. Booth
Librarian, Mrs. R. E. L. Meehan

Many officers continue in their posts.

Retiring officers were Mrs. J. Warren Shoemaker, Mrs. Guy Livingstone, Mrs. Dunbar Carpenter and Mrs. Henry Sawyer.

THE WOMEN'S ALLIANCE

On Tuesday, May 2 the Women's Alliance of the Unitarian Church gathered at 1 o'clock in Metcalf Hall for the annual spring luncheon.

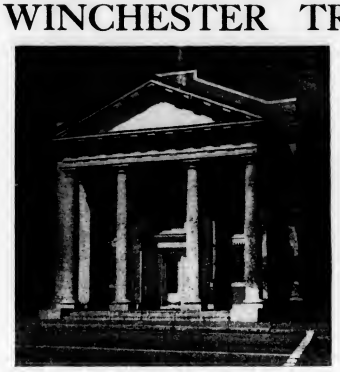

The tables were festive with forsythia and the tempting spring menu brought forth many complimentary remarks. The auction sale of useful and ornamental articles donated by members of the society occasioned much rivalry and merriment and netted a goodly sum for the treasury.

Mr. W. Allan Wilde generously gave his services as auctioneer and kept the ball rolling and the bids mounting. This brought to a close a busy, enjoyable and profitable year.

AIR SCOUTS WIN BLUE RIBBON

In the annual Medford Scout Exposition the "Sherm" Dodge Squadron won a blue ribbon for work and appearance of their booth. The chief carpenter, Jerry Smith, was commended for his craftsmanship and Squadron Pilot, David Whorf, for his excellent planning.

Mr. Otis Leary attended last week's meeting, and gave an interesting talk on the making of parts for flying forts. A number of pieces were exhibited. Among them were: a 13/1000 of an inch drill, parts for bombs and depth charges and other various minute articles.

Air Scouts working in the recent paper drive were the following: Bill Cunningham, Jack Albree, David Whorf, Douglas Converse, Arthur Tutein and Tom Kirwin. Most of those who signed up for one shift only, found it interesting and prosperous enough to go out again. Some workers three or four shifts

To march in the Memorial Day parade, nine Air Scouts in uniform are needed and the Squadron has only seven. How about some more member, in uniform.

NEW ENGLAND TELEPHONE & TELEGRAPH COMPANY

An encore was of course demanded after the singing of the humorous Mosquitoes, but Carl Wood "crossed" the audience badly when he failed to "crown" Duncan Newell at the second ending, after the vicious slap of the first performance.

Especially interesting was the club's singing of I See Your Face, composed by the director, Mr. Davies and destined to be dedicated to the club. The men's singing of this "tricky" number was very creditable and the concert's most difficult assignment.

Mr. Davies asked quite a lot of the club in shading and tempi and there were times when the performance was uneven and entrances and releases a bit on the ragged side. The men sang for the first time with music, a concession necessitated by the poor attendance at rehearsals, and this fact very probably was responsible for some of the trouble. It certainly dimmed the spontaneity the club has displayed in previous seasons.

Apropos of the ill fortune which has dogged the club this year was President Wood's announcement that Claudia Renehan Howard, soprano, would be unable to sing because of illness. Mrs. Edwards who was to have been Mrs. Howard's accompanist went on in her place, bridging the gap acceptably with a finished performance of some widely divergent scores.

Mrs. Cahalin proved a favorite with the audience if one could judge from the spontaneous chuckles and hearty laughs evoked by her clever lines and miming. Of her selections In a Kindergarten and Grandmother Shops seemed the most popular, though she projected the various personalities of her final sketch in especially deft fashion. If it is true, as reported, that Mrs. Cahalin came from a sick bed to the platform and was running a high temperature during her performance, she proved herself an excellent trouper as well as a capable reader.

The concert opened with the singing of the National Anthem by all present. Proceeds went to the scholarship fund of the Junior High School Associates.

Following are the club officers and personnel:

President, Carl W. Wood
Vice President, Leo W. Twombly
Secretary, Francis O. Merchant

WINCHESTER ART ASSOCIATION HEARD DAVID McCORD

The Winchester Art Association had the pleasure of hearing David McCord poet, artist and editor, at the final gathering of the season on Tuesday, May 9.

The meeting was opened by Mr. G. Russell Mann who announced the committee chairmen for the ensuing year and then introduced the speaker. Although Mr. McCord stated that he had never previously spoken on the subject of art, his talk gave no indication of this fact as it was not only witty and interesting but also instructive. He pointed out that art is a talent that can be developd much later in life than either music or poetry, for whereas musical tendencies are usually observed in childhood and manifestations of poetry are seen in the early teens, oftentimes an artist does not even acquire any marked interest, in his craft until in his late teens or early twenties.

Mr. McCord does not believe that a great deal of instruction is always necessary, he himself having had only a few weeks of formal study. There is a marked danger, he believes, of the pupil copying the teacher and therefore not developing his own original style.

The second part of the talk was devoted to an explanation of where, why and how each of his pictures in the gallery was painted. To close the talk, Mr. McCord read a few of his poems including, The Sketcher, which was written before he himself became interested in painting, Convalescent, Parambulator Poems and a few Indian poems.

Punch and cookies were served after the meeting at the refreshment table which displayed a very colorful spring bouquet of yellow snapdagon, forsythia and jonquils arranged by Miss Edith Caverly.

Hostesses were Miss Dorothy Nash and Mrs. William D. Barone while Miss Mary Alice Fitch and Mrs. Donald Curtis poured.

Capt. William D. Barone, M. C., is now Flight Surgeon with the 363rd Fighter Group, 29th Tactical Air Command of the 9th Air Force in England.

HOME FOR AGED PEOPLE

Observes 50th Anniversary

The Corporation of the Home for Aged People and their guests, to the number of about 70, celebrated the 50th anniversary of the Home last Friday evening.

The meeting was held in the spacious dining room of the Home. The president, Mr. Robert M. Stone presided and introduced a noteworthy list of speakers: Mr. Lewis Parkhurst, Miss Minnie Belle Joy, Miss Helen Hall, Mr. Harry C. Sanborn, Mrs. Geo. H. Hamilton, Mr. Francis E. Smith.

It is hardly necessary to state that the reminiscences of these speakers were most interesting and entertaining and thoroughly enjoyed.

Mr. Parkhurst was a member of the Founding Corporation of 1894 and his interest in the Home, as indeed in all worthwhile undertakings in Winchester, has been constant and inspiring.

Miss Joy held office as vice president in 1895 and was secretary in 1899-1900. Her brother Mr. Fred Joy was president of the Home in 1902.

Miss Hall is the daughter of Mr. Alfred S. Hall, the first president of the Home 1894-1900, 1905-1909 and she herself was present at the exercises held on the opening of the Home.

Mr. Sanborn was vice president and secretary in 1901-1903, 1907-1909 and his mother Mrs. Ella H. Sanborn was the first treasurer of the Home in 1894-1898.

Mrs. Hamilton and her husband came all the way from their present home in Wilton, N. H. She was an active worker for the Home for many years and from the day its doors were opened.

Mr. Smith has been the efficient secretary of the Home since 1927. His all too brief resume of the high lights of the Home's history for these 50 years was most interesting and appreciated and emphasized the well known fact that the Home all these years has indeed been the active concern of a wonderful list of our citizenship.

Following the exercises the ladies of the En Ka Society, under the leadership of their president, Mrs. Rachel T. Kimball, served refreshments and a most enjoyable social time was had by all.

McCORD WATER COLORS

The Winchester Art Association is sponsoring during May an exhibition of water colors by David McCord in the Library Art Gallery.

Mr. McCord paints boldly though he is capable of great delicacy in his work as witness the study at the library showing grey mist rising from a girt-in- sheet of water partially to obscure evergreen-clothed hills under a sky lightened with a cast of orange.

Still another delicately done painting is that of slender evergreens rising from a narrow peninsula jutting into water shading from green to silver with an indistinct gray background of highlands and a light gray sky.

Painted with masculine boldness is a logging scene with its log-filled water stretching toward a dark background of evergreens. There is also great strength in the two studies of palisade-like highlands, touched with blue and fringed at the top with straggly evergreens under cloudy blue skies. Still another striking study is that of a rounded rocky eminence topped with trees, black etched against a purpling late-afternoon sky.

Full of warmth and color contrast is the painting of tall tree-trunks, dark against a sun-lit forest background of greens and browns. Another interesting study is that of a lake surrounded by green hills with the sun "drawing water" from behind clouds shading from light to dark gray with patches of blue between.

Among the smaller studies is one of an unusual sunset treatment, and another of a heavy thunder shower broadly painted to convey the necessary vagueness. The exhibition will remain at the gallery through May and is open to the public.

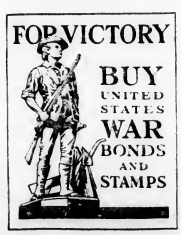

ELKS HELD LADIES NIGHT

Winchester Lodge, 1445, B. P. O. E. held another of its popular ladies' nights last Saturday evening in Lyceum Hall with an attendance of 200 Elks and their guests.

A catered supper was served, followed by an entertainment program put on by the pupils of the Arline Cummings School of Dancing. Among those who danced were Sandra Lee Logan, Ruth Desmond, Russell Lovering, Eleanor Hodges, Patricia DiMartino, Sister Foley, Doreen Costello, Eleanor Carline, Dolly Castine and Marguerite Perro.

Following the entertainment dancing was enjoyed until midnight with Fred Strachan and his popular Elks Band furnishing the music.

Exalted Ruler Michael Grant exercised a general supervision over arrangements for the affair. Charles W. Meek was chairman of the committee, the other members of which were Edward A. McKenzie, Joseph Peel, Henry McCormack, Harry A. McGrath and Fred McCafferty of Stoneham.

The First Congregational Church in co-operation with the Home Hospitality Committee has been assisting in placing servicemen in Winchester homes. Mrs. Rex T. Crandall was chairman.

STATE GUARD NEWS

Based upon an examination held recently the following men of the 16th Company, 23rd Infantry have been promoted:

Cpl. James F. Dwinell, Jr., to be Sergeant; Pfc. 1st class, Robert N. Sheppard to be Corporal.

The members of this Winchester State Guard Company are anxiously waiting the receipt of the new U. S. Army rifles cal. 30 M-1917 which are to replace the shot guns carried by them this past year. The rifles are expected to reach Winchester in time to be carried in the Memorial Day Parade.

This Company is one of seven in the 23rd Infantry who received special letters of congratulations from the War Department praising it for its very fine showing in the recently held Federal Inspection.

On Sunday, May 21, the officers of this Company will join all other officers of the 23rd Infantry in a one day school to be held at the Wakefield Rifle Range.

Before the summer is over the green uniforms now worn by the State Guard will be called in and regulation Army O. D. uniforms will be issued.

There is always room in Winchester's own State Guard Company for any man who is interested in military training. Drills are held every Wednesday evening in the Town Hall and opportunities are good for promotion.

Mexico will be the subject and Sr. Jose Gonzoles-Reyna of the Harvard University School of Design, a native of Torreon, Mexico, will be the speaker, at the Winchester Spanish Club meeting, Monday, 7:30 p. m., at the library, according to William H. The club is meeting every other Monday night during the summer to carry forward the excellent work of the two Spanish classes held at the Library during the winter and Winchester residents who have had some Spanish, however, little, and desire to increase their knowledge not only of the language but also of the history and literature of our neighbors to the South, should call Mrs. Kathryn G. Before each number was played, Mr. Brown gave the audience a word picture of the situation, biographical sketch, or other interesting items about music or composer.

MR. WILSON FETED

Congregational Organist Completed 15 Years Service Sunday

At the morning service last Sunday May 14, Mr. J. Albert Wilson completed 15 years as organist and choirmaster of the First Congregational Church. In recognition of this notable event the music at the service was all written by Mr. Wilson, a gifted composer as well as an accomplished organist and musical director.

The vested Chancel Choir of 33 voices sang three Wilson anthems, "Like as the Hart Desireth the Water-Brooks," "Great Peace Have They Which Love Thy Law" and "Lord How Long Wilt Thou Forget Me." The last, written for male voices, was sung by the 12 choir men and was of especial interest. The beautiful melody of the "Great Peace Have They" was nicely brought out by the choristers who gave an especially finished performance.

Besides the vocal music Mr. Wilson played his "Andante" as a Prelude and his "Pastorale" at the Offertory, also using his own Response. It was of great interest that the Postlude was played by Mr. Wilson's 18 year old daughter, Helen, who took over the console as her father went to the transept of the church with the pastor, Dr. Howard J. Chidley, to receive his many friends. Miss Wilson's selection was the Allegro from Mendelssohn's Second Sonata.

There was a large attendance at the service and many came forward personally to congratulate Mr. Wilson upon his anniversary and his musicianship. Among them were many from Stoneham and Woburn, where he has directed church music and a number of old friends dating back to the 19 years he was organist and choirmaster at the Church of the Epiphany.

Surprise Reception in Evening

Sunday evening Mr. Wilson was tendered a surprise reception at "Grey Rocks," the home of Dr. and Mrs. Chidley on Fernway, by the Church Committee, the Church Music Committee and the Senior Choir. About 60 persons enjoyed the informal affair.

William Harris, chairman of the Music Committee, acted as master of ceremonies and called upon W. Irving Plitt who read the resolutions adopted by the Church Committee upon Mr. Wilson's anniversary.

Others called upon to speak were those members of the choir who had sung during the entire 15 years of Mr. Wilson's service at the First Congregational Church. These included Bertha Blanchard, Idabelle Winship, Josephine Taylor, Ruth Nelson, Nina Richardson, William Hodge, Milne Blanchard, Parker Clarke, Mr. and Mrs. Willis Doe and Mr. Harris. Mr. Doe's connection with Mr. Wilson covers some 30 years going back to the old days at the Epiphany.

Dr. and Mrs. Chidley also paid tribute to Mr. Wilson, the Doctor reading an especially witty poem, while Mrs. Chidley, pointing out a painting hanging above the piano, reminded everyone that Mr. Wilson is a gifted artist as well as a musician.

Mr. Harris presented Mr. Wilson with the Music Committee's gift, a credit at the Boston Music Company. The Junior Choir's gift, a fine leather wallet, was presented by the Junior Choir Mother, Priscilla Morse.

The Senior Choir's gift, a fine pipe, combination pipe and tobacco case and jar of tobacco, was presented by Mrs. Carolyn Gilpatric who also read one of her clever and very appropriate poems.

Duets were sung by Idabelle Winship and Josephine Taylor with Frances Randall at the piano, and an amusing vocal skit was put on by the inimitable "Doc" Blanchard with Mr. Plitt at the piano.

An anniversary cake with 15 candles was cut by Mr. Wilson, who also responded with remarks of appreciation, during which he praised the loyalty of his co-workers in the choir.

After refreshments had been enjoyed, the entire group gathered around the piano and sang hymns with Mr. Wilson playing, the final hymn, "Now the Day Is Over" being embellished with some excellent piano counterpoint.

Lt. and Mrs. Frederick Farrell of Hempstead, L. I., spent last week-end in Winchester with Lt. Farrell's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Farrell of Sargent road.

CPL. JOSEPH PALUMBO

Winchester Chutist Died of Injuries After Plane Crash

Cpl. Joseph Palumbo, U. S. Paratrooper, son of Mrs. Maria Palumbo of 118 Swanton street, died Monday, May 15, in the hospital at Fort Bragg, N. C., of injuries sustained the previous Thursday when the Army transport plane in which he was a passenger crashed near Pope Field, N. C.

According to reports received following the accident Cpl. Palumbo was one of a group of Paratroopers going up in the plane for a practice jump. At 150 feet the plane developed engine trouble and crashed striking a tree. The pilot, Flight Officer J. C. Ziegler, 22, was killed and three troopers seriously injured. Cpl. Palumbo was one of these. He was taken from the plane alive but died four days later.

Cpl. Palumbo was born in Winchester Feb. 22, 1923 son of Maria (Nicolosi) and the late Giuseppi Palumbo. He graduated from Winchester High School in the class of 1941, winning a Mothers' Association Scholarship and serving as business manager of the Aberjona, the class yearbook. A football player of the steady, dependable type, he captained the 1940 eleven at high school and though light for a college player, made the regular freshman team at Northeastern University. He was a boy well liked by his class and team-mates and held in esteem by his teachers and older friends.

Before entering the service Cpl. Palumbo was employed by the General Electric Company. He entered the service in April, 1943, and soon after his indoctrination chose the Paratroops. He trained at Fort Bragg, N. C., and was last attached to Battery A, 456th Parachute Field Artillery Battalion at Camp Mackall, N. C.

His body was brought North from Fort Bragg, arriving Tuesday night. Cpl. Robert Hyden attached to Cpl. Palumbo's battery, accompanied the body and remained in Winchester until after the funeral this morning. Flags on the common and town buildings were displayed at half-staff in honor of the young paratrooper.

Cpl. Palumbo leaves his mother, a brother, Pvt. Jerry Palumbo, stationed at Fort Jackson, S. C., and a sister, Miss Catherine F. Palumbo of this town. Miss Palumbo went to Fort Bragg after news of her brother's injuries had been received and returned with the body.

Military honors were accorded at the funeral which was held this morning from the late residence with solemn requiem high mass at St. Mary's Church. Interment was in Calvary Cemetery.

They were "Pete" Coss, former Winchester High all around athlete, son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter J. Coss of Salem street; big Joe Thompson, son of Mr. and Mrs. William J. SCHOOL SURVEY AND DUMP SITE VOTED

At a well attended special town meeting in the town hall last evening the sum of $10,000 was voted to be transferred from the Excess and Deficiency Fund for the use of the School Committee to be used for the purpose of conducting a "comprehensive and disinterested" survey of the town's school system.

Mrs. Kimball, chairman of the School Committee, and Committeemen Borden and Garvey spoke for the survey and the amount appropriated as did Mrs. Woodward and Mr. Ellis. Mr. Redding voiced the Finance Committee's opposition to spending $10,000 for the survey and moved to amend the original motion by substituting $7000 for the School Committee's figure, but his amendment was lost, 94 to 56, and the original motion carried by a voice vote.

Mr. Downs reported for the Winter Pond Committee, which was continued for further study of this problem. The sum of $1000 was transferred from the Excess and Deficiency Fund to be expended under the direction of the Water and Sewer Board to make available for the pond certain drainage water and brook water which is not now reaching it.

The meeting voted to permit the Selectmen to spend $150 of the unexpended balance of the sum appropriated for the care of the Skilling Property to purchase fuel and light for the building on that property now being used as a headquarters by Aberjona Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Under Article 5 it was voted to continue the town dump committee for the purpose of further investigating this matter and reporting at a subsequent town meeting.

It was voted to purchase for the disposal of ashes and other refuse the old Puffer Property at the rear of the International Cooperage plant off Swanton street bounded by the railroad and the Aberjona River. For this purpose the sum of $6500 was transferred from the Excess and Deficiency Fund.

Mr. Hewis opposed this site and stated that if it was voted there would be a referendum. The Finance Committee recommended favorable action. Mrs. Wood-side moved to amend the original motion by striking out the words for use as a dump, but her amendment was lost, 129-8, the motion to purchase the property for a dump being passed unanimously.

It was then voted to place the land under the jurisdiction of the Board of Health, the sum of $2500 being transferred from the Excess and Deficiency Fund to be used to put the land in condition to be used as a dump.

The subject matter of Article 6 dealing with the possible purchase of an incinerator was referred to the town dump committee for further consideration and report in time to have their findings included in the next town report.

Preceding the meeting Cpl. Frank Magnella, former Winchester foot ball star, now in the Marines, with a score to record at Guadalcanal and other Southwest Pacific battle areas, spoke upon the necessity for increasing Winchester's contributions to the blood donor bank in Boston. The meeting was dissolved about 9.45 upon the usual motion by Mr. Rowe. One hundred and sixty-one of 223 members were present.

PROMINENT CITIZEN DEAD

He was the author of "History of the Wingate Family," "Play-goers' Year Book-1888," "Can Such Things Be?" "A Captain of Youth" and "Life and Letters of Paine Wingate," co-editor of "Famous American Actors of Today, 1896" and assistant editor of "One Hundred Novels, 1919."

Mr. Wingate, for many years publisher's representative of the Boston Post, was born in Exeter, N. H., Feb. 14, 1861. His older brother, James, was one of the boys immortalized by Judge Henry Augustus ("Pluny") Shute, author of the "Real Diary of a Real Boy," published in 1901 and still one of the all-time favorite stories of boys. Though younger, Mr. Wingate was a close friend of Judge Shute and often visited at his home in Exeter.

A descendant of Paine Wingate, Senator from New Hampshire in the First Continental Congress, he was deeply interested in American history and in the achievements of members of his family. John Wingate was the first of the name to settle in America, arriving at Hilton's Point, now Dover, in 1658.

The noted Post editor was the son of S. Dana and Oriana (Mitchell) Wingate, and was graduated from Exeter Academy and from Harvard. He was a founder of the first college daily paper in the country, the Harvard Crimson. He took his A. B. degree with the class of 1883.

He was married to Mabel Nickerson of Boston on Sept. 9, 1885. He is survived by Mrs. Wingate and by three daughters, Mabel, Josephine (Mrs. Herluf A. Knudsen) of Oakland, Cal.; and Oriana; and by three grandsons, Robert, Dana and John Knudsen. A son, Dana Joseph Paine Wingate, famed Exeter and Harvard athlete, died in 1919 after a brief illness.

Mr. Wingate made gifts to the two schools—athletic trophies—to commemorate his son.

Mr. Wingate started his newspaper career in Exeter, N. H., as a member of the staff of the Exeter Gazette. His interest in journalism continued at Harvard and, after graduating, he obtained a job as cub reporter for the Boston Journal.

Within a year, he was made drama editor, music editor, art editor, librarian and private secretary to the editor and publisher. He held these positions concurrently.

The following year he was made managing editor, probably the youngest person ever to hold such an important post. He was made general manager of the Journal in 1898, a position which he held until 1913 when he transferred across the street to the Boston Post, where he became Sunday editor.

The late Morris Gest was once Mr. Wingate's office boy when he was editor of the Boston Journal. Geraldine Farrar and Anna Nielson, opera stars, were his lifelong friends. So, too, was Josef Hoffman, famed pianist.

Funeral services were held yesterday afternoon at the Kelley and Hawes funeral chapel and were strictly private. Rev. George Hale Reed officiated. Interment was at Wildwood Cemetery.

There is to be a memorial service Wednesday morning, May 24, at 9 o'clock at King's Chapel in Boston for Dr. Sidney B. Snow, widely known Unitarian minister and former resident of this town. Many Winchester friends will undoubtedly attend.

WINCHESTER LEAGUE OF WOMEN VOTERS

Presiding at her third annual meeting of the Winchester League of Women Voters, Mrs. Malcolm Nichols received the well deserved and loyal appreciation of her services in leading the league through these last three important and extremely busy years.

This was held on Friday, May 12, and, as has been the custom over a period of years, at the home of Mrs. Ralph Sparks on Cabot street.

Following the usual executive and various department committee reports, a timely survey on the attendance record of Town Meeting Members at Town Meetings covering 13 meetings beginning 1940, was given by Mrs. Rodney W. Loud, a detailed copy of which was published in last week's issue of the Star.

Mrs. Nichols then summed up briefly the recent National Convention of the League of Women Voters held in Chicago, to which she was one of 500 delegates and alternates covering 35 states making up the national membership.

The speaker of the afternoon, Mrs. E. W. Bisbee, president of the Consol League, spoke on the Junior Canteen, a youth recreation center shortly located in that town. It was of course particularly interesting to the Winchester has looked into this problem for the purpose of fostering good citizenship.

Following the report of the Nominating Committee, that was enjoyed with Mrs. Rowland Patrick in charge of all arrangements. The slate for 1944-45 is as follows:

President, Mrs. Phillip Woodward
1st Vice Pres., Mrs. Theo. Browne
2nd Vice Pres., Mrs. Wm. Spaulding

COLD STORAGE

Despite rising prices, many allowed by changes and amendments to the OPA price structure, the charges for insured cold storage by Fitzgerald Cleansers remain the same as in the past. This means the charge is based on 2 percent of your valuation, instead of the customary 3 percent, with the usual minimums, charged generally by nearly all Boston firms, furriers as well as department stores. And the storage plant in which Fitzgerald Cleansers places your garments, fur or cloth, is far superior to the best those other firms have to offer. This is due, perhaps, to the fact that the vault was completed just before the war when all the latest equipment was available, protective and refrigerating. Consequently, it so happens that for $1 less for every $100 valuation declared, Fitzgerald Cleansers offer far better protective facilities than the large Boston firms.

Until conditions clarify, most likely not until after the war, dry cleansing will not be done. However, having installed special fur cleaning equipment before the war, it is intended to clean those furs that the customer wishes to have done by the recommended furrier's process.

The plant is open every week-day from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. Customary calls will be made by delivery. The telephone is Win. 2350. ap7-tf

SEASCOUT SHIP HELD DANCE

S. S. S. Tarquin, Winchester's Seascout Ship, held its spring dancing party last Saturday evening in Metcalf Hall of the Unitarian Church, which was decorated for the occasion in nautical fashion with signal flags.

Attendance was limited to members of the ship and their dates, there being about 25 couples present. Excellent music was furnished by recordings played over an amplifying system.

Louis E. Goddu, skipper of the ship, exercised general supervision over the party. Winchester High School's Faculty Director of Athletics, Henry T. Knowlton, and Mrs. Knowlton, and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Huckins of West Medford were patrons and patronesses.

WEST AT R. P. I.

Bill West, son of Mr. and Mrs. John D. West of Wedgemere avenue, is now at Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute in Troy, N. Y., as a Naval aviation cadet, having enlisted in this branch of the service 15 months ago.

Big "Monk", who made football history as captain of Winchester High's unbeaten State championship team of 1942, spent last year at Dartmouth, making a good Dartmouth team as a freshman and starring in several of the big Green's games. Since then he has been at Floyd Bennett air field in Brooklyn, N. Y., which was so crowded that Bill's group couldn't even be accommodated there and was put in the Coast Guard for three weeks of strenuous boot training. While in the C. G., Bill played on the basketball team that beat the undefeated team at Bennett.

From Coast Guard duty Bill and his group were sent to various outlying fields in the South, 35 of the boys getting to Little Rock, Ark., which according to "Monk" is a good place to spend five weeks. Incidently he picked up a tan there that caused even his skipper to comment favorably.

Classes at R. P. I. started Monday and last from 12 to 20 weeks, after which Bill will go on to pre-flight. He writes that he is going to miss football this fall unless he happens to get to pre-flight before the season is over. He weighs 195, but expects to shed 10 pounds of this at Troy. He sends his best to Coach Knowlton and Trainer Lou Goddu and any of the old football crowd who happen to be reading the Star.

Walter Gleason, Jr., is home on furlough from Camp Pickett, Virginia, and his wife with Mr. and Mrs. Robert Johnston are spending a week at North Conway, N. H.

WOBURN 3—WINCHESTER 2

Woburn High gave Sam Tompkins his first defeat of the season Monday afternoon as the Tanners edged Winchester at Woburn, 3-2.

Tompkins held Woburn to four hits, two coming in the 9th when the only earned run of the game came over. Winchester had a run on third twice, but each time an attempt to "squeeze" went sour when the batter failed to touch Abreau's pitch.

"The Butter" pitched himself quite a ball game, getting 13 on strikes and allowing six hits, for the most part well scattered. Winchester had plenty of men on bases, but couldn't hit behind the runners, or threw their scoring chances away by foolish baserunning.

After five scoreless frames Woburn scored in the 6th. Coon's error gave Paine a life and after Gilgun had lined out to Tompkins and Giffune had fanned, Stokes doubled to center to bring the runner all the way in.

Winchester tied it in the 7th. Swymer was safe on Geanaris' error but was out when hit by Ted O'Rourke's smash toward center field while trying to jump over the ball on the baseline.

O'Rourke's hit would surely have gone for extra bases for Mooney was away out of position, having run in toward second to back up on a steal. Swymer, had he not been hit, might well have gotten all the way around.

As it was he was out and O'Rourke held to first, a nice break for the Tanners since Nihan followed with a one-shot to center that would have brought in Ted. The latter did score on a fielder's choice on Coon's rap, followed by Lang's error. Nihan reached third on the play, Coon going to second.

With one away Coach Knowlton put on the "squeeze", but Tompkins, the batter, failed to touch Abreau's pitch at all and Nihan was an easy out at the plate. Coon got around to third, but Tompkins fanned, giving the locals a single run in a potential three-run or more frame.

Winchester was ahead for a minute in the 9th. Swymer was safe on Lang's error and reached second safely when Lang and Gilgun played O'Rourke's tap too late to that bag. "Zeke" misunderstood the umpire's decision and thought he was out. O'Rourke, seeing a chance to advance, started for second, and when Swymer, after leaving second, returned to the sack, Ted was caught between first and second. He went out of the baseline trying to get back and was out, leaving Swymer at second.

"Zeke" went to third on Nihan's fielder's choice, a ball played too late to get either runner. Coon's hit over second brought in Swymer with Nihan on third. Once again the "squeeze" was put on, and once again "Tommy" failed to connect at the plate, Nihan being run down, Stokes to Berardi to Stokes. Tompkins finally fanned to end the inning.

Tibaudo's error put Berardi on to start Woburn's 9th and Abreau's tremendous triple over Saraco's head brought in the runner. Mooney's hit to center brought in the winning run with still no one out.

McLAUGHLIN COVERED DOUBLE

About the only notable event at last week end's regular meeting of the Palmer Beach Horseshoe Association at the Wedge Pond courts was the covering of a double-header by "Wild Willie" McLaughlin, the Pride of Stowe and Champion of all Nahnasett. The trick was turned while Willie and Howard "Foul Line" Wittet were engaged in debate with Larry Cooper and Royal "Paper Trade" Teele, who is still the Association's top ranking officer.

Mr. Teele flung the double-header that Mr. McLaughlin covered and although Royal is a sporting character of the first water, his cheers following the McLaughlin feat were feeble by comparison, it is to say, with those of the Secretary and Roland "Thin Finger" Pridham, who were watching the match, and with the hearty whoops of Mr. Wittet, Willie's collaborationist. Mr Cooper, like Mr. Teele, was a bit on the restrained side in his recognition of the McLaughlin coup d'etat, and you can't blame him too much, for the Teele double would have helped his side materially, and at the time a bit of a boost was what Royal and Larry seemed to need most.

They finally lost the match, two games to one, but the fact that they defeated McLaughlin and Wittet, 27-9 in the second game was all that mattered to the losers. Mr. Teele assured Mr. McLaughlin that it would be long before he would be permitted to forget that one, and the bet was one the Pride of Stowe did not care to take.

The pitching on the whole was spotty. There was some good pitching, but there was rather more that was on the sorry side. Mr. Teele, after a hefty bout with spring cleaning the day previous, is going away short of his usual form. He and Mr. Pridham lost two matches to the Secretary and Mr. McLaughlin, each being two out of three, and each being finally decided in the last box.

Arthur E. Butters, sometimes called the State of Maine Champ, was for the third consecutive week-end A. W. O. L. Mr. Teele gave it as his opinion, that Mr. Butters has given up horseshoes for golf, having found the winning considerably easier on the grass-grown links. Herbert "Garrulous" Gardner was also among the missing, but it was subsequently learned that his excuse for not appearing is absolutely water-tight, and no punitive measures are envisioned in his case.

The appearance of Mr. Wittet at the courts was noisily acclaimed, it having been some time since the demon foul-liner was last at the beach. In response to Mr. Teele's solicitous enquiries he vouchsafed the information that the blueberry bushes are in flourishing condition.

READING EDGED WINCHESTER

A big five run 5th inning enabled Reading High to come from behind and beat Winchester in a Middlesex League baseball game on Manchester Field last Friday afternoon.

The locals kicked the game away, having a three run lead at the end of the 7th with Guy Washburn going well enough to hold the visitors in check. Winchester's three runs were nothing to rave about, the first coming in on a wild pitch after getting on via a fielder's choice, and the second, on through a two-base error, counting on an outfield fly. The third, a walked batsman, stole and tallied on Walsh's hit to right.

Lezch rolled to Walsh to start Reading's 8th and the ball went right through Sarto's legs for a life. Ryan tapped one back at Washburn which Guy fumbled with an easy double play in the making, leaving both men safe.

Coon's error filled the bases and when Walsh threw the ball on Bloom's attempted "squeeze" play past Nihan, Lezch and Ryan were over. Teel's hit to right brought in Michelini and Bloom, and after Washburn and Walsh had thrown out Ivers and Nagle, Tibaudo's two-base error on Cullinane's rap let in the runner. Washburn fanned White for the final out.

Winchester added one in the 8th, a real one. Amico doubled solidly to center and came in on Teedy O'Rourke's two baser to the same pasture.

With two out in the 9th Blanchard, in for Walsh, hit to center and stole second. Tibaudo was passed, but Amico ended it by lining one to Nagle, the ball being hit so that a foot either way and the Reading third sacker couldn't have gotten it. The summary:

HOW many needless calls are made in New England every day to "Information"?

About 123,000.

HOW does this affect service?

It needlessly hinders it. Many operators and a lot of equipment otherwise could be used in essential wartime service.

CAN Telephone Kids help?

Plenty! If, on important calls, they will look up their own numbers . . . dial carefully, or speak clearly to the operator. On unimportant calls — well, for the duration Telephone Kids are skipping that kind.

WINCHESTER 2—LEXINGTON 0

Winchester High won its Middlesex League game from Lexington at Lexington Wednesday afternoon 2-0 with Phil O'Rourke scoring one run and driving in the other.

In the second with one away Swymer walked and rode all the way home on Philip's well smacked triple to left field. In the 7th the elder of the "McNamaras" started the frame with a lusty triple to center, subsequently scoring when Guy Washburn hit cleanly to the same pasture.

Washburn held Lexington to four hits and issued no free tickets. The visitors got only two men as far as second and none to third. Winchester played errorless ball afield. Coach Knowlton shook up his batting order, but the tail end continued to do the hitting. The summary:

PRINCE OR PAUPER?

Not so long ago we had a visit from one of the executives of our bank. Coming at rather an early morning hour, such a visit might have created some apprehension in our nervous system, but we were assured it was a social call, pure and simple, and no ulterior motive was disclosed. You know a visit from one of these gentry can be very interesting, if the conversation is not too one-sided and the listening is not compulsory. We had not seen this banker for a year or two and so were delighted to drop everything for the time being to indulge in a friendly chat.

This particular banker, of middle age, is fairly progressive, knows far more than just mere finance, keeps his ears to the ground, and is well posted on all matters of public interest. It was quite natural that after discussion of local affairs of mutual interest, the war, politics, democracy and the New Deal should come into the conversation. Although we have been known to express ourselves in these columns as not being 100 per cent satisfied with the new regime, our banker friend brought to the fore a presentation of one phase of this "new way of life" that should be more disturbing than it appears to be at the present time. "Do you realize, Mr. ——," he opened up, "that probably not during the rest of our lifetimes will we see the day when the man of average earning capacity will be able to accumulate and lay aside enough money for adequate maintenance after his earning capacity ceases?" He cited the years preceding the New Deal, when the frugal head of a family, through wise planning, the use of savings banks and careful investments, could be reasonably certain that if he were able to accumulate 25,000, 30,000 or 40,000 dolars, the income and perhaps some diminution of the principal would likely see him through without any hardship.

"But today," he continued, "any of those amounts would need to be trebled to provide a comparable return, and in these days when the Government has developed such a voracious appetite for even the most meagre incomes, man's opportunity for old-age comfort or security from distress has become a thing of the past."

We offered no dissent from his analysis of a condition to which we already had given some thought. But he was not through on the subject. "The most distressing factor in this damnable theory of dependence upon Government for existence is its effect on the coming generation these younger ones who have not had our experience, and who guilelessly accept the ridiculous doctrine that honest thrift is shopworn and of no value. Hitler rose to power on the shoulders of the youth and our younger generation is being deluded by these false teachings of this false economy."

It was that well-known character, Harry Hopkins, who said we were just too dumb to understand. Well, we honestly think he had something when he uttered that opinion. How many of us bewildered taxpayers puff up with a bit of pride when we read in our local paper that our county treasurer or our city treasurer has negotiated a loan of several hundred thousand at a rate under one-half of one per cent—the lowest rate in the community's history, he proudly boasts. Well, now, just who is taking up the slack, we wonder. All Government agencies from time immemorial have been able to borrow under prevailing rates, because their collateral is the domicile of every one in their political domain. They are getting their money cheaper than ever before, because you are getting nothing for yours. There has been a subtle jockeying of the old-time virtue of thrift that is developing the main trunk of the tree, while the greater majority of our people are pretty well out on the limbs.

We enjoy all our banker's visit. We hope he has many others on his calling list. Outspoken people are needed these days.

EVALUATION NEEDED

May 10, 1944

To the Editor of the Star:

An article on the school system of Winchester has recently come to my attention. It is indeed high time that an evaluation of methods and means of our school system be entailed with a special emphasis on our primary grades.

To so-call "progressive system" of education has done more harm and caused more retrogression in the field of education and character building than any accepted theory of education in recent times. In the years to come, it will be realized that men like Dewey and Thorndike have caused havoc in the field of American education.

Any system of education that neglects the true purpose of education and the full nature of the education is bound to be detrimental in its results. Before deciding on a system of education, it is a prerequisite that a study be made to decide on the true meaning of the term education and educand. There are many who believe that education is the harmonious development of the physical, mental and spiritual attributes of the individual. This means then, that no one side of the individual is to be developed without regard to the others.

After reaching an agreement as to the meaning of education, the nature of the educand should then be explained. Due to the individuality of each person, an exclusive definition is hard to find. But we do know that a child begins his education long before he starts his formal schooling. Shortly after his birth he begins to learn by observation and imitation, chiefly the latter. The main instrument of education then becomes the formation of good habits instilled by the judicious use of discipline. Of course some children respond more readily to discipline than others. But without discipline, character cannot be formed.

Therefore it is the duty of the primary grade teacher to observe well the individuals is the group that have come under her charge. She (I use the word she as the majority of primary grade teachers are women) she must be more than a referee, in children's games, more than a whimpering, coaxing woman. She herself must have character and an understanding of the nature of children. She must realize that individual differences are caused by environment, heredity and will power, and must know how to cope with them, rather than to stand by and say to herself "These children are all individuals and are rightfully expressing their individualities."

It is my sincere hope and wish that when the educational fathers of Winchester have concluded their investigation into the realms of Winchester education, they will realize the harm done under the name of progressive education.

Many of our men teachers are now serving with our armed forces. Among the men in my company are a 10 year professor from Iowa State University, Camille LeVien, a high school teacher and a junior high school teacher from Trenton, N. J. The three of them are unanimous in their conviction that as long as the so-called progressive system holds sway there will continue to be a decline in the calibre of the youths coming to them for higher education.

For some concrete examples of the harm done by the "Progressive" articles by Paul Mallon in the Boston Herald of March 20 and 21 are called to your attention, as is an article in the April (1944) issue of the American Home by a Mrs. Hopkins called, "I've Raised Three Selfish Little Savages."

Sincerely,
Ray Underwood

RED CROSS BLOOD PLASMA

The following is an excerpt from a letter received by Mrs. Sylvia F. Elliott, 15 Linden street, Winchester from Sgt. John Silvia, 344th Eng., Co. B, Home Town, Rockland, Mass., who was in the service since the first draft, has seen action at Tunisia, Sicily and Naples, was wounded and returned to duty.

"Now you should worry about civilian morale. I'll bet six out of ten people back there don't know that we are at war. Someone told me something like that so I figured I would pass it on to you.

Have you been giving any blood lately? You could hardly realize how many lives that stuff has saved. It is just like pouring life back into a person's body. It is an outright miracle. I mean it. Whee, boom, a shell explodes, the medics bring up some blood, and some guy, blown to heck, gets an injection of plasma, new life comes into his body, or what is left of it. Plastic surgery goes to work on him and in a couple of months you wouldn't know he had been hit. Boy that's wonderful stuff. I mean it.

Why you yourself may have saved a whole platoon of men with what you gave. Should make you feel darn good, too. Someone's son, dad, husband or sweetheart will be coming home because you saw fit to make it so by giving some of your blood.

I have been fortunate enough to get by with what I have of my own. When I run out I may be lucky enough to get some of yours.

I like to know everyone is well back there, it means that much to me. It has been a long time now. We all hope that it won't be too much longer. We are doing all we possibly can and I'm sure you are doing all you can back there.

Our common enemy is tough, smart and fights like hell. We have to be that much tougher, smarter and fight that much harder. It isn't easy, but it's being done. I hope when it's all over I'll be standing on my own two feet."

BUREAU HEAD HERE

Martin Lewis, head of the widely known Towner Rating Bureau that fixes the rates of bonds for municipal collectors and treasurers, was in Winchester this week to confer with Tax Collector Nathaniel M. Nichols at the latter's office. Mr. Nichols has long been dissatisfied with the rate charged collectors for bonds and already has been successful in effecting a saving in the amount which Winchester has to pay. He has been before the Legislature in the matter and has recently been to New York for conference with rating officials. He states that he will not be satisfied until further substantial saving in collectors' and treasurers' bond are effected.

"Nate" got pretty excited about the Lewis visit and it is reported in strict confidence that his costume on the eventful day would have caused the eyebrows of your old-line British valet to rise a bit. But even if his britches didn't match his coat and waistcoat, "Nate" was pretty happy about it all and is looking forward to even better things!

SGT. McGONIGLE KILLED RETURNING FROM GERMAN RAID

Staff Sgt. Charles D. McGonigle, USAAF, son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael McGonigle of 360 Cross street, whose death in action in the European Theater of Operations was reported in last week's Star, was killed instantly when the plane in which he was a top turret gunner was intercepted and attacked by German fighter planes while on its way back to England from a raid over enemy territory.

Following the receipt of the War Department telegram announcing Sgt. McGonigle's death, the young aviator's family received a letter from Rev. Arthur L. Duhl, chaplain of his bombing group. Chaplain Duhl assured Mr. and Mrs. McGonigle that their son's body was buried with full military honors after a service conducted by the Catholic chaplain of a neighboring base. He was listed as killed in action April 22, 1944.

Chaplain Duhl in his letter spoke in terms of high praise of Sgt McGonigle as a man and soldier, adding to his personal sympathy that of the young aviator's commanding officers and "buddies."

Soul and Body is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon to be read in The Mother Church The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, and in all of its branches, on Sunday, May 21.

The Golden Text, For our conversation is in heaven; from whence also we look for the Saviour, the Lord Jesus Christ: who shall change our vile body, that it may be fashioned like unto his glorious body, according to the working whereby he is able even to subdue all things unto himself is from Philippians 3:20, 21. Other Bible citations include: Whom have I in heaven but thee? and there is none upon earth that I desire beside thee. My flesh and my heart faileth: but God is the strength of my heart, and my portion for ever (Psalms 73:25, 26).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures, by Mary Baker Eddy, The material body and mind are temporal, but the real man is spiritual and eternal. The identity of the real man is not lost, but found through this explanation; for the conscious infinitude of existence and of all identity is thereby discerned and remains unchanged (p. 292).

SERVICE MEN'S HOSPITALITY COMMITTEE

The Service Men's Hospitality Committee, sponsored by the Civilian Defense has placed hundreds of boys in Winchester homes this year, but many more hostesses are needed. Several times lately we have not been able to place all the boys who have asked to go to a home and that is really tragedy.

Any of the families who have shared their home and time with these service boys realize just how much it means to each boy and how the everyday, homey things count as "a family group", a dog like the one at home, a real bed with sheets instead of a hammock, home cooked food, but most of all new friends to talk to and confide in. Some one to show the pictures of home, mother, sister, wife and best of all, the new baby.

The following letter from an English sailor is one of many received by one of the hostesses and speaks for itself.

"Hello Mr. and Mrs.

And please convey to all those lovely people that Bill and I had the great pleasure of meeting in Winchester. Believe me dear Mrs., if thoughts became automatically written words, then Winchester would need a new wing or branch to deal with all I should be writing.

It is my own private idea that if anyone cannot be happy in such lovely surrounding as you have and especially in springtime when all those fine trees will be in bright new colors, is mental. In the drabness, cold and monotony of our everyday outlook, I can just picture and feeling greedy soul on the memory of it all, gee, ain't I soft.

I would like to tell you such a lot of the strange path of our lives since Bill and I were over there, but censors English is not very expressive. But by far the most stupendous happening is that both he and I have spent about 18 glorious days at home. My leave was in the infamous month of February and it certainly kept up its reputation of cold and wet, but the home fireside was bright and warm as June.

My folks were informed all about you and from now on they like Americans. They are looking forward to the opportunity of entertaining some doughboys. Now I would just love to have some word from you again and all the local name. Do you think that the special edition of the Winchester Star would be needed?

Well, I never dared to prophesy, but we are going to win soon and I hope that the peace will be lived in far better understanding and with universal democracy of the best kind. And I hope that all you good people of Winchester will have a full share of all the good things that life will offer cheerio and God bless you."

And then from the other side, one of our hostesses received a letter from her own son, who is in England in which he said, "What foreigner has been sleeping in my bed lately? But seriously mother, keep up the good work and tell all your friends to. You have no idea how kind and generous the English people are to us and how they share what little they have with us and I do mean little."

May we urge more of you to join in sharing the much that we have with these boys. If you are interested please call Win. 0802.

MYSTIC GLEE CLUB HELD ANNUAL MEETING

The Mystic Glee Club held its annual meeting Monday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Carl W. Wood on High street. Games were enjoyed and there was the inevitable informal singing, many of the numbers sung at the recent concert being done again with and without embellishment. Presentations were made to Conductor Harvey Davies and to Accompanists Mary Louise Wood and Kenneth Moffatt. Refreshments to were served to round out another pleasant get-together.

Officers elected were:
President, Carl Wood
Vice Pres., David Downer
Secretary, Thomas Sorenson
Treasurer, Austin Nanry
Librarian, Francis Merchant

The club will start its new season the latter part of September, it being the unanimous decision of the group to carry on, especially in view of the many messages from members in the armed services urging the club to carry on. Men who like to sing and who are interested in becoming members of the club are urged to communicate with any of the officers.

BAND CONCERT AND ENTERTAINMENT

The band concert and entertainment given by the members of Cub Pack 3 was held before a capacity audience in the parish hall of the First Congregational Church on May 6.

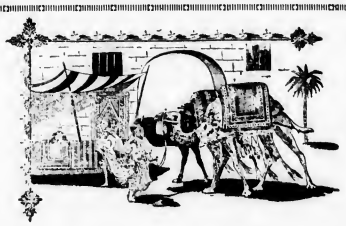

The youthful members of the Cub Band did exceedingly well considering the fact that they were not organized until early this year.

The various entertainment skits were well received.

A large limb fell during a recent high wind in the cemetery and knocked over one grave stone and damaged another.

GIRL SCOUT TROOP TALES

Troop 9 with their leaders, Mrs. Harvey Macauley and Mrs. Donald W. True took the bus part way to Stoneham and hiked the rest of the way to the Metropolitan Zoo. After seeing all the animals we started back to Mrs. True's where we had one wonderful cook-out.

The Brownies in Troop 27, held a Mothers' party at the Wyman School last Friday. Mrs. Gerald Curtis played the piano for the Brownie folk dances which were much enjoyed.

The little girls had made pansy corsages which they presented to the mothers.

Delightful refreshments were served. This troop of Brownies has for its leaders Mrs. Kenneth Lamprey and Mrs. Alfred Toombs.

Ruth Malm for Troop 4 reports that her girls have taken the sewing badge and given a fashion show.

The troop also decided to make a donation of $2 to the Infantile Paralysis drive. A great many letters have been received by the girls in this troop from soldiers, sailors, WACs and WAVES thanking them for the gifts sent to them at Christmas.

Mrs. J. B. Willing and Mrs. Helen Dyer attended the 25th annual meeting of the Hotel Statler last Saturday for the Mass. Girl Scouts.

The Brownie Revel turned out to be just that in capital letters. Nine troops of about 150 Brownies with their leaders and assistant leaders hiked to the Girl Scout Cabin last Saturday. A trail had been laid every each troop a special place of fun, one which was "Hobby Row" for the day. They arrived at about 11.30 in time for the lunch. Afterwards there was much merriment in a variety show.

The highlight of the day however came at the end when a fly-up ceremony was held and 13 little Brownies who had became 10 years old in the past few months became Junderfoot Scouts. Present at this ceremony was the newly elected Commissioner of Winchester, Mrs. Clarence Roberts.

FIREMEN BUSY LAST FRIDAY

The Fire Department had a busy time of it last Friday afternoon answering several calls, the first of which came in at 1.22 for a brush fire at the rear of 32 Grove street. At 2 o'clock there was a second brush fire near 54 Jefferson road.

A dump fire called the department to land owned by the Cemetery Department off Palmer street at 4.28 and at 5.26 there was another dump fire on vacant land on Hemingway street. At 6.05 there was a fire which destroyed a haystack on upper Main street owned by Mr. James Moran, 969 Main street, and the final run of the day was at 8.53 for wood on fire off Henry street.

The Department had three runs Saturday, the first at 11.45 in the forenoon for a brush fire at the rear of 122 Washington street. The second was at 8.35 in the evening for leaves on fire at the rear of a garage at 59 Church street. At 10.30 p. m. during the thunder storm the department was called to the home of Mrs. Frances Murphy, 24 Kirk street, where the storm had evidently caused wire insulation to go on fire.

SCHOOL NEWS

The School Department announces the selection of Dr. J. Edgar Park, president of Wheaton College, as the graduation speaker at exercises to be held in the high school auditorium on Friday evening, June 2.

Although Mrs. Claudia Renehan Howard will be unable to resume her position as music director during the remainder of this school year because of serious illness, it is expected that the graduation program will include several vocal selections by choral groups.

Supt. James J. Quinn was a guest recently of the Mass. Committee of Catholics, Protestants and Jews at their annual dinner.

On Monday, students of the high school enjoyed an assembly program presented by Mr. Robert Lybeck, former school committee man. After brief remarks about aviation, young people, and their common future, Mr. Lybeck turned the meeting over to operator George Gould who showed a sound movie, narrated by inventor Igor Sikorsky, on the possible uses of the helicopter. This film showed the helicopter to be aviation's most versatile performer.

APPEAL FOR NURSES

An appeal to Greater Boston women who have any free time to work a day a week or a day every two weeks as nurses' aides and attendants at Long Island Hospital, assisting in the work of caring for the aged, the needy and the unfortunate, has been issued by Mayor Maurice J. Tobin.

"You former nurses, who have no one at home for whom you must care, can do no finer work than to return temporarily to your profession, take over the positions of the girls who have gone to war to serve with our armed forces, and help us to care for the sick, the needy and the aged. If you are so financially independent that the pay itself means nothing to you, then take the job as a patriotic duty to your country and give your pay to charity," Mayor Tobin said.

"Any retired nurses who are willing to accept nursing jobs at Long Island should contact Institutions Commissioner Hugh J. Campbell at Laf. 5100, Line 370, or Dr. James V. Sacchetti, medical director at Long Island Hospital at Pres. 1371." The Mayor said that he had advertised without success in nursing journals all over the country.

He appealed to other women, whose families may be fully grown and who have no children for whom they must care, to help out at Long Island on a voluntary basis a day every week or a day every fortnight.

REFERENDUM PETITION FILED

A referendum petition seeking to set aside the town dump votes of last week's special town meeting was filed with the Selectmen Wednesday afternoon, and referred to Town Clerk Mabel W. Stinson to check for signatures. The petition is said to bear 272 names, or only 12 more than the number necessary for a referendum.

Under the town by-law the Selectmen must decide within ten days whether a referendum can be held, and if so, the referendum vote must be held "within 21 days after the issuing of the call."

Two motions are involved in the petition. The first is the vote establishing a town dump at the rear of the International Cooperage Company plant on Swanton street, between the railroad and the river. A two-thirds vote is necessary on this motion to continue the dump in that location. The second motion is that placing the land under the jurisdiction of the Board of Health. A majority vote only is necessary for this, but in the event the referendum defeats the proposed site, the second motion will be invalidated since there will then be no land in that location to put under the jurisdiction of anyone.

REV. MR. MAKEPEACE TO BE ARMY CHAPLAIN

Rev. Roger E. Makepeace, for the past five years pastor of the Crawford Memorial Church, has been commissioned a chaplain in the United States Army with the rank of 1st lieutenant. He will enter Harvard June 12 to commence a five weeks training course. Both Mr. and Mrs. Makepeace have many friends in Winchester who will regret their departure from town. Their parishioners and friends will tender them a "bon voyage" party in the social hall of the Crawford Church on Thursday evening, June 1.

Upon the completion of his five years in Winchester, Mr. Makepeace was unanimously invited to continue his successful pastorate by the Fourth Quarterly Conference of the Methodist Church on April 13, 1944. As the need for more chaplains in the armed services grew, however, it became his conviction that he must give himself to this important work.

Mr. Makepeace has allied himself whole-heartedly with many civic and fraternal enterprises and with the work of the Red Cross and Civilian Defense in Winchester and Boston and vicinity. His contribution to the "Bishops' Crusade for a New World Order" in the success of the discussion group which he instituted on the "Six Pillars of Peace" resulted in his being invited to serve as a member of the Massachusetts Council of Churches for the coming year. So exceptional was his handling of the subject matter of the discussion that a copy of his outline and method was sent to every minister in the State.

RECEIVED MEDICAL DISCHARGE

Mr. Robert C. Donahue, 20 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick J. Donahue of 15 Mystic avenue, has received an honorable discharge from the U. S. Army, and is now home.

He was hospitalized for a long period of time at the Station Hospital, Fort Story, Virginia, and subsequently discharged.

Bob enlisted in the Army in May, 1943, immediately following graduation from Winchester High, and had been stationed in Virginia following the initial induction period at Fort Devens.

Staff Sgt. John F. Twombly, who has seen two years service overseas with the signal corps of the 10th Air Force, has arrived in Winchester for a three weeks furlough from New Delhi, India.

EN KA STREET FAIR

Perfect Weather for Gala Event

Perfect weather, all day and evening, aided materially in making the En Ka United Nations Fair, this year's variation of the Street Fair, one of the best from the attendance angle in the 10 years of this always popular event. Crowds were at the town hall grounds all day and the throng of the evening was surely as large as any yet to attend.

Most, if not all the regular attractions, were at this year's fair, including the Ferris Wheel, Flying-horses, Garden Shop on the Island, Tea in the Library Pergola, Sidewalk Cafe, Hot Dog and Tonic Stands, White Elephant Shop, Pony Rides, Supper and Dancing in the Town Hall, Fortune Teller, Balloon Stand and the various games at the Midway stands. New this year was a Kiddie-car Merry-go-round for the little tots that proved very popular, and there was also a gorgeous doll booth and booth where volunteers could sign up to give blood to the Red Cross Plasma Bank in Boston. This last was run by the local Red Cross Chapter and was in charge of Mrs. Dorothy Howard, Mrs. Maryrose McDevitt, Mrs. Ruth Hilton and Mrs. Susan Goodwin.

As usual the Ferris Wheel and Flying-Horses proved the popular attractions and during the evening it averaged better than half an hour to work your way along in the line to get on the wheel.

Supper in the town hall was limited to 500 and all tickets were sold, so that some had to be disappointed. The hall was attractively decorated in Red, White and Blue and there was the usual long buffet table gay with white lilacs. After the supper things had been cleared away Ken Reeves popular dance band went on and played for dancing until midnight, exponents of both the restrained and more violent forms of dancing enjoying the opportunity to indulge their preference. Punch was served through the evening for the dancers.

At the big information booth with its barking loud-speakers, donation slips were sold through the day and evening, many being attracted by the possibility of winning a deep-freeze cabinet, $150 Victory Fund or $75 in service at Fred's, Hair Stylist.

Mrs. Theodore Cunningham of Bangor, Me., former resident of Winchester, won the cabinet, Miss Ruth Tilley, manager of Filene's in Winchester, won the Victory Fund and Dr. Arthur Jackson won the hair-styling service. Winchester High did all right in the matter of prizes. Principal Sam Graves winning a handsome hand-decorated Chinese tray and Anne Richardson, popular member of the student body, winning the big doll and wardrobe.

BULLETIN TO CANNERS

Boil Your Jar Rubbers

Jar rubbers are now made from reclaimed and synthetic rubber. Last year complaints were made that these rubber rings made off-flavors in the products. Tests conducted by the State College at Amherst indicate that prebolling is necessary if housewives would avoid this rubber flavor.

Here is the procedure: Scrub rubber rings in hot soapy water. Then boil ten minutes in water and baking soda. Allow one tablespoon of baking soda to each quart of water and have one quart of water for each dozen rings. Rinse well after boiling. Be sure to start with fresh water and soda for each lot of rings.

HOUSEWIVES NEEDED TO HOLD LINE

Each Massachusetts housewife can play a large part in holding the line on war time prices in her own community. In order to protect her family's pocketbook as well as the many honest retailers who are abiding by war time price controls every housewife should make it her responsibility to pay no more than ceiling prices while on her daily shopping, the OPA said today.

MRS. JESSIE ALICE VOIGT

Mrs. Jessie Alice Voigt, wife of George Q. Voigt, died Saturday morning at her home, 83 Main street, after a brief illness with heart disease. Although she had been troubled with a heart ailment for several years and was under a doctor's care, her death had not been expected, she having been up and about Saturday morning as usual and having been out shortly before she was stricken.

Mrs. Voigt was the daughter of James and Margaret (Hughes) MacDowell. She was born Feb. 8, 1905, in Lowell, but moved as a girl to Medford and graduated from Medford High School, subsequently graduating from the Wesley School and Hyannis Normal School and doing graduate work at Boston University.

For several years before her marriage Mrs. Voigt taught in the Curtis School and other schools in Medford and was a member of Middlesex Chapter Order of the Eastern Star, in that city.

After her marriage in 1930 she and her husband went to Washington to live, Mr. Voigt having been at that time associated with the Bureau of Standards in the Capitol. From Washington they returned to Medford when Mr. Voigt entered the laboratory at the Boston Navy Yard as a production engineer. Three years ago she and her husband came to make their home in Winchester.

Besides her husband, Mrs. Voigt leaves a sister, Mrs. Jennie Weatherbee of Medford.

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at the Frederick N. Beals Funeral Home in Medford with Rev. William Madsen, pastor of the First Congregational Church in Medford, officiating. Interment was in the family lot in Edson Cemetery, Lowell.

WEEK-END FIRES

The first of several calls received by the Fire Department over the past week-end came in at 8:08 Saturday morning when a short circuit in the starting wires caused a slight fire in a truck on Jefferson road. The truck is owned by Rizieri Rigo of 89 Harvard street.

At 12:25 Saturday afternoon Box 531 was sounded for a fire in a stable used as a garage at the home of Mr. F. C. Alexander, 5 Lakeview road. The fire evidently started in some leaves outside the building, but when the firemen arrived had worked into the partitions and started up toward the second story of the building. There was a good deal of smoke and at first glance the firemen believed they had quite a fight on their hands. It was subsequently found that the fire was not as bad as at first believed and the actual damage was not believed to be heavy.

At 5:30 Saturday afternoon there was a grass fire near the home of L. R. McCullough, 38 Jefferson road. Sunday's only run was for a grass fire near the home of Legion Constr. John J. Keefe, 27 Allen road.

Monday afternoon Sgt. Thomas F. Cassidy and James Troast of Lloyd street located the latter's boat which was reported stolen Sunday forenoon from the rear of the Professional Building on Wedge Pond. The boat was in Wedge and the bottom had been damaged, an effort having been made to repair the damage by smearing on a tar-like substance.

TEELE IN HALL OF FAME

It is a real pleasure to announce in these columns that at the last regular meeting of the Palmer Beach Horseshoe Association President Royal "Paper Trade" Teele, for the second time this season, covered a double-ringer. Mr. Teele hasn't been too good this budding spring. In fact, his winning record last week-end was nothing, misses a good deal, divided by naught. So it is doubly nice to dwell upon what little he did do well, for there is no gainsaying the fact that his double covering was as nice a bit of clutch pitching as you would see anywhere, let alone at Palmer street.

The Secretary threw the two ringers which Mr. Teele covered. If you have followed this column closely, you will recall that it was the unlucky Scrivener who last time threw the double-header on which the perennial champion of the Boston Paper Trade deposited his two shoes. That time the emotional shock was bad enough, but on the second occasion the disappointment was much harder for the Secretary to bear. Last week-end the Secretarial double-header would have taken the Scrivener and Herbert "Garrulous" Gardner out in the second straight game of their series with Mr. Teele and Howard "Foul Line" Wittet. It is not often given to the Secretary to close a match with a double-header and his enthusiasm for Mr. Teele's feet in covering his shoes was as a consequence a little forced. He shook the Teele hand because he had to, but it was easy to see that his heart wasn't in his congratulations. Twice in the same spot always hurts.

Aside from covering the double, Mr. Teele contributed little to the Association's pitching class last week-end. He lost every series in which he engaged, being defeated with Mr. Gardner as partner, again with the Secretary, a third time with Mr. Wittet and finally with the luckless Secretary once more.

"Wild Willie" McLaughlin, the Pride of Stowe and Champion of all Nabnassett, paired with Roland "Thin Finger" Pridham to collect titular honors, winning every match in which they engaged save one. Mr. Pridham it was who held the torch of the dauntless Lake Street Lancers high through the session. Mr. McLaughlin being for the most part "wild" and needing plenty of carrying.

To the Secretary, of all people, and Mr. Gardner, went the distinction of giving the Lancers their only defeat of the session, winning two games to one in a tight lipped match.

After dropping the first game, 25-18, the Secretary and "Garrulous" came from an 18-5 count to win 25-24. Four times the Secretary covered a ringer to prevent the Lancers from going out, the last time proving such a shock to Mr. Pridham that he missed a ringer in his final box and Mr. Gardner delivered the coup de grace.

The final game was nerve-tingling. Mr. Gardner and the Secretary blowing a 15-0 lead to trail 21-18. Close pitching by both teams placed the count at 23 apiece when Mr. McLaughlin delivered his last two shoes. Both touched the stake, but neither went on to "Wild Willie's intense disgust and the Secretary's equally heart-felt relief.

It still took a ringer to prevent the Lancers from winning, and after a bit of intense concentration Mr. Gardner produced exactly that, throwing his second shoe away in response to the urgent advice of his partner.

While decrying what he termed a low grade of sportsmanship, in not playing that second shoe, Mr. Teele was still very happy about the defeat of Pridham and McLaughlin. He missed the best game of the three, due to the fact that he went over to the edge of the Pond to examine at close range what he called a "mackerel" which a youngster had pulled from the turgid waters. So engrossed did he become in the fisherman's activities that he missed the Secretary's sterling pitching, which in his case always has to be seen to be believed; at least by Mr. Teele.

WINCHESTER IN BASEBALL FINALE

Winchester High winds up its baseball season this afternoon with Concord on Manchester Field at 3:15. The locals, with the best looking team and easily the best pitching staff in the league, haven't done too well a proneness to have at least one bad inning afield and to run the bases poorly having nullified some very effective pitching. The boys on the whole have failed to hit behind runners and generally to show the lack of savvy that is the result of playing as little baseball as the youngsters play hereabouts.

Generally speaking the winning teams in this neck of woods are teams where the boys play summer ball, either in Junior League competition or in playground leagues. You can't perform well in baseball and play only 10 weeks or so a year.

BELMONT 6—WINCHESTER 2

Winchester dropped another round on the Middlesex League faddle when it lost its game to Belmont on Manchester Field last Friday afternoon, 6-2. The game was a tight one for 6 frames but in the 7th the locals had their usual bad inning, three errors, a bad decision and an infield hit giving the visitors three runs.

"Jigger" Kingsley had a particularly tought day umpiring, being had on balls and strikes and missing several on the bases that really hurt. His mistakes hurt both clubs, but on the whole did Winchester the most damage, a palpably bad decision in the 3rd costing the locals two runs. He missed one the other way to enable the local boys to tie the count in the 6th, but those two runs in the 3rd would have changed the entire complexion of the ball game and might have meant a different result.

Belmont picked up a soft one in the very first inning. Goulter was safe when Coon played his soft hopper too slowly and then threw into the dirt at first. Ted O'Rourke made a nice stop to hold up the runner.

Goulter stole when Nihan threw into the dirt and went to third on a wild pitch. He scored when an Amico fast ball glanced off Nihan's mit and rolled to the backstop.

Winchester should have gone out in front in the third. Elliott robbed Swymer of a sure double with a corking running catch in right center and O'Rourke lined one just high enough for Wetlaufer to grab in left. Amico worked Heavey for a pass and went all the way to third when Saraco's grounder took a mean hop over Egan's shoulder at first for a hit.

Tony went right down and with two away was rounding third behind Amico as Walsh rapped to Papazian. The latter's throw to Egan had Walsh beaten all right but Egan dropped the ball, and although he recovered it in time he wasn't even near the base when he picked it up.

Kingsley ruled Walsh out and stuck to it in spite of a big squawk put on by the entire Winchester team, led by Coach Knowlton. It was a tough break for the locals, for a lead at that stage of the game would have meant a lot.

The locals tied it in the 6th. Walsh singled past shortstop and advanced on Egan's error which gave Ted O'Rourke a life. Tibaudo worked the count to three and two and was called out on a ball that looked a good foot outside and low. Nihan went down swinging. Coon hit a dribbler to the right of the box which Heavey juggled a bit but got to first in time to beat the runner a full stride. Kingsley called Coon safe and the Belmont team and Coach Harris surged out on the diamond.

It was another bad one and it filled the bases. Heavey walked Swymer to force in Walsh, but Zeke was erased at second on Phil O'Rourke's tap to Papazian.

Egan started the Belmont 7th with a walk. Papazian rapped to Coon and Dick's throw pulled O'Rourke off the bag. Ted tagged the batter on the line, but again Kingsley didn't see it and there were two on and no one out. Morrow bunted safely to fill the sacks. Swymer muffed Wetlaufer's fly in short right after a hard run, knocking the ball with his gloved hand away over into left field, Egan and Papazian scoring. Nihan's error let in Morrow and Wetlaufer went home as Tibaudo threw out Gronberg. Heavey and Goulter fanned.

Saraco singled with one out in the 6th, went all the way to 3rd as Dowd threw out Walsh and scored on Egan's error. In Belmont's 9th Wetlaufer singled to center, stole and came in on Heavey's one-shot to left.

WINCHESTER TRACK MEN RETAINED RELAY CROWN

Winchester High School retained its Class C title in the State Relays last Saturday at Belmont, winning a first and two seconds for 11 points to edge Belmont and Melrose by a single digit. Watertown, Brighton, and Mechanics Arts were the other schools in this class.

The locals won their only first place in the quarter-mile team race with John Ottiano, Frank McGlynn, Charles Lovejoy and Frank DiMambro running in that order. Ottiano finished perhaps a yard back at the end of the first leg, but McGlynn made up the deficit, a nice bit of baton passing enabling Frank to outleg the opposition and send Lovejoy away a couple of yards in front. Despite momentarily going off the track "Charlie" held his lead and sent DiMambro away in the van. "Rat" flew through the final leg to wind up a good six yards out front, going away. The time, 1:25.4, was the fastest turned in for this event in any class. Belmont was second.

Winchester made its first start in the two mile event with Kenneth Harvey, Thomas Kirwin, Ewen Cameron and Kevin Burke as competitors. At the end of the first lap Harvey ran in last place away off the pace set by Len Winslow of Melrose. On the back stretch of the second lap big Ken commenced to pick up and rounding the final turn was in third place. He came strongly on the home stretch but had given the Melrose boy too big a lead and Melrose's Joe Bryne got away 15 yards ahead of Tom Kirwin. The latter ran a corking race, catching the Melrose boy on the back stretch of the second lap, passing him and meeting his challenge off the last turn to hand Cameron a 20 yard advantage.

Ewen didn't have the speed to outrace Jack Cogan of Melrose but he ran his heart out and it wasn't until the final stretch of the last lap the rangier, faster Melrose boy finally got by. As it was the pounding local runner hung on grimly for 25 yards or so, but gradually dropped back and finished a long 15 yards behind Cogan.

Wesley Locke, Class C half-mile champion, was too good for Burke to catch with a 15 yard lead, though Kevin did pick up some yardage, to finish about 10 yards in the ruck. The time 8m. 59s, was a little better than two seconds slower than the top Class D time turned in by Newton.

The Class C half mile race was the best of the afternoon with DiMambro, Ottiano, Maurice Read and McGlynn, being edged by Belmont in 1m. 38.8s, about a second off the championship pace.

"Rat" DiMambro won his first 220 yard leg by 2en yards, and Ottiano held practically all of this advantage. "Tikky" Read found Bob Jackson of Belmont too good on the third leg, and after leading for about 150 yards dropped back to send Frank McGlynn away perhaps two or three yards behind Belmont's Bill Tufts.

McGlynn, a quarter-miler, didn't have the speed necessary to catch Tufts, a sprinter, but he wasn't more than a long stride behind the Belmont boy at the worsted after a nip-and-tuck duel all the way. McGlynn was right at Tufts shoulder coming off the turn but the Belmont boy had just enough speed to pull away in the stretch.

Winchester didn't go after the mile relay too hard, sending Harvey, Read, Murray and Kirwin to the line. The boys didn't seem finish in the points, though it even picked up plenty on the final leg with another good performance. Mechanics Arts was the winner with Melrose second and Belmont third in 3m. 19s. The second mile team in the Shuffle Cup, which was an open event and didn't count toward team titles.

Newton nosed Boston English Lo for the Class D crown and Saugus won the Class B title from Lexington, 13-11. Winchester's A. D., Henry Knowlton, was one of the judges and the local trainer, Lou Goddu, was one of the timers.

The special town meeting offered no objections to the School Committee's proposal to have a survey made of the town's schools for the purpose of finding out just what sort of an educational job our school system is doing. The meeting gave the Committee the amount requested instead of the reduced figure which the Finance Committee argued was sufficient. In so doing the town meeting members evinced a confidence in the School Committee's judgment which must have been gratifying. That confidence, however, also imposes a responsibility upon the Committee which must be squarely met. The vote providing the $10,000 for the survey also provides that the survey shall be "comprehensive and disinterested." These words are of equal importance, though comprehensive in connection with the survey has to be evaluated with an eye to the intensity with which the examination is conducted. A survey could be comprehensive and still not go deeply enough into things to prove of much real value, except to point out certain good or bad trends. It was to guard against such a possibility that the School Committee asked for the $10,000 which their best judgment seemed to indicate would be necessary to do the job right. It was because the town wants the job done right that the Finance Committee was over-ruled and the money appropriated. Insofar as the disinterested angle of the survey is concerned there can be but one interpretation. Disinterested simply means that the survey shall be made by persons in no way even remotely acquainted with the town, its school system, its School Committee or its departmental personnel. It emphatically ought not to be done by any one likely to find personal consideration or professional courtesy standing in the way of a forthright decision. The town wants to know the real answer to a school question which has bothered many parents for some years. These parents are not likely to be satisfied with a decision, no matter how competent the surveyors may be, if they have reason to believe that decision is based on expediency rather than upon such factual evidence as may come to light in the course of the survey. There are those in town who feel right now that our schools are doing a good job all the way through. A survey catering to this group will leave matters just where they now stand, with the malcontents still unconvinced. It is the group who do not feel that their children are getting what they need from the town's educational system who need to be satisfied. They are not going to be with any sort of survey that smacks of "whitewash."

PRAISE FOR DUMP COMMITTEE

To the Editor of the Star:

The members of the Committee on a Public Dump have, in my opinion, performed meritorious service by suggesting a location which not only seems presently less objectionable but also can be the locus of a post-war incinerator.

Residents of the Highlands were disturbed because the site first proposed was in such close proximity to Leonard Field bathing beach. It would have been a continuing nuisance to a well-developed area.

In the heated opposition to that site, the Committee weathered verbal brickbats. They took them like gentlemen. Both the opposition of aroused citizens and the time and effort generously given by the members of the committee were in good New England tradition, a desire to better Winchester and to serve its needs.

The new dumping area can be developed to future beauty. Great public assets of our town are the landscaped portions abutting the railroad. They lend distinction to Winchester from the lakes to the station at the center. During the ensuing year, I hope similar progress can be made in the area between the station and Highlands station.

Cordially yours,
Roland H. Parker

STOP FOREST FIRES

The Daughters of the American Revolution wish to bring to the attention of the public the importance of guarding against Forest Fires and suggest the following rules:

1. Crush out all smoke. Dead out.
2. Drown camp fires, stir then add more water.
3. Break every burned match then pinch 'till every one is cold!
4. Find out about a permit, if you need to burn, then follow safe rules and kill every spark.

OUR ANIMAL SHELTER VULNERABLE

To the Editor of the Star:

Late one afternoon of last week; I returned home and as I approached my door I saw a small gray object on my lower step.

Wondering what it could be or what friend might have called and dropped something there I went nearer for closer inspection, paused with curiosity for at first glance it did not look like anything usually found on ones doorstep. Snuggled close up in the corner of the lower step of gray stone was a round ball of equally gray feathers all puffed out with the comfortable settled look of one ready for the night.

Although I did not touch it I was permitted a closer inspect on and with two tiny bright eyes following my movements I was allowed to pass on up the steps without causing the slightest startled flutter of wings.

A small gray pigeon had come to call.

Thinking at once that it must be hurt and could not fly I reported my find to my husband. We were allowed to pick the small visitor up and upon examination discovered that both legs were banded with bits of metal, each bearing numbers stamped on them.

Our visitor was a winged messenger of the great airways, having definitely left from "somewhere" to go on "somewhere."

We found he was quite unhurt and still air minded for quietly and without fuss he slipped away from us and flew into a tree a few feet off and again puffing himself out he settled himself to roost.

What faith in his own protection he must have had, but what should we do about it that we might not fail him in his confidence.

Of course, Mrs. Taylor, the tireless leader of the Winchester branch Auxiliary of the M. S. P. C. A.

At one would know she would do, we were given the number of our Winchester Animal Shelter, and were fortunate in finding Mr. Arthur Bryer there. Our story told, Mr. Bryer said he would come to the house after making another promised call. Keeping an eye on the tree we waited until the darkness and Mr. Bryer came. With the aid of a flashlight the small pigeon was gently taken from his night perch, and with hands that know just how, he was held while three curious grown-ups, (I was quite thrilled) looked him over carefully, beneath the wings, about the body and near the leg bands for some hidden secret message. None was to be found but I learned with interest of a place on the Cape where these birds are raised and trained and from this "air field" they are banded and sent out on practice flights.

If enroute, the birds become exhausted they will light somewhere and rest and when they feel ready and able will continue on or will return to the home base. Somehow I felt it a compliment that this little member of our armed service chose my steps and my tree for his temporary furlough.

Mr. Bryer of course took him to the Shelter where he would be completely safe, and when he seemed ready he would be free to go on his way.

Now, four days later I learn that my pigeon is till a contented guest of the Shelter, and though given full freedom beyond bounds will flit and laze about returning promptly for his meals of which he partakes with relish, and was further once seen enjoying the company of two small kittens.

Surely what could speak more highly for the kindness shown and comfort given at the Shelter than do these stray visitors themselves.

It seems a young bird will sometime loose his sense of direction and not attempt the home flight, in which case those who train them lose interest in them and presumably they are given, alas, dishonorable discharge from the "winged" service.

We wonder how many here in Winchester know a little about our animal shelter as we did, the splendid work that is being done there. It would seem that we are fortunate in having such a one in charge as Mr. Bryer for he is doing even more than his bit, he has his first aid kit, and the knowledge and ability to give advice to those in doubt as to their pets, as well as the efficient care and protection of the many strays sent to him. Inasmuch as many of these small birds are carrying important messages, and as the horses and the many dogs are today definitely in our armed forces, giving all that their training asks of them without expecting anything in return, should not we, more of us, give as generously as we may in acknowledgment of their work to the support of our own Shelter which so freely gives to casualties of the home front, and add one more "Excelsior" to the Town of Winchester.

RED CROSS APPRECIATION

The following extract from a letter sent by Sgt. Robert E. O'Brien to his mother Grace Hushen O'Brien of 2 Warwick terrace is an indication of how the boys feel toward the Red Cross and the service it renders:

"Mother: I know you have heard stories about the American Red Cross. Believe me when I tell you they are doing a marvelous job. My happiest moments have been supplied by them. The Red Cross girls go to and from combat with little regard for their own lives. The only cool drink I've tasted in months was supplied by them. So, when you see one of those little Red Cross boxes labeled "Pennies for cigarettes for men overseas" don't laugh but give a plenty. All you can spare. Outfits like theirs bring home to us in the jungle."

WINCHESTER TRACKSTERS BEAT ARLINGTON

Winchester High won a very sweet track victory from Arlington High Tuesday afternoon on Manchester Field, defeating the Spy Ponders 71-31.

Frank DiMambro cleaned up both lashes for Winchester, doing 10.7s in the 100 and 24.7s in the furlong, good going for the local track. He wasn't pressed in either race, having his team-mate Johnny Ottiano behind him in the century and having a very comfortable lead over Cavicke of Arlington in the 220.

The quarter was something of an upset with Twitchell of Arlington edging Winchester's McGlynn at the worsted in 58.8s, comparatively slow time and away slower than McGlynn is capable of.

If the quarter was an upset, so was the half, with Winchester's Tom Kirwin running a pretty race to upset favored Myers of Arlington. Kevin Burke had an easy time taking the mile with Arlington runners second and third.

The locals' only first in the field events was Ottiano's 19 ft. 11¼ in. effort in the broad jump, a good performance in the Winchester pit. Starkey of Arlington won both the high jump and shotput to tie DiMambro for individual honors, but he had a close shave in the shot, edging Winchester's Dom Talone by half an inch. The summary:

100 yard dash: 1st, DiMambro (W); 2nd, Ottiano (W); 3rd, Cavicke (A); time 10.7s.

220 yard dash: 1st, DiMambro (W); 2nd, Cavicke (A); 3rd, Reed (W). Time: 24.3s.

440 yard run: 1st, Twitchell (A); 2nd, McGlynn (W). 3rd, Sullivan (A). Time, 58.8s.

880 yard run: 1st, Kirwin (W); 2nd, Myers (A); 3rd, Firmoyle (A). Time: 2m. 18.2s.

Mile: 1st, Burke (W); 2nd, MacKiven (A); 3rd, Lubger (A). Time: 4m. 58.4s.

Besides winning in singles Rosander paired with Libby Fenno of Winchester to finish in the runner-up slot in mixed doubles, losing 1-6 to Thompson and Barbara Palmer of Newton.

Sheldon Caldwell and Ann Alhree of Winchester lost to Thompson and Palmer in the semi-final round, 5-6, while Rosander and Fenno beat the Winchester pair of Wansker and Carolyn England in this bracket, 6-2.

WINCHESTER EDGED STONEHAM IN 13 INNINGS

Winchester High spoiled Stoneham's chances for a Middlesex League baseball title Tuesday afternoon by defeating the hockey towners, 4-3, in 13 innings at Stoneham. Both Stoneham's Coffin and big Sam Tompkins went the route, the latter holding Stoneham to six hits.

Both teams tallied in the first. Saraco was safe on Dill's error, stole and went to third as Coffin threw out Walsh. When Wright threw poorly across the diamond in an attempt to catch Saraco off third, Tony counted.

Tompkins hit Donaghey in Stoneham's half, the runner stole and scored on errors by Ted O'Rourke and Nihan.

Coon singled to left to start Winchester's 4th, was sacrificed to second by Swymer and scored on Tompkin's hit to center. In Stoneham's 4th Coffin hit to left and Rolli walked, both scoring on Walsh's error and Wright's one-shot to left.

Winchester tied it in the 8th. Ted O'Rourke hit to left and Tibaudo beat out a pretty bunt to Coffin. Nihan, up to sacrifice, got mixed up and hit away, lining to Dill, who doubled Ted O'Rourke off second. Coon, Swymer, and Phil O'Rourke hit safely over second, but only one run counted, Tompkins fanning for the final out.

Tompkins pitched himself out of a hole in the 12th, Truesdale being thrown out at the plate by Tibaudo and there being runners on second and third when Ted O'Rourke gobbled Testa's foul fly.

Coon, who got three out of five at the bat, started Winchester's 13th with a hit to left. Swymer popped to Coffin, but Phil O'Rourke doubled to right to bring in the runner. Dill hit to start Stoneham's 13th but Tompkins threw out Coffin, Nihan grabbed Trueman's foul fly and Whiston ended it with a hoist to Saraco. The summary:

Other Bible citations include Beware of false prophets, which come to you in sheep's clothing, but inwardly they are ravening wolves. Ye shall know them by their fruits. Do men gather grapes of thorns, or figs of thistles? Even so every good tree bringeth forth good fruit, but a corrupt tree bringeth forth evil fruit (Matthew 7:16-17).
Also included in the Lesson-Sermon will be the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy: Many are willing to open the eyes of the people to the power of good resident in divine Mind, but they are not so willing to point out the evil in human thought, and expose evil's hidden mental ways of accomplishing iniquity . . . At all times and under all circumstances, overcome evil with good. Know thyself, and God will supply the wisdom and the occasion for a victory over evil (pp. 570, 571).

EPIPHANY DEDICATES NEW WINDOW

At the 11 o'clock service, May 21, the Church of the Epiphany dedicated a window of stained glass which brings the structure of the parish church one step nearer to the artist's whole which the architect and the building committee planned. The new window is the gift of Mr. and Mrs. Ambrose Reasoner in memory of Mrs. Reasoner's father, Mr. Horatio Frederick Hammond, for many years a faithful member of the Episcopal Church and a senior warden.
The window is the work of Mr. Wilbur Herbert Burnham, Boston artist in stained glass, whose work in the cathedrals of New York and Washington is nationally known and prized. Epiphany invites all Winchester to enjoy this latest addition to Winchester's art possessions.
The theme of the window is the Ascension. In the central lancet Mr. Burnham has placed the ascending Christ. The figure in raiment of delicate whites and pale yellows expresses victory and reward. Above his head are golden rays of light, and below the Christ figure are three cherubim with golden halos and ruby wings. The glowing ruby dominates the glory which surrounds the Christ. The side lancets show Mary and the Apostles.
The window is in the tower, at the rear of the church, directly opposite the chancel window which is also the work of Mr. Burnham's studio. The chancel window shows humanity in the form of the shepherds lifting up its head to the heavenly cry of promise and responsibility: "peace on earth to men of good will."
The service of dedication repeated the same promise, "Peace I leave with you; my peace I give unto you." To the parish that shared in that service, this window, set in a time of dark war, when its sons were far off and given to pain and peril, will always carry that meaning, peace.

M. S. P. C. A. NOTES

Underwood; corresponding secretary, Mrs. G. Russell Mann; treasurer, Mrs. William N. Beggs. Directors: Miss Gladys M. Folts, Mrs. E. H. Goodwin and Miss Leontine T. Pote.

BRITISH WAR RELIEF

This week the Winchester Unit begins with thanks due to good friends of British War Relief. First, to those partners in its largest undertakings, the ambulance and mobile kitchens for which we all worked and gave three years ago, the Parish Players. With all the other war efforts which this organization of the First Congregational Church is supporting, the Players still contributed a generous check for the work of the Unit. From such sustained international kindness come hopes of a peace that will be written in the hearts of men and so endure.
To Mrs. Arthur Sandel go the Unit's thanks for another tableful of warm and pretty baby garments, and to Mrs. L. Krakaver for the crib comforts made out of the soft scraps.
Now the Unit is asking an absolutely new thing of all its workers, at home or in the central work room; will you stop and look back a bit? The Unit would like this information from each worker. When did you begin work for British War Relief? How many hours do you estimate that you have given each year? If an estimate of hours is difficult of knitting or sewing done at home will you say what articles you have made.
This information may be brought to the central work-room on Wednesdays, or mailed to Miss F. Louise Nardin, 8 Stowell road, or given to her over telephone Win. 2843.
The workers at Epiphany on Wednesday were happy to welcome back Mrs. Ernest Dudley Chase, head of sewing, who had been absent for several weeks because of illness. She found that the wheels had turned duly in her absence; that 12 roxe dresses for girls had been finished and sent in, and aqua dresses were in process; layettes went on as usual, and those tailors to British small boys stitched and pressed on in the pants-making corner.
Knitters will find both blue and white wool at the parish hall Tuesday, 1 to 5, no meeting on May 30) and Wednesdays, or they may call Mrs. Francis Madge, Win. 0554-J.

UNITARIAN MEN'S CLUB

William Roger Greeley, national president of the Unitarian Laymen's League, is to be the guest speaker at the annual meeting of the Men's Club of the Unitarian Church to be held tonight.
Mr. Greeley is to talk on the subject "What Unites Us." He is an accomplished speaker with a ready wit and a broad viewpoint who will have a genuine message for his hearers.
As this is his first visit to the local club, it is expected that a large number of the members will be present to hear him. Prior to his address there will be a supper to be followed by reports from the officers and committees covering the activities of the past year.

JOHN E. SULLIVAN

TELEPHONE MANAGER TRANSFERRED

While regretful that he is leaving Winchester, the many friends of John E. Sullivan, for the past nine years manager of the local N. E. T. and T. office, are pleased at the news of his advancement to the managership of the Dorchester office as of May 22.

Mr. Sullivan will be succeeded by Joseph D. Murphy, now of the staff of the Telephone Company in Boston and formerly an officer in the U. S. Army Signal Corps.

The retiring manager has made a host of friends since coming to Winchester in November 1934.

John E. Sullivan entered the employ of the N. E. T. and T. Company in July 1930 following completion of his courses at the Harvard University Graduate School. He had previously been awarded degrees by Boston College and Boston University. He taught for two years at the Boston English High School. In his new assignment he becomes a resident manager since he has lived in the Ashmont section of Dorchester for 15 years.

Mr. Sullivan has been active in the civic and social life of the community sinc coming to Winchester. He has lectured on public relations activities before the service clubs, students in the schools, as well as social and fraternal organizations.

He is a member of the Chamber of Commerce and has aided in the various Red Cross drives to which the telephone employees made substantial contributions.

As chairman of communication of the Civilian Defense committee, Mr. Sullivan aided materially in planning the setup of the local Report Center. He will also be remembered for his work in the restoration of telephone service following the disastrous hurricane in September 1938.

In his contact with the patrons of the telephone company, Mr. Sullivan has proved to be a diplomat, especially during this period when the installation of new phones is a difficult problem, by keeping the public informed and by fair and sympathetic treatment.

STATE GUARD COMMENDED

The Adjutant General of Massachusetts, through the Commanding General of the First Service Command in Boston has made public the following commendation of Winchester's 16th Company, 2nd Infantry Regiment, Mass. State Guard, received following the anual inspection of the company at the town hall on Jan. 19, 1944.

"The inspecting officer was impressed with the high state of training of this unit. The officers and non commissioned officers of the unit have shown much initiative in improvising and securing training aids. The facilities provided for the keeping of equipment were excellent considering the limited space available in the town hall which serves as the unit's headquarters and drill hall."

To this commendation are added the personal commendations of Major Gen. John F. Williams, USA, acting chief, National Guard Bureau; Sherman Miles, Major. Gen., USA, commanding; William J. Keville, Brig. Gen., the Adjutant General; and Thomas F. Foley, Major. Gen. commanding Mass. State Guard.

There were a few casualties during the day and evening. One of the boys helping with the pony rides was bitten on the forehead by one of the animals, but the lacerations were not severe and were treated by Morris Kerr member of one of the Civilian Defense medical units and "Mr. First Aid" himself.

One of the men workers at a booth had his camel's hair sweater and new hat "snitched" on him and there were numerous pocket-books both lost and found. A woman was knocked down in the midway by an over-zealous dog of good size.

During the evening some of the younger children got separated from their parents or from older youngsters who stood "in loco parentis." These inevitably gravitated to the Information Booth, either nonchalant or tearful, according to their dispositions and the loud speaker was constantly bellowing the names of persons wanted to pick up the young wanderers, making a pleasing variation from the blare of the "jive music." Morris Kerr did most of the announcing, being at the "mike" most of the day and evening.

Quite a crowd was attracted to the Information booth about 9:30 when a cute little tot, said to have come from Chelsea, danced several times on the counter of the booth to the strains of the loud speaker.

Mrs. Lucius Smith arranged and distributed the advertising flyer and was also responsible for the interesting historical windows at Filene's and the Star Office. Mr. and Mrs. Morris Kerr helped with publicity.

WINCHESTER HISTORICAL SOCIETY

On Saturday, June 3, at 2 p. m. the annual meeting of the Bay State Historical League will be held with the Reading Antiquarian Society at the Old South Methodist Episcopal Church opposite the Common, Reading.

After the business meeting consisting of reading of records, reports, election of officers and the roll call the speakers will be Kenneth C. Latham, chairman of the Board of Selectmen, who will welcome the League in behalf of the Town of Reading, Rev. Willard C. Arnold, pastor of the Old South Methodist Episcopal Church, who will speak on "History of the Old South Church," Senator Arthur W. Coolidge who will speak on "A Brief History of Reading" and C. Nelson Bishop who will speak on "Old Houses in Reading."

Tea will be served in the church after the meeting.

The following old houses will be open for inspection:

The "Old Parker Tavern" built in 1694, home of the Reading Antiquarian Society, 99 Washington street, near the railroad station.

The Dana Parker House, 52 Salem street built about 1793.

The Bancroft House, 320 West street, built about 1720.

All members of the Winchester Historical Society, which is a member of this League, are welcome at this meeting.

COLD STORAGE

Despite rising prices, many allowed by changes and amendments to the OPA price structure, the charges for insured cold storage by Fitzgerald Cleansers remain the same as in the past. This means the charge is based on 2 percent of your valuation, instead of the customary 3 percent, with the usual minimums, charged generally by nearly all Boston firms, furriers as well as department stores. And the storage plant in which Fitzgerald Cleansers places your garments, fur or cloth, is far superior to the best those other firms have to offer. This is due, perhaps, to the fact that the vault was completed just before the war when all the latest equipment was available, protective and refrigerating. Consequently, it so happens that for $1 less for every $100 valuation declared, Fitzgerald Cleansers offer far better protective facilities than the large Boston firms.

Until conditions clarify, most likely not until after the war, dry cleansing will not be done. However, having installed special fur cleaning equipment before the war, it is intended to clean those furs that the customer wishes to have done by the recommended furrier's process.

The plant is open every week-day from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. Customary calls will be made by delivery. The telephone is Win. 2350. ap7-tf

SCHOOL NEWS

Winchester High School seniors start a busy week of festivities and academic completions this Saturday night when they will attend the annual class night banquet. It is hoped that some of the members already in the service will have this chance to renew acquaintances.

After dinner speakers will be introduced by Joseph Foley, senior class president who will act as master of ceremonies. Richard Fenno will read the class history, Mary Power will read the class will, Virginia Tuplin will reveal interesting statistics which have been carefully compiled, Stephen Greene will prophesy what to expect of these people in the future. Head table guests will be Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Kimball, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Quinn, Mr. Arthur Butters and Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Graves.

After the speaking there will be a program in the auditorium which Robert Johnston and his committee have prepared for the occasion. Herbert Moore, editor in chief of the Aberjona, senior annual and yearbook plans to distribute copies to the seniors as the evening draws to a close.

Class night committee consists of Richard Fenno, chairman; Richard Gallagher, music; Robert Johnston and Anne Richardson, entertainment; Frank DiMambro, decorations; Mary Power, publicity and correspondence. Graduation exercises will be held next Friday evening with Dr. J. Edgar Park, president of Wheaton College, as speaker.

GIRL SCOUT TROOP TALES

Ruth Halm reports for Troop 6 that they spent their last meeting learning how to tie knots. This will be good practical knowledge for the coming camping season.

The Girl Scouts have been invited by the American Legion to march in the Memorial Day parade. The girls will meet at the Town Hall at 10:45.

At the annual meeting of the Girl Scout Council it was decided that our Girl Scouts would take over the work of collecting flowers this summer for the Flower Mission in Boston.

The resignation of Mrs. Emily Greeley as executive secretary to Winchester Girl Scouts has been regretfully accepted. Mrs. Greeley has been able to give only part of her time to us this year. Now, through the generosity of the Community Fund, Winchester will have a full time director and executive secretary. We have been very fortunate in obtaining Miss Natalie M. Stansfield of Lawrence, who will come to live here in the fall. Miss Stansfield was executive secretary in Lawrence for five years and in New Rochelle, N. Y. for three years. She was also district secretary in Boston for four years. The past four years she has directed the Girl Scout camp known as Treasure Island, at Lake Winnipesaukee in New Hampshire. She is a graduate of the State Teachers College in Lowell and especially interested in outdoor sports and camping. We all look forward to a year of great activity in scouting.

The Mariners will continue to meet through June and all anticipate sailing on the lake with their skipper, Mr. Stanley Howe.

DESIGNATION OF MIDSHIPMEN TO U. S. NAVAL ACADEMY

And of Cadet to U. S. Military Academy

Examination at High School, Lowell, Saturday, July 29, 1944 at 9 a. m.

The Navy Department has notified me that I am entitled to designate from the Fifth Congressional District of Massachusetts two candidates for midshipmen in the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis, Md., such midshipmen to enter the Academy during the summer of 1945. I am also entitled to designate six alternates who will be designated in order of rank if the principals fail.

The War Department has notified me that I am entitled to designate from the Fifth Congressional District of Massachusetts one candidate for cadet in the United States Military Academy at West Point, New York, such cadet to enter the Academy during the summer of 1945. I am also entitled to designate three alternates who will be designated in order of rank if the principal fails.

The men whom I shall designate, both as principals and alternates, to enter the examinations for admission to the United States Naval Academy and to the United States Military Academy will be selected as a result of a district-wide competitive examination. This examination, which is entirely unofficial, I have requested the United States Civil Service Commission to hold, and the Commission will, without my intervention, prepare the questions, hold the examination, correct the papers, and certify to me the ranks and relative standing of the competitors. This examination will be held at the High School, Lowell, Mass., on July 29, 1944, at 9 a. m.

The examination will consist of algebra, plane geometry, English composition and literature, and United States history.

Those desiring to take the unofficial examination of July 29, 1944, should furnish me with their names, addresses, schools attended, and length of time they have resided in the new Fifth District, as soon as possible, but in no event later than June 20, that I may be able to forward to each a card of authorization to take the examination.

CAR CRASHED POLE

Henry B. Twombly, Jr. 18, of 3 Clarina street, Wakefield, sustained injuries to his nose and right knee when the DeSoto sedan he was driving north on Highland avenue crashed into a telephone pole in front of the home of Mr. Robert Eason near Valley road. Twombly told the Police the accident occurred when the steering mechanism of the car refused to function properly, causing him to lose control.

The front end of the car was badly wrecked and the telephone pole split from the ground five feet upward, as well as being moved several inches at the base. Twombly was taken to his home by Mr. Eason, it being necessary to tow the damaged car away.

MORE DAIRY PRODUCTS NOW AVAILABLE

Despite wartime shortages of feed and farm help New England farmers have managed to keep milk production at a high level. As is normal, milk production on farms during spring months increases sharply and this year it will be only slightly less than the all-time peak reached in 1942.

Because of the seasonal upswing, milk dealers' sales quotas have been increased somewhat. It means that there will not only be more milk available for civilian consumption, but even larger quantities of cream, cottage cheese, buttermilk and other by-products.

CARS CRASHED ON CAMBRIDGE STREET

Two cars were badly damaged and their drivers treated at the Winchester Hospital following a collision Monday afternoon shortly before 5 o'clock on Cambridge street near Robinson park. The accident occurred on the curve in front of of the former Rockwood estate.

According to the Police an Oldsmobile sedan, driven south by Lucien J. Cote of 515 North Main street, Manchester, N. H. and a Buick sedan, driven north by Byron D. Rogers of Crown street, Pinehurst, were the cars involved, meeting head-on. The front end of both cars were badly damaged, the Olds being towed to Haggerty's Garage while the Buick was towed to a garage in Cambridge. Officer William E. Cassidy handled the traffic which was more or less jammed after the accident.

Meanwhile Cote and Rogers were taken to the Winchester Hospital by Sgt. Thomas E. Cassidy and Patrolman Edward F. Bowler. They were treated by Dr. Richard W. Sheehy and permitted to go home. Cote had abrasions to both knees, lacerations of the chin, a cut on his eye-lid and a nose injury. Rogers had abrasions of the forehead, a cut on his right knee and complained of pains in his left chest.

BOY PULLED FROM MILL POND

Louis Evangelista, 5 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Evangelista of 834 Main street, had a narrow escape from drowning in the Mill Pond shortly after noontime on Wednesday.

The little boy was on his way home from St. Mary's School when he and some other children were playing around on the Mill Pond at the rear of the town hall. According to the child's story he was pushed into the water by another youngster, whose identity was not learned.

Louis was floundering about in the water on the opposite side of the island when his plight was noticed by Dana Pickering of 14 Hemingway street and Warren Foley of 10 Oak street, who hastened to his assistance. They got the little boy out of the water in the nick of time.

Meanwhile the Police had been notified and Officer Henry P. Dempsey hastened to the Mill Pond. He took the little boy to Headquarters and then home in the chief's car.

The many friends of Miss Ann Ciruso, of Swanton street, will be glad to know that she is well on the road to recovery after undergoing a serious spinal operation at the St. Elizabeth's Hospital in Brighton.

Mrs. Wilbur S. Locke has given up her apartment in Winchester Chambers and has moved to Ipswich, where she will remain for the present with her daughter Mrs. George Stevens (Martha Locke). Her daughter, Flora, (Mrs. Thomas Cox, Jr.) who has been here since the death of Mr. Locke, has returned to her home in Washington.

Lt. Donahue has been with the Armored Command since receiving his commission in March 1943, serving originally as plans and training officer for an Armored Infantry Battalion in Arkansas. Lt. Donahue was last home in September.

It is reported that Wallace L. Murphy and family of 33 Nelson street are moving to Ship Harbor, N. S.

James A. Cullen purchased and set out some 1500 pine trees along the banks of the river just north of Swanton street where he owns some acres of property. In a few years this should change the whole appearance of this section provided no one sets them afire as happened on the water department land north of Middlesex street last fall.

REFERENDUM PETITION DENIED

At the meeting of the Board of Selectmen held on Monday night, May 29, the petition for a referendum filed with the Board was considered.

The petition contained 274 names but, upon investigation and on a certified report to the Board by the Registrars of Voters it was found that 19 who signed the petition were not registered voters of the town, one person's name appeared twice, 9 names on the petition were not signed by the person named and 48 names were not names as they appeared on the list of registered voters.

The net result was that not more than 197 names properly appeared on the petition.

The statute provides that a petition for a referendum shall be "signed by not less than 250 registered voters of the Town, containing their names and addresses as they appear on the list of registered voters."

The Town Counsel advised the Board that compliance with the above requirement was a condition precedent to calling a special town meeting for the referendum and that the Selectmen could not waive this condition and therefore had no authority to call a town meeting as requested hy the petition.

WATER FOR VICTORY GARDENS

A victory gardener called the Star yesterday suggesting that some thought be given to making town water, from hydrants, or other outlets, available for drying plots to prevent the loss of vegetables. The gardener felt that those having plots would be glad to pay the going rates for water if they could secure it. He said that many communities are making water available for victory gardens during the present emergency and wondered why Winchester could not also do something to help. Any suggestions will he welcome.

WINCHESTER OBSERVED MEMORIAL DAY

Services at Both Cemeteries in Morning

Winchester honored its service dead of all wars at Memorial Day exercises held Tuesday forenoon, clear skies and bright sunshine helping to make the observance one of the best for several years. Plans for the observance were as usual in the hands of Winchester Post 97, American Legion.

Sunday the Post and its Colors attended the annually held Memorial service at the Second Congregational Church where the pastor, Rev. Harland Lewis, preached a Memorial Day sermon and appropriate music was rendered under the direction of Mrs. George H. Lochman, organist.

Memorial Day the program opened with the parade to Calvary Cemetery which left the Legion Headquarters shortly after 9 o'clock. En route along Washington Street the marchers halted at Leonard Field, named for Augustus M. Leonard who lost his life in World War I. Comdr. Keefe and Finance Officer Ove Mortensen acting adjutant for the day, placed a wreath in front of the Memorial boulder, after which taps was blown as the military came to attention and the crowd uncovered.

In the cemetery the exercises were held at the War Memorial, and included the usual echo taps and an address by Rev. Fr. James F. Fitzsimons, pastor of the Immaculate Conception Church.

Father Fitzsimons praised the veterans for their devotion to their deceased buddies as exemplified in the observance of Memorial Day each year. He also criticised Russia's Stalin for demanding so much of the other powers before consenting to meet them in the common cause. He felt that had the Allies acted more promptly and with greater firmness when China was invaded by Japan Mussolini would not have gone into Abyssinia and Hitler might well have held his hand, avoiding the present war.

Returning to the town hall, the line of march once again halted in front of the World War 2 Roster. A wreath bearing the names of those already dead in the present conflict, was placed before the roster by Comdr. Keefe, who also read the names aloud. Taps was then blown with the military at salute and the spectators uncovered. Several parents of boys whose names were read were among those present.

Breaking ranks after this ceremony the marchers partook of light refreshments at the Legion House before reforming to march to Wildwood. The roster included:

Police Escort, Lt. Edward O'Connell commanding
Auxiliary Police, Chief Ted Newhall commanding
Band of the First Motor Squadron, First Corps Cadets, M. S. G., Sgt. Edward F. Sammon, Drum-major
Comdr. John J. Keefe, Winchester Post, A. L. marshall
Post Finance Officer Ove Mortenson, Adjutant
Lt. Col. Harold V. Farnsworth, M. S. G.
Colors and Detachment, Winchester Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Comdr. Edward D. Fitzgerald commanding
Winchester Company, Mass. State Guard, Captain Leslie Tucker commanding
Colors and Color Guard, Winchester Post, A. L.
Winchester Post Detachment, Adjutant Charles Watson commanding
8 S. S. Turquin, Sea Scouts, Skipper Louis E. Goddu commanding
Winchester Air Squadron, Boy Scouts, A. Otis Weld commanding
Winchester Girl Scouts, Mrs. Clarence A. Roberts, Commissioner
Winchester Brownie Scouts
Winchester Boy Scouts
Winchester Sons of Legion
Winchester Cubs
Automobile Escort Selectmen
Motorcycle officer Irving Reardon

Wildwood was reached by the usual route, the line of march halting in front of the War Memorial on the high school lot while Comdr. Keefe and Acting Adjutant Mortensen placed a wreath at the base of the statue. Once more coming to salute the marchers stood while a drummer beat the long roll and a trumpeter sounded taps.

At the cemetery the exercises were held at the Soldiers' Monument on the hill. Echo taps were blown and the address made by Rev. Roger E. Makepeace, retiring minister of the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church.

CARROLL—HICKEY

At the Immaculate Conception Church on Sunday afternoon, May 28, Miss Esther Barbara Hickey, daughter of Mrs Elizabeth Hickey of Garfield avenue, Woburn, became the bride of Staff Sgt. William James Carroll, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. William James Carroll of Harvard street. Rev. Fr. James F. Fitzsimons performed the marriage ceremony at 3 o'clock and the bridal music was played by Mrs. William McGann, organist. Mrs. Gordon Brennan was soloist.

Miss Hickey wore a basque type gown of white satin and marquisette having a sweetheart neckline, traditional bridal sleeves, buttons down the back, and a very full skirt. The shirring of the basque was accented with orange blossoms. Her fingertip length veil was arranged with a coronet of seed pearls and she carried a bouquet of white roses and babies' breath centered with an orchid.

Miss Evelyn Carroll of Winchester, sister of the bridegroom, was maid of honor. She wore a dress of sky-blue lace, repeating the bride's sweetheart neckline and having a full skirt of net. Her flowers were yellow tea roses tied with skyblue ribbon to match her dress.

John Collins of Winchester was Sgt. Carroll's best man and two buddies of the bridegroom were ushers. They were Sgt. Joseph Thompson of Winchester and Technician James J. Pesce of Everett, both of whom served with Sgt. Carroll for 28 months in the South Pacific.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's mother, who assisted in the receiving line with the parents of the bridegroom. The house was decorated with cut flowers and a catered wedding supper was served. Upon their return from a wedding journey to New York and Niagara Falls Sgt. and Mrs. Carroll will make their home on Garfield avenue in Woburn.

BAD FIRE AT HENDERSONS

Many valuable old carriages and several automobiles were lost in a raging fire that burned out the interior of the big fieldstone storehouse on the Henderson farm at 208 Ridge street, Wednesday. The owner, Mr. Francis R. Henderson, notified the Fire Department of the fire at 7.05 Wednesday morning and Box 145 was put on at the station. It was 5 o'clock in the afternoon before the sweltering firemen got back to quarters and at 6 o'clock before the pieces were reloaded ready for the next call.

The fire started in the interior of the storehouse which is an unusual building resembling an old English manor-house, constructed entirely of field stones, approximately 100x75 feet, three stories high and having walls three feet thick.

The slanting roof was burned through and fell into the building and the wooden floors inside were burned. The terrific heat from the fire caused some of the stone masonry to fall and the building is pretty much a total loss, with reportedly no insurance.

The real fire was the contents of the building, and it would be difficult to estimate what this loss runs into. Many old carriages were stored in the buildings, carriages with ornate body work and hand wrought iron and steel work, impossible to replace. Mr. Henderson is a member of the Henderson family, famed as old line carriage makers and many of the vehicles stored in this storehouse had been brought from the Henderson factory in Cambridge, masterpieces of the carriage-maker's craft. Among the automobiles stored in the building were some new trucks, but it was hard to get an immediate check of the property destroyed because of excitement and necessity for keeping everlastingly at it to prevent the fire from spreading.

Fire Chief John J. Gorman wisely concentrated his attention upon the building to prevent the spread of flames. With the excessive dryness of the ground and the proximity of a large wooded area, serious trouble loomed in the event the fire got out of hand.

The firemen faced a difficult job to get water to the fire at all. A mile and a quarter of hose had to be laid from the hydrant at High and Ridge streets, four pumps being necessary to force water through the line to the fire. Winchester's Engines 1, 2 and 3 were in the line with Engine 1 of Woburn. Arlington sent apparatus to the fire but its assistance wasn't needed.

Winchester had five pieces at the fire all day, and quickly put out secondary fires that spread from the seething storehouse to fields nearby and old piles of lumber near at hand. Several sheds on the east were prevented from burning by the prompt work of the firemen.

While most of the regular firemen were at the fire Civilian Defense equipment, manned by Water Department men covered in at the Central Station with another piece fully equipped ready for action at the Lake street waterworks shops.

Chief Gorman, a veteran fireman, stated that the fire was one of the hardest to handle he had ever experienced. In fact he was of the opinion that the town had not previously seen one like it.

How it started is not known. A tramp was picked up by Officers Augustine MacDonald and James F. Noonan in the neighborhood of the Henderson estate, and was seen by residents of the district shortly before the fire was discovered. Whether he is connected with the blaze had not been determined when the Star went to press. He gave his name as Diomead Baranoff, no address. In the Woburn Court Wednesday morning Chief Rogers preferred the charge that Baranoff is a tramp and asked to have him examined. As a result of an examination by two physicians the man was committed to the State Hospital at Worcester for 35 days.

NEW RADIO AT POLICE HEADQUARTERS

Winchester has established a new frequency modulation (FM) broadcasting station for Police radio, covering the town and equipping three cars of the Police Department and three emergency cars of the Water Department. The Police cars are equipped with receivers and transmitters, but the Water Department cars have receivers only. There are of course transmitter and receiver in the station.

The set is the very latest model produced by General Electric, and will obviate the necessity for the local department to purchase service from Arlington as heretofore.

Upon the request of the Board of Selectmen the set was installed under the supervision of Water Commissioner Edmund C. Sanderson, the Selectmen recognizing the interest which the Water and Sewer Board has in such a set.

It is now in the test period and working very satisfactorily. Licenses will be issued to the local radio personnel when the test period is completed.

Ships Capture Parcels for Prisoners of War

The following has been taken from an announcement just released from American Red Cross Headquarters at Washington, D. C.

Looking toward the imminent invasion, the American Red Cross has shipped 6000 Red Cross capture parcels for distribution to American prisoners of war in Dulags, or transit camps, in Italy and Germany. The shipment now en route on the Swedish ship Mangalore, brings the total of such shipments up to 26,000. A further shipment of 24,000 capture parcels will leave within the next 30 days.

These capture parcels, the gift of the American Red Cross are issued through the International Red Cross Committee to American prisoners of war as soon as possible after they are captured. They provide newly captured American prisoners with immediate personal essentials.

The following items are among the contents of each parcel; pajamas, bedroom slippers, socks, underwear, sweater, toilet articles, soap, towels, shoe polish, handkerchiefs, mending kit, cascara, vitamin tablets, bandaids, pipe and tobacco, cigerettes and chewing gum.

Both in the transit and in the permanent camps, American prisoners are issued the regular weekly Red Cross food packages distributed to all American prisoners of war in Europe.

Effort is made to keep a three month's reserve of these packages, paid for by the Army, Navy and other U. S. Government departments, in all camps.

ORDER EASTERN STAR

You are cordially invited to attend the 231st stated meeting of Winchester Chapter No. 175 Order of Eastern Star if you are a member of the organization.

The meeting will be held Monday evening, June 5 at 7:45 in Masonic Apartments.

As this is the last meeting until September we hope many will attend and have a good time together.

Refreshments will be served by Sister Christine M. Clarke.

Last Saturday forenoon the Police were notified that a boy had been assaulted on upper Main street. Officer William Cassidy investigated and was told by the boy's father that his son had batted a stone against a car on Main street. The operator got out of the car, according to the father, and twisted his son's wrist, knocking the boy down and dragged him by the feet. The number of the car was given the Police and it was found to be registered to a Billerica man. The father was told to seek a complaint in court.

BUNDLE TEA FOR DIOCESAN THRIFT SHOP

Tuesday afternoon, June 6, from 3 until 5:30, Mrs. Henry B. Sawyer will be hostess for a bundle tea at her home 34 Cabot street. Each guest will bring a wrapped article for sale by the Pennywise Thrift Shop, Huntington avenue, Boston. The year round this shop is open, and has customers looking for every imaginable sort of thing from a Cape Cod lighter to a Spanish comb; from a penny-bank to a toaster. The Pennywise helps support some projects of the Boston City Mission, among them crowded parts of Boston and the supervision of children in good foster homes.

Tea in the garden, weather permitting will be in charge of Mrs. Miles Holbrook, assisted by Mrs. Frederick Abbott, Mrs. Helen Browne, Mrs. Dudley Cotten, and Mrs. Malcolm Nichols.

Mrs. Dwight W. Hadley, Miss F. Louise Nardin, Mrs. J. Warren Shoemaker and Mrs. Harold H. Blanchard will pour.

Mrs. Thomas Freeburn will have charge of decorations and will use garden flowers.

Cakes and sandwiches will be supplied by this committee: Mrs. A. H. Farrell, Mrs. Paul Roberts, Mrs. Roland Fletcher, Mrs. Francis Booth, Mrs. Malcolm Nichols, Mrs. Ellsworth Snow, Mrs. Gerald Y. Hills and Mrs. Marcus May.

The Evening Branch will sponsor a sale of home cooked food. This has been a popular feature of the Pennywise Tea in other years, so popular that canny guests shop at that corner first and then have their cup of tea. Mrs. Alfred Denley and Mrs. George Osborne will be in charge of the food table.

BRITISH WAR RELIEF

"Not blankets with actual holes in them," the surprised woman said incredulously, "you can't really use them for British War Relief." But definitely yes, say the expert salvagers at the Epiphany workroom. They don't say they are magicians that can make the holes keep babies or convalescent people warm, but the rest of the worn blankets they piece together as interlining for the little comforts they make for cribs or for the use of a wounded lad who has arrived at the stage of being wheeled out to a sunny corner beside an English wall. So the Winchester unit asks again for clean old blankets or other light-colored woolens that will make cotton quilts warm enough for the British island climate.

If it is doubtful whether American June will ever get into last winter's coat and woolen dresses after a summer's growth, her mother can save moth-proofing time and trouble by sending them into the central workroom in Epiphany parish house on Wednesdays. Then they will go right off for the immediate use of Scottish Jeannie, none to warm for her, where every season is the season for wool.

But don't be forgetting Malta where cotton and its modern kin are the proper weight for summer wear. Men women and children there will need what Winchester has outgrown or got tired of. And shoes!

WILL HOLD PICNIC JUNE 15

The annual picnic of the Women's League of the First Baptist Church will be held Thursday, June 15 at the home of Mrs. Martin Swanson on Cambridge street.

There will be a box luncheon with coffee and dessert served by the committee. Games will be enjoyed. Mrs. Norman Mitchell will give a talk on, "Flower Arrangement."

SONS OF ITALY NEWS

Many boys from the club and the Plains are home on furloughs for the holiday. Some of them are:

Deadhorse Chefalo who was home on a short furlough and as usual, he was up to Leonard Field hitting and shagging flies.

S-Sgt. (Chinky) Marchesi arrived home from the So. Pacific on a 21 day furlough. He is looking like a million dollars and is kept busy greeting his many friends. Chinky has had many varied experiences but is reluctant to tell about them. The most memorable one was when he met his brother Fiume in the So. Pacific. Fiume was injured at Hickam Field on Dec. 7, 1941 for which he received the Purple Heart.

Chiky said they certainly were glad to see each other. He came home on furlough with J. Gange of Woburn who has been with Chinky since they went down under 2½ years ago. Chinky is going to get married while he is home on furlough. Boy, some guys don't know when they've had enough fighting.

Francis (Butter) Muraco is home on a short furlough. Being in the infantry I suppose he'll spend most of his time home going on long hikes.

Another one of our members who is home on furlough is Joe (Speedy) Ficociello. He is now stationed in Lincoln, Neb., being transferred there from Laredo, Texas. Speedy was stationed about three miles from the Mexican border. He made several trips to Mexico and he said it is a swell country to visit. He spends quite some time relating about his experiences while on visits to Mexico.

Others who are home on furloughs are Johnny DelGrosso and Harry Boyle. Harry is located in Camp Lee, Va., and he sees quite a lot of Tommy Hannon of Westley street. Harry and Tommy used to pal around in civilian life so they are certainly glad to be together in an Army camp.

We received a letter from Angelo Valente, the latest member of our lodge who has entered the service. Angelo is in the infantry at Camp Croft in South Carolina. Angelo sends the members his best regards and also writes about army life. He writes that all he does is march, morning, noon and night, but he loves it.

He enjoys Army life and especially the new friends he is making.

Speaking of making friends in the service many of the boys say that the worst of it, after you make a new group of friends you have to part. But they all say they were glad to meet so many interesting fellows.

Next week I'll acknowledge some letters, if I get them. Get it, boys?

PALSON ARMY PILOT

Richard C. J. Palson, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Palson of Myrtle terrace, was last week commissioned a second lieutenant in the Army Air Forces, receiving the coveted pilot's wings at graduation exercises held at the AAF Advanced Single Engine Pilot School at Marianna Army Air Field, Fla.

Lt. Palson graduated from Winchester High School in the class of 1941. He was a star track and cross country performer while in high school, captaining the cross country team in his senior year. After high school he attended the Massachusetts School of Art.

A CORRECTION

We are indebted to the correspondent who brought to our attention the statement made in the May 19 issue of the Star to the effect that Lt. Amos Shepard, USAAF, is the second Winchester boy to be reported a prisoner of war in Germany. This statement overlooked the fact that Tech. Sgt. Borden H. Lindsay of this town was reported a prisoner of war in our issue of April 7, after having been originally reported missing in action on Feb. 24. We regret the error and are glad to correct it.

STATE News GUARD

The 16th company, 23rd infantry, Mass. State Guard journeyed to Wakefield last Sunday and together with other units of the State Guard, the Coast Guard Temporary Reserve, the American Legion and other military and civic organizations participated in Wakefield's celebration of its tercentenary and dedication of its honor roll.

On Tuesday, May 30, the company, marched to both Calvary and Wildwood Cemeteries. On that day the company was quite pleased to have Lt. Col. Harold V. Farnsworth, assistant executive officer of the 22rd infantry march with them.

On Wednesday evening, May 31 our State Guard Company had its annual State inspection. This inspection was conducted by Major T. Arthur Irland and covered the entire list of military subjects studied by the organization since its induction into the Mass. State Guard.

Pfc. Herbert Cleary having satisfactorily passed the examination has been promoted to corporal.

The State has called back the shot guns originally issued to the company and in their place have issued the U. S. rifle M-1916, often referred to as the Enfield.

Later this summer the state will call back the green uniforms now worn by State Guardsmen and in place issue two complete uniforms to each man (one for summer and the other for winter) These together with the new rifles, gas masks and other equipment recently received will prepare our own State Guard company for any service it may be called upon to furnish.

Cpl. Angus McFeeley has passed his examination and has been appointed a sergeant. Sgt. McFeeley will serve as mess sergeant.

MEN'S CLUB, UNITARIAN ANNUAL MEETING

The annual meeting of the Mens' Club of the Unitarian Church was held last Friday night, May 26, and officers were elected for the club's new years, which began June 1.

Don Kroell was re-elected president of the club for a second term.

Also elected for second terms were Raymond C. Terhune, treasurer, and Edward G. Stacy, secretary.

Stark G. Mills was chosen vice president to succeed Arnold Nichols who has left Winchester.

For its executive committee, in addition to the officers, the club elected Arthur H. Hall, Roy N. Hallowell, and John P. Moser.

Reports from the officers showed the club to have enjoyed an exceptionally active year with a present membership of nearly 130 representing an increase of approximately 100 new members.

President Kroell revealed that the club's interest in the welfare of boys the projected community centre, town affairs and other subjects of importance to members.

He announced that the success of last year's experimental picnic which the club conducted for the children of the Sunday School had led to the decision to hold one this year and that Saturday, June 10 had been selected for the date.

The Winchester Star was given an enthusiastic and unanimous vote of thanks in appreciation of the generous amount of space accorded the club's doings during the year.

Following the reports, William Roger Greeley, national president of the Unitarian Laymen's League, gave an interesting exposition.

FOLEY ELECTED CHAIRMAN OF PACK 6

Mr. John Foley who has been the efficient secretary of the Pack Committee of Pack 6 was elected chairman at the annual meeting of the committee at the Unitarian Church.

Charles Nichols was elected secretary and E. George Pierce, treasurer.

A unanimous vote of thanks was passed for the splendid leadership of the retiring chairman, Stark Mills, who brought the pack from a membership of 20 boys and five dens to a membership of 64 boys and 8 dens. Under his leadership the pack won the prize for selling tickets for the annual exhibition, the blue ribbon for its booth, and a 99 per cent rating in the council. The final events of the pack will be its field day on Saturday, June 3 on the grounds of the Unitarian Church and the annual dinner in honor of the den mothers on June 16.

COMMISSIONED AT YALE

Lt. Richmond prepared for college at Belmont Hill School and Tabor Academy. He had completed three and one-half years at Northeastern University before entering the Air Forces. At college he was on the freshman hockey team and the varsity rifle team. He has traveled through Europe and the Middle East.

TOURTELLOT WINS WINGS

Carl T. Tourtellot, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl T. Tourtellot of 25 Calumet road, recently won his wings after successfully completing the Army Air Forces Advanced Flying School training at Williams Field, Chandler, Arizona. He has been appointed a flight officer. Flight Officer Tourtellot was a former student at Dartmouth.

PRIDHAM AND GARDNER CHAMPS

Last week-end can hardly be inscribed in the annals of the Palmer Beach Horseshoe Association as notable for the quality of the pitching contributed by the members during the regular matches, held in the shade of the picnic area at sun-drenched Wedge. No one covered any doubles, in fact there were few enough doubles thrown.

Herbert "Garrulous" Gardner and Roland "Thin Finger" Pridham emerged as champs from the session, winning three matches while dropping one. The fact that they didn't beat anybody much takes most of the credit from their titular rating.

The meeting opened with "Wild Willie" McLaughlin, the Pride of Stowe and Champion of all Nabnassett, pairing with the Secretary to take on President Royal "Paper Trade" Teele and Bob "H. M. S." Rodney Walsh. Willie and the Scrivener started like a prairie fire, but petered out to an overnight smudge and eventually were defeated, two games to one, the Secretary blowing higher than they hung Mr. Haman years ago.

"Garrulous" and "Thin Finger" then took up the White man's burden and did all right with it, winning two out of three, though dropping the second game by a 1-25 count that Mr. Teele will be slow about permitting them to forget.

Returning to the wars, Wild Willie and the Scrivener again took it on the chin, two out of three, after which Royal and "Rodney" took another beating. It just looked like Mr. Gardner and Mr. Pridham were too good for the field.

It was at this time that Mr. McLaughlin went around the bath-house for a drink from the bubbler and removed his natty white linen cap, always trouble signals for the opposition. He and the Secretary hitched up their belts and started after the champs once more.

Mr. McLaughlin carried the torch. The Secretary had lost what little turn his shoes ever have and despite the frequent tossing of his head-gear against a tree, was able to do little except pick up an occasional odd point while Willie carried the load.

The deciding game went to 23-22 in favor of Mr. Pridham and Mr. Gardner. "Thin Finger", pitching first, tossed two shoes within half an inch of the stake. The way the Secretary was going that feat was tantamount to victory and Mr. Teele was inviting Mr. Gardner to "put it there" when the luckless Scrivener unearked a mongrel shoe that went up backwards all the way, but in some inexplicable manner wedged itself firmly between one of the Pridham shoes for the point that tied the ball game and kept "Willie" in the money.

Mr. McLaughlin was appreciative and showed his appreciation in a practical way, by casting a pretty ranger and a close one.

Mr. Pridham admonished Mr. Gardner to cover the ringer and it cannot be denied that Herb's was a good sporting effort. He concentrated, he deliberated, he plotted his course carefully and he finally let fly. His shoe going in caulks down landed squarely upon Mr. McLaughin's shoe and skated off the pin. His second shoe was perfectly thrown for opening but was short. The champs had at last lost one. Mr. Teele was avenged and Mr. McLaughlin, putting on his cap, admitted he felt better. Mr. Pridham said he was satisfied. Mr. Gardner said nothing at all.

W. H. S. '36 CLASSMATES MET IN MEDITERRANEAN AREA

This past winter while unloading from his L. C. I. onto a pontoon dock, Lt. (jg) Robert C. Linnell looked up when someone called his name to see his former cassmate at Winchester High, Henry Hill. At another time in a strange city, Bob poked his head in a jeep about 10 o'clock at night to inquire the location of a certain ship. Was he amazed to look into the familiar face of another Winchester boy, John Plumer. Recently Bob writes that the three were able to get together again and while dining at a gorgeous modern club, sitting at small tables on a terrace on a high hill among trees and beautiful flowers, they remarked that they certainly never dreamed at their desks in Winchester High that they would meet at such a spot under present conditions. Henry has been in a hospital for a slight wound and is now resting as he has seen a great deal of action in the front lines.

HOWARD COMMISSIONED

Aviation Cadet Wallace Howard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul H. Howard of 345 Main street, was recently commissioned a second lieutenant at graduation exercises of the Army Air Forces Training Command School at Yale University.

Lt. Howard has been trained as a technical officer in Armament, responsible for the functioning of guns, the synchronization of gun sights and gun cameras, and the loading of explosives and ammunition on board a plane before it leaves on a mission over enemy territory.

Amico Homered and Pitched Locals to Victory in Finale

Angelo "Scratch" Amico pitched Winchester to a Middlesex League victory over Concord last Friday afternoon 14-9, on Manchester Field, helping along the winning cause by hitting a home run in the 8th inning during which the local boys scored six runs. Big Sam Tompkins finished up for Amico, but the locals were ahead when Scratch left the game so he gets credit for the win.

The game was pretty much of the harnyard variety with both teams making errors of omission and commission, nine of the latter being charged to the clubs. Amico got four hits in five times at bat including his home run to capture batting honors for the afternoon. Saraco made a corking running catch of Wood's drive off the left field foul line in the 5th. The summary:

Pre-Memorial Day exercises were held in the schools on Monday with members of the American Legion assisting.

The program at the high school included music by the orchestra, pledge of allegiance to the flag, scripture lesson, silent prayer for graduates who have given their lives in this war, Lord's Prayer and an address by Comdr. John Keefe of the American Legion. Comdr. Keefe stressed the fact that observance of Memorial Day should be on a high plane and urged that those who will help to make the peace should try their utmost to make it a lasting peace.

The New Deal, they say, will win hands down in the coming fall election. The people, they say, forget too easily any dissatisfaction they may hold against it; and everyone is just swimming in money. If you are one of these, we are sorry you have read this far. If you do your own thinking, remember the old American and want a nation founded upon our Constitution and not the fantacies of a bunch of self-seeking politicians, you can at least add your vote to the minority side next November—and who knows what might happen?

A news item of the week which interested us is the fact that of the large group of war workers in a Boston plant arrested for falsifying their time and receiving huge sums in overtime, were in a large majority 30 years of age or younger. The fact in itself may hold no significance, but we are led to recall that when our New Deal started 12 years ago the man 30 years old was but 18, and the 25-year-old was 13. These young men have had the New Deal with its Supreme Court, Montgomery Ward and hundreds of other examples to follow during their formulative years. Respect for the law and the United States has been and still is deteriorating. We can hand the New Deal no blossoms for instilling any integrity in American life or ideals.

Newspaper accounts during the past several months have given us considerable cause to consider the gasoline situation in this vicinity and to wonder how and what the conditions are. We have read continuously of this neighborhood being flooded with counterfeit gasoline coupons and recently the capture of a ring which had ready for sale counterfeit coupons amounting to over a million gallons of gas. This one instance alone gives food for much thought. If all the other items are considered therewith there is a whole meal to digest. The point which we cannot swallow is where all this gas comes from? A card holder's gas told there is a shortage of gas. And yet counterfeit coupons for millions of gallons of gas are being honored and their holders are having their tanks filled! How is it? If there is enough gas to take care of all this unlawful trade, why are the honest people and the holders of A coupons still held down to—what is it, a gallon a fortnight? The situation to our thought is typically New Deal. The play along with them, roll with the punches boys are getting theirs while the getting is good—and the getting seems to be very good indeed. One is led to seriously question any shortage of gas if these millions of gallons are available to holders of counterfeit coupons. As one critic remarked, the honest people are getting it in the neck as usual, and before we go much farther we will all be a nation of criminals.

MEMORIAL DAY

newly enlisted as a Chaplain in the United States Army.

Mr. Makepeace said in part that Memorial Day is a day for remembering all that has gone into the making of the Country. It is a day of consecration to high ideals and to the determination to hold what the past has given us as heritage. Finally Memorial Day is a day demanding faith in God as revealed through Christ, for only in that spirit can we build the sort of world for which our men are fighting.

Returning to the Legion House ranks were broken and refreshments served before the marchers betook themselves home. The line of march at both parades was the longest for several years and all of the marchers with the exception of the band were from Winchester.

Parade Jottings

Those who regularly attend Memorial Day parades in Winchester rate this year one of the best for some time. About all the units were from Winchester too. Naturally it was the State Guardsmen who dressed up the parade, and the home town folks seeing their company for the first time had reason to be proud of it. The men were well turned out, marched creditably and handled their new Army rifles with precision. Captain Tucker and Lt. Dellicker have brought the company along in the shape, the improvement over last year being very noticeable. The Guardsmen wore khaki this year instead of forestry green and the bandsmen were garbed in the same uniforms. It seemed funny not to see the old Winchester Post Band in regulation uniforms at the head of the parade, but the light khaki gave a very pleasing effect. Chatting with Drum-Major Edward Sammon after the parade the Star reporter learned that most of the old Winchester Post Bandsmen are included in the Motor Transport Band and that Walter Jones, former leader of the Post tooters, missed the parade only because he happened to be ill. Henry "Gus" Woods, another former leader, died during the early spring. Capt. Raymond D. Fales band member of the Cadets, came out to Winchester and was very apprecd ative of the nice things said about his outfit. They deserved their praise, for they played a lot and well. AND they had a glockenspiel, without which no band can begin to hold its head up. The Legion had a good turnout and the "old boys" went over the route despite the heat. So, too did the Veterans of Foreign Wars whose colors were carried by Past Comdr. Paul Bourinot and Henry Zobrzio, with two veterans of World War 2, James Russo and Ralph Del Grosso, guards. Paul Marchesi, home after 28 months in the South Pacific was also in line with the Vets as were two or three other members of this war's armed forces whose names we did not learned. New in line this year were Winchester's Air Scouts, a small unit uniformed in light blue under Commissioner Ollie Weld. Harry Moulton, Bob Dotten, Robinson Whitten, John Custer, Staff Rogers, Roy Paul Harmon, Chapman, and Adin Bailey were the Scout leaders in line and Gordon Bird, H. Royal Brown and Elliott Dudley were in charge of the Cubs. The latter made quite a hit, as did the Girl Scout Brownies. The Boy Scouts had a big turn out which was gay with banners. The Girl Scout turnout was smaller than usual, one troop being out of line entirely. The girls made their usual good appearance. They were under Mrs. Clarence A. Roberts, commissioner, Mrs. Donald W. True, Mrs. Donald Hamilton and Mrs. Donald Elliott. It gripes the Girl Scouts each year not to be allowed to march to both cemeteries, and this year quite a little gossip from Troop 7 did march to Calvary. The leaders feel that visiting two cemeteries is too much for the girls and the cubs, and the fact that several of the young sters were the worse for wear at Wildwood after both parades would seem to bear out their contention. Too much pop at the Legion House between parades didn't help any either, but you can't blame Bob Guild for that. He did his best to cut out the refreshments at the March Town Meeting. Sgt. Joseph Derro led the Police escort to Calvary, his men being Patrolmen John H. Boyle, John E. Hanlon, Walter Murphy, John Murray and Archie O'Connell. Patrolmen Clarence Dunbury, Joan Hogan Augustine MacDonald, Francis Tansey, Stanley Mullen and Jimmy Noonan followed Lt. "Big Ed" O'Connell to Wildwood. A wag in the crowd hollered to Tansey, a former star left-hand pitcher, to keep his hand one hid and on the inside, but Frankie replied that a curve off the outside corner and low was the stuff to feed the troops. Retired Lt. John A. Harrold, who time out of mind used to lead the afternoon parade, rode over the route in Jack McCarthy's automobile with Allan Wilde. Bill Hevey and Frank Capone, a discharged veteran of World War 2 John got a fine hand all along the line of march . . . Big Neil McCarthy and George Donaghey (the old reliables) carried the Legion colors with Bob Johnston and Cliff Towner as guards. Bob had to watch his carriage at least until he got by John Gilhooly's house.

Most popular men of the morning were the Legion stewards led by Fred Mitchell (old Black Watch himself) and including Ken Colgate, Jim Treacy, Bob Sullivan, Axel Hallberg, John Kelley, Louis Goodell and Bob Sullivan, Jr. Once again Lou Goddu's Swascouts did themselves proud in the parades. Turned out in whites with regulation leggins, the boys marched precisely (you bet they did) and knew their military etiquette. When Lou called "hep", they "hepped" and how! Dick Coon was standard bearer and the guards were Dick Fenno and Alan Bugbee. . . The Selectmen decided against marching this year and went over the route in a spandy looking Ford open job driven by Ralph Bonnell. The board got quite a hand going through Willow Street entering the cemetery with "Bud" Watters leading the cheering.

The parade was much more free of straggling urchins along the line than usual and this surely didn't hurt the appearance of the line of march a bit. That was rather an impressive moment when Comdr. Kosch read the names of those already dead in the present conflict. Rep. Bill Ramsdell was in line with the Legion but admitted there was a very little spring in his heels after finishing up in fact a proposal that the Legion nines play a game of softball in the afternoon found "no takers". . . Did you notice how well Lt. Col. Harold Farnsworth, M.S.G., looked at the head of the line of march not much like the old days when he used to RIDE with the Safetymen.

DiMAMBRO STATE "B" 220 CHAMP

Winchester Placed Two at Newton

Frank DiMambro, smooth running black-clad pilot for Winchester's High School speedboy, won the State "B" 220 yard dash at the State Meet of the Massachusetts High School Athletic Association last Saturday afternoon at the Dickinson Stadium in Newton, with Johnny Ottiano picking up a fourth in the broad jump to boost Winchester's total to 6 points. This placed the Red and Black 9th among "B" schools behind winning Methuen with 18 points, and defending champion, Belmont, with 15. Wellesley finished third with 12 and the remaining teams were Cambridge Latin 11½, Dedham and Weymouth, tied, 10½, Worcester Classical 10, Concord, 8, Winchester, 6; Milton, 5½, Waltham 3, Lexington 2, Arlington 1½, Jamaica Plain 1, and Worcester North, 1.

Methuen won the Class A competition with Boston English second and Newton, third. Jimmy Taylor of Malden ran the half in 1m 59.7s to break the class "A" record, English did the half mile relay in 3 31.5 for a new mark and Arthur Collins ran 10s flat for the 100 to equal the class "A" figures.

DiMambro ran two corking fine longs, winning his trial heat in 23.3s for the best time of "B" preliminaries and turning in 22.7s in the final which he won by five or six yards, despite the fact that he was the last contestant out of his holes.

"Rat" ran a virtually perfect race in the final, fast over the first 75, coasting through the middle to finish with a kick that the field couldn't begin to match. The class "A" boys did 22.5s, but DiMambro could have matched those figures, had he been pressed, and it's our guess he could have won the big 220 if he had been in that close.

Winchester was counting on Ottiano for points in the century but Johnny broke twice for false starts in his trial and was put out of the race. He has beaten Belmont's O'Brien the ultimate winner of the century in class "B". Charlie Lovejoy carried Winchester's banner in the 100, and ran his best races of the year, placing second in his trial, won by Coviello of Arlington in 10.7s; and being barely shut out in the semi-finals.

In the quarter Frank McIlvan and Ken Harvey ran for Winchester, the former being edged by John Hager of Lexington in 54.4s with the race in his pocket. Frank was in third place rounding the last turn, but turned on the heat to pass both Hap Jones and the then leading Bill Tufts of Belmont to run out front until the last two yards Hager was at his shoulder and lunged past McIlvan with an arm lift which the Winchester boy didn't match. At that Frankie broke 55s for the first official time of his running career and can go much faster than that.

Harvey placed third in his heat won by Harold Ingraham of Dedham in 53.5s. Ken came strongly over the last 100 yards of the race but was too far off the pace to finish better than a fighting third.

In the half Tom Kirwin and Kevin Burke carried Winchester's colors. The distance is too short for Kevin and he failed to place in his heat, but Kirwin picked up a second in his heat behind Robert Carr of Milton in 2m 07.2s, finishing strongly but starting his sprint too late to threaten Carr who built up a big lead on the first lap. Only a sophomore, Kirwin showed lots of promise and with two more years of competition should be a hard boy to beat before he's through.

In the field events, both Kendall Way and Roger Tolman went out in the early stages of the high jump started at 5.0f. Ottiano got off a 19 ft. 2½ in. jump to place fourth in the broad, won by Bill Tufts of Belmont with a better than class "A" leap of 20 ft. 7½ in. Johnny took a hard spill on one of his first jumps in a pit which hadn't been dug up and this didn't help him any in successive efforts. He got out within a fraction of an inch of 20 ft. against Arlington and such an effort would have placed him second.

Besides DiMambro, Maurice "Tikky" Reed ran the 220, placing second in his heat, won in 23.4 by Flanagan of Dedham, with a good fighting performance. Winchester scratched its entry in the relay.

EPIPHANY CHURCH SCHOOL CLOSES

The closing session of the upper grades in the Epiphany Church School was held at 11 o'clock Sunday, May 28. The Rector, Rev. Dwight W. Hadley conducted the service of Morning Prayer and made a short address on the importance of religious education, and the large and inescapable part which parents and the home must take in this work. One scant hour a week cannot inform our children of the Christian history and faith, settle them in Christian life values, and establish them in the practice of Christian ways of living. To leave the whole important undertaking to the church school is to assure failure.
The superintendent of the Upper School, Mr. Robert H Sibley, gave the certificates of promotion. These pupils received certificates with honors in the year's work.
Fourth grade—Todd Wallis, David Fossenden and John Bodman.
Fifth grade—Caroline Edgar, Virginia Dyer, and Elliott Walters.
Sixth grade—Ann Dillingham and George Ferguson, Jr.
Seventh grade—Elizabeth Seager and Patricia Willing.
Eighth grade—Virginia Walters, Philip Livingstone, David Swiedler, and Todd Wyman.
Ninth grade—Jack Barnes, Norman Brooks, William Reinking, and John Shepard.
Tenth grade—Barbara Walters, Thomas Sawyer Knight, Jr., and Jeremiah Smith.
Mr. Hadley presented diplomas to the graduating class: Robert D. Halstead, Paul O. Heineman, Thomas Sawyer Knight, Jr., Sallie Ray, William T Shoemaker, Jeremiah Smith, Lester Troast and Barbara Walters. Honors in the entire course were won by Barbara Walters and William T. Shoemaker.
The Kindergarten and the lower grades of the church school held their final sessions on May 21. This class finished the course of the primary school and will enter the Upper School in September. Rogers McCreery, Richard Beck, Anthony Fletcher, John Barchus, Philip Salmon, Richard Woodward, Charles Nichols, Geoffrey Nelley, David Meskell, John Everett, Robert Clark, Carol Foster, Alice Seager, Mabel Shoemaker, Florence Herrmann, Helen Hertig, Sandra Thomason, Cynthia Moses, Elizabeth Curtis, Deborah Fish, Genevieve Ridout, Deborah French, Beverly Browne, and Lucille Symmes

GET SET FOR THE FIFTH WAR LOAN DRIVE

The next War Bond Campaign opens on June 12th, and will continue up to and including July 8th. Our total quota is $1,853,000 in which is included a goal of $382,000 in "E" Bond sales. To put it another way our new quota, both in total and in "E" Bonds is just about what we actually sold in the last drive, all of which makes it very clear that Winchester faces a tough job and one that can be licked only through the active, patriotic cooperation of every resident.
Maurice C Bird, who again heads Winchester's War Loan workers, announces the appointment of the following precinct chairmen and co-chairmen. The list, which at present is incomplete will be given in full next week:
Precinct No. 1- Chairman, Leslie A Tucker, 54 Hillcrest Parkway.
Co-Chairman, Mrs. Joy A Woolley 5 Fells Rd
Precinct No. 2 Chairman, Wm. B Wood, 247 Highland Ave
Precinct No. 3—Chairman Walter A Redding, 28 Lloyd and Rd
Precinct No. 4—Chairman. Wm Cusack, 2 Lakeview Rd.
Precinct No. 5—Chairman. Mrs Caroline S Fitts, 9 Grasmere Ave
Precinct No. 6 Chairman. Ed J McGrath, 8 Highland View Ave.
Co-Chairman. Charles H Gallagher 15 Canal St.
Precinct Chairmen and Co-Chairmen will recruit their staffs with the aid of church, civic, social and other organizations and it is planned to call upon every home during the two week period beginning June 12th
Among the interest features will be a competition with the town of Winchester, Virginia, which has about the same population as our own Winchester and a War Bond which approximates ours. The southern Winchesterites went all out for the idea when it was suggested and, since truth is stranger than fiction, it turns out that their War Bond Chairman, Mr. Wendell R Barnes, was born and raised in our neighboring town of Ashmont, Mass
Plans are under way for a monster War Loan dinner to be held simultaneously in Winchester, Va., and in Winchester, Mass., probably on Saturday evening, June 24th, although this date is not yet definite. The Virginians will send their famed Aunt Susan Tokes, pronounced Takus. She is both capable and colored and will serve a real Southern Fried Chicken Dinner as it is done in Dixie For our part, we are looking hard for some bona fide resident who knows beans and whom we can send to Winchester, Va., to superintend the cooking of a genuine New England bean pot dinner. If you, gentle reader know how to cook the succulent bean in its traditional grandeur and can supervise enough beans for a thousand eager eaters, please step forward —telephone Maurice Bird (Win 2019) at once.
It is planned to hold our local Southern Fried Chicken Dinner in the Town Hall Park of the weather is clement, otherwise in the Town Hall The cost per plate according to present reckoning, will be 99 cents and this includes admission to the Mock Auction to be held in the Town Hall following the dinner. Naturally there is a string tied to this offer of so much for so little In order to get your ticket you must show your receipt indicating that you have bought a $25 War Bond during the present Drive—and the more bonds you buy—the more dinner tickets for which you are eligible
Jumbo thermometers will be erected on the Common showing the progress of Bond sales in our town and in Winchester, Va. Incidentally, any "E", "F" and "G" Bonds or Series C tax notes purchased during the period from June 1 to July 31 will be credited towards our quota

ALLEN CHAMBERLAIN, 2D

Funeral services for Allen Chamberlain, 2d, Ensign (brevet lieutenant), USCGR, accidentally killed in the line of duty in the Pacific area were held at Bigelow Chapel, Mt. Auburn Cemetery, on the afternoon of May 29. The services were conducted by Rev. John Nicol Mark of the First Church, Unitarian, of Arlington, and Lt. Lyle Weed, Chaplain, Coast Guard, Boston headquarters. Mr. Earl Weidner of Malden, organist, rendered two hymns during the services, both compositions of Ensign Chamberlain.

The Coast Guard was represented by Lt. James W. Hawkins, surgeon of the USS Muskogee, the ship on which Ensign Chamberlain was damage control officer and navigator, and by Ensign Carl Melanson and Lawrence Johnson, boatswain's mate 1-c, in command of a detail of eight seamen pall bearers, a firing squad of 12 seamen, and a bugler who blew taps following the committal.

The altar was banked with a mass of floral remembrances from many relatives and friends, among them two baskets of red roses from the officers and men of the Muskogee, now on the Pacific station.

Ensign Chamberlain was the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Chamberlain and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Chamberlain, both of whom were former well known residents and who have many friends here in Winchester. His grandparents now reside in Rockport and his parents in Arlington. He is survived by his widow and one child.

JOHN P. McHUGH

John P. McHugh of 51 Clark street died Saturday morning, May 27 at his home in his 43rd year.

Mr. McHugh was the son of Peter and the late Delia (Toland) McHugh. He was born in Winchester June 29, 1901, attended the Winchester schools and for several years was in business as an electrical contractor. Latterly he had been employed as an electrician for Boston contracting firms.

Mr. McHugh leaves, besides his father, his wife, the former Margaret Mills; two sons, John and Robert McHugh; three daughters, Elizabeth, Margaret and Karen McHugh; two sisters, Mrs. Walter Murphy of this town and Mrs. Frederick Murray of Burlington; and two brothers, Joseph of Woburn; and Frank McHugh of Somerville.

The funeral was held Monday morning with high mass of requiem celebrated in St. Mary's Church by Rev. Fr. George F. Wiseman. Bearers were Bart Conlon and Joseph Cossett of Woburn, Anthony Keenan and Timothy Callahan of Winchester, Harold McCue of Georgetown and James McCue of Woburn.

Interment was in Calvary Cemetery where the committal prayers were read by Fr. Wiseman.

SEND IN FUEL APPLICATIONS

Householders of Winchester were urged today by Mr. Dunbar F. Carpenter, chairman of the local War Price and Rationing Board to return their next season's fuel oil renewal forms as promptly as possible.

There are only six questions to be answered. Many of the applications turned in to the board are being returned to the applicant because of their failure to answer all six. Please do not overlook any questions.

We in the local board would certainly appreciate it if all householders here in Winchester would make a special effort to return the forms within seven days from now," Mr. Carpenter said. "It would help us; it would help the fuel oil distributors here and it would also benefit all fuel oil users."

To date only one-third of the forms have been returned by consumers.

WASTE PAPER SALVAGE

John C. Kiley regional WPB salvage manager reports that special appeals have gone out to all salvage chairmen in New England to make extraordinary efforts to promote waste paper salvage. This is due to the fact that the greatest demand for waste paper for war purposes is beginning in June.

Orders for Victory boxes in which food, clothing, and other material is transported to the front are being increased from 200 to 300 percent. The Victory box is a waterproofed container which can be thrown overboard from merchant vessels and landing craft and floated to shore. They can stand exposure to the weather while being brought forward to the fighting forces.

No paper should be destroyed. Save every bit and get it into the collection in Winchester on June 21 and 22.

The Fire Department answered two alarms over the past week-end. At 4.55 Saturday afternoon Box 144 was put on for a fire which started in some old lumber in the open cellar of a former barn on the farm of William Irwin, 18 Ridge street. Sunday at 4.55 there was a brush fire on Holton street near the home of Mr. C. N. Eddy.

The other car involved in the accident, also a Plymouth sedan, was owned and being driven north on Main street by Frank Nuttall of 123 Farmland road, Lowell. The cars collided at the junction of Main street with Mishawum road.

CUB PACK 3 NEWS

Cub Pack 3 held their tank race on Saturday, May 27 on Woodside road extension. This tank race is a war time version of the soap box derby races but instead of soap boxes the racers have bodies mounted on them which simulate army tanks.

The prize winners of last year's races were held to be ineligible for prizes this year. The first race, however, was a demonstration race of last year's prize winners and was won by Elliott Hersey with Phil Nelson in second place.

The second race was won by John Rocray with Peter Browne in second place.

The third race was won by the tank driven by George DeCamp with Gordon Bird in second place.

The winners of the second and third races then coasted down the hill to determine the fastest tank constructed this year and the honors went to John Rocray.

The fifth race included all tanks built this year and was won by the tanks built by John Rocray and Peter Browne who received the speed prizes.

The two fastest tanks in this year's races then raced the two fastest tanks in last year's races and the results were as follows: 1st, Elliott Hersey; 2nd, John Rocray; 3rd, Phil Nelson; 4th, Peter Browne.

Prizes were also awarded the builders of the tanks for the following qualification as follows:

Most realistic tank, Peter Browne.
Best construction, John Rocray.
Greatest firepower, Geo. DeCamp.
Best camouflage, Gordon Bird.

This coming Satruday, June 3, the Cub Committee are planning a field day to close the season.

MISS SHAUGHNESSEY SURPRISED

Miss Peggy Shaughnessey was pleasantly surprised last Monday evening, May 29, at a shower given in her honor by her cousins, the Misses Kaye O'Leary and Chris Flaherty at the home of the latter, 7 Webster street.

The house was gaily decorated in pink and blue, and the bride to be was seated beneath a colorful parasol suspended in the center of the living room. Surrounded by relatives and friends, she opened her many lovely gifts and delightfully expressed her appreciation and gratitude. After the gifts were opened a delicious collation was served. Refreshments were climaxed by the cutting of a beautiful bride's cake decorated in pink and blue to carry out the color scheme.

Guests were present from Malden, Marlboro, Milton, Everett, Lawrence, Woburn, Boston and Winchester, and they departed at a late hour with many well wishes for the happiness of the bride to be.

Miss Shaughnessy, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James C. Shaughnessey, will become the bride of Dr. Robert J. Fahey, son of Mrs. John Fahey and the late Mr. Fahey of Marlboro, on Saturday, June 24, at 10 o'clock in St. Mary's Church, Winchester.

THIS IS HOW YOUR SUGAR STANDS

Dear Neighbor:

Let me tell you briefly just why it was necessary to change the method of issuing sugar for home canning. When the program was first announced, applications came into the local boards all over the country long before the fruit was ripe for canning. It is unbelievable but nearly every application was for the full 20 pound maximum and many had to be rejected. Certainly no one at that time knew how much fruit she was going to can, since no one knows, even now, how much the vines and trees are going to bear nor how much will reach the market for civilian use.

If that rate had continued, the sugar allotted for home canning would have been distributed long before the late crops became available and many people would possibly have used up their sugar for other purposes. Despite all you might have heard to the contrary, there is still not enough sugar in America to supply all of our wants, even though the supply picture looks brighter than it did in February and March. If there were plenty we should not have to continue rationing sugar. We'd stop rationing sugar just as we stopped rationing coffee, if the supply should become adequate.

Under the revised home canning plan, two periods are designated during which applications may be made. The first period for this district is from June 1 to July 31. The second period is from Aug. 1 to Oct. 31. These periods are based on the actual seasons when the most home canning is done.

Before you fill out your sugar application form, let me ask you to think a minute.

There will be available for you up to 25 pounds of sugar for every person in your family to use in canning food, if you need that much. Before you decide that you are entitled to 15 or 20 pounds, ask yourself: "How much do I actually need for canning?" Perhaps five or ten pounds will do the job for you.

Won't you please, therefore, ask for just enough sugar for your canning needs. Please don't apply at all if you aren't going to do any canning or preserving. This is a direct appeal to your American patriotism, based on what we know to be true. How about it, neighbor?

Dunbar F. Carpenter,
Board Chairman

Rationing Board No. 136.346

WINCHESTER HAS FIRST DROWNING ACCIDENT OF SEASON

Winchester had its first drowning accident of the new season Wednesday afternoon when Constantine Chikas, 15, of 138 Riverside avenue, Medford lost his life while bathing at Palmer Beach.

According to the Police account of the accident young Chikas, with his 14 year old brother, Thomas, and Salvi Daidone, 12, of 140a Riverside avenue, Medford, went to the beach for a swim. Constantine and young Daidone were in the water about 25 feet from shore where the depth was about 4½ feet. Daidone saw Chikas start to struggle and go under. He went ashore and told the boy's brother who in turn told the lifeguards, Edith Dover, senior guard, and James Quine 15. The latter assisted by Edward Amico, 14, of 334 Cross street and Edward Ayer 15, of 74 Sylvester avenue, located Chikas and brought him ashore. The prone method of resuscitation was commenced at once by Guards Dover and Quine and Gilbert A. Chadwick of Tufts College, Red Cross life saving instructor.

Meanwhile a call was sent into both the police and fire departments. Motorcycle Officer Irving Reardon and Patrolman William E. Cassidy going at once to the beach while Officers James Flaherty and Edward Bowler followed with the department ambulance. Officers William E. Cassidy and Archie O'Connell also responded. Firemen Thomas Kileoyne and Roy Nowell drove one of the department's trucks to the beach.

Chikas was brought ashore about 5 o'clock. The police ambulance arrived about 5:30 and the inhalator was put in use at that time. Drs. Harry Mueller, Roger Burgoyne and Philip McManus were at the beach and assisted with the resuscitation, as did the Police and Firemen and Sgt. Harry Boyle and Cpl. John DelGrosso, soldiers who were at the beach. Shortly before 6 o'clock the boy was placed on the fire department truck and taken to the hospital where the resuscitation efforts were continued, augmented by the hospital inhalator.

Chikas' father, Nicholas, arrived at the hospital at 6:45 and 15 minutes later Dr. Burgoyne pronounced the boy dead. Medical Examiner John Wilcox of Woburn being notified.

ROTARY NOTES

Winchester Rotarians met yesterday in Masonic Hall for their weekly dinner and meeting, an attendance of 99 percent almost meeting President Ernest's ambition for a 100 percent meeting before his retirement.

The speaker at the meeting was Principal Weston of the Roberts Junior High School of Medford. He gave a most interesting talk on the history of city of Boston. Interspersed with many side lights, his remarks gave much pleasure to his hearers and it was with regret that the closing hour was reached.

Following a rest period after the luncheon a large group of Rotarians met to travel to the blood bank in Boston to make their regular donation.

WAR PARENTS OF AMERICA

Just as the Minute-Men of old met for the purpose of maintaining the Liberty and Freedom for which they fought and for which our children are now fighting a group of parents met and organized and adopted a Constitution with the following objectives:

1. To further the welfare of our sons and daughters serving or having served, or inducted to serve in the Armed Forces of the United States and to promote such projects as will protect their right to peace and security.

2. To give united effort toward winning the war.

3. The development of acquaintance as an opportunity of service.

4. To aid members in all problems pertaining to the war.

5. To promote principles of true Americanism.

6. The advancement of International understanding, good will and lasting peace.

Some of the objectives for local chapters are:

To keep in touch with all war parents in the community to see that none are in want or distress while their sons and daughters are away from home.

To cooperate with all local war effort such as the Red Cross, U. S. O., Selling War Bonds and Stamps, etc.

To discuss plans with local authorities regarding methods of post-war planning. To aid and assist local service men and women when they return to their homes.

To work with all agencies in the community to obtain jobs for returning service men and women.

To encourage all in the community to give thought to all peace plans that are advanced for the future.

Every mother and father having a son or daughter inducted to serve, or serving or having served in the armed forces of the United States since December 7th, 1941 are eligible to become members of War Parents of America. Further information in regard to Winchester Chapter No. 16 now being organized, may be obtained from the temporary secretary Frances T. Conlon (Mrs. T. W.), 54 Canal St., Winchester, phone Winchester 0509.

OUR DEMOCRACY—by Mat
"PENNIES, DISMES, DOLLARS"
DURING THE FIRST THREE YEARS AFTER THE U.S. MINT WAS FOUNDED IN 1792 OUR YOUNG NATION COULD ONLY MAKE $442,000 WORTH OF "DOLLARS, DISMES, HALF-DISMES, PENNIES AND HALF-PENNIES." SINCE THEN MORE THAN $64½ BILLIONS IN COINS HAVE BEEN MINTED.

TODAY, ONLY A SMALL PART OF OUR MONEY IS REPRESENTED BY COINS..... OUR MONEY IS ONE OF OUR POWERFUL WEAPONS OF WAR. WE ENLIST OUR DOLLARS IN THE FIGHT WHEN WE BUY WAR BONDS, MAINTAIN OUR LIFE INSURANCE AND INCREASE OUR SAVINGS ACCOUNTS.

WINCHESTER BOAT CLUB NEWS
Club Chatter

Every year about this time, we are expected to do a little predicting—give you guys and gals a little inside dope as to who will win the coveted championship of the Winchester Boat Club's Snipe Fleet. Using an amazingly accurate and scientific system (known only to us and the kids in the neighborhood) we carefully evaluate the worth of each skipper and his crew and by a process of elimination (eeny, meeny, etc.) arrive at some very sage conclusions.

So here we go out on a limb (pardon me, I mean boom) and predict herewith and now that Donald Simonds will capture the crown vacated by George Wiswell, Jr. Don was runner-up to George last year, only a few points behind, and from watching him perform the past weekend, hewill be the skipper to beat. His boat is in tip-top shape and he has lost none of his knack for coaxing the gentle zephyrs his way. However, there is one fly in the Simond's ointment—a jinx No skipper who has previously held the Club Championship and lost it, has ever regained It later. Don will have to beat this jinx as well as some very hot sailors.

The chief opposition to Don will come from George Jones. "Bill" Hall, Jim Snow, "Bob" Swanson, Dave Merrow, Roger Curtis and Commodore Jim Newman.

George Jones won the last race of the 43 season and was right up near the top most of the year. His boat is second to none and his sailing partner Paul Buckland—is a crack crew.

"Bill" Hall's "RONDIC" looks like a new boat "Bill" tucked away several races last year and with a new suit of sails and plenty of confidence, will be a hard man to beat Jim Snow won five out of the last seven races last year and if he can take up where he left off our prediction won't be worth its weight in water lilies.

"Bob" Swanson, is the proud possessor of last years championship boat. This, plus the fact that he's a swell sailor spells plenty of pressure on Simonds.

Dave Merrow has an illustrious boat, a name that stands for superior sailing at the Club and enough ability to put that name back on the Don-Jan Trophy again.

Santa Claus delivered a new suit of sails to Roger Curtis who was hard enough to beat last year with hun ones.

Last but not least, in the race for the championship, is Commodore Jim Newman. He now owns that fine fast Snipe WIS-BY and the boys may find it extremely difficult to whizz by Jim

Now, sadly enough, we come to the fleet flounders—those hapless tars who are among those present on the lake but nothing more. These wake wallowers include "Bart" Sullivan, Johnny Allen, Leon Tuck, George Field, Holbrook Bugbee (a newcomer) "Mike" Elwell, Gus West and Carl Freyer.

These skippers sail for their health and to get out of doing the dishes, and if one of them ever got better than fifth in anything more than a five boat race, the Racing Committee would probably call a congresional investigation to find out where they'd hidden the motor. Yet these lads probably have more laughs per race and more thrilling races—for next to last place—than the hot skippers who are home having dinner by the time these laggards reach the gut.

'44 should prove to be a sailing season packed with sensational races and a wide open affair for the Championship We'll string along with Simonds as champ but when you consider that a breeze scarcely strong enough to fluff a skirt often means the difference between victory and defeat, how can even our infallible system be just that?

CLUB CHATTER

Last Friday's' party, under the guiding genius of Carl Moore, was enjoyed by a capacity crowd. Everyone present hada hilarious time and the Club's entertainment committee deserves a whole bouquet of orchids for starting off the season in such a satisfactory fashion. Judy Hawkins, the Club's new life guard went on duty last weekend and did a swell job. You parents who may have any misgivings about your youngsters' safety while swimming may dispell them. Judy is on duty from 10 - 12, and 2 - 5, so as long as your youngsters swim during these hours they'll be carefully watched. Keep Saturday, June 17th open. The entertainment committee is planning a bean supper on the club grounds. Since Saturday is the traditional bean supper day, better plan to enjoy them at the club

Flash!

Don Simonds put some teeth in to the above prediction by winning the first race of the season last Sunday. Second place went to Roger Swanson and "Bart" Sullivan was third and a half, but a broken jib stay George Jones led the fleet for a lap ruined his chances. . .

MANSFIELD GOES TO POMFRET

Wendell D. Mansfield, head football and basketball coach at Springfield College for several years and former director of athletics at Winchester High School, has been appointed head of the Department of Physical Education and Director of Athletics at Pomfret School in Connecticut. He will coach both football and baseball at the school in addition to his other duties.

Coach Mansfield, who went to Springfield from Bates where he coached both football and baseball, will sever his connection with the first named Sept. 1 when the college will close for the duration. His position at Pomfret is a permanent one, and he and Mrs. Mansfield will locate in their new home at the school in the early fall.

Pomfret is a small, conservative school of about 150 boys, with a high reputation. It should be a place in which Mr. and Mrs. Mansfield, with their own high ideals, can be very happy while rendering a service of real value to the school. Their many friends in Winchester are happy to know of their new location and wish them the best of luck in their new field.

The Legion has been granted the use of the town hall on July 4 from 8 a. m. to 2 p. m. for the Independence Day program.

Rev. George Hale Reed has been appointed to serve on the History Committee, replacing Mr. Marshall W. Symmes who resigned.

The Board made a tour of the town in the police cars testing the new radio and found it more than satisfactory, with not a dead spot. Mr. Sanderson deserves the thanks of the town for his success in putting this installation through, with all the war time restrictions imposed upon the necessary material and the red tape entailed to obtain it.

Chief Rogers has been authorized to purchase a new motorcycle.

It has been voted that the polls shall be open at 1 p. m. and closed at 7 p. m. on July 11 for the Biennial State Primary. It is hoped that these hours will accommodate all who wish to vote.

MRS. ELIZABETH DOWNS WADSWORTH

Mrs. Elizabeth Downs Wadsworth, wife of Lewis L. Wadsworth, whose home, Great Hall, on Arlington street, is one of Winchester's most beautiful estates, died Monday, June 5, at the Peter Bent Brigham Hospital in Boston after a short illness. She was the sister of the late Jere A. Downs, one of the early partners in Hayden, Stone and Co., Boston banking house and a former president of the Boston Stock Exchange.

A native of Boston, Mrs. Wadsworth was educated in the Boston schools and at Teachers' College in Boston. She came to Winchester with her brother when a young woman of 20 years, living for a time on Washington street and for the past 30 years at Great Hall, built for her brother, who died Dec. 30, 1935.

Mrs. Wadsworth was greatly interested in flowers and widely known for the beautiful orchids and other rare blooms grown in her greenhouses and elsewhere on her estate. She was a member of the American Orchid Society and a life member of the Mass. Horticultural Society, having during her years of exhibiting won at one time or another all but one of the awards given by the latter organization and being permanent holder of the Burrage Cup for her orchids. CPL. MANZIE REPORTED KILLED IN ACTION

Mr. and Mrs. Waldo B. Manzie of 10 Bridge street received last Saturday an official War Department telegram reporting their son, Cpl. Edward V. Manzie, USAAF, killed in aerial action over Italy Nov. 1, 1943. He had been reported "missing in action" since that time.

Cpl. Manzie was born Feb. 7, 1920 in Winchester, son of Waldo B. and Mary (Rogers) Manzie. He attended the Winchester schools and was graduated from Winchester High School in the class of 1937. Before entering the service he was employed at the Food Mart on Washington street and was well known to followers of local baseball as the centerfielder of the old Winchester Cubs.

Cpl. Manzie entered the service in May, 1942, training in the south and middle west before going overseas from Memphis, Tenn. He had been overseas since Feb. 22, 1943 and participated in the Tunisian and Sicily Campaigns, holding the African Campaign Medal and the Air Medal. At the time he was killed he was serving as radio operator and aerial gunner on a Boston A-20 "Havoc" Bomber, being one of a crew of three.

Following the report that he was missing in action, Cpl. Manzie's mother received a letter from an officer in the young aviator's unit, saying that the spot in Italy over which his plane had been in action, had fallen into Allied hands, and that wreckage of a plane, thought to have been his, had been found together with two unidentified graves. Later one of the members of Cpl. Manzie's crew turned up, so that his family was in a measure prepared for the news of his death.

Besides his parents, Cpl. Manzie leaves a sister, Miss Marjorie Manzie of this town, and a brother, Sgt. Francis Manzie, attached to a medical unit at Camp Ellis, Ill.

A high mass of requiem was sung for the young aviator Wednesday morning at St. Mary's Church.

PEACH—GREENE

In the garden of her mother's home on Saturday afternoon, June 3, Miss Dolly Elizabeth Greene, daughter of Mrs. Charles Edward Greene of Highland avenue, and the late Mr. Greene, became the bride of Edward Tucker Peach, U SN., son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Wallace Peach of Northfield, Vt. Evergreen trees banked with cut flowers made an attractive setting for the ceremony which was performed at 5 o'clock by Rev. Howard J. Chidley of the First Congregational Church. The bridal music was played by Mrs. Charles S. Livingstone and Mrs. Robert A. Drake, soloists, accompanied by Miss Alice Parker, pianist.

Fourteen girls, including several Middlebury college-mates of the bride, formed an aisle through which the bridal party advanced to the clergyman. Besides the college girls there were included Miss Emily Greene, sister of the bride; Miss Betty Jean England, Miss Jane Armstrong, Mrs. Ralph M. Buechler (Elnora Terhune), all of Winchester; and the bride's cousin, Miss Carolyn Smyth of Milton.

Miss Greene was given in marriage by her brother, Stephen Cutler Greene, and attended only by her sister, Mrs. W. Winslow Smith (Eleanor Greene) of this town. The bridegroom had his father for his best man.

The bride wore the wedding dress of silk and old lace previously worn by the bridegroom's mother. Her short veil of tulle had been worn by her cousin, Mrs. William Linde (Elizabeth Everts) of Chestnut Hill, and was of tulle, arranged with orange blossoms to form a self cap. Departing from the traditional white, her bouquet was of spring flowers. Mrs. Smith wore a dress of pale heliotrope and carried a sheaf of iris.

An informal reception was held following the ceremony, after which Mr. Peach and his bride left on a wedding journey to include stops at Brattleboro, Ames Hill, Northfield and Middlebury. The bridegroom is in the United States Infantry stationed at Camp Phillips, Salina, Kansas, and upon his return to duty there he will be accompanied by his bride who will remain in Salina for six weeks before returning to Middlebury College for the summer semester. A graduate of Winchester High School, class of 1941, she will receive her degree from Middlebury in October.

Mr. Peach is a graduate of Middlebury, class of 1943. He was in the ASTP at University of Nebraska until the Army discontinued this branch of training, after which he was assigned to Camp Phillips as pfc.

WADSWORTH—HEATH

Miss Margaret Draper Heath, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Heath of Everell road and Christopher David Wadsworth, USNR, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Wadsworth of Concord, were married last week Thursday afternoon, June 1, at the Church of the Epiphany. Given in marriage by her father, Miss Heath was attended by a college classmate, Mrs. James B. Clifford of West Haven, Conn., and by Miss Margaret Q. Young of Brookline.

Harrison Tweed Wadsworth was best man for his brother, and the ushers were William B. Wadsworth, brother of the bridegroom; Stephen Baldwin and Nizar A. Jawdat.

The bride, a graduate of Winchester High School and of Wheaton College, where she was elected to Phi Beta Kappa, is now studying at the Harvard Graduate School of Design. She plans to return there to complete her studies and receive her degree in the fall. Mr. Wadsworth is a graduate of Trinity College and was attending the Harvard Graduate School of Design when he entered the service last November. He returned from overseas duty the day before his marriage.

JAMES E. CULLEN

James E. Cullen, who died Friday, June 2, at his home in Lynn, was the brother of Mrs. Milton J. Quinn, Mrs. William E. McDonald, Mrs. Harry E. Brown and Benjamin F. Cullen of this town.

Before moving to Lynn some years ago he was a resident of Winchester and will be remembered by older residents of the town. He was prominent in fraternal and labor circles and had often served on mediation boards in labor disputes throughout the east.

Besides his reatives in Winchester, he leaves his wife, Mrs. Nora Moynihan Cullen; two sons, formerly of Panama, now at the Officers School of the United States Maritime Service at New London, Conn. and Benjamin F. Cullen, gunner's mate on the U. S. S. New Jersey; two daughters, Erline M., and Margaret E. Cullen, both of Lynn; and a sister, Mrs. R. F. Rainville of Stoneham.

The funeral was held Monday morning with solemn requiem high mass celebrated at St. Joseph's Church, Lynn. Interment was in the Cullen family lot in Calvary Cemetery.

WEEK-END FIRES

The Fire Department had a comparatively easy time of it over the past week-end, there being only three alarms.

The first was at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon for a woods fire at the rear of the Henderson Farm on Ridge street. Saturday evening at 7:14 the department was called to take care of an over-heated valve on a boiler at the home of Mr. John H. Joy, 93 Church street.

Sunday afternoon at 3:30 there was a fire on the newly filled land on upper Mystic Lake near the aquaduct at the extreme end of the Sandy Beach peninsular. Chief Gorman found that the fire was actually below the surface of this made land, a peaty fibroud substance having been set afire, probably by the extremely hot rays of the sun.

TRAMP PICKED UP HERE HAS LONG RECORD

Dionead Baranoff, no address, picked up by Officers Augustine MacDonald and James F. Noonan on the morning of the big fire at Henderson's last week Wednesday, and subsequently committed to the State Hospital in Worcester for 35 days after being examined by physicians when arraigned in the Woburn court, has been found to possess quite a record.

Police Chief William H. Rogers checked with the Department of Public Safety and learned that Baranoff, under several aliases, has a record which goes back to 1917 when he served 28 days in England. Since that time he has been often in trouble, generally for vagrancy, begging or malicious mischief. He has also been arraigned for assault on an officer and was in the Norwich State Hospital for a time in 1939.

Baranoff was picked up in the vicinity of Henderson's Farm and while no charges have been made, the Police and firemen believe he may have been responsible.

PARISH PLAYERS GIFT

Helps War-Battered Youngsters

No type of war relief could give more satisfaction to the givers than the use to which the gift of the Parish Players has just been allocated by British War Relief. The money will help the Heritage Craft Schools in Chailey, Sussex.

Here war-crippled children are being taught trades that will make them self-supporting, useful and happy men and women. Boys learn all sorts of skills, from cobbling to carpentry. One staircase in the school the boys themselves built. Girls learn to sew, to cook, and to weave.

As a boy or girl is trained enough to make his way, he leaves the school and gives place to another. Unfortunately continuing raids constantly bring new cases needing the special education. At present about 100 youngsters are in the Craft Schools at Chailey.

SONS OF ITALY LODGE NEWS

At our monthly meeting held on Tuesday evening, June 6 the Winchester Lodge voted a sum of money for the expenses of our three delegates to the State Convention which will be held on June 24, 25, 26 to be held in Pittsfield.

Gay Vespucci wrote and told how he met his brother Jack, Capt. William D. Barone and Nick Armato, who lives next door to Gay in Winchester.

Sgt. Rugged Muraco who is in the Air Corps and is stationed in Douglas, Arizona was injured slightly while going through a phase of his military routine. He fractured his right wrist and three fingers. He is now in the base hospital recovering.

We received a V mail letter from Bud Stygles who lives on Oak street. He writes: "Have received copies of the Winchester Star and I am glad to read of the news of the town and the Plains. I am glad to hear that Jumbo is coaching a ball team. I have met only one Winchester boy. He is Tom Cassidy, the son of our genial Police Sgt. Thomas Cassidy. We had quite a chat. Played my first game of softball and my team lost but I enjoyed myself anyway. Give my regards to all the brothers.

Sam Corby who is stationed in Camp Gordon, Ga., wrote Mingie a card. He writes: How are things up that way. I'm still enjoying this army life. Give my regards to all the brothers.

Mingie also received a V mail from Sam's brother, Peter, who is more affectionately known as Poison. Poison writes: "Hello Mingie you old so and so. How is everything on the home front? It has been four months since I landed on this spot which is known as the Anzio beachhead. Where we are stationed was a beautiful spot at one time. Some of the places I have visited are very interesting. Say hello to the boys and tell them I expect to see them in a few months.

As I am writing this the invasion of occupied Europe has started. We at home are praying for a speedy victory and the quick end of tyranny that has been forced on the peace loving people of Poland, France, Greece and the other occupied countries of the European continent.

We at home have doubled our efforts to help in any way possible to help this war to come to a speedy and successful end.

Everyone knows what a swell job the New Deal has done for labor. It is heralded on every side and from every corner. The following clipping from a Wednesday morning paper shows very nicely how the good work is progressing.

At least 12,000 employees were idle at the Wright Aeronautical plant in Lockland, Ohio, and the production on finished airplane engines was halted there. Company and CIO union spokesmen agreed that the stoppage was a protest against mingling white and negro workers and both sought to end the stalemate. The U. S. Conciliation Service certified the case to the War Labor Board.

The Timken Roller Bearing Company at Canton, Ohio, reported nearly 1000 CIO unionists had left their posts in a seniority dispute.

More than 1000 members of an independent union were out at the Du Pont rayon plant in Old Hickory Tenn, in a strike over reinstatement of two workers, while 350 AFL adherents and others ceased work at the Victor chemical works in Mt. Pleasant, Tenn., because a switchman was suspended.

At Lockport, N. Y., 500 were idle at the Simonds Saw and Steel Company.

A strike of 60 truck drivers which had put 800 production workers on the sidelines was ended at the Illinois ordnance plant in Carbondale, Ill.

CALL WATER DEPT. FOR WATER

To the Editor of the Star:

We would suggest that the Victory gardener who called the Star in regard to water for gardens consult the Water Department as it is the business of the department to supply water to the citizens of the town.

There are very few garden plots that need special water connections and they can be had for a normal charge. This covers the connection, the meter, and the tap, installed to the property line. The charge for water is at the regular rate. Several services have already been installed.

It is very bad practice to use hydrants for any other purpose than for fire protection. It does not seem wise to make an attachment that may be a menace to the fire fighting equipment.

Yonrs respectfully,
Water and Sewer Board
Edmund C. Sanderson,
Chairman

BRITISH WAR RELIEF

He was in the first 1000 bomber raid on the great German war industries in Bremen. He has met many a U boat and he lives to tell the tale. Some of that tale he will tell to workers for British War Relief at noon Wednesday, June 14, at the dutch treat luncheon in the Copley Plaza ballroom. This speaker will be Sqd. Leader W. Roxburgh, D. F. C. Now he is air attache at the British Embassy, Washington. Originally he was a pilot in the Coastal Command He knows first hand what our American airmen are like in action, for his squadron joined the 8th U. S. Army Air Force in many a bombing raid on German production centers.

The other speaker will be from the British Navy, Lt. Comdr. Nicholas Monsarrat, RNVR, He is the author of two war novels about sea fighters, East Coast Corvette and H. M. Corvette. On these is based the film Corvette K-225. A 15 minute resume of this film will be shown.

Tables will be reserved for the Winchester unit if workers immediately on reading their Star, Friday evening or Saturday, will telephone to Mrs. Francis Madge, 0554-J.

Now from planning to go to a party, let's turn to some right down to earth home work. It's the British hospitals. The "Smoky Joes" are carrying the wounded back now hour by hour from the grim fighting at beach heads and rail centers as the army of liberation pushes into the continent. Every scrap of old sheet or pillow-case will be turned into hospital squares if Mrs. Cornelia Lindstrom can get her unwearying fingers on them. In may she made and sent 1300 of these squares. Bring all your worn white cotton to Epiphany parish house on Wednesdays. Or on any day, if you will just mark it British War Relief and leave it inside the door of the parish house.

WELLESLEY COLLEGE CLUB

The luncheon and annual meeting of the Winchester Wellesley College Club will be held at Little Shaker, Friday, June 9, at 1.15 p. m. All Wellesley Alumnae are welcome.

PRIDHAM AND GARDNER AGAIN

Roland "Thin Finger" Pridham and Herbert "Garrulous" Gardner once again won titular honors at last week-end's regular meeting of the Palmer Beach Horseshoe Association on the Wedge Pond courts. The members had complained of the excessive heat of the week-end previous, but there was little if any improvement displayed in their form with a brisk breeze blowing off the water and the glass in the low 60's.

Mr. Pridham and Mr. Gardner contributed the most consistent pitching of the session, but their championship stature was stunted somewhat by the fact that they were beaten their first time out by Royal "Paper Trade" Teele and the Secretary, who thereafter couldn't beat anybody and would have had a tough time of it even with the proverbial rug, so often used for purposes of invidious comparison.

There was in the case of Mr. Teele some excuse for his sorry showing. Royal had contracted a heavy cold during the hot weather of last week and was definitely below par; that is, physically. His pitching was about what it has been all spring. Elementary is the word that comes most quickly to mind as you recall it, yet even elementary is away too good to describe the Secretary's pitching. He was, except for a few minutes at the very start of hostilities, exceedingly sour indeed.

He and Mr. Teele did succeed in defeating Mr. Pridham and Mr. Gardner, two games to one, and it would be paltering with the truth to say that Mr. Teele carried the load. Later in the session he had his moments, brief though they were, but by that time the Secretary had faded beyond recall and Royal's semi-occasional ringers weren't enough for victory.

Nor were Mr. Gardner and Mr. Pridham so hot, when you come right down to it. They had the deuce of a time licking "H. M. S. Rodney" Walsh and Howard "Foul Line" Wittet in a see-saw match that went to odd games and was only slightly shorter than the well known "Paradise Lost" by the late Mr. Milton. Mr. Walsh and Mr. Wittet won their right to play Mr. Gardner and Mr. Pridham by disposing of the President and the Secretary in an odd game match in which the first and last games were won 25-21, and 25-23. A ringer in the final box, the first time by Mr. Wittet and in the second instance by Mr. Walsh, decided the issue just when it seemed that Mr. Teele and the Secretary must surely win.

Mr. Walsh was of all the pitchers the only one in really championship form. "Rodney" was pretty hot during most of the morning and he has to be for Mr. Wittet, badly unnerved by the possibility that the cold weather had put the hooks to his prized blueberry bushes, was more or less erratic. He did get an occasional ringer just when they hurt most, but by and large Mr. Walsh was the boy who brought home the cured porker.

The final game of the session was pretty sad, Mr. Teele and the Secretary going down two straight to Mr. Pridham and Mr. Gardner, failing to get into "the doubles" in the second game at that.

"Wild Willie" McLaughlin, the Pride of Stowe and Champion of all Nanasett, was unable to participate in the matches, having sustained a "Charlie Horse" of the back on the day previous while making a readjustment of the furniture at the house. He hobbled over to the beach midway through the session and sat stiffly in the sun, confining himself to verbally encouraging the warriors, who certainly needed help, and bemoaning the fact that he wasn't playing.

Arthur E. Butters, sometimes called the State of Maine Champ, was for the steenth time among the missing, and as his absence was W. O. L. there was some talk of reading him out of the Association at a drumhead court martial or something. Mr. McLaughlin, however, strenuously objected to such drastic action and in consideration of "Willie's" bad luck and strong feelings, the matter was finally left in abeyance with Mr. Teele not voting.

HIGH SCHOOL BOYS TO PLAY SUMMER BALL

In an effort to give high school boys interested in baseball a chance to play the game this summer Coach Henry Knowlton has made arrangements to have all but senior members of this year's team continue as a unit during vacation, playing two or three games a week with teams in neighboring cities and towns. Upon the departure of Coach Knowlton to camp after July 4, the boys will be handled by Mr. James Coon of Brooks street, former Harvard player and keenly interested in baseball.

The local boys will open tonight on Manchester Field, playing the Stoneham Town Team at 6 o'clock. Guy Washburn and Tony Bucci will be the battery for Winchester with Ted O'Rourke, 1st, Sarto Walsh, 2b, Dean Blanchard, 3rd and Sam Tibaudo, ss. The outfield will be Slack in left, Jim Haggerty in center and Cogan or Hicks in right. Chucker Roche, former Winchester High baseball star, newly back from Key West, Fla, will also be with the team, probably pitching and playing the outfield. Bill Gibbons will umpire.

Coach Knowlton would be glad to hear from any teams hereabouts interested in playing the local group. Call. Win. 0574-J.

AWARDED AIR MEDAL

Lt. (jg) John C. Trask, Jr., of 25 Fletcher street, whose wife is making her home here at that address, is one of the New Englanders recently awarded the Air Medal for service in Naval Aviation in the Southwest Pacific Area.

JONES AND SWANSON SHARE SNIPE HONORS

George Jones and Roger Swanson split the week-end races of the Winchester Snipe fleet, George winning the Sunday morning and Roger the Saturday afternoon event.

Neither of these races was hotly contested. In the Saturday afternoon race, Roger, after a half a dozen tussle with Freyer's Phooka, pulled away and sailed a leading race, winning by a good 50 yards over George Jones' Youani, third place going to the Phooka, which was a good distance in the wake.

In Sunday's race, George Jones jockeyed his Youani across the starting line first and stayed there. Although he started seven minutes after the Medford Comets, he came in first in their race, too, which gives you an inkling of how far ahead of the rest of the Snipe fleet he finished.

Comdr. Jim Newman saved second for himself and Bob Swanson was third. The rest of the wake wallowers, finished more or less in their standard positions.

Steward's Party, June 23

The second annual steward's party for girls and boys 13 years old or younger, will be held Friday evening, June 23. Like last year, Robert Friend of Friend Bros. in Malden, is going to show some comic movies as the feature attraction.

You kids who attended last year will recall what a really swell evening it was and will be happy to know it'll be free again this year.

So put on your thinking caps and slip Maurice a slogan. Even if it isn't the prize winner, it'll still get you into the party.

Club Chatter

How many of you members are aware of the fact that the beautiful new sand on the club's beaches is imported? Yes sir, it is. That very lovely sand once nestled on the shores of Tunisia. Who knows but what some of our boys set foot on a patch of that sand when the mighty invasion of Africa first started. . . Beautiful Betty Burr was home on leave this week. A lieutenant in the Marine Corps, this club member has certainly made all of us proud of her. We hope she'll soon be back at the club permanently . . Weenie Pratt turned up at the club Sunday looking like an ad for Hart, Shaffner and Marx. . . remember him when he wore dungarees like the rest of us . . Don Simonds, who won the first three races of this season was laid up with a cold which put a stop to his hot winning streak. Maybe his absence will cool him off (we hope) . . Don't forget the bean supper Saturday afternoon, June 17. It's going to be fun and strictly informal. Comdr. Newman has just received permission from Emily Post to allow anyone who wishes, to eat beans with his knife, a neat trick if you can do it.

SCHOOL NEWS

In a letter to Mrs. Ella Stacy, head of the history department at the high school, Mrs. Marcia Markell, chairman of the educational committee of the Mass. branch of the United Nations Association, said of Ruth Tapley, 3rd prize winner: "She wrote a paper which evidenced understanding of existing international organizations, awareness of problems facing the post war world and constructive thought of their solution."

William Thompson, awarded the 1943 book, "United We Stand" was the first of three to receive honorable mention.

This is the ninth year that W. H. S. students, only two from the best qualified in each school are permitted to enter, have taken part in the contest. In all but one year, they have had at least one winner. Fifty-two schools of the Commonwealth compete.

On May 24, Ruth Tapley, William Thompson and Mrs. Stacy were invited to attend the annual meeting dinner. Manley O. Hudson, one of the judges on the World Court, was toastmaster.

MAJOR LOWELL DECORATED

Major William H. Lowell, Jr., former well known Winchester boy and son of the late Dr. W. Holbrook Lowell, is now proudly wearing the Soldier's Medal for that heroism he recently displayed at his air service command base somewhere in India.

With T-Sgt. Jack Rhed of McComb, Miss., the Major rushed into the area of a crashed, burning aircraft in search of survivors. They had previous knowledge that the craft was loaded with bombs, one of which exploded and violently tossed both of them to the ground. Their service was above and beyond the call of duty and reflected great credit on themselves and the China-Burma-India air service command.

Major Lowell, serving as group surgeon at his base, was commissioned almost two years ago. He is a graduate of Winchester High School, Bowdoin College and the Harvard Medical School. In pre-khaki days, he maintained private practice as a physician in Hartford and served on the staff of the Hartford Hospital. His wife, Lydia, and three children, are residing for the duration in Burlington, Vt., and his mother, Mrs. William H. Lowell, is living in Stetson Hall.

The Major plans to return to Hartford to resume private practice when it's over over there.

WINCHESTER OFFICER RECEIVES PROMOTION

Two items of welcome news were received this week by Mrs. Evelyn F. Pinkham of Prospect street from the headquarters of the North African area of the U. S. Army.

The first report was that the condition of her son, 1st Lt. Lawrence P. Pinkham, who was recently wounded for the second time, and is now hospitalized again, is showing excellent improvement. On Feb. 6, Lt. Pinkham was the recipient of the Purple Heart for wounds sustained at Mt. Cassino, and on April 23, he was again injured at Anzio, when he was then awarded the additional oak leaf cluster.

Official word received from the War Department by Mrs. Pinkham, on Tuesday last, stated that on May 7, her son, 2nd Lt. Lawrence P. Pinkham received the promotion in rank from the grade of second to that of first lieutenant.

Lt. Pinkham, who has just recently become 21, has been one of those in almost constant action, serving with the Allied Fifth Army, since his overseas duties last September. He is a graduate of Winchester High '40, and was a student at Northeastern University in the class of 1945, at the time of his enlistment. He was graduated and commissioned from the Ft. Benning Officer Candidate School in Columbus, Ga.

LT. ROCHE AND FAMILY RETURN

Lt. Charles D. Roche, USNR, has returned to Winchester with his family from Key West, Fla., where he has been on Naval duty since last fall. He is now assigned to duty in Boston and will make his home here.

This will be good news to followers of Winchester High School athletics for it means that Charles D. Roche, Jr., better known as Chucker will return to school in the fall.

Chucker is an all around athlete and will prove a valuable addition to next year's Winchester teams. At Key West High he had a great baseball season, batting over .400 and pitching his team to a win over Lake Worth, State Class B champions of the state. He weighs in at 175 right now and plays both foothall and basketball as well as baseball.

His father, one of the best outfielders in the college and semi-pro ranks when in his hey-day, admits that even he is impressed with the way the young feller hits that ball. Wouldn't a .400 hitter have helped this year's Winchester High School team.

COTTONS RETURN TO WINCHESTER

Mr. and Mrs. Dana M. Cotton, after several years residence in Augusta, Me., are returning to Winchester early in July, having purchased a home here.

Mr. Cotton, former guidance director at Winchester High School who has been director of vocational guidance for the State Department of Education in Maine, has been appointed Director of Placement in the Graduate School of Education at Harvard University, commencing his new duties July 1.

ATTENDED FUNERAL FOR JAMES E. CULLEN IN LYNN

Many from Winchester attended the solemn requiem high mass sung Monday morning at St. Joseph's Church, Lynn, for James E. Cullen of 201 Orchard street, that city, who died the preceding Friday.

Besides the church choir and soloists, Miss Mabel M. Coty of Winchester, a close friend of Mr. Cullen's family, sang the "Pie Jesu" and "Come Home." Rev. Fr. James F. Fitzsimons, pastor of the Immaculate Conception Church read the committal prayers at the interment in Calvary Cemetery.

Mr. Cullen was born in Boston 71 years ago during the night of the great Boston fire. Shortly afterward his family moved to Woburn and then to Winchester, purchasing the old Harris house on Hill street 61 years ago. Mr. Cullen grew up in Winchester attending the Winchester schools. He learned the shoe trade at the old Jones shoe factory in Stoneham and 40 years ago moved to Lynn where he became one of that city's first hand-lasters.

Widely known in the field of organized labor, Mr. Cullen was a prominent mediator for the American Federation of Labor, every Mayor of Lynn for the past 25 years having sought his advice in labor crisis and appreciated his fair and constructive influence with those who made up the shoe trade. His services had been in demand for mediation in labor disputes as far west as St. Louis until he was forced by ill health to retire 10 years ago.

He leaves his wife, Mrs. Nora Moynihan Cullen; two sons, Edward J., a former machinist in U. S. Government work in Panama, who resigned to enter the training school for officers in the U. S. Maritime Service at New London, Conn., and Benjamin F., a gunner's mate on the U. S. S. New Jersey; two daughters, Miss Erline and Miss Margaret E. Cullen, both of Lynn; a brother, Bernard F. Cullen of Winchester; four sisters, Mrs. Remi F. Rainville of Stoneham, Mrs. Harry E. Brown, Mrs. Milton J. Quinn and Mrs. William E. McDonald, all of Winchester; and two grandchildren.

New lot of Autograph books, five year diaries, and Scrapbooks at Wilson the Stationers, Star Building.

CMPT. BERNARD DECORATED

Capt. Hubert N. Bernard, Jr., former well known Winchester boy, now a flight officer at an air base in Britain, was decorated with the Army Air Medal last year "for courage, skill, and devotion to duty while flying over enemy territory in the face of heavy enemy fire."

Capt. Bernard is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Hubert N. Bernard who now live at the Fenway in Boston but who for many years were residents of Winchester. He is married to the former Evelyn Anderson of this town who is now living at 26 Concord avenue, Cambridge. Before entering the service in July 1942 Capt. Bernard was in the brokerage business with a Boston house.

SMITH COLLEGE CLUB

The annual meeting of the Winchester Smith College Club was recently held at the home of Mrs. Harold V. Farnsworth in Central green, with Winchester Smith students and prospective students as guests. Lunch was served in the garden and a business meeting followed.

Officers for the coming year are: Mrs. Vincent Farnsworth, Jr., president; Mrs. Robert A. Drake, vice-president; Mrs. Paul Lamb, secretary; Mrs. J. Waldo Bond, treasurer. The chairman of the scholarship committee is Mrs. Neil Borden.

MISS McELHINEY SHOWERED

Miss Margaret McElhiney of Upland road, an operator at the Winchester Telephone Exchange, was given a shower and farewell party Wednesday evening by her associates at the home of Mrs. James Nolan on Nelson street. A feature of the refreshments was a huge 10 pound wedding cake.

During the social hour Miss Dorothy Smith, on behalf of the guests, presented Miss McElhiney with a purse of money. She is to be married on June 17 at Smokey Hill Airbase, Kansas, to Pfc. Andrew Donahue, USAAF, of Lowell.

"Bob" Johnston, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Johnston of Washington street, left this morning for active duty in the Navy. He expected to be assigned to the U. S. Navy Training Station at Sampson, N. Y. He graduated last Friday from Winchester High School.

OFFICIAL BULLETIN

Office Hours: 2-5 P. M. Week Days, except Saturdays.

AIR RAID PRACTICE JUNE 11

On Sunday, June 11, there will be a mock bombing of certain selected target areas throughout the commonwealth. This exercise has been planned with two definite objectives in mind: (1) affording the Civilian Defense Personnel with a realistic raid test; (2) inaugurating the Fifth War Bond Drive. The practice will take place sometime between 12:30 P. M. and 2 P. M. The audible signals will be sounded and all Civilian Defense Units will be alerted.

Paper Bombs will be dropped from planes and will represent by the color of their streamers the various types of real bombs. Civilians are urged not to touch these bombs until after the "all clear" signal is sounded, but if then there are any which have not been discovered previously by the Wardens, householders should put them into their waste paper salvage boxes.

In this particular raid, Civilians may remain in their yards and although pedestrians must be stopped they need not seek shelter.

INVASION FORCES NEED MORE PAPER

More waste paper than ever before is needed to keep the supplies moving to our invasion forces. Paper Board mills are pushing production to the limit. They need waste paper. Save every bit for the Winchester curb collection June 21 and 22. Get your boxes to hold your mixed paper and heavy string at the Air Raid Shelter next to the 5c and 10c store on Main street Saturday mornings from 10 to 12 noon.

VICTORY GARDEN HARVEST SHOW

Civilian Defense will again sponsor the Victory Garden Harvest Show to be held in the Town Hall Friday and Saturday, Sept. 8 and 9. Victory gardeners should plan now to plant some vegetables which they can exhibit in this show, this fall.

The subject of the Lesson-Sermon will be God the Preserver of Man and included in the Bible selections is: "The Lord is thy keeper: the Lord is thy shade upon thy right hand. The Lord shall preserve thee from all evil: he shall preserve thy soul (Psalms 121:5, 7).

The following passage from the Christian Science textbook, Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy, will also be included in the Lesson-Sermon. As the children of Israel were guided triumphantly through the Red Sea, the dark ebbing and flowing tides of human fear,—as they were led through the wilderness, walking wearily through the great desert of human hopes, and anticipating the promised joy, so shall the spiritual idea guide all right desires in their passage from sense to Soul, from a material sense of existence to the spiritual, up to that hope prepared for them who love God (p. 566).

FIFTH WAR LOAN DRIVE OPENS NEXT WEEK

Right on the heels of the invasion ought to be a good time to get people to back the attack with their dollars and we hope this is going to be the case in Winchester when the Fifth War Loan Drive opens on June 12 with a quota of $1,653,000 in bond sales to be reached in the following 26 days.

There are many ways in which residents of Winchester might be urged to buy their share of bonds. The most simple and direct method is for volunteer solicitors to call at each home, and Winchester's War Finance Committee, headed by Maurice Bird, is planning to do just that during the two weeks beginning June 12. This endeavor is in the hands of precinct chairmen and co-chairmen who will recruit their volunteer solicitors from their respective precincts.

The complete list of precinct chairmen and co-chairmen is as follows:

Precinct 1: Chairman, Leslie A. Tucker, 54 Hillcrest parkway. Co-chairman, Mrs. Joy A. Woolley, 57 Fells road.

Precinct 2: Chairman, W. B. Wood, 247 Highland avenue. Co-chairman, Mrs. Betty Ryerson, 15 Stevens street

Precinct 3: Chairman, Walter A. Redding, 28 Ledyard road. Co-chairman, Mrs. Kathleen C. Redding, 28 Ledyard road.

Precinct 4: Chairman, Wm. C. Cusack, 2 Lakeview road. Co-chairman, Francis E. Booth, 6 Lakeview road.

Precinct 5: Chairman, Mrs. Caroline S. Fitts, 9 Grasmere avenue. Co-chr., John K. Converse, 35 Dix street.

Precinct 6: Chairman, Ed. J. McGrath, 8 Highland View avenue. Co-chairman, Charles H. Gallagher, 15 Canal street.

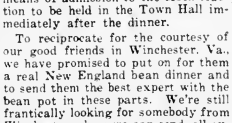

We are by no means the only Winchester in the world and there is a very up and coming city of the same name in Virginia, whose population and War Loan quota just about match our own. They liked the idea of seeing which Winchester could do the best job in the Fifth War Loan Drive and, folks, we have competition. Those Southerners mean business! You may see the progress of the race on the two jumbo thermometers being erected this week on the Common.

But there's more than just a race to sell bonds. The Virginians are going to send us their Aunt Susan Token, a lady of color who knows all there is to know about famous southern cooking. And Aunt Susan is going to put on for us a genuine Southern fried chicken dinner with all the trimmings. It will be held on the Junior High School athletic field on Saturday evening, June 24. (In case of rain, in the Town Hall). There will be fried chicken, Virginia baked ham, potato chips, cole slaw, corn pone or rolls, ice cream and cookies, and coffee or tonic, all for 99 cents a person! But, wait a minute, you can't expect all this delicious Southern provender for a mere 99 cents unless you buy a bond. If you buy a $25 bond you are eligible to purchase one dinner ticket. Fifty dollars in bonds commands the right to buy two dinner tickets, etc.

While we eat there will be music by the U. S. Coast Guard Band and, after dinner a mock auction with several $25 bonds as prizes.

When you buy your bonds at any Winchester bank or at the Post Office get your dinner tickets then and there, or present your bond purchase receipt at Mary Spaulding's Book Shop and get your tickets. No tickets will be sold after June 20 and when 1000 tickets have been sold, that's all, we can't take care of any more dinners. When you get your dinner tickets you will also receive with each ticket a tag. Keep the tag which is your sole means of admission to the Mock Auction to be held in the Town Hall immediately after the dinner.

To reciprocate for the courtesy of our good friends in Winchester, Va., we have promised to put on for them a real New England bean dinner and to send them the best expert with the bean pot in these parts. We're still frantically looking for somebody from Winchester whom we can send, all expenses paid. Are you the person? If so, telephone the Winchester Star right away.

TUESDAY WORK AS USUAL AT EPIPHANY PARISH HALL

Ten o'clock on Tuesdays will find machines open and work cut and ready for those who find this a convenient place to sew for the Red Cross. All sewing now is for our men in the armed services. Just now the Epiphany group is making pajamas for men in hospital. With the hard fighting now actually started for which we here at home have been readying our minds and for which our boys have made ready both minds and bodies, the work for our hands grows ever greater. The Tuesday group has no denominational limits. All who live near Epiphany or who find it easy to reach by bus will be cordially welcomed by Mrs. P. Stewart Newton and Mrs. Ambrose Reasoner, who are in charge of the work room.

Making surgical dressings for our own serviceable and busy Winchester Hospital will continue also.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

Miss Linda Ellen Hanley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Martin R. Hanley of 83 Nelson street, celebrated her first birthday on Memorial Day by having a party at which a number of her little friends were guests. Linda's father is a member of the U. S. Navy Seabees, at present on active duty in the South Pacific.

Guests at the party included Mary Lou, and Frances Nowell, Joan Ellen Tansey, Nancy and Janice Lane, Robert Morrissey, Sally Ann and Alice Walsh, Robert Quigley, Patsy Forbush and Linda's seven-months' old cousin, Timothy Banfield, Jr.

PARKWOOD GETS SECOND AWARD

The Parkwood Company of Wakefield, of which Mr. Gordon Parker of this town is the head, was notified this week that it had received a second "E" award with the white star for continued production. Congratulatory letters announcing the award have been received by the company from the War Department and the Treasury Department.

ENTITLED TO BENEFITS

Survivors of men or women who die in the military service should communicate immediately with James T. Phelan, manager of the field office of the Social Security Board at 1248 Mass. avenue, Cambridge to determine whether or not claim should be made for old-age and survivors insurance benefits. If the casualty had a social security number or was employed in industry or commerce before joining the service, it is probable that benefit rights had been acquired but if the survivors are uncertain as to this, inquiry should be made in any event.

Social security benefit payments can be received in addition to the monthly benefits under the national service life insurance and widow's benefits which might be payable by the Veterans Administration.

The total payments often assure adequate income to dependent survivors.

Besides the benefits payable to widows and minor children, the Social Security Act provides for payments also to widows with no minor children, to adult children, grandchildren or parents, according to the circumstances of the case. These payments usually take the form of lump-sum cash settlement of the wage-earner's account.

Under existing law, it is possible for benefits to be lost while serving in the military forces, or benefit payments may be reduced by extended service. Pending legislation seeks, however, to protect the social security rights of persons in the military forces.

In any case, survivors should, without delay, request the assistance of the Social Security Board field office in determining what, if any, benefit payments may be available.

This office is located at 1248 Mass. avenue (Harvard Square) Cambridge. The telephone number is Kirkland 7179.

CENTRAL MOTHERS ASSOCIATION

The annual meeting of the Central Mothers Association was held on Tuesday afternoon, June 6, at the Lincoln School. Mrs. John Morgan, president of the Association, presided. The meeting was opened by a prayer by Rev. Dwight W. Hadley, followed by a business meeting.

Mrs. George L. Chatfield, chairman of the Scholarship Committee gave a summary of the activities of that committee.

It was of special interest this year to hear an account of the year's activities of the Mothers' Associations of each of the Winchester schools, given by their presidents or representatives.

The nominating committee presented the following slate of officers for the coming year:

President, Mrs. John Morgan

1st Vice Pres., Mrs. James Coon

2nd Vice Pres., Mrs. Ernest Parker

Secretary, Mrs. Leonard McNeill

Treasurer, Mrs. Joseph Mullen

Social Chairman, Mrs. Robert Oxford

Nominating Committee: Mrs. Lyman Smith

Member at Large: Mrs. Paul Elliott

They were unanimously elected.

GAS COUPONS ISSUED FROM CAMBRIDGE

Starting June 9, the local rationing board will cease the issuance of A, B and C gasoline coupons, as this activity will be transferred to the Cambridge center.

This covers all gasoline except furlough, hardship and emergency gasoline which the local board will continue to issue.

All applications for gasoline must be made, as heretofore, to the local board, which will continue to pass upon them, and order the issuance of the coupons from Cambridge. The only change, so far as the public is concerned, is that hereafter all gasoline coupons, except furlough, hardship and emergency, will go to the applicants by mail from Cambridge.

In order to get their new rations prior to the expiration of their existing rations, it is suggested that applicants for gasoline file their applications with the local board at least 10 days prior to the date of expiration. Tire inspection record must accompany application.

GRADUATION

benediction instead of Rev. Paul Harmon Chapman, minister of the Unitarian Church, originally chosen to do so, who was unable to be present because of illness.

MARJORIE GEERTS

First winner of Richard W. MacAdams Scholarship given by Winchester Legion to the student showing greatest improvement during four years in high school.

Following the invocation Joseph Foley, class president, led the salute to the flag, after which the Boys' Glee Club, led by Fred Hicks, sang "We Sail the Ocean Blue" from "H. M. S. Pinafore" by Gilbert and Sullivan and "Stout Hearted Men" by Romberg. William Everett was the pianist.

BARBARA J. SMITH

Girl who did most for school. Most popular girl. Smith Club Scholarship and D. A. R. Good Citizenship Award.

Dr. Parks followed the Glee Club and delivered a most interesting and practical address. He spoke of the frequent use of the so-called "booby-trap" in the present global war, and warned his young audience that there are also many "booby-traps" on the home front as well. Things are often not what they appear to be on the surface and the purpose of education is to prepare people to analyze things and situations so that they may best cope with the problems presented by modern life. Discipline, both of mind and body, is necessary successfully to cope with these problems and this self discipline can only be secured, Dr. Parks said, through hard work. In conclusion he felt that the young man or woman who has learned to discipline his body and mind, and who has acquired the ability to approach problems analytically with an eye to what lies below the surface has taken a long hurdle toward success in life.

The Girls' Ensemble followed Dr. Parks, and, led by Anne Richardson, sang unaccompanied "The Silver Swan" by Gibbons and "Sweet and Low" by Barnby. The Girls' Glee Club, again led by Miss Richardson and with Anne Thompson at the piano, sang the Bach-Gounod "Ave Maria" and "The Lord's Prayer" by Malotte.

AIR SCOUTS MAKE PUBLIC APPEARANCE

Squadron 7 made quite a colorful spot in the Memorial Day parade regardless of their small number and inexperience.

Under the direction of Squadron Leader Weld and Assistant Squadron Leader Dotten, the following Air Scouts marched: Dick LeRoy, Jerry Smith, Lester Troast, David Whorf, Jack Albree and Tom Kirwin.

Next year, we hope to have at least 12 scouts in uniform, marching.

Over the past week-end, the Air Scouts went on the annual camporee at Camp Lane, Burlington. In points scored, they were second highest out of several troops from surrounding towns. They will receive a blue ribbon for class A camping; their second blue ribbon this year. The scouts on this trip were: Lester Troast, Jeremiah Smith, Richard LeRoy, Thomas Kirwan, David Whorf.

The final meeting of Squadron 7 will be held Monday, June 12.

Merit badges will be awarded, new officers elected and next year's plan for improvement made.

RED CROSS GARMENTS

During the month of May the local Red Cross Chapter shipped a total of 1885 garments which may be considered a very good record. The shipment included a few sweaters, but was made up mostly of hospital garments produced by workers at headquarters and by small groups sewing in private homes.

Many of the workers devote two or three days a week under the leadership of the sewing chairman, Mrs. George Nardin.

Those workers deserve much credit for their loyalty and efficiency and, as the local unit has been assigned a large quota in hospital garments to be made this summer, it is hoped that the present workers will continue and others will join them in supporting this worthy cause. Coffee is served at noon.

THREE ACCIDENTS SATURDAY

The first of three automobile accidents in Winchester last Saturday took place at 6:40 in the morning when a Plymouth sedan, being driven south on Bacon street by Alexander A. Briere of 88 Carolyn street, Lowell, struck a tree in front of the residence of Mr. E. R. Sherburne, 78 Bacon street. After the collision the machine went ahead about 75 feet, running over the grass border and knocking down a small maple tree. Briere told the police he fell asleep at the wheel. His car was somewhat damaged but he was unhurt.

At 9 o'clock in the morning Joseph Graziano of 74 Irving street reported to the police that while he was driving his Chevrolet sedan south on Florence street, his car was in collision at the intersection of Harvard street with a Dodge sedan, owned by Antonio Macinanti of 41 Conn street, Woburn, and being driven east on Harvard street, by Angelo J. Macinanti of the same address. Both cars were damaged and Madeline Graziano, 20, of 74 Irving street, riding in the Chevrolet, complained of injuries to her head.

The third accident took place on upper Main street at 1:55 when a Buick sedan, driven by Joseph Parlette of 129 Washington street, while pulling out of McLoester's garage and passing a car parked in front of the garage, to go south, was in collision with a Ford sedan, being driven south on Main street by Mrs. Mary M. Peffley of 6 Harrison street. Both cars were damaged but there were no injuries reported.

ENS. PRESTON INJURED IN PLANE CRASH

Ens. B. Thomas Preston, Naval Aviation Corps, son of Mrs. Meriel T. Preston of Forest street, was seriously injured last Friday morning when his plane crashed near North Truro on Cape Cod. The Navy reports that the accident occurred while the young flyer was on an operational mission and was due to an unforseen occurrance, not to any mechanical defect of the plane. While performing an investigation of an object in the water, a flock of seagulls flew up in front of the plane, preventing Ens. Preston from seeing a cable until it was too late to avoid striking it.

The collision tore the tail from the plane, a dive-bomber, and caused it to crash on the beach. With Ens. Preston, who was piloting the plane, was a radio man, who was uninjured save for a cut under one eye.

Ens. Preston was badly injured. He was picked up by a fisherman who took him to the main road where word was gotten to the Naval Air Station at Squantum. A Navy doctor was flown in from that base and took the injured flyer back with him in the plane to Squantum, from where he was taken in an ambulance to the Chelsea Naval Hospital.

After two hours in the operating room it was found that except for a broken nose and possible fracture at the rear of the nose, no bones are broken. Ens. Preston was however, badly cut up. 15 stitches being taken in his nose, 10 to close a wound in his head and many more to close a gaping cut in his thigh, extending upward from the knee and penetrating to the bone. Several teeth were knocked out and it was necessary to sew up several cuts about and in his mouth. X-rays taken Saturday morning disclosed that there was no skull fracture as at first was feared, but Ens. Preston is suffering from severe shock and it was not until Monday that he commenced to show any improvement. It is expected that he will be hospitalized for some time.

Ens. Preston completed two years in the service May 18, having been commissioned July 6, 1943. He was in a previous crackup in Indiana during February of 1943, but at that time was unhurt. A graduate of Winchester High School, class of 1940, he had completed a year at Northeastern University before entering the service.

SELECTMEN'S NOTES

On recommendation of the Chief of Police the board appointed Charles A. Hart, 4 Felsdale close and Edward S. Winn, 20 Prince avenue, members of the Auxiliary Police.

WINCHESTER WAS BOMBED

Winchester was badly bombed by the enemy last Sunday with incendiaries, high explosives and war gases. Precinct 6 bore the brunt of the attack with Precinct 5 a close second. One and three were untouched while two and three reported only slight damage in one or two incidents.

It had been reported that the enemy would probably attack about 12.30 p. m. but threatening weather delayed the action for more than one hour. However, when the mobilization signal finally was sounded, the one long blast succeeded in getting out about 75 per cent of the defense personnel. All posts were covered. All services were ready and prepared for whatever might come.

Planes were soon sighted by the Winchester spotters, but none came over. However just what the Report Center had been notified by the Warning Center in Malden that all planes had gone and to sound the second blue allowing traffic to move there suddenly appeared out of the southeast a plane heading directly for Winchester. It came fast, circled the town, dropped its destruction load and was off towards Arlington before most persons realized any damage had been done.

Almost immediately reports of incidents began to pour into the Report Center. Services were quickly dispatched to the scenes of destruction and the Report Center official incident map of the town soon should just when the bombs had been dropped.

Long after the all clear had been sounded most of the Defense personnel continued to work. Luckily there were only a few major casualties which were easily taken care of. No deaths were reported.

Many of the personnel were bored tired and aggravated because of the long wait with no activity. Others were busy, excited and enthusiastic. However except for the confusion caused by the wrong timing of audible signals by the central headquarters in Boston, this practice raid was nearer like what might he expected in a real raid than any previous test.

Those persons who did stand and wait and had no activity should have the satisfaction of knowing that they carried out their responsibilities just as much as those who had something to do.

Had the wind been blowing from a different direction they also might have had plenty to do. In spite of the various complaints, it was considered a successful practice raid.

JOHN MAGUIRE

John Maguire, 70, a retired leather worker who made his home at 41 Vine street, died Saturday, June 10, at the Winchester Hospital after an illness of only a few hours. He complained of feeling ill Saturday morning while in the center and was taken in a police cruiser to the hospital where he died during the afternoon.

Mr. Maguire was the son of Patrick and Mary (Cullen) Maguire. He was born in County Cavan, Ireland, but came to this country as a boy and as a young man learned the leather trade, being for many years employed as a currier and finisher in leather shops in Peabody.

Following his retirement 12 years ago, Mr. Maguire came to make his home in Winchester. He was a familiar figure about the center and well liked by all who knew him for his cheery manner, sturdy independence and sense of humor.

He leaves a sister, Mrs. James Giles and two brothers, Thomas and Patrick J. Maguire, all of this town.

The funeral was held Tuesday morning from the funeral home of Moffett and McMullen on Washington street with high mass of requiem celebrated at St. Mary's Church by Rev. Fr. Francis J. Sullivan. Interment was in St. Patrick's Cemetery, Stoneham.

FIFTH WAR LOAN DRIVE GOES INTO HIGH GEAR

The house to house canvas in Winchester's Fifth War Loan campaign is under way and precinct chairmen, co-chairmen and corps of solicitors expect to complete this phase of their attack on patriotic pocket books by June 20. The progress of their efforts and also of our rival contestant, Winchester, Va., will be shown by the jumbo thermometers on the Common. Let's hope they register fever heat.

Interest now focusses on the Fifth War Loan dinner and auction slated for Saturday evening, June 24. No amount of money can procure a ticket unless you buy a War Bond but if you buy a bond a mere 99 cents entitles you to a ticket for the Southern Fried Chicken Dinner and free admission to the Mock Auction. Get your ticket or tickets when you buy your bonds at any Winchester bank or the Post Office. Or, take your bond receipt to Mary Spaulding's Book Shop and procure tickets there. But, speaking as a friend, you had better step lively. There are only 1000 tickets and they're going fast.

Word comes from Aunt Susan Tokes from Winchester, Va., that she is getting her grip packed and that the job of assistant preparation of this dinner has her a mite worried so she is going to bring an assistant chef, also a large supply of hickory smoked Virginia ham.

In charge of the dinner is our own capable William Wood who has the assistance of the Winchester Rotary Club in providing all equipment. Chief Hostess will be Mrs. Warren C. Whitman, assisted by 10 hostesses from each church whose names will be published in our next issue.

It is also likely that Mrs. Ethel Jollife, who is chairman of the Women's Division, War Finance Committee at Winchester, Va., will be present.

When you get your dinner tickets you will also get an equal number of diamond shaped tags. Guard them with your life because there's no admission to the Mock Auction unless you show your tag. Furthermore, five $25 Bonds will be given away as blind prizes at the auction. Don't look now, but your tag may be one of the winners.

In charge of the Mock Auction is Mrs. Fulton Brown and she promises that among the 50 articles you may win with your War Bond bids some will be truly surprising. Assisting Mrs. Brown will be Erastus B. Badger as Master of Ceremonies and a galaxy of our local talent including clavion voiced auctioneers, "spotters" who will help make your bids and show you where to sign up, and 12 strictly honest tellers to record the bids and to help you establish financial credit.

The spotters, recruited by Mrs. Virgil Ghirardini, include Mrs. Vincent Ambrose, Mrs. Frank Barrett, Mrs. F. Milne Blanchard, Mrs. Percy Bugbee, Mrs. Tyndon Burnham, Mrs. George Chatfield, Mrs. Samuel M. Graves, Mrs. William Hovey ,Mrs. Ruth E. Hilton, Miss Caroline Kellogg, Mrs. Alan P. Lindblad, Mrs. Edward J. McDevitt, Jr., Mrs. William J. Murray, Mrs. Forrest L. Pitman, Mrs. W. Irving Platt, Mrs. Eugene M. Pollard, Mrs. Arthur T. Rogde, Mrs. Charles W. Rogers, Mrs. William L. Speers, Jr., and Mrs. Everett B. Stone. The list of auctioneers and tellers is not yet complete.

Without divulging too many of the features of the Auction we are permitted to say that it will open with the playing of the National Anthem by the U. S. Coast Guard Band, followed by a brief, timely address by Rev. Paul H. Chapman. Community singing will be led by Mr. J. Churchill Hindes. There will be two gorgeous girls, but that's part of the surprise and part of the actual Auction.

The good news is announced that the search for New England's prize bean cooks has been rewarded. Two Winchester women, Mrs. Norman C. Hitchcock, 121 Church street and Mrs. Leigh S. Roberts, 19 Vine street will go to Winchester, Va. and put on the New England baked bean supper on the very same night as our own and likewise for 1000 people. They are adept at putting on delectable dinners at the Crawford Memorial Church and none other than Frank Crawford attests to their talent. The dinner to be served at Winchester Va. as checked and approved by communiques between the two War Finance Committee Chairmen, Wendell R. Barney for the South and Maurice C. Bird for the North, will consist of: baked beans, New England style, broiled frankfurters, cole slaw, mustard pickles, Boston brown bread, hot cream of tartar biscuits, apple pie, doughnuts, coffee.

The meal will be cooked in church kitchens and private homes and served in the local Armory.

UNITARIANS HAVE BLOOD DONOR DAY

On Sunday, June 18, there will be an exhibit of the use of blood plasma in the cloister of the Unitarian Church before and after the 11 a. m. service. The local Red Cross is giving the exhibit and attendants will be present to answer questions. The exhibit is being held in order to aid Winchester in increasing its percentage of its quota. Rev. Paul Harmon Chapman, minister of the church, will preach a sermon entitled, "We Have a Pain in Our Brother's Side."

Mrs. James C. B. Sowden and her granddaughter, Miss Jacqueline S. Barnes of Ravenscroft road are spending some time at Oak Bluffs.

King, now on active Army duty in England, and Mrs. King of 111 Beacon street, Brookline, became the bride of Lt. William Crane Palson, Jr., USAAF, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Crane Palson of Myrtle terrace. The rector of the church, Rev. Henry M. B. Ogilby, read the service at 4:30 o'clock in a setting of white and pink peonies and candles. A reception was held after the ceremony at the Hotel Beaconsfield.

Miss King was given in marriage by her uncle, Mr. William C. King. She wore a gown of traditional ivory satin, designed with a tight bodice and full skirt, extending to form a court train. Her fingertip-length veil of heirloom lace and rose point, was arranged with clusters of imported orange blossoms to form a Juliet cap, and she carried a family prayer-book with a white orchid.

Miss Phyllis Palson of this town, sister of the bridegroom, was the bride's only attendant. She wore a dress of yellow marquisette with a scroll design of Chantilly lace, and matching headdress. Her flowers were fuchsia pomes.

Lt. Frank R. Cromwell of Cranston, R. I., was Lt. Palson's best man, and the ushers were Lt. Bruce E. Blansett of Winchester, Ill. and Lt. Wilder Gatterson, Jr., of New York and Watch Hill, R. I.

Lt. and Mrs. Palson spent their honeymoon on Cape Cod. Her orders take him to the Air Field at Lincoln, Neb., and they will make their future home there.

The bride attended Stephens College in Columbia, Mo., and graduated from Radcliffe in the class of 1944. Lt. Palson is a graduate of Winchester High School, of Harvard and of Mass. Institute of Technology, having captained the cross country and track teams both in high school and college. He is now serving as a meteorologist with the Army Air Forces.

MRS. MARY DAWES WARNER

Mrs. Mary Dawes Warner, widow of Charles Forbes Warner, who made her home in Winchester with her daughter, Mrs. Roy N. Hallowell, 14 Fenwick road, died Friday morning, June 9, at a private hospital in West Medford, after a two weeks' illness.

Native of a small town in Indiana, Mrs. Warner was born March 12, 1880, the daughter of Francis Howland and Melissa (Everett) Dawes. Her childhood and early life until her marriage were spent on the William Cullen Bryant estate in Cummington on the edge of the Berkshires.

After her marriage she went to Northampton where she resided for many years, her husband being during that time owner and editor of the Northampton "Herald". After the sale of the paper Mr. and Mrs. Warner in 1921 came to make their home with Mrs. Hallowell in Winchester. Mr. Warner died in 1932.

Besides Mrs. Hallowell, there are surviving two daughters, Mrs. Rolfe Clark Norris of Methuen and Mrs. Rhoda Baemeister of Philadelphia, Pa.

Funeral services were held at the late residence Sunday afternoon with Rev. Paul Harmon Chapman, minister of the Unitarian Church, officiating. The remains were cremated and the ultimate interment will be in the Warner family lot at the Bridge Street Cemetery in Northampton.

ACCIDENT ON BACON STREET

Automobiles driven by Koren Kollegian of 71 Wedgemere avenue and Richard W. Olson of 25 Cottage avenue, Medford, were in collision at 5 o'clock Saturday afternoon at the junction of Bacon street and Fenwick road.

According to the Police Mr. Kollegian was driving a Pontiac sedan, owned by the Union Sales Co., Inc., of 269 McGrath Highway, Somerville, west on Bacon street and Olson was driving a Ford sedan, owned by Francis W. Olson of 25 Cottage avenue, Medford, out of Fenwick road onto Bacon street. Both cars were damaged and Mr. Kollegian complained of injuries to his left arm.

Police say that Olson, under 16 years of age, had no license to operate an automobile. He will be summoned into court.

Sunday morning shortly after 4.30 Officers Archie O'Connell and John Hanlon arrested Paul A. Reardon of 18 Kilgore avenue, West Medford, on Fletcher street, charging him with drunkenness and driving an automobile while under the influence of liquor. In court Monday morning Reardon was found guilty and fined $50.

KNOWLTON AT PALMER STREET

Last week-end's regular meeting of the Palmer Beach Horseshoe Association was notable as witnessing the only appearance of the season to date of Henry "Tiffany" Knowlton, one-half of the old "Maxwell Road Mugwump" team of selling platers in the old days. Mr. Knowlton came to the beach in the company of Mr. Lou Goddu, expert kyakist and generally erudite in the realm of rod, reel and shinsplints.

"Tiffany" was warmly greeted, especially by Mr. Teel, who showed an especially sollicitous interest in the won and lost record of his baseball team during the past campaign. Noncommittal as he was with respect to these vital statistics, Mr. Knowlton did consent to enter the lists, with Mr. Teele as partner at that, and so well did he acquit himself in the resulting match with Roland "Thin Finger" Pridham and Herbert "Garrulous" Gardner that he carried the Champs of the session to odd games before he found Royal too much of a load for even his sturdy shoulders and back.

Mr. Goddu was urged to participate in the horseshoes, but declined to play, graciously, but yet with a hint of that firmness which he can assume so well upon occasion. He marveled at Mr. Knowlton's dexterity with the shoes, as did everyone else for that matter, but "Tiffany" claimed that watching a hole in the ice for a strike while ice fishing in sub-zero temperatures is what has sharpened his eye for the stake. He recommended the practice as a palliative for the elementary pitching of Mr. Teefe, but that Palladin of the Boston Paper Trade treated the suggestion with the cold contempt it merited. After all Mr. Knowlton has yet to present Mr. Teele with that by now long over-due fish.

Last week'end's play was of an abbreviated nature. The warriors arrived late at the beach, Mr. Teele later than the dickens, and offering no especial excuse for his failure to be more prompt. The Secretary had to leave early, being mistakingly under the impression that the air raid alert was going to take place at the originally advertised time while Messrs. Goddu and Knowlton had fishing engagements which permitted them to stay only a very short time at the beach.

Howard "Foul Line" Wittet was forced to leave early to pick a a mess of peas from his victory garden and to give those blueberry bushes of his a bit of extra-curricular attention. Still stabled with his "Charlie Horse" of the back, "Wild Willie" McLaughlin, the Pride of Stowe and Champion of all Nabnassett, didn't show up at all, accounting the wind off Wedge too shrewd to face in his crippled condition.

That left Mr. Teele and Mr. Gardner pitching dogged singles as the others left the beach with Mr. Gardner being the ultimate winner.

Mr. Gardner and Mr. Pridham won team honors for the session, defeating first Mr. Wittet and the Secretary, next Mr. Knowlton and Mr. Teele and finally Mr. Teele and the Secretary again. The Scrivener had a few moments right at the start of hostilities when he seemed unable to throw anything but ringers, but being a notorious morning-glory, this flash in the pan soon subsided, and by the time he was partners with Mr. Teele he was practically on the President's pitching level.

Tech. Sgt. Richard H. Hall of Madison avenue west has been transferred from Camp Irwin, Calif., to Muroc, Cal. His brother Comdr .A Harmon Hall, formerly of Winchester, is attending the Amphibious Group Commander School at Norfolk, Va.

HIGH SCHOOL BASEBALL SEASON ONLY FAIR

Winchester High School's baseball season, concluded with the Concord game, was only fair, despite the fact that the team won more than half its games and finished third in the Middlesex League. Potentially Winchester was a much better team than its won-lost record shows, but the boys had an unfortunate tendency to have one bad inning a game, and that inning many times produced enough runs for the opposition to offset the best pitching staff on the circuit.

The local boys were not good hitters, but they almost invariably outhit the opposition. Their base-running however was poor and they lacked baseball sense, in large measure because most of the members of the team play the game only during the high school season. Only Medford, of the teams Winchester faced, looked better than the locals, but teams like Belmont and Stoneham had a lot more poise, because the boys on them have played more ball than their Winchester opponents.

This year's team, coached by Henry Knowlton, was captained by Tony Saraco, flashy left fielder, and managed by Alan Bugbee. In the outfield with Saraco were Phil O'Rourke centerfield, and Zeke Swymer, right. Angelo Amico also played centerfield some when not pitching, and Jimmy Haggerty got into a few games.

In the infield were Ted O'Rourke, first base; Sarto Walsh, second, Sam Tibaudo, shortstop and Dick Coon, third. Others who played the infield were Osgood, Hicks, Curtis and Blanchard. Dick Nihan and Bucci did the catching, the first named working regularly.

Angelo Amico, Sam Tompkins and Guy Washburn, all right handers did the pitching, and made up a good staff, poor support being responsible for most of the defeats charged against them.

Following is the season's record:

Winchester	0	Medford	7
Winchester	6	Reading*	1
Winchester	7	Lexington*	0
Winchester	10	Woburn	0
Winchester	1	Belmont*	4
Winchester	5	Stoneham*	8

Winchester	6	Concord*	4
Winchester	4	Reading*	5
Winchester	2	Woburn	3
Winchester	2	Lexington*	0
Winchester	2	Belmont*	6

Winchester	7	Wakefield	10

In the invasion news from France we read that the natives in the occupied area are refusing to accept the provisional money the United States has sent over for use by its forces. Previous to its invasion and fall no foreign nation aped the New Deal United States as did the French. They played politics and followed our strike technique, and even went us one better, for if we recall correctly it was the French who instituted the "sit-down," so quickly taken up here and even improved upon together with the 30 and 40 hour week. The Italians, who were undoubtedly held down by their ruler, were quick to start present day tactics upon their liberation, for we easily read comment upon strikes and black markets, the outcome of which still seems undetermined. Whether the Italians are accepting the invasion money or not we do not know, but the refusal of the French appears to be founded upon their suspicion of what the United States has in mind concerning this currency. The French money, according to our reading, is not of any particular value these days, but they have apparently learned their lesson in apeing the New Deal and are now more or less suspicious of it. If this feeling is general, the assistance which has been counted upon from the French underground may have been overestimated.

Another school year is drawing to a close, and as the school doors shut for the summer some are wondering what is to be done with many of the youngsters who won't be going to camp and who want something to keep them constructively occupied during the vacation season. Of course there are the town beaches, tennis courts and playgrounds. They fill real needs, though the playgrounds have never been utilized as they should be, primarily because the community has not provided the funds for sufficient skilled direction and equipment. The Park Department has done a good job with what it has had to work, but youngsters won't go to playgrounds just because they are playgrounds, nor will they in this day and age, at least, get very far toward directing their own play destiny as youngsters used to years ago. Having in mind all this, and also wishing to make it possible for more Winchester boys to play baseball, Henry Knowlton, Winchester High School's Athletic Director, is taking steps to form a vacation baseball league in Winchester, to include primarily boys of high school age or those just through school and awaiting a call to enter the service. Mr. Knowlton hopes to interest several men of baseball experience to handle the teams and to get sponsors for the groups so that the modest funds necessary for the league to function will be forthcoming. He believes that the easiest and best solution to the problem of juvenile delinquency is to provide wholesome outlets for the energy which abounds in normal youth and which can easily be misdirected in youth that is idle. Here is a chance for the community's service and fraternal organizations to get behind a worth-while project that can help the town's youth, aid in developing baseball players to assist future high school teams and incidentally provide pleasure for any of the spon-sors' members who will take the trouble to drop around and see these kid players battling it out on the diamond.

1944-45 FUEL OIL APPLICATIONS

Fuel applications for the coming heating season are not being returned to the local War Price and Rationing Board as soon as they should. In order that the consumer be able to fill their tanks by July 1, 1944 it is necessary that these applications be returned at once, otherwise you may not get your ration until the fall. If you have mislaid your application you may call or write to the board and we shall be pleased to forward you another copy.

A. A. LOST TO STONEHAM

Winchester A. A. dropped a 4-1 verdict to the Stoneham A. A. Wednesday evening on Manchester Field, 4-1. Chucker Roche was expected to pitch for Winchester but failed to show up, Jimmy Haggerty going to the hill in his stead and doing well for a boy pitching his first game of the season.

Mrs. H. A. Hall of Madison avenue west has spent the past two weeks at the Winchester Hospital.

SONS OF ITALY LODGE NEWS

Larry Penta was home on a short furlough. As I have been unable to get in touch with him I cannot say where he is now stationed. As a matter of fact I don't even know if Larry's rating is only a General or something. How about it Larry?

(Ed. Note.) He's still a sergeant, Vic and still at Quantico, though expects to ship out soon. He was in town this last week-end only from Saturday morning until Sunday afternoon, bringing with him a pal, Pfc. Clarence Medford, a nice appearing Southern boy from Rocky Mount, N. C.

Cmdr. Joseph R. Barbaro who is the brother of our member Anthony was credited with being in on the beginning of the invasion. The A. P. stated that this is the fourth invasion that Joe has participated in. Africa, Sicily, Anzio and now France. Many of the brothers of the lodge and brothers of our members have participated in the invasion of occupied Europe. When its safe to give names and places, we will let you know what part some of the brothers have had in the invasion. Any one knowing anything please let us know.

Mingy received a letter from Muggins Tinsey who is now a Captain and is at present stationed in Dyersburg, Tenn. Joe writes: "How are all the boys both here and abroad. Will you please give them my best regards through your Sons of Italy column in the Star.

"I am in charge of a group of about 50 B17's and 500 men. These boys are a swell bunch of boys. Reminds me of the boys at home in Massachusetts. I help to train them in various phases of combat. Believe me, Mingy, this training of boys in the Air Corps is no joke. So much depends on their training, so its the best in the world.

"Give my regards to all the members of your lodge and I hope you will still carry on on the home front."

Cpl. Joe Ficocielllo has returned to Lincoln, Neb., from a short furlough. Upon his arrival there he was assigned to a B24 bomber crew as a rear gunner.

The Fifth War Loan is now in progress. Many of us at home are buying as many War Bonds as is possible because we know that by buying and buying War Bonds we are putting bonds in our pockets and not bonds on our freedom.

Mr. and Mrs. John W. Haines of Canterbury road have opened their summer home at Schroon Lake, N. Y.

WINCHESTER A. A. AND STONEHAM A. A. TIED

The newly organized Winchester A. A., being handled by Coach Henry Knowlton of the Winchester High School and Jim Coon, former Harvard infielder, opened its season last week Friday evening on Manchester Field, playing an 8 inning 2-2 tie with the Stoneham Town Team. The A. A. is composed of Winchester High School varsity and squad players who plan to stay together during the summer and play ball to get needed experience for future high school campaigns.

The A. A. faced an experienced pitcher in D'Ettremont and on the whole did pretty well. In the field a rather excusable error was the only miscue. Washburn pitched and fielded well for Winchester.

A. A. BEAT ALL STARS

Winchester A. A. won from Dick Nunan's All Stars Tuesday evening on Manchester Field, 3-2. Washburn pitched for the A. A. and Amico for the All Stars.

Is the Universe, including Man, Evolved by Atomic Force? is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon to be read in The Mother Church The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass., and in all of its branches, on Sunday, June 18.

The Golden Text, Thou, Lord, in the beginning hast laid the foundation of the earth and the heavens are the works of thine hands, is from Hebrews 1:10. Other Bible citations include, And God said, Let us make man in our image, after our likeness; and let them have dominion over the fish of the sea, and over the fowl of the air, and over the cattle, and over all the earth, and over every creeping thing that creepeth upon the earth. And God saw every thing that he made, and, behold, it was very good (Genesis 1:26, 31).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy: God creates and governs the universe, including man. The universe is filled with spiritual ideas, which live evolve, and they are obedient to the Mind that makes them (p. 295).

7th Graduating Class, Red Cross Volunteer Nurses' Aides

NURSES' AIDE GRADUATION

On Monday evening June 5, the graduation of 14 aides was held at Lawrence Hall in the Unitarian Church; Mrs. Wayne Thompson, chairman of the Winchester Nurses' Aide Committee presided and in her greeting mentioned it was the seventh class to be trained at the Winchester Hospital. Altogether 95 aides have been trained with 75 now active.

Miss Laura Rogers, superintendent of nurses at the hospital capped the aides and Mrs. Chas. Buss who taught the class, put on their volunteer nurses aide pins. Mr. James Allen, chairman of the Winchester Red Cross Chapter congratulated and thanked the aides for their volunteer service and Mr. Harold Fuller, chairman of Winchester Civilian Defense swore them in as members of the Defense Corps. Both these organizations are sponsors for the nurses' aide program.

Dr. Sanford Moses delivered the address to the graduating class. He recalled his own baccalaureate preacred by President Lowell, whose thesis was that a civilization might be judged by the spirit with which men approached their daily tasks with the conclusion that "the common road of men rightly traveled is the highway of the Eternal King."

Dr. Moses spoke of the significance of the capping ceremony which made the aides working memers of the ancient and honorable profession of healing. This profession's oath of Hypocrates emphasizes three things: medical ethics puts into practice the golden rule, the loyalty and devotion are to another, and placing above all the welfare of those entrusted to their care. He told the graduates the goal of the Winchester Hospital has to be the best anywhere and told the aides were relied upon to help to that end. His conclusion asked them to remember three things: (1) your work is appreciated; (2) it is important; (3) no matter how dusty the path, the road you travel is in very truth the highway of the Eternal King."

The exercises were closed by a prayer read by Mrs. Thompson which was written by Capt. Mildred McAfee.

ART SHOW AT LIBRARY

The Winchester Art Association is currently showing a group of pictures by artists of National reputation, loaned by the Museum of Fine Arts, the Fogg Museum of Art and the Doll and Richards Galleries. The show is on display at the art gallery of the public library and is open to the public.

Among the pictures shown are "Bootblack" by the foreign born American artist, George Grosz, a water-color with quite an unusual treatment; "Still Life" in oils by Georges Braque, a French painter, contemporary of Picasso, Matisse and Cezanne, whose paintings follow a preconceived design with the subjects sometimes distorted to fit this pattern; "Apples", an oil by Maurice Sterne, one of America's most distinguished artists, the recipient of many prizes and honors with work shown in both American and European museums; and "Old Farm House", water-color by Edward Hopper, a famous American painter in both oils and water-colors who paints street scenes and interiors in a strong, vigorous modern manner.

Also showing are studies by Paul Sample, an artist in residence at Dartmouth College now painting naval pictures for Life; Charles Sheeler, who paints machines and factories with extremely careful execution of detail, which is controlled and arranged to form fine composition; John Marin, one of the most individual of America's artists; and Andrew Wyeth, young painter of brilliant water colors.

V. Pavlosky is showing two water colors; Charles DeMuth, a study of "Fruit and Daisies," very skilled in composition, strong and colorful; and Charles Burchfield has two water-colors, one of which, "Houses," is very typical of his interest in frowsy buildings and the artistry he displays in painting them, especially with regards color and lighting. Mr. Burchfield has been for years one of the leading American painters in both oils and water colors.

TENNIS TOURNAMENTS

The annual spring tournaments sponsored by the Winchester Tennis Association at the Palmer street courts have enjoyed perfect tennis weather during the past two weekends and are being completed in record time.

With partners drawn by lot in all events except the family doubles, George Donahue and Ted Atkinson, Sr. downed Bob Drake and Harry Chefalo for the men's crown on Memorial Day. Herb and Cam Ross retained the family championship by repeating last year's victory over the Atkinsons, Charlie Wansker, Jr. and Frances Keyes beat Jim Ware, Jr. and Ann Dubuis for the mixed doubles title.

During the tournaments the new trophy, symbolic of the women's singles championship of Winchester, was on display. This cup, donated by the Winchester Tennis Association and named the William S. Packer Trophy in recognition of the latter's tremendous contribution to Winchester tennis, will be entered for competition during the annual town championship tournaments in September. This is a permanent trophy to be competed for each year and competition will be keen to see which Winchester girl will be the first to have her name inscribed on the cup.

BOAT CLUB NOTES

Dave Merrow finally snapped out of his sailing slump by winning last Sunday morning's Snipe Fleet race.

Bob Swanson offered him the chief opposition but never at any stage of the race was Dave in serious danger of losing his lead. Swanson was second and Bill Hall stole third from G. Jones with a well-timed tack right at the finish line.

Sunday afternoon Don Simonds returned to active competition and proposed present owner Grace L. Herlihy et proved that his two weeks lay off didn't take the edge off his keen racing ability by leading the fleet for the fourth time this season.

Jones came in a nice second and the show position went to Dave Merrow.

Club Chatter

The Snipe Fleet has been very fortunate to secure Sue Burr as its official starter. She used to assist Kay Burleigh who held the job for many seasons and she knows all the angles. Any of you youngsters who haven't handed in a slogan to Maurice for a free ticket to the steward's party June 23 had better hurry up. A lot of slick slogans have already been handed in but maybe yours will be the one that'll win the grand door prize. It's too bad Diogenes and his lamp didn't wander by the Winchester Boat Club, for there in the person of Jack Albree he'd have come to the end of his quest. We certainly hope that Comdr. Jim Newman and Lean Tuck enjoyed their Sunday swim. We feel that they'd do better in bathing trunks though. Club's hean supper June 17.

IMMACULATE LEAGUE NEWS

The Immaculate Conception parish league has entered into its third week and thus far, satisfactory progress has been made by the 12 adult teams already formed show real promise. It is a bit early to size up all the teams, but present appearances prognosticate a season of highly interesting contests.

Teddy Livingstone and Charlie Valcour are coaches in general charge. Assistant coaches of the individual teams are being selected. Their duties to direct and supervise team activity.

The baseball league has featured close scores. The St. Mary's-Georgetown and Villanova-Holy Cross tiffs ended in ties. Other contests, while not so close, have featured occasional flashes of hitting power, pitching skill and fielding finesse which augur well for team prospects of the future.

The Holy Cross juggernaut, headed by Helen Foley and Kay O'Donnell has thus far dominated the girls' league. Speed, skill and power have enabled them to register crushing triumphs over their hapless foes.

All games will take place at Loring avenue field and unless otherwise announced, upon Monday, Wednesday and Friday evenings of each week.

Paper napkins, cups and doilies, wax paper and hand towels at Wilson the Stationer, Star Building.

BUS AND TRUCK COLLIDE

Several Injured in Accident in Center

Four persons were taken to the Winchester Hospital Tuesday night shortly after 11.30 when a bus bringing local workers home from a defense plant was in collision with a dump truck in the center.

According to the Police the bus, a Middlesex and Boston Street Railway vehicle, driven by David Kelley of 187 Bedford street, Lexington, was being driven east from Church street across the railroad tracks into Mt. Vernon street. The truck, owned by Thomas R. Rawson of 714 Summer street, West Arlington, and driven by Thomas J. Rawson of 130 Wadsworth street, East Boston, was going south on Main street and had reached a point slightly more than 40 feet south of the crossing when the crash occurred.

Rawson was not injured. Four passengers in the bus, Mrs. Constance Gentile of 46 Bryant street, Woburn; Mrs. Rose Bevelacua of 37 Conn street, Woburn, Mrs. Jessie Nowell of 15 Eaton street, Winchester and Mrs. Margaret Conway of 66 Mt. Pleasant street, Woburn, were taken by Sgt. Joseph Derro and Officers Augustine MacDonald and Archie O'Connell to the Winchester Hospital where they were treated by Dr. Richard W. Sheehy. TO PROSECUTE PARENTS OF CHILDREN WITH AIRGUNS

The Police have been receiving many complaints recently about boys shooting air-rifles and the injury to a youngster this week through the discharge of an airgun has prompted Chief Rogers to decide upon more drastic action in an effort to eliminate this dangerous sport.

Under a town by-law any one discharging an air-rifle in town is subjected to a $20 fine. Under Chapter 140, Section 130, of the State Law, any parent or other person permitting a child under 15 to have an air-rifle is subject to a fine of from $10 to $50. A parent or other person permitting a child over 15 to have an air rifle may be prosecuted under a different section of the State Law for contributing to juvenile delinquency.

Chief Rogers asked the Star to make it plain that he has reached the end of his patience with the shooting of air-rifles in Winchester, and it would seem that there is enough law bearing on the matter to make it worth-while to take careful cognizance of this fact.

SERIOUSLY WOUNDED IN ITALY

Mr. and Mrs. Salvatore DeTeso of 12 Olive street received on Tuesday a telegram from the War Department reporting that their son, Pvt. Dante DeTeso, was seriously wounded in action in Italy on May 24.

Pvt. DeTeso attended the Winchester schools and Boston Trade School. Before entering the Army he worked with his father as a gardener. It is good news that the War Department reports that his condition on May 31 showed a normal improvement.

OBSERVED 50TH WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

Rev. and Mrs. Thaddeus W. Harris of this town observed their 50th wedding anniversary Tuesday, June 20, at the home of their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Harris, Jr., 23 Stevens street. Many cards and congratulatory messages were received and there were flowers from the Church of the Epiphany, from the Altar Guild and Evening Branch of the Epiphany and from the D. A. R. Gifts from the family included flowers, books and money.

On the Sunday preceding the actual anniversary date a joint anniversary and birthday party was held at the Harris home, the occasion being also the senior Mrs. Harris' birthday. Besides the Harris' son in Winchester, there were present their son, Charles P. Harris of Wellesley, their daughter, Mrs. Allen Eldredge of Auburndale, and six of their nine grandchildren. The remaining three are in the Army, Lt. David N. Harris being at Stockton, Cal., Pfc. Robert Harris, at Cairns, Utah, and Pfc. John Harris with the Army Air Forces in No. Africa.

Rev. Mr. Harris, a native of Cambridge, and his wife, the former Winifred Parker of Ashburnham, were married in Cambridge June 20, 1894.

Mr. Harris has had an interesting career, following his graduation from Harvard in the class of 1884. For nine years he taught Geology at Harvard, then for a time he served as superintendent of schools at Keene, N. H.

Deciding to enter the ministry, he prepared himself and passed the necessary examinations for admission to the Episcopal Ministry, being ordained by Bishop Edward M. Parker of New Hampshire, who also ordained him a priest in 1889.

His first parish was in Littleton, N. H., after which he served in Bantan, Conn., and in a joint parish in Tilton and Keene, N. H. It was while there that he did work in the field of rural religious education that has been highly praised.

Rev. and Mrs. Harris came to Winchester after his retirement 11 years ago. Both have been actively identified with the Church of the Epiphany and have rendered valuable service to the Parish, Mr. Harris as a clergyman and Mrs. Harris as a worker in the various women's groups. The Star adds its hearty congratulations to those of their many Winchester friends.

McDONALD—McGRATH

Wearing gardenias and stephanotis with her street-length dress of white crepe and lace, a small matching hat and shoulder length veil, Miss Claire Louise McGrath, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry A. McGrath of Rangely ridge, was married Wednesday evening, June 21, at St. Mary's Rectory to William Ellsworth McDonald, 3rd, USCGR, son of Mr. and Mrs. William E. McDonald, Jr., of Hill street. Only the immediate families attended the ceremony which was performed at 7 o'clock by St. Mary's Pastor, Rev. Fr. John P. O'Riordan. A reception was held afterward at the Algonquin Club in Boston.

Due to the illness of her older sister, Miss Mary McGrath, the bride was attended only by her younger sister, Miss Jean McGrath of this town. Her street-length dress was of blue crepe, and with it she wore white accessories, a coronet of sweetheart roses and a matching corsage. Mr. McDonald had his father as his best man.

After a brief wedding journey Mr. McDonald and his bride will make their home in Elizabeth City, N. C., where the bridegroom is stationed with the United States Coast Guard.

MAJOR ZIMMERMAN NOW ON A. C. INACTIVE LIST

Major Carle C. Zimmerman of 6 Cliff street, who for the past three years has served in key administrative positions at Perrin Field, Texas, reverted to inactive status with the Army Air Forces on June 15, Col. R. Beam, commanding officer of the field, announced last week. Major Zimmerman is returning to Winchester before resuming his profession, that of a professor of sociology at Harvard University.

Widely known in the United States as well as abroad for his work in sociology, Major Zimmerman received notice early in January of this year that he had been selected for a biographical sketch in the 1944 Who's Who in America. The major holds the doctor of philosophy degree from the University of Minnesota and an honorary doctor's degree in sociology from North Carolina State College. He was granted a leave of absence for the duration by Harvard before he entered the service in September, 1941.

"Major Zimmerman has completed about three years of service with the Army Air Forces," Col. Beam said. "He, like many of his fellow officers, responded to the patriotic call for men at a time when our country faced its darkest days. The valuable experience which Major Zimmerman brought with him into the service contributed to the rapid organization and training of our present day fighting forces.

"It is the policy of the U. S. Army to relinquish specialized personnel as soon as possible to strengthen the support the Army must have on the home front. Major Zimmerman will be subject to recall to active duty when and if it should become necessary in the country's interest."

For the past several months Major Zimmerman has commanded the 63rd Aviation Squadron. His previous assignments had included Special Service Officer, Army Emergency Relief Officer, Mess Officer, Base Defense Plans and Training Officer.

Before coming to Perrin Field, the major had served as Motor Transportation Officer for the Harbor Defense Command at Portland, Oregon, and as Quartermaster at the U. S. Air Base, Houlton, Me.

CAPT. GURNEY HOME

Capt. Kenneth Gurney, USAAF, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Gurney of Hemingway street, arrived in Winchester Monday on three weeks leave after completing nearly two years active service in the European Theatre of Operations.

Capt. Gurney is married to the former Kathryn (Kiki) Sullivan and upon arrival at his home at 107 Arlington street, saw for the first time their 15 months old daughter, Judith, born after he went overseas.

After graduating from Winchester High School, Capt. Gurney went to Springfield College where he played varsity football and was on the gymnastic team as well as being in the Civilian Pilot Training Course (CPT).

He held a pilot's license when he graduated from Springfield in 1941, and enlisted immediately in the Army Air Forces as a cadet after receiving his degree. Following a summer spent as head lifeguard at Palmer Beach, he was called to active duty in the Air Force in September and was commissioned a second lieutenant the following April at Kaye Field, Columbus, Miss.

In August, 1942, he went overseas and was assigned to the 8th Air Force based somewhere in Central England. He was promoted to 1st lieutenant in November, 1942, and to captain in November of the following year.

As pilot of one of the famous Flying Fortresses Capt. Gurney completed 25 missions over France and Germany. He holds the Air Medal with three clusters and the Distinguished Flying Cross. Besides combat flying he was sent on special duty to North Africa, Tripoli and Tunisia, and following the completion of his 25 missions, was assigned to the Air Transport Group, ferrying supplies around the British Isles.

While in England Capt. Gurney met several Winchester boys. Only one did he and his boyhood chum, the late Lt. Sherman Dodge, succeed in getting together, but on that occasion they spent a pleasant evening in London. Besides Lt. Dodge he met Frankie Provinzano, former Winchester, Wilbraham and B. U. football star, now in the Army Engineers; Ray Manger, who was for a time on finance duty at Capt. Gurney's base; and Bud O'Leary, who was on flying control duty in a tower at an airfield where Capt. Gurney chanced to land to pick up several passengers.

After completing his three weeks' leave Capt. Gurney will report to a reassignment center in New Jersey. Although nothing is certain in the Army he did not expect to be sent again overseas, at least in the immediate future.

CANADIAN FLYER ENJOYED STAR

He's now a pilot officer in the Royal Canadian Air Force, but he's still Tommy Hammond, former Winchester boy, who used to live on Ridge street and play third base for Winchester High. He was a member of the old "Tourists Club" in the good old days, batting around and traveling light, inside and outside with Deacon Hamilton, Tony Cardillo, Robbie Smith, Chase Dodge, Reg Thwing, Bruce Copas, Joe Flaherty and the rest. He still has a very warm place in his heart for the old home town and gets a real kick out of reading the Star in such out-of-the-way places as Kiska and Attu in Alaska, to which he often flies from his base at New Harbor, Alberta.

Tommy's old pal, Bruce Copas, has been sending him Stars, quite a few at a time and recently received a letter from Tommy, in which the latter told of receiving a batch of papers just before he and several buddies were snowed in for a week in a remote spot in Alaska.

They spent their time reading and re-reading the copies Tommy with all unmodified enjoyment in which his companions soon joined. As a matter of fact Tommy wrote that the reading of the papers made Winchester enthusiasts of the other boys.

SELECTEES TO LEAVE

On Wednesday morning, June 28, a group will leave Winchester Town Hall after the usual departure ceremonies, leaving for Boston on the 8.32 train. They will then proceed to the Post Office Building where they will be inducted into the Navy. Benjamin C. Angier, 21 Swan rd.
On Monday, June 12, Edward P. Lynch of 50 Holland street went to the Induction Station for examination at a similar induction into the Navy.

TEELE AND PRIDHAM

It is with real pleasure that this column records the fact that Royal "Paper Trade" Teele, doughty president of the Palmer Beach Horseshoe Association, attained championship stature once more at the regular meeting of the Association last weekend after a long stretch in the pitching doldrums.

Royal paired with Roland "Thin Finger" Pridham to attain tutular honors and its getting so this Pridham feller is in the money virtually every time out. All the members agree something should be done about it, but to date no one has been able successfully to cope with his skyscraper shoe and monotonous consistency. Royal and and Roland finally went down to defeat last week-end, but it wasn't until the other teams in the field, pitching it relays, had worn them to practical exhaustion that the trick was turned.

In addition to President Teele's getting into the winning column once more for a change, last week's meeting was distinguished by the return to action of "Wild Willie" McLaughlin, the Pride of Stowe and Champion of all Nabnassett, who had been confined to his front porch for the past two weeks with an exceedingly painful "Charlie Horse" of the back sustained in an injudicious struggle with the McLaughlin furniture. It would be faltering with the truth to state that "Willie" was in top form. He was still a bit chary about putting the old back into it, but withal it was at long last the good old Pride of Stowe who paired with Herbert "Garrulous" Gardner to lower the winning colors of the Teele-Pridham combination. A typical McLaughlin doubleheader at a crucial moment in the deciding game really tumbled the champs from their lofty pinnacle.

Aside from this, Mr. McLaughlin's pitching as unexceptional. He was unable to carry the Secretary to victory in the opening match of the forenoon, and he lost again with the Scrivener later in the session before finally winning with Mr. Gardner after Mr. Teele became so worn out he could hardly get the shoes over the foul line. In fact there were several pitches by the perennial champion of the Boston Paper Trade that would have caused the Wittet eyebrows to elevate a bit, even if no verbal comment was made.

Mr. Wittet unfortunately did not appear at the session, being undoubtedly engaged in harrowing his blueberry bushes after Friday evening's deluge. Henry "Tiffany" Knowlton was also among the missing, certain domestic duties of a more or less pressing nature unavoidably interfering with his ability to report for play. Needless to state he was missed, victims of his superlative skill at the previous session having looked forward to giving him "the works" when his pitching returned to its normal level.

Arthur E. Butters, sometimes called the State of Maine Champ, failed to show up again and the usual motion to read him out of the Association or blackball him or something this time didn't meet with quite the strenuous opposition from Mr. McLaughlin, noted upon previous occasions. It may well be that Willie is giving up on Arthur, though the Pride of Stowe should consider that without the Butters support, his chances of assuming presidential honors some day are practically non-existant. A Butters temporarily absent from the pitching (and voting) arena is nevertheless much better than no Butters at all!

The final match of the session pitted the Association's President and Secretary against Mr. Gardner and Mr. McLaughlin. The first game went to the latter team and truth compels the statement that it was the usually luckless Scrivener who kept the officers in the game.

Mr. Teele rallied in the second battle and aided slightly by the Secretary succeeded in annexing the victory which squared the match. Since the hour by then was very late the deciding game had to be postponed, but the way Mr. Teele had been going he and the Secretary were shoo-ins to win.

Royal was very pleased about his fine showing and championship stature for the session, going home to the first plate of sweet soup he has enjoyed since the start of the current season. He was very very happy about it all and after "putting it there" with all the boys advised them that when he "got back from Wells River he would be in to see them!"

STATE News GUARD

STATE GUARD NEWS

State inspection on May 31 marked the completion of the winter training program of the 16th Company 23d Inf. M. S. G., Winchester's own unit. Beginning this month more attention is being given the outdoor problems, both day and night involving reconnaissance and combat patrolling, riot control, terrain appreciation and various tactical exercises to be held in the fields and woods surrounding Winchester.

A typical training program for the summer months is that outlined for the present month:

June 7: Riot formations, 30 minutes. Extending order battle formations 60 minutes. U. S. rifle cal. 30 model 1917. Nomenclature and loading.

June 14: training films, rifle platoon, 30 minute. Bayonet fighting. Extended order, 30 minutes. Guard duty, 30 minutes. Terrain appreciation (conference- 30 minutes.

June 21, tactical night problem, reconnaissense and combat patrol, two hours.

June 28: Close order drill, 30 minutes. Preparation of packs and equipment 45 minutes. Articles of war and military law (conference) 45 minutes.

Much of the ground work for this summer problem was laid in a series of training films obtained from the Headquarters of the First Service Command. Among subjects covered by these films were the following: Hasty field fortifications, camouflage cover and concealment ,fire and movement, booby traps, street fighting, day and night reconnaissence patrols, attack and defense of road blocks, bayonet fighting and battle formations for small units.

Considerable attention will also be given this summer to rifle marksmanship with the U. S. rifle cal. 30 model 1917. During the winter months every member of this company qualified as either a marksman, sharpshooter, or expert with the 22 cal. rifle on the official indoor course and it is hoped that this record will be equaled with the larger Army rifles outdoors. Details will report each Sunday at the State rifle range at Camp Curtis Guild in Wakefield where qualifications will be held on the 200 yd. range.

The camp to be held this summer at Camp Chase Army area, South Hingham will present an opportunity to the men to get some real field work, putting into actual practice what they have been going over a couple of hours a week during the past year. The 23d Inf. will go to camp the week of July 16 through 22.

Within a week or so this column will publish a complete roster of this company as it now is.

The Henry F. Taylors of Washington street have opened their summer home at Manomet.

Hot dogs and beans and all the fixin's always taste good but add the gayety of a congenial group and the great outdoors to this traditional Saturday supper and you've a feast for a king.

That was the reaction of everyone present and the club's able entertainment committee deserve a great big hand for the fine job they did. Let's hope they'll plan more of these Saturday shindigs.

Prior to the supper, some very thrilling swimming races and a diving contest were held under the direction of Judy Hawkins, the club's capable life guard. There were races for both boys and girls, according to age groups and type of swimming and every contest was a corker.

Bob Knowlton proved to be the best of the boy swimmers, with four wins and Sylvia Gagan was the standout among the girls. Here are the results:

Older boys 100 yd. freestyle: 1st, Bob Knowlton; 2nd, Pat Patterson; 3rd, Bill Knights.

Younger boys crawl: 1st, Bob Litchfield; 2nd, Bob Kirkel; tie for third, Dick Wansker, Roger Creelman.

Younger girls crawl: 1st, Marilyn Chase; 2nd, Nancy Woodward; 3rd, Jane Beggs.

Older boys crawl: 1st, Bob Knowlton; 2nd, Bill Knights; 3rd, Dave Whorf.

Younger boys breast stroke: 1st, Roger Creelman; 2nd, Bob Litchfield; 3rd, Eugene Chase.

Younger girls breast stroke: 1st, Silvia Gagan; 2nd, Mary Anne Cosen; 3rd, Anne Barett.

Older boys breast stroke: 1st, Bob Knowlton; 2nd, Dave Whorf; 3rd, Art Lawson.

Younger girls side stroke: 1st, Silvia Gagan; 2nd, Leith Austin; 3rd, Mary Anne Cosen.

Older boys back stroke: 1st, Bob Knowlton; 2nd, Dave Whorf, 3rd, Pat Patterson.

Diving: 1st, Jack McClane; 2nd, Arthur Lawson; 3rd, Eugene Chase.

Fleet Follows Simonds Again

Last Saturday afternoon's official Snipe Fleet race was called off because the Mystic turned into a mill pond but apparently the weather man was only storing up wind because Sunday morning the Mystic was a white capped, boiling sea.

While most of the Fleet's skippers were busily engaged trying to keep afloat, Don Simonds and Roger Curtis sped away to an early lead and the race was a two boat contest. While Roger never did quite catch Don, he threatened him on several legs and came home with a very comfortable lead over the third place Dave Merrow.

The sailing was so rugged that several boats failed to finish. Bill Hall's Bondic lost its rudder, Holbrook Bugbee went bottoms up and Harold Pyne's Phooka broke its mast and therein lies a tale.

Harold Pyne, a flight officer and glider pilot in the AAF, was home for a short leave and wanted to get in as much sailing as he could, not having been in his Snipe for several years. Breaking the mast looked like the end of his sailing but he didn't count on the swell bunch of sailors that belong to the club.

Ten minutes after his boat had been towed to the dock, he'd been offered another mast and a few minutes later it had been delivered to the club. To make a long but lovely story short everybody pitched in and by 5 o'clock F-O Pyne was sailing his Snipe again.

It was one of the nicest voluntary gestures we've ever witnessed. It's something Harold won't forget for a good long time and we're pretty proud to be part of such a swell group of fellows.

ANTICIPATES REUNION

To the Editor of the Star:

Graduation time reminds me of class reunions, and I wonder if you would put a paragraph in your paper to the effect that it would be wonderful for some of the members of the class of 1920 who live in, or about Winchester, to get their heads together in anticipation of the 25th anniversary of our graduation. It may be a little previous to think of a year ahead, but it seems to me that it might take several months to locate and contact all of the members.

I hope you will feel you can do this for me, and thanks a lot!

Very sincerely,

A RARE FIND

As Mrs. Frank A. Goodhue and son Robert of 146 Cross street were working in their victory garden, they came across five baby pheasants in a very exhausted condition. The pheasants were brought in, put in a box by the kitchen stove and cared for until they are now getting along beautifully.

The chicks are fluffy yellow balls of feathers with brown stripes down their backs. They are getting quite cocky and have started sprouting wings.

The Conservation officer of the State has given permission to keep them until they are full grown and able to take care of themselves. Then the birds will be released.

The Golden Text, O house of Jacob, come ye, and let us walk in the light of the Lord, is from Isaiah 2:5. Other Scriptural citations include, Doth not wisdom cry, and understanding put forth her voice? Receive my instruction, and not silver; and knowledge rather than choice gold. For wisdom is better than rubies; and all the things that may be desired are not to be compared to it (Proverbs 8:1, 10, 11).

Also included in the Lesson-Sermon will be the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures, by Mary Baker Eddy: Christian Science can be taught only by those who are morally advanced and spiritually enlightened, for it is not superficial, nor is it discerned from the standpoint of the human senses. Only by the illumination of the spiritual sense, can the light of understanding be thrown upon this Science, because Science reverses the evidence before the material senses and furnishes the eternal interpretation of God and man (p. 461).

FORUM HEAD HONORED

Ted Atkinson, Jr., has been granted fine recognition for his unusual leadership as president of the Senior Forum of the First Congregational Church. He has been elected one of the six Massachusetts delegates to attend the North American Youth Conference of the National Pilgrim Fellowship which meant the responsibility for the welfare of the young people's groups of the 31 Congregational Churches in the Association. This included the towns and cities all the way from Lynnfield and Wakefield to Billerica and Lexington.

As president of the Forum, Ted and his officers led the high schoolery to new heights of service and fellowship. The Forum employment bureau served hundreds of Winchester families in jobs ranging from chopping wood, gardening, and cleaning windows to caring for children and chauffeuring.

A Forum group made weekly trips to two Boston settlement houses to take charge of the club work with boys and girls there who had no other activities save what they could find on the streets. War work included giving blood donors by proxy, keeping in touch with the Forum boys in service and putting on Vesper services and entertainment at Camp Devens and Shipboard. The Forum helped to save a critical penny shortage by putting on a "penny hunt" and collecting in one day 85,000 pennies. Vesper services at the County jail, youth services in other churches and an athletic council for weekday basketball and open house programs all helped to meet the community need for something to do out of school hours. Ted and Steve Greene were called to Washington to tell the story of the work of the Forum before the Youth Division of the O. C. D.

The climax of the year came with a picnic at Andover Newton Seminary. At this time, Gordon McGovern and Steve and Ted were presented with new testaments in recognition of their leadership. Dick Spencer and Dick Wills received the coveted Pilgrim Fellowship pins for their outstanding contribution to the Forum and Ted received a life subscription to the Reader's Digest "in appreciation of the work of the Forum and his contribution to it."

The year closes with a report of the nominating committee's list of officers for the new year:

President, Don Armstrong
Vice Pres., Judy Hawkins
Secretary, Terrie Howe
Treasurer, Grant Burntnett
Asst. Treas., Hood Norris
Chairman of Publicity, Barbara Johnson

CLASS OF 1919 W. H. S. HAS REUNION

By Marion Nichols Peirce

Twenty-five years ago when 58 young hopefuls graduated from the Winchester High School their motto was "Carry On." Last Saturday night it was evident that they were still mindful of their motto as over 30 of the class gathered in the gymnasium of the high school to reune, some coming from as far as Louisiana, Philadelphia and Hartford for the occasion. A most capable committee, consisting of Ruth E. Hilton, Hester Goddu, Florence Neilsen, Edith Tracy and Ralph Purrington, chosen from those still living in Winchester had arranged all the details and sent notices to all who could be located. As the class-mates rather timidly entered the gymnasium, fearful lest they wouldn't recognize each other, they were delighted to see a big table where all the graduation pictures were spread out. This was the center of attraction for those first few moments of straightening out just who was who and finding their the guests of honor were Mr. and Mrs. James J. Quinn, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Stacy and Mr. Arthur Butters. After the class picture, had been taken and various candid camera shots snapped, people seated them-elves at the large U shaped table decorated in the class colors, purple and gold, and pinned on their attractive purple and gold nosegays from which dangled miniature diplomas. From then on it was just like a class supper held back in 1919.

Ruth Davidson Hilton, chairman of the reunion committee, was a most gracious and attractive mistress of ceremonies. To her goes much of the credit for the occasion and for its success. She had thought of everything even to providing for some old time music played by "Al" Folsom at the piano, the strains of which were almost drowned out by familiar sounding giggles and occasional guffaws. The real laughter came however when David Skinner, and Marion Nichols Peirce, pinch hitting for Anne Zueblin Forsythe, co-author with David, read the class prophecy. Ann and David had real foresight in many cases, and the transoceanic plane with the wireless phones didn't seem as fantastic now as when they were written about 25 years ago.

Florence Murphy Neilsen read the class statistics.

Isabel Beggs Scott read the class song she had forgotten she'd written and Teddy Clifton read the class poem he not only had written but also had recited at graduation. He said that he had forgotten some of the foot work drilled by Miss Weeks but his actions belied his words and both the footwork and the poem were enthusiastically applauded.

Mr. Quinn brought greetings as did Mr. Butters and Mrs. Stacy who also remembered a few anecdotes about certain class members.

Letters were read from Miss Eva Palmer, Mrss Florence Parker and Mr. Edward E. Thompson who were unable to attend.

Ralph Purrington called the roll and each one present gave a brief resume of his or her activities since 1919. Five had children graduating from Winchester or some other high school this June. Two had sons in the armed forces. Four classmates, Alice Freeman Daniels, Gordon Wheeler, David Meskill and Reginald Kibbe and several husbands were also reported serving their country. Alice, looking so smart in her Army Psysciotherapist's uniform had come from Louisiana for the affair.

Dorothea Higgins Reebenacker could boast of seven offspring and Isabel Beggs Scott modestly mentioned her five.

Activities ranged from Benny Drisko's bookwriting on houses to Alfred Elliott who builds them. Two members, Lillian Nicholson and George McGuerty had died. Three husbands and one wife came as guests and nearly everyone else boasted of having one or the other.

Globe trotting Thelma Trott was proud of her freedom but Emily Mclaugh who claimed to still have that name, sported an orchid and something that sparkled suspiciously.

David Skinner spoke briefly of his part as general manager of the Philadelphia plant of the S. K. F. Ball Bearing Company. He, incidentally had come all the way from Jenkintown, Penn., to be present.

Teddy Clifton almost forgot to give the trade name of his jellies which he said could be bought in any A. and P. store.

Letters were read from various absent members including the class president, Clinton Raynor who invited one and all to visit him in Washington. Brenda Bond Bailey, Anne Zuebln Forsythe, Annette Mason Bush, Ada Erickson Borthwick, Eleanor Schubarth Bentsen, Hamilton Gifford, and Leland Chapman. Forms were filled out by those present giving their clubs and activities and it is hoped a directory of the class may be made from these.

Mr. Quinn graciously invited the class to roam over the building, new parts and old. The new part was admired, but it was the old marble frieze, the busts and statues and the old bubble fountains that still bubbled that caused the most interest. It was with reluctance that farewells were finally said and only after Ruth and her committee promised not to wait for 25 more years before planning another get together.

Boston Edison Company says

Boston Edison Company

You CAN take it with you..

and you really SHOULD

The little piece of cardboard our Conductors place in the back of the seat or hand you after taking your ticket on the train is a "train identification check" — proof you have paid your fare. Its color and the number of punches in it shows any conductor your destination at a glance.

Like your money or anything else that's valuable, you should take it with you when you leave your seat or go into another car, such as diner or smoker. In fact, it's so important to YOU that we've made part of our "First Call to Dinner" announcement a warning to "please take your train identification check or ticket with you."

This is really important to you because when you leave your seat with the Conductor's check in it, you invite some unscrupulous newcomer to take the seat, claim the identification check as his — and then the Conductor must ask you to pay your fare again. The slippery person, meanwhile, is riding on YOUR money. Naturally the Conductor can't remember hundreds of faces but there's no mistake about your having paid your fare if you have an identification check.

Incidentally, now that the summer travel has started, we don't plan to have anyone stand at ANY time. It will be better for you, and easier for us, however, if you would plan your necessary travel in mid-week. Then there is a much better chance of your enjoying air-conditioned comfort than on week-ends when extra and older equipment must, of necessity, be in service.

Scores of our better coaches are, at all times now, off our lines in troop-carrying service.

RAYTHEON RECEIVES SECOND SILVER STAR

Raytheon Manufacturing Company, which gained nation-wide prominence a year ago, when all four of its plants were awarded Army-Navy "E" pennants, this week received word that a second silver star will be added to its flags.

Laurence K. Marshall, president of the company, was informed by Adm. C. C. Bloch, chairman, Navy Board for Production Awards, that Raytheon's four divisions, located in Waltham and Newton, will each have a second silver star affixed to their "E" pennants, "Because of your untiring effort and support so necessary for victory" during the past six months. Raytheon's plants received the first stars on their "E" flags last November.

RED CROSS EMERGENCY CALL

So desperate is the need for surgical dressings that the appeal of last week is being repeated in order that all prospects may be reached. With the invasion in full force, the monthly quota of 100,000,000 surgical dressings probably will have to be increased, whereas present production is below the existing quota.

This is, indeed a challenge to our loyalty and devotion. Our boys at the front are not taking a vacation but are ever pursuing the bloody fight so that we, in the brighter days ahead may have a longer and happier vacation with plenty of gas and freedom from rationing and other necessary war restrictions.

As in the purchase of war bonds, work on surgical dressings is an investment in the future which will return dividends of lessened fatalities and happy reunions.

It is earnestly hoped that all of the present workers together with many new ones will find pleasure in dedicating as any as possible of their summer hours to this most necessary war effort.

The auditorium at the town hall, now available for surgical dressing workers, will be found cool and spacious.

The ladies on the home front have a grand opportunity to show the boys how much they really care for them.

BRITISH WAR RELIEF

Right at the invasion front! That is the latest news from some of the mobile canteens which Winchester and other U. S. communities gave for the aid and comfort of bombed Britain. Now they are on the spot to comfort some of our own boys. Two are in Italy; others have gone over to Normandy. This is a bit of news which members of the Winchester unit brought back from the June luncheon in Boston last week.

Another bit, almost incredibly good when one remembers the power of the U boats in the Atlantic in the early years of British War Relief is that nothing Boston shipped was lost in crossing.

And the will to help holds steadfast. The last bit of news proves that for 722 cartons of B. W. R. articles were sent over in just the one month of May.

Winchester workroom continues to turn out new garments by the dozen. Maybe some of the dozen small boys who will don the most recently finished shorts will be visiting with Winchester soldiers, waiting for their turn or resting from their time at the front. Boys we know may make cheerful chatter with tiny British girls dressed up in frocks their mothers made. Mrs. Chase and her workers see to it that every little wearer can feel really dressed up. For while the 12 packages that come from the Boston cutting room are all alike, touches of handwork make them individual and different. So Mrs. Chase can effectively use either hand or machine workers on Wednesdays.

Watch for a new little pin on Winchester wearers. It means that the wearer has earned it by at least 150 hours for British War Relief in a year. Each star on the little har means an additional year of work.

The cost is nominal. The B. W. R. Society makes no money by the sale of the pins, but it urges that workers send in their records because it is eager to have in its files authentic lists of these faithful workers. Women of Winchester may bring their records in on Wednesdays or mail or telephone them to Miss F. Louise Nardin, 8 Stowell road, Win. 2843.

MISS SCOTT SPEAKS IN CANADA

Miss Evelyn M. Scott, director of religious education at the First Congregational Church, gave two addresses this week at McMaster University, Hamilton, Ontario, under the auspices of the Inter-Church Council of Canada. The subject of her two addresses was The Approach to Youth. Other speakers were from Japan, the Philippines, South America and Canada. The Canadian churches are contemplating adopting the forum idea for high school students, which has worked out so successfully in the First Congregational Church and invited Miss Scott to tell of her work here in Winchester.

TO SPEAK AT FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

The Rev. Walter Lee Bailey will occupy the pulpit of the First Baptist Church on Sunday, June 25. Mr. Bailey is pastor of the Tabernacle Baptist Church of Utica, N. Y. and has held pastorates in Springfield and North Adams.

GIRL INJURED AT PALMER BEACH

On the holiday afternoon shortly before 2 o'clock Police Headquarters was notified by Lifeguard James Quine that a girl had sustained a badly cut foot at Palmer Beach.

Officer Irving Reardon went to the beach and took Dorothy O'Brien, 5, of 1 Walnut court, Woburn, to the Winchester Hospital where she was treated by Dr. Philip J. McManus for a cut on her left foot. She told Officer Reardon she received the injury on a sharp stone while in the playpen at the beach.

After being treated at the hospital Officer Reardon took the little girl to her home.

TROOP 10 NEWS

On Friday, June 16 at Camp Rankin, Medford, Troop 10 held an informal rally with Troop 10 of Medford. Our Winchester troop won the competition by a score of 36-22.

The final meeting of the season was held on Monday, June 19, at which time the troop played host to its parents. The program was opened by Scoutmaster Ralph Slocombe who gave a report on the progress of the troop since he took charge in February.

Mr. Slocombe then called on Field Executive McFeeley and Commissioner Dotten for a few brief remarks. An investiture service was held and the boys were presented with advancement pins and achievement awards. Special awards were made as follows:

Medal for the out-standing work in scouting done by a member of the troop this year to Donald McFarlane.

Bar for excellence in cooking to Don Ducharme.

Bar for excellence in sigaling to Ned Moore.

Bar for excellence in tracking to Danny Devlin.

Bar for excellence in using flint and steel in fire making to Milton Galicia.

Bar for excellence in first aid to Donald McFarlane.

Senior patrol leaders insignia were presented to Milton Galicia and Donald McFarlane.

After this service, each of the three patrols put on a skit under the direction of their respective patrol leaders. Frank Johnson, Hank Richburg and Don Ducharme.

The finale of the program was the showing of moving pictures and slides of the activities at Camp Fells-laid during the summer. The boys then served refreshments and all present agreed that it had been a most enjoyable and instructive evening.

TREES DAMAGED BY LAST FRIDAY'S STORM

Last Friday evening's thunder storm with its heavy wind and rain did considerable damage to trees about town though there was no serious trouble reported. The Tree Department worked well into the night Friday and all day the holiday clearing away debris.

Branches were reported down on Wedgemere avenue, Salisbury street, Wildwood street, Norwood street, Pine street and Curtis circle with two large willow trees felled on Manchester Field at the Waterfield road end.

A live wire was down on Pine street and had to be guarded by the Police until Edison crews could make repairs. Other trees were down on Largange street, Stratford road, Englewood road, Leonard Field, Washington steet, near Mt. Pleasant street, Grove street, Myrtle terrace, Crescent road, Spruce street, Washington and Nelson streets, and Pond and Cambridge streets. All the street lights on the west side were cut off by repairmen engaged in getting the system into working condition again.

WAR PARENTS MEETING

On Friday evening, June 30 at 7:30, there will be an open meeting for all Winchester parents of servicemen and servicewomen, in the Art Gallery of the Winchester Public Library.

President R. L. McQuillan and Secretary S. F. Hamblin, both of Lexington will be the principal speakers. The ideals, aims and objective of the organization will be explained and judging from the inquiries which have come to the temporary local committee, the meeting will be well attended and very timely.

War Parents of America, Inc., is in no way a duplication of any existing agencies, but is a distinct addition to all community effort toward prosecuting the war and winning the peace, by those most vitally concerned, the parents of our young people in the armed forces of our country.

SHOT IN EYE WITH AIR RIFLE

Police Headquarters was notified shortly after 9:30 Tuesday night that physicians at the Boston Eye and Ear Infirmary had treated Thomas Lavelle, 6 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Lavelle of 5 Emerson court for injuries to his left eye sustained when he was struck by a slug from an air rifle while playing on Florence street.

The Police secured the names of three Winchester boys, aged 13 and 15, one of whom was believed to be responsible. Air rifles were taken from two of them by Patrolman James F. Noonan. Conflicting stories were told by the boys as to the responsibility for the shot which injured young Lavelle.

Although the Star has received no definite information concerning the July 4 celebration, it is understood that it will follow closely the programs of preceding years.

There will be a children's party in the morning at the town hall with an entertainment program by professional talent. Last year's party started at 10 o'clock and there is no admission charge.

In the afternoon there will be a program of races and sports events held at Leonard Field, probably commencing at 2 o'clock. The Park Department is co-operating with Winchester Post, A. L., in conducting both the morning and afternoon events.

DID THE IMPOSSIBLE

Installing an aircraft camera in the tail of the famous P51 Mustang after leading aircraft engineers and designers in the European Theater of Operations had said "it can't be done," Cpl. Bennett Wightman of this town and his 9th Air Force Service Squadron in the ETO have won the attention and commendation of high ranking Army Air Force officers who took their hats off to these men who have yet to see an impossible job.

Cpl. Wightman is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Henry Wightman of 35 Willwood street. He attended Lincoln Prep High School in Boston graduating in 1941, entering the service in June 1942.

Successful installation of the camera was accomplished by the squadron after tests by North American Aircraft Corp., makers of the Mustang and Wright Field aeronautical engineers had already proved the job impossible.

Nevertheless, the commanding general of the 9th Air Force fighter command, who knows and respects what his men can do, gave permission to Cpl. Wightman's squadron to attempt the installation. In one week after the general said go ahead, the first aerial camera, of the type desired, had been installed in the tail of a Mustang.

The job that stumped the experts had been done by a service squadron under difficult field conditions. Modifications had been made on the plane that the manufacturers never dreamed of.

In less than three months 50 more Mustangs were camera-equipped. Planes of the only tactical fighter reconnaisance group in any theater, serviced by Cpl. Wightman's squadron, were streaking over enemy territory, blasting at Nazi targets with their .50-cal. machine guns, shooting sites and installations with their newly installed cameras to give 9th Air Force intelligence officers vital pictorial information essential to effective aerial warfare.

With the small camera previously used, pilots had to go down on the deck to get their photos. Chances had to be taken that risked lives, planes and important pictures, too.

But now, with the new large camera, pilots can out over enemy territory at the Mustang's best flying level where enemy planes can't match their speed and the chances of bringing back important photos, good photos, as well as their planes and themselves, have been tremendously improved by the outstanding achievement of a small group of men who refused to say, it can't be done.

PLAYGROUNDS OPEN MONDAY

The Winchester playgrounds at Loring avenue and Leonard Field are opening for the summer season Monday, July 3, with Miss Marjorie Mahoney as supervisor.

Miss Mahoney is very eager to have the use for the summer of a hand-operated portable phonograph and would be happy to hear from any one who can loan one for the playground's use during the season.

BOY BICYCLE THIEVES CAUGHT

Three of four youths who attempted to steal bicycles from the parking lot at the Winchester Theatre last Friday evening shortly before 9.30 were apprehended, two by the Medford Police and a third by Officer John H. Boyle after the youngster had leaped into Black Ball and swam under a bridge.

Officer Boyle was standing in the parking space at Bonnell Motors across the street from the theatre, talking with two theater ushers, Edwin Wilson of Lebanon street and Charles Whalen of Winchester place. His attention was attracted to four youths on the sidewalk in front of the theater, and as he watched them, they entered the theater parking lot, each returning with a bicycle.

Officer Boyle and the two theater ushers started toward the youths and as they saw them approach, the latter dropped their machines and ran down through the parking lot to the Boston and Maine tracks.

Three of the boys got away but one, after jumping into Black Ball Pond and swimming under the bridge, was finally captured by Officer Boyle. Two of the other three were picked up by Medford Police at 2 o'clock Saturday morning and brought to local headquarters by Officers James Noonan and Augustine MacDonald.

All three of the boys came from Charlestown and were about 14 years old. After being booked they were released in custody of their parents and will appear in the Woburn Court July 6.

BOOKS FOR PRISONERS OF WAR

In the latest issue of its Prisoner of War Bulletin, the American Red Cross announced from Washington, D. C. that relatives and friends of American prisoners of war in Europe are allowed to send 60 pounds of books a year, at the rate of five pounds a month, to each United States prisoner of war and civilian internee held by Germany.

These books, however, must be sent direct from the bookseller and must conform with various restrictions imposed by the German authorities. Books containing maps, charts, and travel information are banned, also any book containing political matter, references to the war, information on radio, espionage and technical, military or naval matters is forbidden as are books written from enemy-held territory or by authors who have been blacklisted by the German government.

The United States Office of Censorship will allow only one package of books to be forwarded every 30 days but will pass any book which does not contain objectionable material.

In order to furnish prisoners with the maximum number of books possible, it is suggested that small reprints be sent. Nearly all of these are pre-war and so avoid censorship problems. The Red Cross advises that patriotic slogans, appeals to buy war bonds, etc., on the dust-covers of books be removed by the bookseller before the volumes are mailed.

TUESDAY LUNCHEON GROUP

Gives Seamen's Club Dance

Wednesday evening, June 21, the Epiphany Tuesday Luncheon Group provided the music and the refreshments for one of the summer dances at the Seamen's Club, Batterymarch street, Boston.

A young woman of Epiphany Parish, Miss Betty Sharon, was the leader of the young hostesses at the dance. A body of these young volunteers regularly gives time at the Seamen's Club as one part of their war work.

They are a selected group; they govern themselves and they re-elected Miss Sharon as this year's leader. In addition to dances, they plan hikes, picnics and sight seeing tours. They listen, and talk, and give a touch of the home town to seamen who come for Sunday evening tea. All the United States and many a far country are represented among those 100 or more Sunday evening guests.

Any Winchester group that would like to sponsor a tea, a picnic, or a dance may talk with Mrs. Alfred Denley, Win. 2843. Mrs. Denley is the Epiphany representative in Seamen's Club planning.

The USO assists in financing the Seamen's Club program of lodgings, by which more than 40,000 American seamen benefited in 1943, and more than 12,000 men of the United Nations.

But the home-like teas and dances are provided by churches or clubs.

The Winchester Baptist Church has sponsored a Sunday evening tea.

While at Radleciffe Miss Weaver, who majored in the field of Biology, was an active member of the Choral Society and belonged also to the Outing Club and Athletic Association. Last year she was chairman of the Community Chest committee. Miss Palson, who majored in the field of Sociology, was an active member of the Athletic Association and received an honorable mention in swimming in her freshman year. Last year she was treasurer of the Sociology Club.

A special wartime commencement was held on June 24 which did not include the awarding of degrees. They were not voted by the Radcliffe Council and Harvard Corporation until this week.

The Fire Department was called at 1:10 Tuesday morning by a telephone call from Mrs. John Politi, 94 Highland avenue, who reported a leak in the domestic hot water heater. The firemen found upon arrival that the system was air bound, but that aside from that there was no trouble.

On this Friday evening, June 30, at 7:30, all local parents who have a son, or a daughter in the service are cordially invited to attend an open meeting of War Parents of America, Inc., which will be held in the Art Gallery of the Winchester Public Library.

National President, Mr. Roy L. McQuillan of Lexington is to be the principal speaker. He will explain the aims and objectives of the organization which include: winning the war, providing for the disabled, post-war prosperity, mutual aid and comfort, 100 per cent Americanism and a lasting peace.

In communities where War Parents' Chapters have been established, the movement is popular, not only with the parents of men and women in the service, but also with city and town officials charged with the responsibility for post-war planning and rehabilitation of those now fighting the war.

Gov. Leverett Saltonstall who, with Mrs. Saltonstall, recently joined Newton Chapter, writes: "What I have read about War Parents of America pleases me very much. Our communities are the backbone of our nation and to have this neighborly spirit come to life in such a purposeful way, as is happening in Lexington, is an inspiring development. I wish you continued success."

BOAT CLUB NEWS

WINCHESTER BOAT CLUB NEWS

Denise Wolff and John Gould Win Steward's Slogan Contest

The second annual steward's party for the Winchester Boat Club's youngsters was a huge success in every way. About 75 youngsters were on deck and had a hilarious time.

The party is sponsored by Maurice Dustin, the club's steward and Mrs. Dustin and the price of admission was a slogan about the club. To add zest to the writing of the slogans, Maurice put up two prizes, one for the best slogan submitted by a girl and the other for the best slogan from a boy.

Denise Wolff, whose slogan was Where Winchester relaxes, the Winchester Boat Club, won the girl's contest and Johnny Gould's Play fair, be square, the boys. Maurice presented both these youngsters with generous credit slips good for plenty of goodies from the club's store.

Mr. Robert Friend, Sr., presented a variety of entertaining movies which the kids enjoyed thoroughly particularly the last two, which were cartoons featuring a cute but mischievious pup.

A good time was had by young and old and I do mean old because some of those who sneaked into the back of the hall were certainly over the 12 year age limit, although you'd never know it from the way they rocked with laughter.

Don't forget the third annual 4th of July clambake at 6 o'clock of the holiday. The menu includes steamed clams, a broiled live lobster, pickles and chips, watermelon and tonic.

You folks who have previously attended these clambakes don't have to be told how swell they are.

Jones Jumps Fleet Again

Five stalwart Snipe skippers braved threatening weather to answer the starting gun in last Saturday's race. George Jones got another of his perfect starts and swept away to an early lead which he never relinquished. Jim Newman, Roger Curtis and Carl Freyer in that order, moved up and challenged George's Youani, but each time George turned on the steam and left them in his wake. At the end of the second lap the cloud's opened up and California dew soaked sails, skippers and boats but the boys continued to the soggy end.

Jones finished first, a good six lengths ahead of Freyer's Phooka. Roger Curtis was third, a scant two lengths aft.

California dew caused postponement of the Sunday race, which indicates there'll be a raft of races over the holiday week-end.

Club Chatter

The ping pong contest is in full stride. Any of you entrants who haven't played your matches had better do so or default. Plans are to have the finals on the 4th.

RED CROSS WATER SAFETY

July 5 to Aug. 23 marks this year's season for the Winchester Red Cross swimming and water safety instruction at Palmer and Leonard Beaches.

To fit the times, strenuous workouts in life saving are planned for this year. From 3.30 to 5 at Palmer Beach and from 6 to 7.30 at Leonard Pool, on Monday, Wednesday and Friday, techniques and skills of water safety will be reviewed.

In order that training may be effective the large classes of beginners and intermediates will be subdivided. The newly formed groups of advanced beginners and advanced intermediates will provide opportunity for those who participated in the classes of progress last summer. Classes will be conducted six days a week, alternating at Palmer Beach and Leonard Pool; the first lesson will be given at Leonard Pool.

The following schedule will be observed:

10-10.30, beginners.
10.30-11, advanced beginners.
11-11.30, intermediates.
11.30-12, advanced intermediates

Those interested may register with the bath house custodian at either of the local beaches.

BUTTERS AND LEARY GOLF WINNERS

The Winchester teacher team of Arthur Butters and Otis Leary, after two months of competition, during which they met all comers, finally won the championship round of the four-ball competition for the John Abbott Trophy at the Winchester Country Club last Sunday, by defeating no less a golfing personality than Judge Joe Monahan and Harry McGrath, 1 up in 27 holes.

The teams were all even at the end of 18 holes and by previous agreement decided the stalemate by playing another nine.

Mr. Butters, whose prowess with horseshoes is a town by-word and who is in that league sometimes called the State of Maine Champ, played a lot of very consistent golf, along with Mr. Leary, to win his way into the final rounds of this Abbott Cup tournament, one of the popular club competitions. The tournament is a handicap affair and Arthur and Otis naturally had quite a few strokes over the Judge, who used to play his golf at Belmont Springs, and Harry.

That however, is golf and takes nothing from the hearty congratulations accorded the pedagogic combination for their consistently good play throughout the preliminary rounds and final of the tournament. Art and Ote must be the first teacher pair to win such a competition at Winchester.

QUIGLEY FOR BASEBALL LEAGUE

The Star received this week a letter from Patrolman Joseph L. Quigley of the Winchester Police Department, now Chief Specialist in athletics and coach of a Naval Station baseball team somewhere on foreign service out of New York.

Joe gets the Star and was interested in Coach Hennie Knowlton's effort to organize a summer baseball league for boys of high school age, both to develop players for future high school teams and to keep the boys constructively occupied during the vacation season. He thinks well of the scheme and wishes only he could be at home to help.

Joe also believes soft ball and even better outlet for youthful exuberance than baseball, which is harder to play and demands more time for practice and conditioning. Coach Knowlton is all for the kids playing anything they want to play, but does not believe that playing soft ball is any help in preparing a boy to play better baseball, and as a consequence will concentrate his efforts in trying to get the kids to play what used to be at least the National game.

Joe made it clear that he isn't backing soft ball over baseball, and says he has quite a team at his station, his best pitcher being a boy named Heinz from Sandusky, Ohio, who has allowed only two earned runs in 55 innings, allowing 25 hits and fanning 67 batters.

QUITE A BALL GAME

Last Friday evening the Winchester A. A. had a baseball game scheduled for Manchester Field with the Stoneham T. T. The Stonehams failed to show up, but a good sized gallery, including several ex-players of greater or less ability, was on hand to watch the fun, so Coach Knowlton and his right bower, Jim Coon, decided to "pick up" a team to play the A. A., who incidentally were not at full strength either.

It was quite a team that took the field. Tony Bucci, work-horse catcher of the A. A., caught for both teams. Charlie Murphy, left-handed them from the mound for the "Heebie Jeebies" and Phil O'Rourke played first. Coach Knowlton was at second, Sammy Provinzano, at short and Gaspie Lentine, a whacking good football player, at third. In the outfield Jim Coon played left, moving out from shortstop after trying to go to his right for a grounder; Chuck Huckins was in center, a very deep center at that; and Scratch Amico was in right.

Whether or not this team finally won we wouldn't know, and no one kept score. The irrepressible Teddy O'Rourke pitched for the A. A. and after it got dark did a pretty good job of it claiming a no hitter and contending that the first five hits don't count. Charlie Murphy's pitching slogged off a bit after he beaned Eddie Hicks first time up and stretched him cold beside the plate.

Eddie recovered and insisted in running for himself, but it is a good thing for him Chief Rogers didn't chart his path down to first, for it was by no means a beeline. The kid gamely stayed at his third base post and threw out a man the following inning at that.

Shiny Amico umpired and the A. A. were not for him, though the Heebie Jeebies voiced no squawks at his verdicts, perhaps because they usually called them for him anyhow. Among the features of the game were two nice hits by Coach Knowlton and Jim Coon, the latter's being made his second time up too. "Hennie" claimed all he could see after his first trip to the plate was the pitcher's motion. He barely avoided a hard-hit ground ball at second, his flat soles and the slippery terrain very nearly getting him shelled out of the park.

The game was finally called in the semi-darkness when Phil O'Rourke caught a line drive at first that both Coach Knowlton and Sam Provinzano thought had gone to left field and your correspondent didn't see at all. "That's enough," ordered Hennie, "Someone is gonna get killed around here in a minute!"

HUBBARD EDGED FORD FOR GOLF CHAMPIONSHIP

Ed Hubbard edged Horace Ford for the Winchester Country Club golf championship, 2 and 1, after 36 holes of thrilling competition on the local links last Sunday. The match was the final for the club championship, competition having been going on for the past two months. It was a scratch affair and the finalists were well matched, both being 6 handicap men.

At the end of 18 holes Ford, former big league baseball star, was one up, and at the end of 24 holes Horace had run his advantage to three.

Here 'Hubbard came to life with a vengeance and took the next four holes with some corking golf to wipe out Ford's lead and take the advantage himself, one up. Ed took the 13th of the second 18 to run his advantage to two up, after which both golfers played superb golf to halve the next four holes and end the match.

Hubbard played the last 18 in 73, or par for the course, and he had to be good to beat Ford who was also quite on his game. The feature shot was when Hubbard exploded from a trap 50 feet out during the latter part of the match to land within six inches of the cup.

Last year in Massachusetts $1933 was collected for the Red Cross through these tournaments.

All interested are invited to play. Entries should be made early by calling H. Ayer, Win. 2636; M. T. Freeman, Win. 0445; W. F. Morton, Win. 2431; J. A. Riley Win. 1431-M.

Entries should be in by Saturday, July 1.

Matches will be started promptly at 10 a. m. Sunday, July 2, with play continuing throughout the day. It is hoped that the finals will be played in the afternoon of July 4.

MR. PARSONS, BATES FELLOW

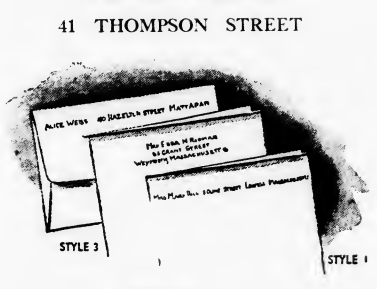

Mr. William Lewis Parsons of Bruce road, Boston attorney and chairman of Winchester's Planning Board, was on last Saturday at the annual alumni exercises elected to the Board of Fellows of Bates College at Lewiston, Me., for a life term.

Mr. Parsons, a member of the Bates class of 1905, has served the college as a member of the Board of Overseers for the past four years. Both boards constitute the trustees of the college, with the Fellows being the upper board, so that Mr. Parsons election as a Fellow is in the nature of a promotion.

Mr. Parsons attended the alumni exercises at the college last Saturday, as did Mr. Wayne E. Davis of Marshall road, who is a member of the Board of Overseers. The occasion was the college's 78th commencement.

The Star offers its congratulations to "Squire" George Franklin, clerk of Selectmen, who is observing his birthday anniversary today. Many happy returns George, and the next time you want to lead "Tough on Poor Old Eli" at a public gathering, may the response be more spontaneous and hearty.

Are you ready for the New Deal July 1 sock? Don't forget that $5 you have to pay for that 24-gallons of gas you are allowed. If you don't like it you don't have to vote for it this fall, but there is a jail sentence if you don't pay it now. Four dollars and eighty cents for the gas and $5 for the privilege of using it!

Poll taxes should be abolished the New Deal says. Why not? Nobody needs have any stake in America as long as they can get what they want for nothing. There's no sense in owning anything. The other fellow will see that it is taken away from you. This brave new world—a combination of communism and facism. If that's what you want we are sorry. If you object and want to stand on your own feet, plan you own life and seek to be a free man as our Constitution allows, kick these New Dealers out next November.

When we were young, about this time of year, we got a job working on Luther Holton's farm. We got up at 6 in the morning, had our breakfast, our mother packed our lunch in a cardboard box, and we started work at 7. We worked till 12, sat under an apple tree and ate our lunch and worked from 1 till 6. From 6 to 7 we went to "stony" or the "flume" and had a swim. We ate a good supper and slept soundly all night, and at the end of the week we got six dollars—a dollar a day.

We bet George Davidson or Bob Armstrong or some of the other boys of our time are glad they lived in those days. We did not have to get the permission of any New Deal politician or show our birth certificate. We did not have to have our Washington ruler pass upon our "rights" or "security;" nor did we have to get our number or working papers. In fact we never even got the permission of our parents—we merely told them we had a job, and they were so pleased that they were willing to put up with a lot of inconvenience just to help us. We did not have to join a union or pay it for a work privilege, or have a delegate or politician inspect us daily looking for flaws in our clothes, food and living accommodations. We did not work for wages, but we received our pay. We were not "social" nor "secure." No union delegate "pulled us off the job." If we fought among ourselves, as alas we sometimes did, Luther Holton attended to it, either by spanking us or firing us.

Those were the happy days. The horse and buggy days, now so streamlined by the great New Deal with its unions, numbers, permits, permissions and orders.

Here in our small plant seventy-five percent of our force came to us and started learning their trade while still studying in the High School. They are the last of a vanishing race. Today we do not even dare to hire a boy, leaving out the permissions, numbers, unions, working papers and laws we do not even try to comprehend. We only know that if we should hire a boy we would be so be-deviled that life is not worth it.

We understand that in this crucial time of war our great rulers are willing to close their eyes on boys working in some places, and require only a union membership, a number and working papers, but the great majority of boys—girls too—are left high and dry, to do anything but work, and to regard their future through eyes which see only their coming "security."

Whether our present condition will endure into the unpredictable future we do not know. The majority of America's voters have thus far wished it to continue. The majority of our boys and girls of our farm age know no different life or conditions than those of the all-powerful New Deal. But America is to have in the coming fall a chance to rid itself of this autocratic New Deal political rule. If there are still enough of the old regime and if there are enough people who want an America of the democracy and opportunity which founded and made it great, they still have the privilege of saying so in November. We leave the fighting of oru great war not to politicians, but to the men who are trained for it. Unlike our great ruler we do not feel competent to direct every phase of life. But we have lived before the New Deal. We hope America will again seek its freedom this fall.

AMERICAN MEMORY

Remember the New Deal de luxe Campaign Fund Book, signed by President Roosevelt, the book that chiseled $1,000,000,000 from corporations, the book President Roosevelt said he did not know what he was signing! The Attorney General said it was not illegal because the money from corporations was not raised for the campaign but raised after the campaign to clear up campaign expenses!

Well, you laugh that off! I cannot. It's too-too political for me. The only budget-balancing that interests hardened New Dealers is their own political expenses.

Take the C. I. O. and its subsidiary, the New Deal Government. The C. I. O. has raised $700,000.00 or more for political purposes. Business in America, however, is forbidden, to give to politics. Leader John L. Lewis, founder of the C. I. O. gave a half million to a Roosevelt campaign. If this Union "slush fund" is thus legal as it is said to be for free speech, why not allow business also to have free speech.

Does anyone ever wonder what would happen to America, the greatest nation on earth, with the highest standard of living of any nation on earth, if trained, technical business management ever laid down their picks for just one week.

There are 130,000,000 people in America. Probably a strike of less than 100,000 highly trained, technical men in the nation could stop all future progress. Most New Dealers and Labor leaders would be helpless. Such men, however, never think of such a thing. It is indeed fortunate for America that such men exist, yet they are called "Economic Royalists" and worse by New Dealers and Labor leaders. Education, thrift and industry mean "free enterprise". The New Deal would kill all this and level everyone, to look to the State. If this is not so, why the attacks by New Dealers and most labor leaders on successful business creating employment kor the millions?

Socrates

FROM AMY WOODS

To the Editor of the Star:

My forbears came over in the tender of the Mayflower and helped to settle Boston and so I am moved to do my bit to strengthen democracy and shall hope to see the following letter in print.

Fellow Americans: It is time for action. This is election year and "the price of liberty is eternal vigilence."

The dream of American cultural as well as political and economic democracy, built up by all our people within our borders can be lost if hate, fear distrust between our races is allowed to grow unchecked by good will and understanding in these turbulent war years.

Massachusetts may well be the state to lead the way. Let us propose that the following plank be inserted in all of the political parties' programs and add to it a paragraph which will cover each of the Ethnic groups throughout the country, so that America may truly be the "land of the brave and the free."

We condemn anti-racism as not only a serious threat to the welfare of many of our fellow citizens but as an even deadlier threat to all Americans, as it implants unjustifiable hatred and prejudice against each other thereby jeopardizes the continuance and further development of genuine democracy and freedom.

ASKS BETTER CONDITIONS AT PALMER BEACH

To the Editor of the Star:

On this rainy afternoon I think it is the opportunity for me to shoot along to you a few lines of mild wonderment. We enjoy the Star with its discussions and other items and feel that this letter, offered in good faith, will not be tossed into the everpresent wastebasket.

The point is this, my family and I have long been enjoying the beach over at "Wedge". We practically live there in the summer and it has done a lot for us and especially for our youngest who looks like a million dollars each fall when it is time for school. Now, for the last two years, and I see we are going to have the same situation this year, there has been a slipshod affair present in this respect namely, that there are only a few lockers with keys and some lockers have no locks at all. The floors are not clean like they used to be. Perhaps by printing this it will cause no offense but will serve as a starter to remind the departments who have jurisdiction over the beach and solicit support of other families who are in favor of remedying this wrong.

Sure we know there is a war on and I think the boys over there are just as anxious to preserve Wedge beach, just as it was, too, so that when they come back, soon we hope, they will find it in the same manner as when they left. Some of our boys who are still in this country or those on leave or furlough from the war theaters will appreciate this too.

Sincerely yours,
"Vox Pop"?

TWO SIDES OF A STREAM IN WINCHESTER

One day last week there were contrasting scenes on the two sides of a stream that runs through our town.

On the northeast side were those freight cars and all about them was a scene of activity. Six town trucks were bringing in loads of waste paper saved by residents, bundled and put on the curbs. Boy Scouts helped make the collections and passed them into the cars. All this because waste paper is today a much needed and very critical war commodity. Everyone in town knows this.

On the southwest side is the town dump. And while salvaged paper was being loaded into cars, trucks also came to the dump loaded with valuable waste paper and cartons from stores in town. Having dumped them off, the drivers set fire to them and for some hours in the damp weather, they smouldered and smoked and the stench was all over the center. This waste too was needed but it is destroyed beyond recall.

We point no moral but a question arises. In view of all the efforts put forth by volunteers to have every piece of paper saved for re-pulping, what kind of person is it who so heedlessly destroys that which others go to so much trouble to save for a national need?

WINCHESTER CAN DO A BETTER JOB

To the Editor of the Star:

The citizens of Winchester may be interested in a report of last weeks' collection of waste paper.

Besides a full truckload of magazines, there was shipped a total of forty full carloads. The total combined weight was 45 tons.

From a volume standpoint, this was about two-thirds of what the first drive produced and the committee thinks that on the average the town can do a bigger job.

One comment we wish to make is this. While there were still many bundles not as good as we could ask for, the general quality of packing and tying was much better than formerly.

We want to thank every one who helped in any measure and as the need for waste paper is still as great as ever, we ask all to continue to save all paper of any kind. There will be another collection in six or eight weeks.

Very truly yours,
Waste Paper Salvage Committee

FAVORS HARRIS FOR COUNTY COMMISSIONER

To the Editor of the Star:

Post-War conditions call for a man of recognized ability to serve in the capacity of County Commissioner of Middlesex, containing as it does a greater number of the cities and towns in the Commonwealth. Its citizens are vitally concerned because of these post-war problems, not only as affecting the County but the State as well.

Candidates for these positions should necessarily have a background of service based on knowledge previously acquired in municipal and legislative experience.

One of the outstanding features in the conduct of county affairs by the present commissioners is the lack of representation from large cities and towns which bear the greater proportion of the cost of County government and conservative yet far-sighted residents and business men are giving much thought to a proper representation of their communities at the County seat in East Cambridge.

Foremost among those who have been selected as capable of filling the position of County Commissioner, which calls for mature judgment from a standpoint of current conditions; one who has served his home city in municipal government and his State as a member of the Governor's Council is James G. Harris of Medford, well and favorably known throughout the county.

A resident of Medford for 35 years he is familiar not only with the needs of a progressive program in his home city but with all the cities and towns contiguous to Medford whose population contains the larger number of residents and taxpayers in the county.

That the large citizenry which includes Newton, Waltham, Cambridge, Somerville, Malden, Medford, Everett, Melrose and Woburn together with the towns of Belmont, Arlington, Winchester, Stoneham, Reading and Wakefield should receive recognition through the selection of a County Commissioner from this area cannot be refuted and the supporters of the late Sen. Charles C. Warren, not only in his community but in other towns and cities, are confident that Mr. Harris is pre-eminently fitted for the office.

Considering the numer of various institutions under the jurisdiction of the Commissioners it would probably be of interest to the voters to advise them of the educational and civic background of Mr. Harris.

A product of Brown University he is a trustee of several educational institutions; chairman of the Board of Trustees of Colby Junior College; former chairman of the Medford Republican City committee for five years; five years a member of the Medford Board of Aldermen and a presiding officer in his last year retiring from the board to be a candidate for Governor's Council, where he served under Governors McCall and Coolidge. He is a former president of the Men's Republican Club of Medford and was elected secretary of the last Middlesex County Convention, held at Cambridge.

He was for three years a member of the State Tax Appeal Board and served nine years as a member of the Medford School Committee and the past year was practically drafted to serve again for four years.

Mr. Harris is a member of the Civilian Defense committee appointed by Gov. Saltonstall.

ROTARY NOTES

Memebrs of the Winchester Rotary Club observed their last meeting under the presidency of Mr. Ernest Dade on Thursday, and what would probably have been a 100 per cent meeting was somewhat cut in attendance by the extremely hot weather.

The speaker was President W. H. McGill of McGill Commodities, a member of the Newton Rotary Club. He gave a summary of present and future business conditions according to his observation.

MANSFIELD TELLS WOMAN'S CLUB REPUBLICANS FACE CHALLENGE

Speaking before the Medford Woman's Republican Club at the Royal House, on Flag Day, Arthur J. Mansfield, Republican candidate for the Governor's Council from the sixth Councillor district, said:

"The Republican party faces a great challenge and a great responsibility if it is going to meet the issues that are before the American people today.

"The state must follow the lead of its citizens. Our state institutions must be free from political pressure groups that would rob the individual citizen of his rights.

"If government is to function properly it will be because we elect men to office who have convictions and the courage to put their convictions into action.

"Today we are facing problems that must be solved by consecrated men and women who have the welfare of the people at heart. Such people are not just politicians; they are people who by their records can demonstrate that they have served unselfishly for the common good.

"I don't believe that business experience alone fits a man for the important office of Governor's Council as one of our candidates stated. In my opinion, a successful record of business, political experience, plus devotion to the paramount issues of the day are essential requirements.

"My record of service in business, political, social and philanthropic enterprises for the past 35 years or more is one that, I believe, fits me in a large measure for the important office of Governor's Councillor."

WHO CAUGHT THE 90-LB. FISH?

At present writing the sportsman credited with catching a 90-lb. striped bass in the vicinity of Marthas Vineyard has not been ascertained, but it has been established that Treasurer Ernest R. Eustis of the Co-operative Bank, who returned to his desk yesterday from a fishing expedition at Cuttyhunk had exceptional luck. Owing to rainy weather during the first week of his visit his luck evidently was recent. We trust the identity of the angler will shortly be established, since Mr. Eustis is credited with seeking nothing but striped bass.

WEST POINT AND ANNAPOLIS EXAMS

Hon. Edith Nourse Rogers points out to the young men in the 5th Congressional District that application should be made to her immediately if they wish to take the examinations for West Point competitive examination to be held on Saturday, July 29.

Arrangements must be made immediately for the number of men to take the examination. The men who receive the appointments will enter the academies in the summer of 1945. When it is possible arrangements will be made for those men in the armed forces who apply to take the examination through their commanding officers.

To the People of this Community

This is a home front communique on the most vital war action now in progress in every community of the land—the Fifth War Loan.

We are advancing on our objective. However, we must make certain that we reach and pass our goal by July 8. This can be done if every one of us puts some thing extra of ourselves into the fight.

No one needs to remind you that it is an American trait to go into a sprint with the goal in sight.

We started this push June 12. Reports from every city and town in America tell us that the number of individual buyers of extra War Bonds today has reached an unprecedented total. We all know that in addition to numbers we need firepower. Your extra War Bond is absolutely essential. The greater the stockpile of War Bonds, the easier it will be for us to get this war over.

This very moment our boys are waging a life-and-death struggle. Every additional War Bond you buy will play its part in the outcome. Last month's War Bond, last week's War Bond, yesterday's War Bond are already in the embattled foreholes. Today is another day for the home front just as today is another day for the boys on the battlefronts.

For want of good brakes, three lives were lost in the grade crossing accident illustrated here.

A dump truck, occupied by the driver and four other men, disregarded the standard railroad crossing warning sign and drove into the path of a passenger train. Three killed and two injured was the final taffy.

The two men who survived said the brakes on the truck were faulty. This prevented the driver from stopping, and the truck rolled onto the crossing. The train that hit the truck, and another train which was following, were delayed a total of two hours while the track was being cleared.

The National Safety Council is conducting a special campaign to stop these accidents which every day delay 38 trains a total of 22 hours—a serious drain on the nation's war transportation facilities.

Driver carelessness is the cause of almost all grade crossing accidents, according to the Council. To help win the war — to save yourself and others needless suffering—the Council asks you to be sure the track is clear before you start across.

TOWN'S BIGGEST PARTY IS GRAND SUCCESS

For weeks Maurice Bird and members of Winchester's War Finance Committee planned and prepared for last Saturday's fried chicken dinner and mock auction as a sort of D Day in our Fifth War Loan Drive.

And then the rains came. It rained all day and, for good measure, it simply poured at dinner time and throughout the evening. But rain or shine Winchester turned out over 700 strong for the dinner which was served in the Unitarian Church.

Aunt Susan Tokas, fried chicken expert, who came all the way from Winchester, Va., glowed with pride as we cleaned up every bit of fried chicken and then annihilated every delicious morsel of her special Virginia baked ham. She allowed as we were the "eatinest folks" she ever did see. Incidentally it turns out that Aunt Susan has for years and years prepared the annual picnic luncheons served by Senator Byrd of Virginia. Actually the only misfortune of the whole evening was that nearly 30 late comers had to be turned away because there was no food left and Wm. Wood as steward for the dinner felt worse about it than the entire 30 who had to seek dinner elsewhere. The dinner was delicious and at 99 cents per ticket it definitely could be classed as a bargain for bond buyers since every individual or family group present had purchased their Fifth War Loan Bonds.

Even Mr. F. W. Denio, chairman of the Massachusetts War Finance Committee had to buy a bond, credited to Winchester, before he could partake of Aunt Susan's fried chicken. Winchester churches supplied hostesses for each table and girl volunteers who served as waitresses. A press table was provided and the Boston papers sent out reporters and photographers. The local American Legion sent men over to help set up the tables and to help out wherever help was needed.

After dinner the party moved en-masse through the rain to the Town Hall where the mock auction was staged. It was opened with the playing of the National Anthem by the U. S. Coast Guard Reserve Band. Erastus B. Badger as master of ceremonies, introduced Massachusetts' War Finance Chairman, F. Winchester Denio who lauded our town on its War Loan activities and record. Rev. Paul H. Chapman gave a brief inspiring address. Mrs. Ethel B. Jolliffe, representing Winchester, Va., brought Aunt Susan Tokes to the stage and the master of ceremonies presented her with a bond as something to remember us by while Mrs. Jolliffe received a gift of roses.

Present also from Winchester, Va., was Lt. Jones of the U. S. Army Engineers who was passing through and had just enough time to attend the dinner and auction. Lt. Clark Nichol, nephew of former Mayor Nichols of Boston spoke in behalf of the Blood Donor service of the Red Cross. Lt. Nichols is a bombardier with our 8th division in England and he has many missions to his credit. He told of the miraculous success of the use of blood plasma among our wounded fighters and brought a plea from the boys who are shedding their blood the hard way to us to give just a bit of our painlessly and amid pleasant surroundings.

Then the auction got under way with four successive auctioneers who disposed of 50 items. One item listed as 25 pounds of butter turned out to be a reluctant young white goat which elicited spirited bidding and was finally sold for $6000 in war bonds.

Five $25 bonds were given as blind prizes, the lucky winners being Miss Doris Josephson, Miss Cynthia Newton, Mrs. Lester Smith, Mr. Harry Leathers and Mr. Edmund C. Sanderson. These prize bonds were donated by the following Winchester concerns: Bacon Felt Co., Bonnell Motors Co., Browning Laboratories, Fitzgerald Fuel Co. and J. H. Winn Sons Co.

Many of the 50 auctioned items were donated and the donors include Randalls, Fells Plumbing and Building Supply Co., Heveys Pharmacy, Central Hardware Co., Colonial Perfumers, Chamberlain Rabbitry, Arlington Gas Light Co., Vernon Jones Realty Co., Ingersoll Chicken Products, Boston Edison Co., Purtle's Pharmacy, First National Stores, Filene's, Winton's Hardware Co., Winchester Star, Winchester Drug Co., F. W. Woolworth Co., La Touraine Coffee Co., Winchester Shoe Hospital, Snug Haven Gift Shop, McCormack's Pharmacy, Park Radio Co., Unicorn Country Club, Max Glick, James Cullen and an annonymous employe of J. H. Winn Sons Co. Thanks are also due to so many people that it is impossible to name them all, chiefly however to Mrs. Fulton Brown who, with the able assistance of Mr. Harry Bigelow, planned and organized the auction.

Miss Jean Rooney consented to have her clothes auctioned right off her back, that is to the point where she was disclosed as garbed in an attractive white bathing suit. Miss Mickey Brown modeled a "gay 90's" costume so successfully that the bidders battled for it.

Among the unseen but vital contributors was Mr. Kuhn of Kelley and Hawes who did a lot of free trucking and Mr. Ralph Bonnell who, with a sterling band of Rotarians did an excellent job of handling the mechanics of the entire program.

The trailer which was shown all week on the screen of the Winchester Theater was the gift of Mr. E. M. Lowe and was shown through the courtesy of Mr. Grant, manager of the theater.

The sale of bonds for the purchase of dinner tickets in addition to those used to obtain auctioned articles resulted in a total of about $100,000.

Reports from Mrs. Norman Hitchcock and Mrs. Leigh Roberts who went to Winchester, Va., to aid in putting on a New England baked bean dinner are that the dinner was a sell out and the barn dance well attended. Both ladies remained in Winchester, Va., until Wednesday of this week and have been shown a royal good time by the hospitable Southerners. They were finally sped on their way after receiving a gift from the local Chamber of Commerce.

Looking ahead, there is still more than a week to go in the Fifth War Loan Drive and our sales up to and including last Wednesday are $1,185,000 of which $123,400 are E Bond sales. This is $27,000 less than our standing at the corresponding period in the Fourth War Loan Drive. We have nearly $470,000 yet to go just to reach our quota and our pride in the past is that we have always gone well over quota.

Through the Town Treasurer, the Winchester bond subscription has been placed with the local banks.

The sale of E Bonds during the entire month of July will be credited to the Fifth War Loan Drive which is fortunate for Winchesterites as we have reached only 32 per cent of our quota and have a tough task ahead to reach $382,000. Your further effort is promptly needed. Please examine your pocketbook again and see if you can't scrape out enough lucre for another bond or two.

LOBSTER LUNCHEON

The Central Street Farmers were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel R. Beggs of Everett avenue last Saturday at a lobster luncheon at the Beggs summer home in Marblehead. The pouring rain did not prevent hardy members of the group from making the trip and there was a good attendance.

After the luncheon an enjoyable afternoon was spent with music and talking over those vital statistics in which farmers large and small have long been prone to revel. Featuring the gabfest was the announcement that Mr. Frank Eldredge, 90 year member of the group has already picked two and one-half bushels from the pea vines in his garden.

In addition to these articles, outing flannel pajamas are cut and ready and any one who would like home sewing may telephone to Mrs. Chase Win. 1091.

Those wishing to give used clothing may also telephone to Mrs. Chase who will arrange for it to be called for.

Knitters during July and August will get their yarn from Mrs. Frank Madge, 17 Glengarry, Win. 0554-J.

We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal; that they are endowed by their Creator with certain inalienable Rights, that among these are Life, Liberty and the pursuit of Happiness.

Here are words familiar to every American schoolboy. Their beauty and clarity have remained undimmed through the one hundred and sixty-eight years since Thomas Jefferson drafted them into the Declaration of Independence, July 4th, 1776.

Here are the ideals for which we fight. Ponder them . . . and then Remember the Fifth War Loan

To the People of this Community

There are many urgent reasons for buying War Bonds. First, the invasion needs money. Bonds pay for planes and guns and munitions with which to beat the Axis. Our fighting men must have the best possible equipment and it is up to us to let our money provide this.

5th WAR LOAN

A second reason is this: There is a shortage of goods now. Later on there will be plenty for civilian desires. Money put into War Bonds now will be available then. Business opportunities will be open then, too, and the "nest egg" saved now may hatch out commercially then.

Money put into War Bonds now will be deprived of its current potentiality as a part of the causes of inflation. You will be doing your part toward stabilizing the money situation by buying Bonds instead of dwindling stocks. That is a third reason.

But the best reason from a selfish viewpoint is this: Right now there is no better investment than War Bonds. There is no safer repository for your money. By buying Bonds you become a stockholder in the strongest "gong" concern in the world today, the United States of America.
